

The New Brunswick Exhibition.

(By the Examiner's own Reporter.)

The attendance at the Exhibition to-day was, notwithstanding the disagreeable weather, surprisingly large. The exhibits in all departments were better arranged than on the day of opening, and spectators could more easily and satisfactorily examine the

SPLENDID DISPLAY OF NEW BRUNSWICK'S INDUSTRIES.

The exhibit of manufactured goods is the grandest ever witnessed in the Maritime Provinces. All branches of industry are fully represented. Entering the Exhibition palace, the first thing to meet the eye is a display of the mineral products of the Province. To the left is a fine collection of tobaccos and the various materials used by the smoker. Next is the hardware department, in which the exhibit of Mr. S. R. Foster, nail and tack manufacturer, stands most prominent. Then comes a good collection of carpenters' and block-makers' handiwork, among which is a number of north pole refrigerators manufactured by Messrs. Lockerby & Clarke, two former Charlottetonians. Further on there is a fine show of leather and harness, and following this is a collection of stoves and marble mantles, manufactured by Mr. Isaac J. Harris, etc. On the south-east side of the interior is the grand collection of stoves exhibited by Mr. Charles Fawcett of Sackville, N. B. It consists of over one hundred different patterns of stoves, ranges, etc., and is pronounced to be the best exhibit made by any New Brunswick manufacturer. The chief attraction in the centre of the palace is which is decked with various samples of fruit and flowers grown in New Brunswick. The

by Messrs. Manchester Robinson & Allison, Carriages and Sleighs, by various manufacturers, and organs and pianos by George R. Bent, is very fine. The remainder of the base is given to horticulture and fruit. On the gallery is a splendid show in departments such as Lady's Fancy Work, and Domestic Goods in which Parks & Sons, are the most prominent exhibitors—Toilet Goods, Furniture, Leather Goods, Canned Goods, Cornice Curtains, Boots and Shoes, etc. The most attractive exhibit on the gallery is the furniture manufactured by Messrs. Stewart & White consisting of a number of elegant bedroom sets of marvellous beauty. Before the inauguration of the National Policy, Messrs. Stewart & White, were large importers of American furniture which was prized and readily purchased on account of its beauty of style and finish. But when the N. P., came into force, they discontinued importing and commenced manufacturing. The trade flourished, and the furniture manufactured by this firm to-day, is pronounced to be superior to any which can be imported at the same cost.

THE ART GALLERY

is well filled; but the work of Art is not up to a fair standard. The oil paintings of Miss Alley attract a good deal of attention and compare favorably with the generality of those on exhibition.

THE MOST INTERESTING AND IMPORTANT part of the exhibit within the palace are the cereals, vegetables and dairy products. In grain, the Island quota is the centre of attraction. Our white and black oats are beyond comparison the best. In wheat, our samples are admitted to be superior, although the New Brunswick exhibit is highly creditable to that Province. The barley shown by New Brunswick farmers would not sell at any price in the Island. It is undoubtedly the poorest barley that ever came under our notice. With one or two exceptions, the exhibit of oats was inferior. New Brunswick makes a very good show in beans and buckwheat, none of which are among the Island exhibits. The sample of peas in the P. E. Island exhibit is pronounced to be excellent. Although the Island has not been in a position to put her best foot foremost in on this occasion, owing to the early date at which selection had to be made, and they are somewhat inferior, yet, we think, our farmers will, under any circumstances, have hard work to carry off honors from New Brunswick in the production of vegetables. Turnips, mangolds, sugar and table beets, carrots, parsnips, squashes, pumpkins, etc., are exhibited in great quantities and are splendid specimens. Our mangolds and vegetables look well, but New Brunswick has scored a point against us in this department.

THE DAIRY INTEREST

of New Brunswick is well represented by a large number of really choice specimens of butter and cheese. The sooner our farmers realize the important fact that first-class butter and cheese cannot be produced without the introduction of factories, the better it will be for the Province. The show of is large; but, on the whole, is decidedly inferior to the stock shown at our Island fairs. With the exception of a nice herd of Herefords shown by a farmer from Sackville, there is nothing deserving of particular mention in this department. Many of the cattle are of the Channel Islands breeds, which do not add many attractions to the show; although, no doubt, their fine qualities for dairy purposes have materially assisted our neighbors in making such a good exhibit of butter and cheese.

Our Shorthorn cows and heifer and Ayreshire will take the lead of everything here; and we learn that certificates of superiority have been awarded each of them.

The Challenger was called into the ring to-day with the prize horses for agricultural purposes, and two fine Percheron horses, imported from the United States. Challenger appeared to good advantage, and was much admired. He was awarded a diploma for being the best draft horse on the grounds. The Island carriage horses have to be taken out of their quarters frequently, in response to earnest requests of visitors. They will be judged to-morrow. Of course they cannot compete for prizes, but their superiority over New Brunswick horses is admitted on all sides.

Messrs. Longworth and Boswell's sheep, arrived on Tuesday morning, in bad condition, having been badly shipped, and detained in transit, and the bad weather of yesterday, not giving them a chance to improve their appearance. They appear to good advantage under the circumstances and are selling at good prices.

The show of pigs is very good. It consists chiefly of Berkshires and cross breeds. Each of our counties can we think produce better porkers, although not in such large numbers. The races were postponed until Thursday on account of unfavorable weather.

Sad Death.

MR. JOHN BUTLER, a retired teacher, had for some time past been in a melancholy state of mind, and under the Doctor's care. On Wednesday morning he left his home in this city, and was seen by several persons walking towards Victoria Park. As he did not return, his family became alarmed; search was instituted, and about four o'clock yesterday afternoon, his dead body was found in a clump of bushes to the south of the pond in the Park, with a ragged jagged gash in his throat, extending from Adam's apple upwards and outwards for about two inches, and about two inches in depth. A razor covered with blood, was found near by, inclosed in a common case. It was, undoubtedly, the instrument of death. But whether it was, after the dreadful deed, returned to the case by the dying man himself, or whether it was put back by some person who found the body, is not known. Mr. Butler was a temperate, quiet man, of good character.

Last evening an inquest was held before Coroner Beer. The evidence elicited was in effect as stated above; and the belief expressed by some of the witnesses was that the deceased came to his death by his own hand, while in an unsound state of mind. The razor found is like one he had. The following is the verdict of the Coroner's Jury:—

"The deceased came to his death by a wound on the right side; but the evidence does not show whether it was inflicted by himself or otherwise."

Exhibition Notes.

Entries are pouring in to-day, especially in the Live Stock classes. The cattle show grounds present a stirring aspect. Workmen are busily employed preparing the field for the grand reception of the best display of horses, cattle, sheep and pigs ever before exhibited in this Province. The Exhibition Building is now ready for the proper arrangement of exhibits in the different departments. Parties requiring space for bulky articles should make immediate application for space. The field adjoining the building is well arranged for the reception of farm implements, &c.

The ingenuity displayed in Mr. Quirk's advertisement is recognized by all.

"Old Gold" can now be found at the Apothecaries Hall. Call early. [oc 8]
