MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH A. GALLANT

Young Couple Pledge Vows At Ceremony In Bloomfield

St. Anthony's Church, Bloomfield, was the scene of a pretty wedding recently when Mary Pauline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Gallant, Pluisville, became the bride of Joseph Albert Gallant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustine Gallant of Brae. Rev. Clarence J. Pitre, parish priest, officiated. Mr. Cyrus J. Gallant was organist and accompanied the soloist, Miss Ethel Finnan of Woodstock, as she sang "Ave Maria" and "Mother, at Your Feet I'm Kneeling." The altar and sanctuary were beautifully decorated for the occasion with baskets of mixed flowers, and the guest pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her floor length wedding gown of white lace and net over satin, with fitted bodice, lace and net yoke, sleeves featuring lily points and lace inserts in the full skirt. Her elbow length veil of net and lace was held in place with a coronet of sequins and pearls and she carried a lace covered missal and nosegay of red sweetheart roses and white 'mums.

Mrs. Melvin Blanchard, aunt of the bride, as matron of honor, and Miss Marlene Gallant, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, were gowned identically in nylon chiffon over taffeta, in pale blue and mint green, respectively with matching headdresses and corsage of deep pink and white carnations. Miss Barbara Ann Blanchard, cousin of the bride, as flower girl, was attired in pink nylon with matching headdress and carried a basket of pink and white baby 'mums.

Mr. Melvin Blanchard, uncle of the bride, was best man.

Mrs. Gallant chose for her daughter's wedding an "old rose" lace over taffeta gown with matching jacket, white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother wore a blue and white floral print dress with blue accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception for sixty-five guests was held at the home of the bride's parents.

For the honeymoon trip, the bride travelled in a two - piece wool suit of emerald green, white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Nazaire Gallant and family, Mr. Jerome Gallant of Charlottetown; Mr. and Mrs. Aubin Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Perry of Wellington; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gallant of St. Chrysostom; Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Gaudet, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McDonald of Grand River; Mrs. Leo Warren and Margaret Ann of Borden.

St. Mark's Anglican Church Holds Sunday School Concert

KENSINGTON — St. Mark's Anglican Sunday School concert was held in the church hall on Tuesday evening, December 18, with the Rev. Ron Parsons as chairman.

To open the program the Sunday School pupils sang "Jingle Bells." The welcome to the parents was given by John Roy Picketts. Next on the program was an acrostic presented by fourteen juniors, - Donnie Moase, Timmie Parsons, Dennis Pidgeon, Pamela Clark, Jocelyn Parsons, Gary Brenn, Marlene Turner, Heath Cobb, Marlene Dunning, Eddie Carrier, Pearl Graham, Chris Moore, Jane Clark, Lois Graham. "Away in a Manger" was sung by seven girls, - A recitation "Voices of Bethlehem" was given by David McInnis, Roy Moase and Kenny Graham, and an exercise, "We wish you a Merry Christmas" was done by the younger members of the Sunday School.

A solo by Kathy Carrier was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The recitation "Christmas Greens" was presented by Brenda Turner, Ronnie Blakeney, Beverly Cobb, Kenny Davis and Stephen Parsons.

A carol service which was the highlight of the evening was put on by the older members of the Sunday School. The farewell was given by Kathy Carrier. Accordion music was furnished by Walter Moase during the evening.

A chorus "Santa Claus is Coming to Town" by the older girls brought Santa with treats for the members of the Sunday School.

The music for the concert was played by Mrs. Ken Pidgeon.

The Rev. and Mrs. Ron Parsons were presented with a gift by St. Mark's Church Guild. The superintendent, Mrs. Clarence Moase, and the Sunday School teachers, Mrs. Elmer Moase, Mrs. Ron Parsons, Mrs. Don Crasley, Mrs. David L. McInnis, Mrs. Joe Harding, helped Santa with the treats, and helped in many ways to make the concert a success.

WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS

Kensington UCW Hears Various Annual Reports

KENSINGTON — The first annual meeting of the Kensington "United Church Women" held on the evening of December 10, 1962, opened with a worship service and closed with a candle lighting service. Mrs. Everett Cousins, Mrs. Harold Palmer and Mrs. Erskine MacMurdo led these worship periods and arranged the Christmas decorations which set a reverent atmosphere to this season of the year.

Mrs. Harold Laird, president, in her report of the year's work, thanked the members for their co-operation, and said "we can inspire others by our attendance at meetings, we can serve through our contributions and our prayers, through our work on committees, and by taking part in our programs. Each one can do her best to further the work of our Master in our community, in our province, in our country and in the world".

