

apt. Swabey wrote the article in our No. of the 7th inst., entitled "Politics and Politicians in Charlottetown, No. 1," and thereupon writes half a column of a communication, by which we learn that his knowledge of English Grammar and Composition is about equal to his veracity: the former would be a disgrace to the most incompetent of Printers Devils; the Father of Lies himself could barely rival the latter. Both are, however, eminently worthy of the Islander. For the satisfaction of the curious we may state, that the Hon. Mr. Swabey did not write the article attributed to him—nor did he see it until within a day or two.

The principal offices of the Government, viz: Colonial Secretary, Treasurer, Surveyor General, Collector of Impost, Judge of Probate, &c. have been this day removed to the Colonial Building.

An office has been likewise opened in the same Building for His Excellency the Lieut. Governor, where he will meet parties on business on Wednesdays and Saturdays between the hours of 12 and 2.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH.—A farmer named Bernard McKewon, residing on the Monaghan Road, Lot 36, met with instant death on Saturday last, under the following circumstances: The deceased, with a number of others, was employed in getting out of the woods, near his own residence, a very large spar or mast piece, to which fifteen pair of horses were yoked; a jam took place and as the team suddenly started forward, after the timber had been eased, the unfortunate deceased was instantly felled to the earth, with his own hands, and crushed to death with the following roller. An inquest was held on Sunday.—Gaz.

FIRE.—The house, barn and outhouses belonging to James Hollman, Winsloe Road, was destroyed by fire on Monday, the 12th instant. It is supposed that the fire was occasioned by a spark from a woods burning at some distance lighting on a stack of hay, which it ignited, and the fire rapidly spread to the buildings, the inmates having barely time to save their bedding, &c., and making their escape; two calves were burnt in the stable. The owner, an honest, hard-working man, has thus lost nearly all he possessed in the world.—Adv.
