

Turcotte Boots Tom Rolfe To Victory In Preakness

BALTIMORE (CP - AP)—Tom Rolfe, a mighty mite of a horse with a determined young Canadian astride his back, survived a claim of foul Saturday and won the 90th running of the Preakness-Stakes by a neck.

Ron Turcotte, 23-year-old native of Grand Falls, N.B., got Tom Rolfe home just ahead of Dapper Dan in a thrilling finish in this second jewel of the triple crown for three-year-olds. The victory was worth $128,100.

Much more shocking than the victory of Tom Rolfe, from the Powhatan Stables of Raymond Guest, U.S. Ambassador to Ireland, was the seventh-place finish of Lucky Debonair, winner of the Kentucky Derby two weeks earlier, and 8-to-5 favorite here. Turcotte had guided Tom Rolfe to a third-place finish in the Derby, behind Lucky Debonair and Dapper Dan.

Fast-closing Hail to All came up to take third in the Preakness, four lengths back of the leaders, with Native Charger fourth, only a neck back.

BETTER THAN DANCER

The 1-3/16-mile Preakness was run by Tom Rolfe in 1:56.15 on the lightning-fast track. This was better than the 1:56.45 of E. P. Taylor's Canadian-bred Northern Dancer, last year's victor. The Preakness record is 1:54.35 set by Nashua in 1955.

Lucky Debonair wound up seventh in the nine-horse field after challenging for the lead until the home stretch.

Trainer Frank Whiteley said he ran down during the race, especially in his left front leg and brushed off some hair, but there was little soreness.

Whiteley said he didn't know where Tom Rolfe lost his shoe. He said it may have been coming out of the gate.

Lucky Debonair suffered bucked shins in his two front legs and will be out of action at least two months.

A bucked shin is an inflammation of the bone sheath on the front leg which trainer Frank Catrone believes was caused by the hard under-surface of the track. Lucky, who made only one start last year, was treated for the same trouble as a two-year-old.

CHARGER IS OUT

Native Charger, who was also fourth in the derby, bowed a tendon in his right foreleg and definitely will miss both the Jersey Derby May 31 and the 1 1/2 miles of the Belmont June 5.

With Turcotte pounding away with his whip, Tom Rolfe assumed command about halfway down the stretch and opened up daylight advantage.

Dapper Dan, carrying the black and cherry silks of Ozden Phipps, came charging up along the rail to make the finish close just as he did two weeks ago in the Derby when he finished a neck back of Lucky Debonair.

Milo Valenzuela, astride Dapper Dan, claimed Tom Rolfe, named for the son of John Rolfe and Pocahontas, of pre-American revolution days, came over on him as he closed the gap to the shortest margin in the closing strides.

Later, however, Valenzuela admitted there was no actual contact between the two horses. This confirmed the post-race statement of the curly-haired Turcotte, who said he saw Dapper Dan eating up the ground on the rail and purposely intended to close the gate.

DIDN'T BUMP HIM

"But my horse went over a little when he intended," Turcotte said. "I didn't bump him."

The stewards rejected Valenzuela's claim of foul. Tom Rolfe returned $9.30, $3 and $3.80. Dapper Dan had lost some of his support after a slow workout early last week. He paid $7.20 and $4.60. Hail to All returned $5.60 to show.

Behind the first four came Swift Ruler, Selari, Lucky Debonair, Needles Count and Flag Raiser, who again faded after setting a burning early pace.

In scoring his first major triumph for his fifth victory in seven starts this year, Tom Rolfe ran his career bankroll to $251,605. He was the second choice of the crowd of 38,108.

"He ran very good," Turcotte said of Tom Rolfe. "He ran like he could."

As for Lucky Debonair, jockey Willie Shoemaker said Mrs. Ada L. Rice's colt "only ran a quarter of a mile for me."

But there just was no taking away any of the glory from Tom Rolfe.

Standing only 15.2 hands (62 inches) and weighing not much more than 1,000 pounds, the son of the Italian sire Ribot, out of Pocahontas, came from fifth place to challenge for the lead at the head of the stretch, took command one-eighth of a mile from home and then beat off the bid of Dapper Dan.

Flag Raiser, ridden by Bobby Ussery, put his trademark on the Preakness at the start.

