

A Skating Lesson

We spoke in sentences condensed, Yet said enough. Sometimes I wildly bumped against Her furry muff.

Woman.

If thou lovest and art a woman, never hide thy love from him whom thou dost worship never; let him know how dear he is.—Miss London.

It must always be a very terrible thing for a woman to find that any man she likes heartily, and only likes, loves her.—Miss Mulock.

I think no woman ever knows how utterly she has given herself up to the man she loves, until that man has ill-treated her.—Wilkie Collins.

Any woman who allows an offer only to refuse it, lowers, not only herself, but her whole sex, for a long, long time after in her lover's eyes.—Miss Mulock.

One must be very much of a woman for whom a man can sacrifice the deepest purpose of his life, without awakening to regret it.—Mrs. H. B. Stowe.

A woman in love is a very poor judge of character. She can see nothing but excellence where others see nothing but shallowness.—F. G. Holland.

The women are very few indeed who cannot resolve firmly, scheme patiently, and act promptly, where the dearest interests of their lives are concerned.—Wilkie Collins.

When all things are heretofore united, and the contents of various bundles disclosed, it is my opinion that as many noble, self-sacrificing virtues will be found tied up with precious bow knots in some of those vertical rolls called "Old Maids," as in many others that shall appear.—H. W. Beecher.

God Save the Queen.

The absorbing topic of the day is a Free Trip Around the World, offered by "The Home Fascinator," Pub. Co., to the person sending us the largest number of words constructed from letters contained in the sentence "GOD SAVE THE QUEEN," and found in either Webster's or Worcester's Dictionary.

GRATEFUL-COMFORTING EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST. "By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which will save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.
