IN MEMORIAM

JOHN N. RUNIGHAN The people of Morell East and vicinity were surprised and saddened by the unexpected death of John N. Runighan in the Charlottetown Hospital on November 28th, 1951.

Nick, as he was familiarly known entered the hospital a few days before his death, but his condition was not thought serious and no one thought the end so near, but God's will be done, not ours.

He was sixty-seven years old and was born in Morell East.

When a very young man he went to Western Canada where he remained for some time, but in 1913 came back to New York and worked for the Standard Oil Co. where he was until his retirement.

Nick was honest and upright in all his dealings and a favorite with young and old and he loved to relate the stories of his younger days.

He married Minnie Walsh in New York and was very happy. They made several trips to his old home but God called her and she left very lonely.

After he retired he came back to Morell East and made his home with his brother William, who died very suddenly last March.

He made several trips back to the United States.

He was visited in the hospital by Monsignor McDonald who administered the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church of which he was a devout member.

He leaves to mourn one brother Vincent of Morell East and one sister Mrs. Helen Sands, Cleveland, Ohio, whom he visited last year.

His funeral from the Church of the Little Flower in Morell was largely attended and Requiem High Mass was sung by Rev. Phelan McKenna, Parish Priest, who conducted the services at the grave. He was laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Percy Robbins, Herbie Crane, Lorne Webster, Johnny Hughes, Patrick Mullin and Ernest Tobin.

Card Of Thanks

The Family of the late J. N. Runighan wish to thank their neighbours and friends for the kindness shown to them in their sudden bereavement, for the letters of sympathy and Mass Cards.

Urges Federal Assistance In Maritime Power Development

Federal assistance in Maritime power development was strongly advocated by Senator J.P. McInnis in a speech in the Senate on March 20. Following are excerpts from his address as recorded in the official Hansard report:

"The Speech from the Throne, as usual, forecasts the legislation that will come before parliament. One of the important measures passed at the last session provided for the development of the St. Lawrence Seaway. This development has been under consideration by the authorities of both Canada and the United States for almost half a century, in fact, an agreement was signed in 1941, and on April 4, 1951, there was tabled in the House of Commons information to the effect that the two countries had tentatively agreed, in principle, to make the St. Lawrence Seaway development self-liquidating by means of toll charges.

"The boundary line between Canada and the United States follows the 45th parallel until it reaches the St. Lawrence river at a point near the city of Cornwall, Ontario; from there it continues in a south-westerly direction for a distance of 135 miles in the middle of the river, in what is known as the International Rapids Section. Consequently, in order to develop the St. Lawrence seaway it is necessary to have the approval of the United States.

"It is estimated there five steps will develop 9,000,000 horsepower of electric energy. All this power is in Canada with the exception of 1,800,000 horsepower at Niagara and the American share of 1,100,000 horsepower in the International Rapids section. So much for the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Maritime Disabilities "Now, coming closer to home—the Maritime Provinces and particularly Prince Edward Island. What can be done to level out the natural and artificial disabilities under which these provinces labour? What can be done to stimulate industrial activity, to develop our vacant lands, to increase our population, to increase the income of the people of the Maritimes to the Canadian level, and to enable this section of Canada to maintain its proper place in the building of an ever expanding Canada?

"In the first place, we should not be envious of the great resources of our neighbours; we should rejoice with them and do everything possible for the national development of natural resources, with the realization that progress in this direction ultimately should benefit all the partners in the Confederation. I do not think the people of the Maritime Provinces would object very strongly to the St. Lawrence Seaway. I think they would take a broader view and realize that this important project is in keeping with vast progress that has been made by this great country of ours. No doubt the development of the seaway and the vast amount of electrical energy connected therewith would attract more manufacturing establishments from the United States and elsewhere. This would mean increased employment, in population and in consumption of agricultural products from all Vast Potential Power "The Great Lakes-St. Lawrence basin is a vast drainage system covering 678,000 square miles, 493,000 of which are in Canada and 185,000 in the United States. It includes Lake Superior, Lake Michigan, Lake Huron, Lake St. Clair, Lake Erie and Lake Ontario.

"The main points where electrical energy is to be developed are: (1) St. Mary's Falls, lying between Lake Superior and Lake Huron, where there is a drop of 21 feet; (2) the St. Clair-Detroit passage joining Lake Huron and Lake Erie, where the drop is 8 feet; (3) the Niagara River, which connects Lake Erie with Lake Ontario, where there is a drop of 325 feet between the mean levels of Lake Erie and Lake Ontario; (4) the portion of the St. Lawrence River which includes the Infemation Rapids section, Lake St. Francis and the Soulanges section, and the Lachine section, with a drop of 225 feet; and (5) the portion from Montreal to the ocean, which lies wholly in Canadian territory and has a drop of 20 feet. This in all comprises a drop of 580 feet from the head of the Great Lakes to the Atlantic ocean, a distance of about 2,000 miles.

"It is estimated there five steps will develop 9,000,000 horsepower of electric energy. All this power is in Canada with the exception of 1,800,000 horsepower at Niagara and the American share of 1,100,000 horsepower in the International Rapids section. So much for the St. Lawrence Seaway.
