INTERIM REPORT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

Hockey School Opens Mon.

FORMER National Hockey League hockey star, Leighton 'Hap' Emms will be chief instructor at the annual coaches and referees hockey school to be held in Charlottetown next Monday and Tuesday, December 14 and 15.

Emms is the present owner-coach of Niagara Falls Junior Flyers. In 1963 'Hap' led his Flyers to the memorial Cup finals but lost out to Edmonton Oil Kings. This was the time that Emms and CAHA president, Art Potter, tore into each other with a vengeance. 'Hap' and Potter made top copy throughout this gruelling series.

The former pro is a dedicated hockey man. He works tremendously hard at his task and players who have performed for him rate him tops in the coaching business. He's a strict disciplinarian but his methods have achived success. When invited by provincial director of physical education, David M. Boswell, to handle this school, Emms was more than anxious to oblige. He loves this kind of work and should give Islanders one of the best schools ever conducted here.

'Hap' will be assisted by Wes 'Bucko' Trainor, John Kane, Brian Lewis and Mr. Boswell. The blackboard sessions will be held at the Charlottetown 'Y' and practical sessions at The Charlottetown Forum. Tuesday night a closing dinner will take place at The Charlottetown Hotel, following which Mr. Emms and other officials will attend the Charlottetown and District Junior Hockey League game at The Forum.

Mr. Boswell has pointed out that there is still time for persons interested to register for these two-day sessions. The annual schools have always proved decidedly popular and this one next week surely will be no exception. All those who can possibly attend the sessions are urged to do so.

He's A Real Color Guy

HAP EMMS has indeed been a color guy all the way.

A lifelong resident of Barrie, Ont., he is called the dean of Canadian hockey coaches and with good reasons. Over 40 years of his life have been spent in this great sport, covering every aspect of the game, save refereeing.

Emms first turned pro with the Montreal Maroons. After five years with the Montrealers he was traded to Detroit Red Wings where he performed for three years. He was then sold to the New York Americans. He played five seasons with the Amerks before calling it quits.

Following his playing days, Hap coached at Omaha and at St. Louis who was then in the American Hockey League. After resigning from the St. Louis post, he returned to his native Barrie where he took over as coach of the Barrie Junior Flyers. He coached this club for eight years and then became owner-coach. Five years ago Hap moved his Flyers to Niagara Falls where his club set attendance records.

AS A junior 'A' coach, Emms has won two Memorial Cups, four eastern championships and six OHA championships. He is regarded as a great developer of hockey talent with at least 14 of his players going on to NHL fame.

It's not hard to see why Dave Boswell wanted this fellow down on Prince Edward Island to conduct the 1964 hockey school for coaches and referees. This is old stuff to the talkative Emms and he will give his students something they can really profit by.

A hearty welcome to Mr. Emms and congratulations to Mr. Boswell in acquiring the services of such a talented gentleman.

Russia Scores 2 In 3rd To Squeeze By Jr. Habs

By TED BLACKMAN

MONTREAL (CP)— Russia's national hockey team rallied on two late goals Friday night to score a 3-2 exhibition victory over a pro-amateur combination of Quebec Aces and Montreal Junior Canadiens.

The Russians used their superior physical condition over the tiring Canadiens in the final minutes and erased a 2-1 deficit with goals by Alexander Almetov and Yuri Volkov.

The Junior Habs, bolstered by the addition of six pros from the American League Quebec Aces, had taken the lead on a goal by Leon Rochefort of Aces at 5:25 of the final period. Almetov connected four minutes later on a three-man passing play to tie the score.

The Soviets then took control, killing off a Canadiens power play after two Russians were sent to the penalty box within nine seconds. Volkov tallied the winner seconds later, beating goalie Gump Worsley with his own rebound at 14:05.

Russia opened the scoring in the second period as high-rated Russian Veniamin Alexandrov bounced a shot in off Serge Savard from behind the net. The Habs got that back when Bill Sutherland scored three minutes later.