Some highlights of the year included a membership roll of 101 with five life members. Six units met regularly for Bible study and deeper fellowship and ten general meetings were held. The programs at the general meetings were varied. Among these programs were Bible quizzes, "Live a Borrowed Life" with Bible characters, panel discussions, a presentation of the Christian Education work of the church, a dramatized program, a summer picnic meeting with Mrs. Samuel Profitt, Ontario as guest speaker, a white elephant sale, and at the December meeting Mrs. Alexander MacKay interestingly introduced the Mission Study book, "On Asia's Rim". She was assisted by Mrs. Waldon Davison and Mrs. Lloyd Millar. Special mention was made of the work accomplished by the program, the social functions, and the flower committees, as well as for the new furniture supplied by the former Junior W.A.

The following nominations for the 1963 executive and committee chairman were accepted; president, Mrs. Harold Laird; first vice president, Mrs. Harold Palmer; second vice president, Mrs. Vernon Millar; secretary, Mrs. Harry Brown; treasurer, Mrs. Preston Kennedy; corresponding secretary, Miss Hattie Clark; conveners; Christian citizenship and social action, Mrs. George Brookins; Christian education and missionary work, Mrs. L.M. Murray; community friendship and visiting, Mrs. Russell MacKay; finance, Mrs. Leaman Caseley; flower committee, Mrs. Roscoe Walker; Manse, Mrs. Waldron Davison; membership, Mrs. Robert Hogg; periodicals Mrs. Preston Kennedy; press and publicity, Mrs. Robert Carruthers; program, Mrs. Alexander MacKay; social functions, Mrs. Fred Davison; stewardship and recruiting, Mrs. Everett Cousins; supply and social assistance, Mrs. Bruce MacLeod; literature and communications, Mrs. Keith Kennedy; nominations, Mrs. Ivan Darrach.

During the business session encouraging annual reports of service by various committees were heard. Twenty-five dollars was voted towards each of the following, the Maritime Home for Girls, the Pine Hill Divinity Hall, and the Atlantic Christian Training Center; and a substantial amount was voted towards gifts for two theological students the church organist, the church bulletin printer, a departing gift, gifts for shut-ins, and the annual Christmas treat for the Sunday School.

The church calendars were distributed by units, and it was decided to order a number of "In Memoriam" cards. The treasurer reported a successful year financially with the missionary allocation reached. It was decided to install a required fixture in the Manse.

YORK WI

The singing of favorite Christmas carols and the repeating of the Institute creed opened the December meeting of the Alpha York Women's Institute, Mrs. Stuart Vessey chaired the meeting.

Roll call was answered by an exchange of Christmas gifts and the secretary Mrs. Howard Watts read the minutes of the last meeting. Committees reported on the recent concert and turkey supper, the proceeds from which are for repairs to the community hall.

Mrs. Raymond Vessey, read the treasurer's report. Donations of $5 each were voted for the Lady Aberdeen Scholarship fund and the TB League. A donation was also made toward Christmas treats for the school children.

Mrs. Stuart Vessey and Mrs. Howard Watts reported on the leadership course.

Mrs. Harry Lewis, Mrs. Roscoe MacDonald, Mrs. Clifford Chappell and Mrs. Richard Vessey were appointed to the sick and shut-in committee and were requested to purchase gifts.

Mrs. Lloyd Vessey will be the hostess for the January meeting. Mrs. Laken Lewis and Mrs. Irving MacDonald agreed to instruct the 4-H Club girls in their sewing classes. Mrs. Jack Simpson, Mrs. Elmer Brown and Mrs. Frank Watts volunteered to give assistance when needed.

Mrs. Willard Murray spoke to the members about a vacation in Stratford, describing the theatre, displaying pictures and festival booklets and relating a few of the more interesting behind-the scenes incidents.

Following the meeting Mrs. Leigh Vessey was hostess for a pleasant social hour.

To accompany the fish as a combined sauce and vegetable, add 2 cups medium-thick white sauce containing 2 chopped hard-cooked eggs and dust with minced parsley (or dill).

Serve lemon wedges with the kale or spinach to spark the flavor.

THE CHEF SUGGESTS

Old - fashioned hot or cold potato- egg salad mixed Continental style with small- diced cooked ham, green pepper and celery is a tasty accompaniment to hot or cold sliced roast turkey roll at a holiday supper.

IDA BAILEY ALLEN

Boneless Turkey Rolls Make A Holiday Supper

"BONELESS turkey rolls are new," remarked the Chef. "For those who do not wish to serve and carve a glamorous whole bird, a boneless turkey roll will solve the problem."

What are turkey rolls? They are quarters of large turkeys cut in half lengthwise, the halves cut in half again to yield two forequarters and two hindquarters.

