MEDICAL

greed on details of a medical care plan for more than two years.

Despite doctor objections of government control over the profession and medical care, the government intends to put its compulsory, comprehensive and prepaid plan into operation July 1.

TRY TO AVOID SHOWDOWN

Friday's discussions were arranged by the Saskatchewan Hospital Association as a last-minute attempt to avoid a showdown on the doctors' plans to provide only hospital-based emergency service after July 1.

Details of locations of the emergency treatment centres were announced in Regina Friday by Dr. Sam Landa of Saskatoon, appointed by the Saskatchewan division of the Canadian Medical Association as coordinator of emergency services.

Dr. Landa said 29 hospitals and 239 doctors will service 16 districts in the province, leaving 95 hospitals without doctor services.

Meetings March 27, April 1 and April 11 between the two groups failed to bring any agreement. The government flatly rejected a college suggestion that the government scrap its plan and provide financial aid to private voluntary plans enabling indigents, chronically ill and elderly persons to obtain medical insurance.

Dr. Landa, in outlining the emergency services, said that within two weeks, exhaustion and frustration may force many doctors to withdraw from the emergency service and seek private practice outside the province.

To bolster the provincial medical services, the administrative Medical Care Insurance Commission this month advertised in the United Kingdom for doctors. Commissioner member Dr. Samuel Wolfe of Saskatoon, went to England to interview 55 applicants.

The commission has not indicated how many would come to the province.

HUGE PLANE

at times piloted President de Gaulle.

The plane wrecked on Guadeloupe, which leaves Air France with 18 of the big U.S.-built four-jet craft, was headed west from Paris Thursday night as Air France flight 117.

STORMS RAGE

Thunderstorms and squalls raged at intervals in the eastern caribbean as it approached Guadeloupe.

Lesieur had been cleared for a landing at Pointe - a - Pitre when the plane rammed into the west side of a half-mile-high hill called the Mule's Back, on the northwest corner of Basse Terre, about 4:35 a.m.

The wreck occurred two miles across rough country from the fishing village of Deshaies and 17 miles west of the airport.

Air France and the French government dispatched investigators to Guadeloupe via New York.

The Guadeloupe crash was the sixth major plane disaster of 1962. These accidents claimed a total of 601 lives.

They included 45 killed in the disintegration in the air of a Continental Airlines 707 near Unionville, Mo., May 25, a disaster the FBI said was caused by explosives smuggled aboard the plane.

The Guadeloupe case also was the fifth fatal accident involving the Boeing 707 since the big jets went into commercial service in October, 1958.

The toll of those wrecks is 416.

However, the Boeing Airplane Company has described the 707s as having "the best safety record of any airplane ever introduced into commercial operation." They fly 5,900,000 miles and carry 210,000 passengers a week in the service of 26 airlines.

SUMMERSIDE — Letter carrier service in the Summerside area will commence in the very near future, it was stated yesterday by Summerside postmaster Charles Peters.

Mr. Peters said eight carriers from a list of twenty had been chosen and two head letter carriers would be selected at a later date. He estimated that it would probably take two weeks for the new carriers to become accustomed to their new routes.

The Canadian post office department provides that 80 per cent of all homes in an area must have letter receiving facilities before carrier service can be instituted. Present indications are that over 80 per cent of Summerside homes are ready.

In St. Eleanors all the streets have been named, but homes are at present being numbered. A problem posed there is that several streets have gaps in them where no houses exist, and surveyors are experiencing difficulty in numbering homes.

Mr. Peters said his department is "on the verge of getting going", as soon as the St. Eleanors homes have been numbered.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad and loving memory of our dear son and brother Lloyd Alison MacDonald who passed away June 23, 1935.

He is gone, but not forgotten,
And, as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of him are always near.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within the heart concealed.

Lovingly remembered by Mother, Dad, Brothers and Sister.
