THE STATION-MASTERS APPEAL.

THE station masters and operators of the P. E. Island Railway have issued an appeal in which they say that while the nature of their duties makes necessary a better education than is required in other branches of the railway service, besides special instruction in telegraphy, they are "the most poorly paid employes in any branch of the service." They say further:

1st. We are compelled to work from 12 to 14 hours per day.

2nd. We are during the winter months called upon for Sunday duty.

3rd. During stormy weather, or when trains are delayed, we are, in addition to doing day duty, frequently required to work all night.

4th. We are not allowed extra time for any of the above extra work, and if through sickness or other causes we are off duty, every hour lost is "docked."

5th Until three years ago, we were given two weeks holidays each year for the above extra work. This arrangement was in force from starting of the railway, the discontinuance of which we consider a great injustice.

In view of these facts they ask:

(a) That, Twelve consecutive hours, including meal time, shall constitute a days's work.

(b) If required to remain on duty longer than the hours named, we shall be paid over-time, pro rata.

(c) In computing over-time, less than (30) minutes shall not be counted, over thirty (30 and under (60) minutes, shall be counted one hour.

(d) If any emyloye of this this department is called for Sunday duty, he shall be allowed twenty-five (25) cents for each call, and over time as per Clause c.

(e) That all employes of this department shall be allowed two weeks vacation in each year without loss of salary.

(f) That a relieving Agent shall be required to pass an examination as to his qualifications, and be paid the same salary as the person he relieves, providing such salary is not less than his own.

(g) That employes shall not be punished or dismissed from the Railway service without just cause. If found on investigation (at which the accused shall have option of counsel) that any punishment inflected is unjust, the employe shall suffer no financial loss or have his standing in any way impaired.

There is nothing that is unreasonable in these requests. Everyone knows that our Station Masters, as a class, are efficient and courteous; and their appeal ought to recive the serious and favorable consideration of the Minister of Railways. A cheese-paring policy in respect to officials occupying responsible positions is not wise.

THE COTTON DUTIES.

THE Patriot charged a few days ago that the manufacturers of cotton are making too high a profit. A certain company has declared a dividend of 8 per cent. on the year's transactions. The Patriot proceeds to arraign the policy of the Dominion Government. Our Merchants' Bank of P. E. Island, of which Mr. L. H. Davies is President, has declared a yearly dividend of 8 per cent., besides carrying a goodly sum to a rest account; but the Patriot says nothing about it. Other banks in Canada have almost without exception, shown an equally prosperous result of the last year's transactions. But the Patriot does not ask for a reduction of interest in favor of the borrowing class. It is only when there is a desire to score a point against the Government that the Patriot troubles itself about profits. In this country the grit party raises a cry that there is no enterprise—no avenues opened up for the employment of labor—and that the population is not increasing as fast as it should on that account. Yet if a man or a company of men make a fair profit they are at once denounced as the enemies of the country. The Patriot evidently does not complain of profits being made by the manufacturers of any other country—those of the United States for instance; but it is an outrage that they should make profit in Canada. Under these circumstances, and with the prejudice that is attempted to be raised between the farmers and manufacturers, it is not wonderful that capitalists should fight shy of investing capital in Canada. When the Patriot learns that the interests of the farmer and manufacturer are identical—that the laborers of one class consumes the produce of the other and vice versa—it will have learned one useful lesson in political economy.

The Patriot of last evening returns to the question of the cotton duties. It over looks the fact that all raw cotton is admitted free of duty, and that the "masses" obtain their home-made cotton goods so much the cheaper on that account. But it maintains that the "classes" are pampered at the expense of the "masses" because a duty of 22½ per cent is levied upon foreign made cottons. Now this duty is evidently not excessive, though it undoubtedly gives our home manufactures a sufficient advantage in the home market to enable them to make head against foreign competition. Certainly the cotton industry of Canada is worth preserving. About 8,000 persons are employed in it, and over $2,000,000 a year are paid in wages to the factory hands and distributed by them to our merchants and farmers. Between 1700 and 1800 persons are employed in the cotton factories of the neighboring Province of New Brunswick, and about $10,000 are distributed among them every week. The money goes to pay house rent, clothing, food, etc. Can it be doubted that the value of property and the prices in the markets of Moncton, St. John, Marysville and Milltown are enhanced by reason of the operation of their cotton factories? The farmer gets a large share of the money paid to the factories hands. It goes for pork, beef, potatoes, vegetable, milk butter, cheese and other articles produced by the agrieulturists of the surrounding country, which extends as far as Prince Edward Island. Will it pay our farmers to vote out the cotton industries of Canada and place themselves in a state of dependence upon the Cotton Lords of Great Britain and the States? What is to be gained by sweeping away every vestige of protection from the factories of Canada? Will the trade of Canada, domestic or foreign, be enlarged in the slightest degree when our cotton factories, established under the National Policy, are closed? Shall we then be able to buy grey cottons in our stores at a lower price than 3½ cents per yard? Shall we get a cent more for our oats, potatoes, butter, beef, or any other thing that we produce? Let the Patriot show, if it can, how our position will be improved by destroying our free list, taxing raw materials, resorting to direct taxation and ruining our cotton and other manufactures—all of which will be necessitated in the sweeping away of "every vestige of protection." If it can't, then let the people stand by the N. P., under which Canada has weathered a commercial hurricane disastrous to all other countries.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

—The National Policy makes the grits tired—waiting for office.

