Montrealers

Not So Bad

Dear Editor:

In concern to the letter written by the "disgusted islanders" let me say this. There is nothing any better or worse here than in Montreal or any of the other big cities, just simply different. My suggestion to you is not to take everything you hear quite so seriously. Both types of places have something very special to offer so neither one should be degraded. Your letter told us how we shouldn't be telling you how to enjoy life; well don't tell us how to either. I would be very interested to know if you have ever been to Montreal.

You also made reference to people from certain other colleges. I got the distinct impression that the majority of your letter was digging at a few of us who once went to Vanier College. Those of us who once attended Vanier enjoyed those years because we contributed to the school life in some way. Now that we are at UPEI we hope to make some contribution here and so far we fell that we have helped in some small way. Islanders are nice people and the people who wrote this letter had no right to sign it the way that they did. Real Islanders are far too friendly to criticize something like that. So what do you say you stop the garbage throwing and pitch in and help us make yours and our University something to be really proud of.

'Jock' To Be Banned?

Dear Editor:

As a member of this University community, I think it's about time there was a ban put on that grossly misused word: JOCK. That ban should also include the word in Mickey Place's sports column.

Jock is best defined as a state of mind of some sports athletes and as far as this writer is concerned only .1% of the athletes on this campus have that on their minds.

As the saying goes, "Don't judge a book by its cover." The same consideration should be given to our athletes especially the ones from out of town. I know most of these people and their all super.

I know it's not so great when we see our Islanders warming the bench but if we limited the University to PEI students only, we wouldn't even consider beating some of the teams we have. As well, we don't just want to have "a" team, we want to have the "best team". So gang...stop knocking the imports. It's not great, by the way, to take the blame for a loss.

It was quite obviously a female who wrote the article about the "JOCKS" Look girls...why don't you speak to some of the athletes. They'd appreciate it. You'd like it too, if you were as far away from home.

Another point is, that as far as the episode that took place in the cafeteria, 99% of which I witnessed, I'm disappointed in whoever wrote the article because she did not get the story straight. Nothing was done to the girl and not one obscene word was uttered. It only goes to show how jealous some of the unnoticed girls can get. But writing an article like the one you did will not bring you any attention. I'd like to know where the spirit of going to University disappeared to. There used to be a time when harmless pranks were loved by one and all. C'mon girls, if we all went around as sober looking as some of you do, no one would have any fun or for that matter go to University at all. If the young lady from Morell couldn't take that mild bit of teasing (and I'm sure no one bothered to ask her how she felt) then she's going to be running home to Mummy in Freshman week of 1976.

I hope that this article will open some people's eyes and maybe those eyes will see that the members of the teams, who are, by the way, representing all of us, are really as humble as the rest of us should be!!

Signed,
A Female who's not like all the rest.

P.S. I'd like to extend a great big warm hello to Dennis High from Lynn, Mass., who will be joining the Basketball Panthers when his knee is better. Good luck Dennis.

realized only under the Socialist system, as all peace-loving, progressive, and democratically-minded people understand.

The first working class in a capitalist country to realize this was Russia. The workers organized and united, then threw capitalism out once and for all time. Today, the workers rule themselves in the USSR, Czechoslovakia, Poland, East Germany, Bulgaria, Cuba, and Viet Nam, Cambodia, and several others. In a scant 60 years, over one-third of the Earth's population has taken the socialist path of development. In those countries, production is for people - not for profit!