The game, first of the Russians' eight-game Canadian tour was played before 15,678 fans, one of the largest forum crowds in several years.

Worsley kept Montreal in the game in the first period, stopping several shots that could easily have been goals. And without the other Aces, Red Berenson, Doug Harvey, Jonn Hanna, Rochefort and Sutherland, the Junior Habs might have been trounced.

The Russian team, which defeated Canada en route to an Olympic victory last winter, dazzled the crowd with their speed and intricate passing plays. The Soviets, however, failed to finish their patterns and hesitated at the goalmouth, passing rather than shooting.

Russia outshot Montreal 30-26, but the Soviets could have had a much wider advantage.

Their puck control was especially brilliant on power plays. Russia had five penalties to Montreal's one.

SUMMARY

First period — No scoring. Penalties—Loktev 8:37, Savard 16:25.

Second period—1. Russia, Alexandrov 12:20; 2. Montreal, Sutherland (Berenson, Rochefort) 15:45. Penalties—Davidov 0:46, Yurzinov 19:18.

Third priod — 3. Montreal, Rochefort (Sutherland, Berenson) 5:25; 4. Russia, Almetov (Alexandrov, Zaitsev) 9:33; 5. Russia, Volkov (Firsov) 14:05. Penalties—Ivanof 11:16, Yurzinov 11:25.

Bob Shaw Accepts Job As Coach Of Argonauts

By JERRY GLADMAN

TORONTO (CP)—Bob Shaw is the man Toronto Argonauts hope can lead them out of the football wilderness.

The 42-year-old coach of Saskatchewan Roughriders Friday accepted the job as head coach of the Eastern Conference team for a three-year term. His appointment followed a closed-door meeting of Argonaut directors and ended a month-long period of speculation.

Managing Director Lew Hayman declined in an interview after the meeting to announce Shaw' salary. But unconfirmed reports said it was a $20,000 a year plus a $5,000 annual bonus if the downtrodden Argos make the Eastern playoffs.

Shaw takes over from Nobby Wirkowski, fired a month ago after two frustrating seasons of last-place finishes in the four-team circuit.

"I think it's a real challenge and a real opportunity," Shaw said at Regina. He had talked to Hayman and other Argonaut directors earlier in the week in Toronto and had returned West to await the final decision.

Shaw was one of three major candidates bidding for the job, dubbed as the plum of any coaching chore in the nine-team Canadian League. Others were defensive coach Jim Champion of the Grey Cup-winning British Columbia Lions and assistant coach Joe Restic of Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Hayman said the deciding factor which won the job for Shaw was his "two years under the gun a Saskatchewan."

Volleyball Finals

This morning at 9:00 a.m. will mark a highlight in Charlottetown sporting history. Volleyball will make one of it's very infrequent appearances in the city. At the Queen Charotte gym the junior and senior finals in Volleyball will take place.

There will be eight to ten teams from across the Island taking part in this tournament with a double allmination system being used. This means that after a team has lost two games they are out of the series

The officials for the tournament will be provided by RCAF Station Summerside.

Dave Boswell, Provincial Director of Physical Education and Alcoholic Studies will make the presentation to the winning teams.

Black Hawks On The Move; Play Wings This Weekend

By JERRY GLADMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

With only six points separating the first five teams in the National Hockey League standings, a full slate of weekend games could result in messy traffic jam.

Chicago Black Hawks, who appear to have snapped out of an early season slump, could cause some radical changes with continued success in their home-and-home series with the league - leading Detroit Red Wings. The teams are in Detroit Saturday and Chicago Sunday.

In other Saturday games, Boston Bruins visit Toronto Maple Leafs while Montreal Canadiens play host to New York Rangers. Toronto is at New York Sunday while Montreal travels to Boston.