The race was only a quarter-mile old when he opened up a wide margin and swung into the back stretch a good five lengths in front of Earl Allen's surprising Swift Ruler. At this point Lucky Debonair was third, Native Charger fourth and Tom Rolfe fifth, with Dapper Dan settling into his stride in seventh place.

CLOSES GAP

In the run down the backstretch Swift Ruler closed the gap to two lengths and Native Charger took over third.

Flag Raiser covered the first quarter mile in 22.25, the half-mile 1:04 and the three-quarters in 1:10.35. He was still struggling to hold the lead as the field headed out of the backstretch in 1:37 for the mile.

After seven furlongs, Swift Ruler actually stuck his head in front briefly before Native Charger assumed command with Tom Rolfe still in fifth place.

At this point Lucky Debonair had enough and Tom Rolfe came charging down the track to challenge Native Charger for the lead. He took it with a mighty surge but had to go all out to turn back Dapper Dan, who was sixth with a quarter of a mile to go and fourth, some four lengths back, with one-eighth of a mile to go.

Second place was worth $30,000 to Dapper Dan's owner, while Mrs. Ben Cohen, owner of Hail to All, picked up $15,000 and Native Charger's table $7,500.

The $100,000 Preakness is the middle feature in the triple crown, between the 1 1/4-mile Derby and the 1 1/2-mile Belmont Stakes, to be run at New York's Aqueduct track June 5. All the horses carry scale weight of 126 pounds.

The victories of different horses in the Derby and the Preakness, means there can be no triple crown winner this year.

SDU And Notre Dame Hold Bowling Banquet

The St. Dunstan's-Notre Dame bowling league ended this year's season last evening when the members of the league were feted at a banquet held at the Basilica Recreation Centre.

Over eighty students were present as Louis Smith, president of the league, introduced the guest speaker, Vic Williams, and acted as Master of Ceremonies for the evening. Other head table guests included various members of the SDHS faculty and Rev. Clarence Roche, moderator of the league.

Trophies were presented to the winning team during the regular season. Mike Lund was the captain and the other team members were Carl MacQuaid, Frank Robinson, Rodney Walsh, Marion Livingstone, and Margaret MacDonald. Jim MacQuaid received the trophy for the league championship, won by ending in first place in the playoffs. The members of this team were Louis Smith, Francis Gillan, Barbara MacIntyre, Eileen Hughes and Pat Dooley.

Other trophies winners were as follows: Ladies' most improved bowlers - Mary McQuaid and Janet Grant, best attendance - Linda Howatt, team spirit - Marilyn Doyle, Men's best attendance - Bill LeClair, team spirit - Barry Doyle, most improved - Don Dunsford, and flukiest faculty bowler - Parker Lund.

A special trophy was won by Paul Connolly. This trophy was for the "League's Best Lover" and was presented to Paul with a charming smile and a kiss by Marjorie St. John.

High single in the men's division was won by Earl Froude while Shawn Smith received the trophy for high triple. Louis Smith won the high average trophy. Marion Livingstone had the high single for the ladies and Joan MacCabe won the high triple. Sheila Gallant received the high average trophy.

In his address Vic Williams pointed out that it was the responsibility of the teenagers to keep bowling alive in this province. He stated that the only way to do this was by active participation. He also mentioned the importance of the Recreation Centre in this respect, saying that it already had brought about a revival of teenage bowling in the city.

Asked for a few hints on how to improve one's game, Vic pointed out the importance of organized competition to do this. He told his audience to concentrate on their stance, their delivery, and their grip.

In the latter part of his speech he advocated that an Island Bowling Council be organized to improve the care of Island bowling by setting up better leagues and stiffer competition. He ended by congratulating those present for a wonderful season and entreated everyone to continue their interest in the sport.

Following Vic's speech Louis Smith outlined the plans for next year's league and thanked all the students for their interest and support during the year. The meal was prepared and served by Women of the Basilica Parish.

The boy recovered but Patterson has since been up to his ears in athletic equipment.

His latest invention is a cooling pad made of polyethylene filled with corn syrup. He found the pad would stay cool for long periods after being placed in freezing temperatures for a few minutes.

Patterson has designed two shapes of pads. One is rectangular and contains about five ounces of syrup. It can be placed inside football, hockey and lacrosse helmets. Another pad, circular in shape, contains two ounces of syrup and fits baseball and golf caps.

Production is just starting and so far nobody has had to leave a game because of syrup oozing down his neck from a broken pad.

