Southport School.
The annual examination of Southport School took place on the 30th ult., and passed off very satisfactorily. At the conclusion the following address, accompanied by a gold watch chain, was presented to the teacher:—
To Mr. Robert Anderson, Teacher at Southport School.

We, the undersigned pupils belonging to the School taught by you at Southport, beg leave to present you with the enclosed gold watch chain as a small token of our affection and respect for you as our Teacher.
We feel that our progress during the past year has been due to your faithful labor and constant attention to our improvement.
And we trust that we may long enjoy the benefits of your valuable services.
Wishing you every temporal and spiritual blessing, we beg to subscribe ourselves your loving pupils.
Signed on behalf of the pupils,
STEWART KENNEDY,
EMMA McCALLUM,
HENRY W. STEWART.

To S. Kennedy, Emma McCallum, and H. W. Stewart, on behalf of the pupils of Southport School.
DEAR PUPILS.—Your kind address and valuable gift affords me much pleasure. As your teacher I little thought you would deem my services worthy of so much consideration.
But I feel that whatever progress has been made is more due to your own diligence and good behaviour than to any effort of mine.
In conclusion I thank you most sincerely and hope our intercourse with each other, may be "long and lasting." I remain
Yours truly,
ROBERT A. ANDERSON.

Address to Mr. Frank S. Coffin, Teacher.
ADDRESS.

DEAR SIR,—As it is your intention to remove from our school to prosecute your studies for a higher field of labour, we beg leave to inform you, on the eve of your departure from amongst us, that we regret the loss of your valuable services. We have marked with much pleasure your earnest desire and unwearied endeavours faithfully to discharge your duty as an instructor of youth.
The progress your pupils have made in their studies during the time they have been under your care, extending over a period of two years, bears our satisfaction ample testimony that you are in every respect well qualified to impart a first-class education. We further certify to the reports at the several examinations during your terms, as placing you in the high position of one of our most efficient and successful teachers on the Island.
We believe that success is partly owing to the respect and regard you have always received from the inhabitants and by your exemplary conduct out of school, thereby gaining the influence and the affection, and attention of the scholars.
We are very certain that your well known merits and general usefulness as a member of society will be duly appreciated wherever you take up your abode, and we assure you, dear Sir, that those qualities are highly valued by us, and we only hope that in your successor we may be fortunate enough to have one with equal talents and abilities.
In conclusion we wish you to accept this feeble mark of the respect and esteem we bear towards you, and heartily wishing you happiness and success in all your future prospects, with the guidance of an all-wise Providence.

We subscribe ourselves on behalf of the inhabitants of the Dunstaffnage District School,

REPLY.
GENTLEMEN,—I thank you for your kind address. I value it not only for the kindly feeling, which indeed is agreeable, but also for the assurance it brings of your appreciation of my services as teacher. The success you have marked is owing to the hearty co-operation of your efforts with mine, under the blessing of Him from whom all blessings are.
Your friendship and well wishes I most heartily return. Your kindness and interest in my welfare, which I have always noticed with pleasure and gratitude, will not soon be forgotten. It was among you, while performing the duties committed to my trust, that I first learned the realities of life; and first formed the resolve of dedicating my services, under the guidance of God, to the benefit of my fellow-men.
Let us pray that God, who has blessed us in the past, will, in the future, guide us on our respective ways, till at last they all come to a happy end.
I am, gentlemen,
Your true friend and well-wisher,
FRANK S. COFFIN.

The Rome "Opinion" has a long article on Ireland. It thinks that a general insurrection is inevitable, and supposes Ireland may put in the field forty thousand well-armed men, who must be finally conquered; but whether victor or vanquished, the country would be utterly ruined for generations.
I am, gentlemen,
Your true friend and well-wisher,
FRANK S. COFFIN.

We cannot serve the future of this world in a better way than in taking care of the present of our children. It is in our power.

CLIPPINGS.
In a recent speech Hobart Pasha said that France, fearing no longer to impose on Europe her ambitious proclivities, had, upon the trivial pretence of punishing some tribes, actually taken possession of a large country, whose integrity England had guaranteed, and had become the predominating power in the Mediterranean. She could from her position cut off supplies to Malta and threaten England's communications with India, thereby imperilling the whole of our Eastern commerce. She was creeping steadily towards Egypt, where she would have the greatest facilities for harassing Britain's position in the East.

One of the great mineral wonders of Mexico, and perhaps of the world, is the Iron Mountain in the immediate vicinity of Durango, in the State of Durango. The Iron Mountain is nearly two miles in length, and one mile wide, and about 700 feet high. Above the surface uncovered and in sight, it shows about 200,000,000 tons of pure ore, ready to be shovelled or rolled, without any cost of mining, into the furnaces erected at its base. Much of this ore ranges from seventy to ninety per cent, and some is carried directly to the forge. It works very kindly, and easily assumes the form of steel. There is every reason to believe ores of such rare superiority, when subject to all modern improvements in iron making, will produce iron and steel unsurpassed anywhere in the world, either in Sweden, or Biscay in Spain, or England or the United States.

The examination of the Davies School took place on the 28th and 29th ult. In the forenoon of the first day the classes in the sixth grade and the principal's department were examined. In the afternoon of the same day the examinations were held in the fourth and fifth grades. On the following day the lower grades were examined. The examinations throughout were very satisfactory. The trustees, on this occasion, were conspicuous by their absence, only one being present on the first day and none the last. This shows a lack of interest on their part, and is very discouraging to the teachers who labored so diligently during the term just ended. Even the secretary, who was always very punctual on previous occasions, was attending to his other duties. We cannot understand how he can make the necessary reports to the Superintendent of Education unless he draws on his imagination, which would not be prudent when the reputation of others is involved. The parents who have the welfare of their children at heart should at least have attended.

The "Domestic Monthly" for July, just out, is attracting attention not only to its wood cuts and its novelties of fashion, but to its delineation of certain styles of dress which, according to fashionable usage, are designed for special occasions only. What well-informed ladies wear at the watering places morning, noon, and night, what they travel in, how they dress to play at archery and lawn-tennis parties, and in what material and shape their bathing suits appear—all these specialties are noted. Decided novelties are introduced in the Roman apron dress, and in the new modes of trimming summer toilettes. The articles on Jewelry, fans, gloves, and parasols mention the latest changes in these auxiliaries of dress. Small boys have a chapter entirely to themselves this month in the "Domestic Monthly," and what they may wear is well joined on to what they must not go without. The closing article on art-work for mid-summer will give vacationists fresh hints concerning something to do when they are doing nothing. It will be observed that Kate Greenaway and Mother Hubbard fancies have given a decided coloring to the general fashions for little folk, recently set forth in this excellent magazine.

The Literary Department contains two stories, by Esther Searle Kenneth and Mary E. Moffat, a paper on "American Women as Skilled Workers," by Ellen E. Dickenson, Floricultural Notes by John Thorpe, winner of several first prizes at the June Exhibition in New York, a London letter from a special correspondent, giving the latest gossip from the great English metropolis. Under "Fact, Rumor, and Comment" will be found a full account of Messrs. Gilbert and Sullivan's new play, "Patience," which will be one of the early forthcoming theatrical sensations on this side of the water. Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher's Household Department will be found eminently practical and timely.

The "Domestic Monthly" is published by Blake & Company, corner Broadway and Fourteenth Street, New York, at $1.50 per year, inclusive of pattern premium. Single copies 15 cents.
