

SIR WILFRID LAURIER IS A VERY SICK MAN

MONTREAL, September 30.—Senator Rolland returned from a trip to England today. While on the other side the senator had frequent opportunities of seeing Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and says that the Canadian premier is a very sick man.

SHE WAS GIVEN UP.

Doctors Held out no Hope to Mrs. Huffman of Napanee.

A Wonderful Case and One which goes to how the Wonderful Advancement Recently made in the Science of Medicine.

NAPANEE, Ont., Oct. 3.—(Special)—This town has furnished a case which has caused considerable talk in the country.

Mrs. John C. Huffman has been troubled for over six years with female weakness and kidney trouble. The pain was so great that she could not bear it and her kidneys gave her so much bother that she could not entertain any company in her home or take any social pleasures whatever. Her urine was very much discolored and gave her great trouble in passing.

In addition to these symptoms she had all the pains, headaches, and weakness of Female Trouble.

Mrs. Huffman tried physician treatment and many other medicines, but instead of getting better she was gradually growing worse and was very much discouraged.

Many of our friends thought she would never get better, but one day she picked up a newspaper and read an advertisement which said that Dodd's Kidney Pills would cure Female Trouble.

As she had tried so many other things without being able to get any help, she was very doubtful, but concluded to try this remedy.

She used six boxes and was completely cured. She is to-day sound and well without a single symptom of her old trouble left.

She was cured nearly five years ago and is to-day as sound and well a woman as there is in Napanee. She says:

"I can confidently recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to every woman in Canada for they cured me completely and mine was a very bad case.

They are certainly a great medicine and I will always recommend them to women who may be suffering as I was with Female Weakness and Kidney Trouble."

A SERMON THAT COST A GREAT SUM

"He that Covereth his Sins Shall Not Prosper"

BY REV. CHAS. H. YATMAN

The Vivid Story of a Repenting Sinner Who Was Moved To Make Restitution.

Preaching is oftentimes very expensive for the listeners! Very! But likewise very profitable. It cost one man who heard me $14,750 for a single discourse, and yet I, was none the richer, save in gladness of heart and joy of mind.

Those who think the Gospel of our risen Lord has lost its power to produce great upheavals in human life should read the unwritten records of missionaries, whose truth must of necessity be like fire against the secret iniquity of those before him, if any change come to their character by Christ. It is truth that makes men free. What prison is worse or what slavery more galling than that of a man locked in the cell of knowledge of his own foul deed, or chained to habit of wrong, the thought of which, day and night, is like unto the flesh-tearing lash of the Arab slave trader.

The unheard groans and unmeasured pains of men in secret sin, if put in form of weight, would sink a world.

The preacher knows this only too well, if he be a true preacher, and has knowledge of God, and of the Bible and of men. Furthermore, he knows that here or hereafter there can be no peace apart from repentance; that there is no use in trying to heal the wound until the splinter is pulled out—and genuine repentance includes restitution, where it can be made.

Full two thousand miles from where I am writing this, amidst the scenes of men making money—making it by means fair or foul—I stood in a crowded hall facing an immense throng. Two out of every three were men. By some good power of God, Jew and Gentile, rich and poor, good and bad, were there alike. I remember it all so well now. The hymns were poorly sung; they were in no mood for praise and scarcely in any mood for prayer. Few bowed their heads when devotion came. The moment for my message arrived. Fearless and bold, I arose and said:

"He that covereth his sins shall not prosper."

A truth which God Almighty has written by history, so plainly that no one but a fool would pass it by unread. For full forty minutes I affirmed the truth of the old Bible; history, experience and conscience alike were with me in proof. "They knew it was wicked to do wrong, that it was sinful to do evil, that it was criminal to break the laws of God."

But little remains in memory of the immediate after-results in the hall, save that scores asked for prayer, and many bowed and wept when I gave the other truth, that "whoso confesseth and forsaketh his sins shall obtain mercy."

The startling thing happened when I got back to my hotel. I was tired. It had taken life, real life, out of me to preach that sermon. I just laid my hat on a chair and flung myself on the bed, overcoat and all, completely exhausted. There was a knock at the door, but I was too much worn out to even answer. It opened, and in walked a great, tall, fine-looking fellow, fully six feet, dressed as a cowboy, but good stuff; a large sombrero hat, which he kept on; and a big six-shooter stuck in his belt. For a moment he looked at me and never said a word; then he turned and locked the door and threw the key over on the floor.

What it all meant I did not know. The fact was, I did not care. I had done my duty. I had "warned the wicked" in a faithful way, and if I was to die now "with my boots on," as they very frequently do in that part of the world, why, I was ready.