The Wings currently lead the parade with 28 points, one more than the Canadiens. Leafs show 25 with a one-point margin over Rangers. The Black Hawks are alone in fifth place with 22 points, six more than the tail-end Bruins.

The Hawks, led by free-scoring Bobby Hull who has 21 goals from 23 games, are on the rampage with a 6-1 trouncing of New York Wednesday and their 5-1 victory the next night in Boston.

JOLTED BY SHAKEUP

A shakeup in the Chicago manpower, which saw the benching of young Dennis Hull and the demotion of Bill Hay to the third line from the first, appears to have jolted the Hawks into playing up to their potential.

New York, fighting to stay among the leaders under pressure from the Hawks, face two fired-up teams in Canadiens and Leafs, who played first - class hockey in a game Wednesday night which Montreal won 3-2.

Defenceman Harry Howell, an important reason for New York's success against apparently stronger teams this season, is a doubtful starter because of an attack of flu.

Bob Pulford of the Leafs is unlikely to appear with Leafs because of an eye injury suffered last weekend. The injury is said not to be serious but doctors don't want him to take chances.

Calgary Stampeders Appoint Jerry Williams

CALGARY (CP)—Jerry Williams, assistant coach of the Calgary Stampeders, was named head coach of the Western Football Conference club.

Williams, former player and coach with Los Angeles Rams and Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, replaces Bobby Dobbs, who resigned last month after Rogers Lenew was named general manager.

Dobbs said he could not work under a man who previously had worked under him.

Terms of the contract were not disclosed. Lehew said it was "more than a one-year contract."

He said the appointment was approved unanimously by the Stampeder board of directors.

Williams, a native of Spokane, Wash., joined the Stampeders in February, this year. He was responsible for coaching the club's defensive secondary.

The appointment of Williams, 41, was the latest in a series of front-office adjustments made necessary by the departure of Jim Finks, former general manager, to a similar position with Minnesota Vikings of the NFL.

Dobbs, 41, said he wanted to combine his head coaching position with the general manager's chores. He tendered his resignation at a club party after Stampeders were eliminated from the WFC finals by British Columbia Lions. He became head coach in 1961.

Lehew, 36, joined Stampeders in 1960 as minor football co-ordinator and special assistant to Finks.

Ron Ingram Called Up

Cleveland And Giants Meet This Afternoon

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Cleveland Browns and New York Giants hold the spotlight in today's National Football League action.

Browns are favored to win their first Eastern Division title in six years. Giants are hoping to salve the wounds they have suffered in their worst year in more than 10.

Giants trail the East with a 2-9-2 record but the best a victory would do would heal their damaged pride.

Browns are Eastern leaders at 8-3-1 and they are determined as they go into their Saturday afternoon game at Yankee Stadium.

If Giants win the New York game, the title would go on the line in the Sunday game at St. Louis between second-place Cardinals and Philadelphia.

St. Louis, which upset the Browns 28-19 last week, have an 8-3-2 record. If the Browns lose and the Cardinals beat the Eagles, St. Louis would take the Eastern title.

The other final regular season game Sunday have Green Bay at Los Angeles, Minnesota at Chicago, San Francisco at Detroit, Washington at Baltimore and Pittsburgh at Dallas.

In the American Football League, which has still another week to go, the Sunday slate has Buffalo at Denver, Kansas City at San Diego and New York at Houston. Oakland and Boston are idle

Kings County Players Set For Volleyball Tournament

By ED CLINTON
Souris Bureal of The Guardian

The biggest sports event this week concerning this area is the volleyball tournament to be played at Queen Charlotte in Charlottetown. This County is represented by two teams, one from Souris. And by the way, that's girls. This will mark the first venture by this county into this sport, and it will be interesting to see how they compare with the rest of the Island.

The King's County Basketball League will be in operation for sure this year. All three teams will be back, namely, Montague, Morell and Souris. If Montague does play city teams, it still will not interfere with the league. The regular schedule will not start before the New Year, but there may be a few exhibition games next week. At the present time, Montague stacks up as the team to beat.