The forequarters are white meat. The hindquarters are dark meat with the lower portion of the breast white meat included. These roasts vary from 4¼ to 7 lbs. ready-to-cook weight.

The style varies; they come fresh or fresh-frozen, individually packaged in heavy film wrap. Sometimes a part of a complete set of giblets is included with each roast.

In purchasing turkey roasts, allow ½ lb. purchased weight per serving.

TO ROAST BONELESS TURKEY ROLLS

Leave the roast in the original wrapper and thaw in the refrigerator for one to two days, according to weight, or place under running cold water.

Remove wrapper and leave string in place while cooking.

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

Rinse roast with cold water; drain and pat dry. If not preseasoned, rub lightly with salt and pepper.

Place on a rack in a shallow baking pan. Brush entire roll with melted butter or margarine.

Place in the pre-heated oven. Baste or brush occasionally with melted butter or margarine or pan drippings or a favorite barbecue sauce, especially any dry areas.

If the roast becomes too brown, cover with a loose tent of aluminum foil

Stuffing — If dressing or stuffing is desired, place it on a piece of foil under the roast or in a foil "bag" at the side or in a casserole. Allow about 1 hour of cooking time.

If desired, drizzle some of the pan dripping over the dressing for additional flavor.

Continue roasting until done, when a roast meat thermometer inserted in center of the roll should register 190 — 200 degrees

For best results in slicing, allow the roast to stand 20 to 30 minutes to absorb the juices.

Remove string; use sharp knife and slice thin at an angle across roast.

Brown or mushroom gravy may be made from the pan drippings.

TIME OF ROASTING

3-5 lbs., allow 2½ hours at 350 degrees F. Meat thermometer will register 190-200 degrees F.

5-7 lbs allow 2½ to 3¼ hours; 7-9 lbs. allowed 3 to 4 hours same temperature.

Shorten cooking time approximately 30 minutes for rotiserie cooking.

Lengthen cooking time approximately 30 minutes for cooking frozen rolls.

MARY HAWORTH

Mystery Woman Haunts Young Neighbor's Home

Dear Mary Haworth: I am one of a group concerned with the social life and respect of a young neighbor woman.

In the past year, I and my neighbors have noticed this girl being approached and shamefully embarrassed by a woman in her early fifties. To this very day, the older woman roams about in front of the girl's apartment.

We've questioned the girl concerning the woman's identity but she refuses to offer any satisfactory information

What measures might we take to uphold the girl's rights? Or should we refer the matter to the proper authorities (the law)? The older woman definitely is not the girl's mother nor does she reside in this community.

I believe the girl is afraid to do anything about it for fear of public notice. Kindly advise us. C.Y.

Dear C. Y.: As described, the neighborhood marauder appears to be a psychopathic character, which is to say an emotionally defective individual who derives malicious sadistic relish from degrading, humiliating and browbeating another person or trying to) on a basis of presumed familiarity.

This psychopathic type customarily preys upon a gentler or more passive personality, someone who is, by temperament or fateful circumstances, somewhat defenceless and isolated in relation to the psychopath's vicious aggression.

The picture that emerges of your young neighbor (reading on and between the lines of your letter) suggests that she is a rather solitary, self-enclosed person. As such, possibly she was betrayed by ignorance, naivete, loneliness and heart-hunger into a tragic, short-lived, homosexual alliance with the older woman at some past time.

As of now, she may be in attempted flight from that mistake, trying to put it behind her, while meanwhile the older woman pursues her with cruel, relentless, sportive weremmintion to prevent her escape into a new lease on decency and self respect.

Or they may have some other disreputable lapse in common of a nature offensive to law and order that the girl wishes to live down and the older woman wishes to perpetuate as a club over her head.

In any case, whatever the facts, your group is to be commended, I think, for taking a sympathetic interest in the girl's welfare and longing to come to her rescue against the older woman's hostile mania. M.H.

As for what to do, it occurs to me that your group should unite in the justified purpose of ridding the neighborhood of this menacing vagrant, this conspicuous disturber of the peace, who is making a public nuisance of herself in shamefully harassing your quiet young neighbor.

Thus, instead of probing the girl's reticence or bidding for her cooperation in putting the psychopath to rout, I suggest that your group organize its own clean-up campaign.

Talk to a local law enforcement officer — mayor, policeman, justice of the peace or a lawyer — about the public nuisance aspects of the o'der woman's crank behavior, evidently aimed at browbeating the girl. Ask if this amounts to disorderly conduct, making her liable to arrest, in the event that outraged witnesses file a complaint with the proper authorities.

This is probably the only way you can intervene on the girl's behalf, proving your protective concern for her (in actions, not words) in tactful disregard of whatever dark secret ties her own hands in relation to the malicious intruder.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of The Guardian.