Patterson got the idea for the pad last February when members of Canada's national hockey team complained of heat caused by the protective helmets they wore during a game against the National Hockey League Oldtimers at Maple Leaf Gardens.

INVENTED MOUTH GUARD

He discovered temperatures rising to 90 degrees under the helmets but found the pads could reduce the heat to 20 degrees.

Patterson spends as much as 40 hours a week on his hobby, has developed $35,000 in manufacturing equipment, has distributed $75,000 worth of protective helmets and mouth guards and hasn't kept a cent of profit.

"I've put it all back," he said. "I'm working toward a business for my boys."

Danny, a 21-year-old basketball star at the University of New Brunswick where he is working toward a degree in physical education, and Bruce, a 15-year-old minor hockey goaltender, are both interested in their father's hobby. But an 18-year-old daughter, Barbara, described by Patterson as the real athlete of the family, isn't interested. Barbara is off to Paris this summer to study French at the Sorbonne.

It was through Bruce that Patterson stumbled on one of his most successful inventions, a mouth guard which can be attached to hockey helmets.

Concerned by the number of teeth boys were losing in hockey, Patterson set out to design a protector that wouldn't hinder breathing. He is

"One day in the fall of 1961 I was fitting a hockey helmet on Bruce and was outlining a chin strap on it," he said. "Bruce got to horsing around and he put the strap over his mouth instead of under his chin. At that moment I got the idea for the mouth guard."

From Bruce's horseplay came a polyethylene mouth protector resembling a chin strap. The guard is attached to the helmet and sits 1 1/2 inches in front of the mouth.

Football Association Finally Officially Formed

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Football Players Association, long a dream of some professionals, was officially formed during the weekend at a close two-day session of player representatives from the five-team Western and four-team Eastern conferences of the Canadian Football League.

"We'll try to be as business-like as we possibly can and we don't intend to bulldoze anybody," newly-elected president Gary Schneider of Ottawa Rough Riders told a press conference Sunday.

The 31-year-old lawyer and veteran nine-year linebacker and defensive half said the association executive hoped to meet with the CFL at its meeting set for Winnipeg in June.

First vice-president is 29-year-old Norm Rauhaus of Winnipeg Blue Bombers and secretary-treasurer is Dick Shatto, 32-year-old all-star halfback with Toronto Argonauts.

Schneider and Rauhaus are native Canadians and Shatto, with Argos since 1954 and a native of Springfield, Ohio, is a naturalized Canadian.

The association said in a statement after its meeting that its purpose is to "better the relations between players, coaches, managers and owners in the Canadian Football League, to afford player group benefits, and, predicted on a realistic appraisal of what conditions are necessary, to maintain the CFL at the highest level."

It added: "The association recognizes that a relationship of mutual goodwill must exist between the players association and the league. The association further recognizes that football being Canada's largest spectator sport, acknowledges that it will not use any means, although legally available to it, to effect its purposes, which in any way will damage the sport."

It listed its objectives as recognition of the association by the CFL; a pension scheme and other benefits.

Asked what was meant by "other benefits," Schneider declined to say.

"It might create a problem for ourselves if we listed these benefits. You don't get things

Big Question Over Softball

By NORMAN MacDONALD

The softball league in Summerside this spring is saturated with question marks. Only one meeting next Thursday will prove them, and actually they won't be there unless some other team or teams come along and give them some competition. The Enman Drug Team, which finished in a blaze of glory last year, winning a Maritime championship, have had disappointing turn-outs so far and are not sure. Ullric Gallant says, are definitely out, and Coastal Movers under Glen Matthews, who hope to put the emphasis on youth this year. Kensington representatives have attended one meeting, and may come in, but once again the "may" is underlined. Cold weather could have something to do with poor turn-outs.

Considering the ex weather, the turnouts at the baseball diamond seem to be fairly large. Henry Pius-Gallant is out making the juniors hustle, and hustling quite a bit himself. It looks as if Tignish and a team from Grand River and Wellington will be accepted into the league, though we're jumping the gun on the executive in saying this. If those outport teams prove to be evenly matched with our aggregations, the move should be a real shot in the arm to local baseball. We notice that Charlottetown is branching out toward the east, so let's make it "westward ho" for Summerside.

When the evenings warm up a bit, maybe more of the boys will get the softball fever. A team, the RCAF, are sure starters, and actually they won't be there unless some other team or teams come along and give them some competition.