On the school level, it could be all Morell this year. Montague suffered major losses when Ken Squarebriggs and Steve Clarkson graduated, while Souris lost players to graduation and to hockey. Morell, we understand will have practically the same team that won them an Island championship last year.

In the girls' league, Morell lost Debbie MacAdam, but, everyone else is supposed to be back, AND, they are also defending Island champs. Souris, who lost to Morell last year by one point, suffered major losses and have a big rebuilding job. Montague should be the team to show the most improvement. Their biggest problem in the past was to get enough players.

HOCKEY TIME NEARS

Well, the snow is here, the weather is colder, and this means that hockey is not too far away. Ice making in the Souris arena is expected to get underway within a week or so. Other centers are probably ready to get underway also. Last year the weatherman wasn't too co-operative, and the season didn't start until January. Let's hope he's easier to get along with this year.

Short Notes: Belvedere won the Gaboury Trophy in Souris' first Curling Bonspiel . . . . . . After three weeks, Souris bowlers have come up with only two six hundred nights . . . . . . Chris Cheverie told me she'll improve her scores after she gets supplied out . . . . . . Ladies are having a ball curling . . . . . . Sports coverage it SRHS is now being provided by Maggie MacPhee . . . . . Alice M is curling and bowling, wouldn't one be enough, Alice?

Bobby Shantz Has Retired

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Little Bobby Shantz retired from baseball Friday after 16 years as a pitcher in the major leagues. He said he is leaving because he feels he can't do the job the way he wants to do it.

Shantz, 39, disclosed his retirement in a letter to General Manager John Quinn of Philadelphia Phillies, who brought him here last August from Chicago Cubs.

The most valuable player in the American League in 1952 when he won 24 games for Philadelphia Athletics, Shantz late played for Kansas City, New York and Washington in the American League and with Pittsburgh, Houston, St. Louis, Chicago and Philadelphia of the National League.

Shantz, for years the smallest player in the big leagues at five-feet - seven, was one of the game's finest fielding pitchers. He won the Golden Glove award as top fielding pitcher every year since 1957.

Co-owner of a bowling alley in suburban Philadelphia with former major league catcher Joe Astroth, Shantz said he would devote full time to the business.

He won 119 games and lost 99 during his major league days.

Soccer Star Is Suspended

LONDON (AP) — Denis Law, possibly the greatest soccer star ever produced in Scotland, was suspended Friday for 28 days, effective next Monday, for cursing an official during a game last month. He is a star member of the Manchester United team, currently the leader in the British soccer league.

The suspension, which will cost him a month's salary and keep him on the bench for four games, is the equivalent of having Willie Mays, centre fielder of the San Francisco Giants, out of the line-up for a month during the National League pennant drive.

Manchester leads the league by a single point.

Boog Powell Wins Slugging Title

BOSTON (AP)—John (Boog) Powell of Baltimore Orioles beat out New York's Mickey Mantle, a four-time champion, for the 1964 American League slugging title, final official averages showed Friday.

Powell compiled 257 total bases in 424 official times at bat for a .606 average. Among the hard-hitting outfielder's 123 hits were 17 doubles and 29 home runs.

Mantle slugged .591 with 275 total bases in 465 official trips. He had 141 hits, including 25 doubles, 2 triples and 35 homers.

Minnesota's Tony Oliva, the Al batting champion, was third with a .557 slugging mark.

Slugging averages are figured by dividing the total of bases accumulated on all hits by the number of official times at bat.

Baltimore's Norm Siebern received the most bases on balls last season, 106. Mantle drew the most intentional walks, 18. Nelson Mathews of Kansas City struck out the most times, 143.

Mantle, who struck out 102 times in 1964, set two major league career records in his category. They were for total strikeouts — 1,348 — and most years with 100 or more strikeouts—seven