—Two thousand four hundred pounds of mails were brought from Cape Tormentine to this Province to-day. It seems to be evident that the staff of couriers at the Capes ought not yet to be reduced.

—A lengthy report of the Liberal-Conservative Convention for King's County was sent by mail, but has not yet been received. We learn that Mr. John McLean was the choice of the Convention, and that he took a week to consider.

—During the past five years the cost of administering the public affairs of Ontario has increased 14 per cent.; Quebec, 64 per cent.; Nova Scotia, 24 per cent.; Manitoba, 16 per cent.; while the increase in the cost of administering the affairs of the Dominion by the Conservative Government has only been ¼ of 1 per cent. Ponder these figures.

—Montreal Gazette: Mr. Alexander Gibson, the great New Brunswick lumber and cotton manufacturer, who has hitherto been counted a Liberal, it is announced, will support Hon. Mr. Foster in York county. In a time of comparative commercial slowness, not many business men who have more business than politics to look after will be found voting for a party whose chief platform plank is a pledge to destroy the basis on which the country's existing business has been built up.

—The Taglicher Rundschau reports a conversation Prince Bismarck had on Sunday last with a guest from Leipsic. They were talking of happiness, and Prince Bismarck said that if he counted the minutes of real happiness in his life they would, perhaps, amount to twenty-four hours. These times of happiness were always connected with his domestic life and not with politics, which, he declared, was an incessant struggle. The Prince added that old Emperor William had a greater capacity for happiness than himself, and continuing said: "We both aimed at truthfulness, but sometimes affairs required us to diverge publicly somewhat from the truth. How hard that was for the Emperor. He invariably blushed on such occasions. I could not look at him, as he would turn quickly away."

—There could not possibly be a stronger proof of the falsity of the cry of distress among the artisans and laborers of Canada under the N. P. than the utter collapse of the "demonstrations of unemployed" organized by some of the grit politicians of Montreal. The Montreal Star reports that "The meeting of the unemployed at Sohmer Park last night (Feb. 28) organized by R. Ouimet, the City Hall demonstration organizer, was only attended by about two hundred people, and to judge from their appearance but very few of them belonged to the class of unemployed." This result of an organized effort to stir up discontentment is the more remarkable from the fact that thousands of the unemployed of the States crowded into Montreal last year.

—Referring to the Manitoba School difficulty, the Mail and Empire says truly: "On one point there is no room for doubt. It is this. Assuming that the constitution has been violated, and that certain provisions are necessary for the removal of a legitimate grievance, the authority that ought to be prompt in the matter of conforming to the law, or of rectifying the wrong, is the government of Manitoba itself. Mr. Laurier once said that he would plead with Mr. Greenway for a remedy if wrongs were found to exist. Mr. Tarte understands that there are wrongs, and upbraids the "fanatics" of Ontario for their continuance. Would it not be better for Mr. Laurier to plead at Winnipeg, according to his promise, than to have his party in the West irritating and offending the Roman Catholics, and his party in the East offering unmerited insults to the Protestants of Ontario?"

—On the only point that is worthy of note in the Patriot's last article about reciprocity we refer to President Harrison's message sent to Congress in December, 1892, when, touching upon the conference of that year between Canadian and American representatives, he said: "The statement was frankly made (by the Dominion ministers) that favored rates could not be given to the United States as against the mother country. This admission, which was foreseen, necessarily terminated the conference on this question." Plainer language could not be penned to state the fixed purpose of the United States to decline any overtures for reciprocity except upon the lines of a common tariff and preferential treatment against Great Britain. Since that time the people of the United States have voted out the Reciprocity treaties made by President Harrison with Spain and South America.

—By the courtesy of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, we have had the pleasure of perusing the report of an address delivered by the Bishop of Algoma at San Remo, on the occasion of the service held there in memory of Sir John Thompson. It is needless to say that Bishop Sullivan appreciates the value of such a character as that of the late Premier—a man of "stainless, unimpeachable integrity," who courted no man's flattery and feared no man's frown, who never judged that to be expedient which was not right, and who loved his own country and the great Empire to which it belongs, who had enthroned that grand word "duty" on a lofty pedestal of dignity, and at that shrine he paid daily homage,—and says, "wouldthat the echo of the royal motto by which he was guided could be heard ringing up and down the length and breadth of the land, till they had wrought themselves into the very texture of men's consciences." What an enduring monument would we have in honor of that "righteousness which exalteth a nation!"

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

SIR,—The Liberal party in this Province are endeavoring to make a great deal of political capital out of the Tunnel question. They tell the electors of Belfast and Murray Harbor that the Southern Railway is but another political delusion like the Tunnel.

As far as the Tunnel scheme is concerned, the Dominion Government has demonstrated to the satisfaction of every right-thinking person that they were perfectly sincere in the matter. But if the Grits would only reflect, they would surely blush at the very menion of the word "Tunnel."

In the first place, Mr. Davies tried to put a damper on it by ridiculing the scheme on the floor of the House of Commons.

"What was his object in doing so?" some one asks. In our opinion—and every man is entitled to his opinion—he was actuated by selfish motives. He was well aware that, should the tunnel be constructed, the intelligent electors of this Province would naturally support the party conferring such a boon upon them. In that case our modern Demosthenes would be deprived of the long cherished hope of attaining to a seat in the Canadian Cabinet.

The brilliant light of that guiding star which inspired him on many a public platform and illuminated his pathway while humbly pursuing his way in the "cold shades of opposition" would be extinguished forever. Again, when the veteran champion of the tunnel question—our present Lieutenant-Governor—patriotically resigned his seat in the Senate to contest Prince County for the House of Commons in order that he might be in a better position to forward his favorite project, instead of electing him by acclamation, as should certainly have been done, all the Grit forces were raised to oppose him, and unfortunately for the Province he was defeated.

Now Sir, we claim that the defeat of Senator Howland on that occasion was at least for the time being—a death blow to the tunnel question. It dampened the ardor of its most enthusiastic advocates. It was naturally taken by the Dominion Government as a clear indication that th people of Prince Edward Island did not really want the (tunnel) after all. So the Liberal Leaders can ill afford to make any insinuations on the subject. Let us profit by the mistakes of the past, and never again sacrifice the best interests of our country on the altars of a party.

The people of Belfast and Murray Harbor will soon be called up to support the advocates of the branch railway.

The Grits continue to howl against it. Here is the substance of what they say:

"Ye elector of Belfast and Murray Harbor, be careful what ye do. We sold you for nought when the P. E. I. R. R. was constructed. We compelled you to pay your share of the cost without sharing in its benefits. We made you false promises four year ago, which we never intended to fulfil. If you will now return the Liberal-Conservative party, they will, no doubt, give you the Railway, and that that will be an injury to us, Senator Ferguson and his colleagues will get all the credit. We would much rather that the Southern Railway should never be constructed than that Senator Ferguson of all men should get any public credit. So please be true to your party though your country should go to the dogs. The electors are now thoroughly aroused, and can no longer be hypnotized in such a manner.

Yours &c.,
CONSISTENCY.

Murray Harbor District, March 4, 1895.

IT WILL BE REALED.

SIR,—The correspondence and talk regarding the split in the grit camp and the scalping of the Hon. David Laird by the grand sachem and chiefs of the grit party, is all very interesting from a social point of view; but from a political standpoint I think there is too much notice taken of it. The Hon. David Laird and friends will all fall into line and support Mr. Davies and his chiefs when the time comes, and Mr. Davies and his friends know this and are not in the least disturbed over Mr. Laird's kicking. A real grit is a grit wherever you find him. He is not accustomed to think for himself, but is content to do his master's bidding, and there is no fear of any one of them being out of line when the day of election comes. The convention next Monday will nominate Mr. Davies, and he will accept it, and make a speech in which he will tell the faithful that there is no row, and never was, and the Patriot will publish this, and every Grit that reads it will believe it, and put the whole thing down to a Tory lie. They are used to being deceived, and don't mind it in the least. They have had so much deception practised on them that they can easily stand it once more.

To express the idea of poetry in the making of a lady's costume has always been the ambition of the tasteful modiste. It is a fortunate circumstance that Priestley's famous black dress goods lend themselves to the realization of this idea, for they are specially manufactured to give beauty and grace of ensemble, coupled with that which placed Priestley's goods above all others—a perfect fitting and draping quality. Look for "The Varnished Board."

TERRIBLE FAMILY TRAGEDY.

A Brother Kills His Sister While Quarrelling.

MONTREAL, March 6.

Yesterday morning the police discovered another frightful tragedy that had taken place at Outremout, four miles from this city. A young man named David Edwards, aged 25 years, who has been of unsound mind for years past, had a dispute with his sister Annie, aged 16, and seizing a hammer felled her to the ground. Her skull was broken and she had only time to cry out "I am killed," and expired.

The Manitoba School Case.

OTTAWA, March 6.

The hearing of the Manitoba school question continued yesterday, Dalton McCarthy making his argument. McCarthy admitted that the Catholics of Manitoba had grievances, but contended that it would be bad policy for a ministry to do anything in the direction of the establishment of seperate schools in Manitoba. The address of the leader of the third party sounded very much like a stump speech to an Ontario audience, rather than a carefully thought-out argument in support of the case of the Manitoba Government. The hearing was adjourned till to-day.

The Porch to Low Prices.

Not that every price is lower, for that is impossible. Storekeepers shrewdly sell at about the same prices all articles and stuffs easily recognizable at other stores. Yet where there is one thing of which the value is well known there are seventeen things, perhaps seventy, not known. All milk looks alike, but by standing at the pump you will find that the quality cannot be told by the whiteness.

Be it remembered that the face of an article does not always show its grade. Five times out of six the effort of manufacturers is (and a wrong one it is) to reduce the cost of goods by lowering the quality—and not disclosing the difference.