He pulled a chair up near the bed, sat down, elbows on his knees, hands to his cheeks, his great big brown eyes burning with fire, and looked straight through to my soul. That look lasted fully five minutes. He never spoke a word. I was too tired to utter a syllable. Suddenly he broke out:

"My God! You hit me hard to-night."

I made no answer.

"Say! can you help a man that lives in hell and wants to get out?"

I leaned up a little, propped my head with my hand, and asked, "Who is the man?"

"I, great heavens! I am the one."

"Tell me about it; let all out, and if I can help you I will. If I cannot, I know One who can." "Who is that?" "God."

I sat up on the edge of the bed, and out of his broken heart came a sad tale of sin. He was at the head of a great ranch, whose cattle and cotton and wool made its English owner rich. As trusted agent and manager, he had stolen over thirteen thousand dollars. Stealing makes a man a thief, and the truth of the sermon in the hall had shown him his real self. It was not so much the money that he had stolen, as he thought of what the stealing had made him—a thief! I can hear him repeating it now.

"I'm a thief! I'm a thief! Oh, my God! What shall I do?"

I told him. It needs no lawyer to give advice in such a case.

"Repent; restore the money; ask God for mercy. Let Him give you a new heart and a good life. Let Him make you good and keep you so."

He was well able to pay back all he had taken. It was his own proposition to add the interest. We figured it all out at six per cent.—fourteen thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars in round figures.

There is one Englishman who should love America to that amount; at least he is three thousand pounds sterling in pocket. Preaching did it.

My tiredness somehow had left me. When we arose from our knees, where both had prayed, I said:

"Isn't it good to be made good?"

"Yes, better than gold," said he. And if any would like to know why one branch of the Christian church is making such headway in the southwest, I can tell by pointing out a great-hearted, brown-eyed, six-foot Christian gentleman, whose tireless energy is given to the extension of a Gospel that has real power. This he knows full well.

WASTING AWAY.

The Sad Condition of Many Young Girls.

Mothers Should be very Careful

When Their Daughters complain of Headache, Fickle Appetite, Dizziness or Heart Palpitation.

Many mothers neglect the health of their growing daughters. Not willfully, of course, but because they think that occasional headaches from which they suffer, fickleness of appetite, and pale cheeks, are the natural result of the merging of girlhood into womanhood. This is a serious mistake. There is no period in a girl's life when she needs more attention, and unless the little troubles are successfully treated, more serious ones—perhaps decline and consumption—are sure to follow. What every young girl needs at this period is a tonic medicine that will give her a rich red blood, strong nerves and bring her safely through a critical period in her life. For this purpose there is no other medicine in the world can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Thousands of girls throughout Canada owe their present health and happiness to this medicine and thousands of others who are suffering would soon be strong if they would give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial. Among the many young ladies who have proved the great worth of this medicine is Miss Jennie Beamer, of Boyle, Ont.

Miss Beamer says: "Some years ago I became very ill, and my friends feared I was going into a decline. I was pale; suffered from terrible headaches; my appetite was poor, and I grew very thin. I remained in this condition for several months, during which time I tried several medicines, but none helped me in the least. Then my mother got me some of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and almost from the outset they helped me. As I continued the use of the pills, the severe headaches left me; my appetite returned and I gained in weight. In fact, I was soon enjoying perfect health, and have since continued to do so. I attribute this entirely to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and will be glad if some other weak and ailing girl will profit by my experience."

Pale and sallow cheeks, dizziness, headaches, palpitation of the heart, and the feeling of weariness that afflicts so many young girls will soon disappear if Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are used. These pills also cure rheumatism, dyspepsia, kidney ailments, St. Vitus' dance, and the other troubles that come from poor blood and weak nerves. Sold by all dealers in medicine or sent post paid at 50c a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

GREAT BUSINESS DONE.

MONTREAL, Oct. 1.—The annual meeting of the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company, Limited, was held at the head office of the Company here to-day. The Directors report for the year ending August 31st, 1902, showed that the gross business of the Company during that period was the largest in the history of the Ogilvies, and that the net results were eminently satisfactory. The report was unanimously adopted.

THE EDITOR'S MAIL.

SIR.—As the Dominion Packing Company seem to be coming nearer and nearer to realization—the first payment of $10,000 to Messrs. Rattenbury having been made; it seems to me that prompt and most decided measures should be taken by the people to arrive at some correct information concerning them and the reason for the high-handed action of the Government in guaranteeing their bonds.

The meeting of the Board of Trade on Wednesday was timely; the reports of that meeting showing that the members, voice the sentiments of the business community and many of them being in sympathy politically with the Government, a protest from them should meet with due acknowledgement from the Government.

It is but just that the people should know what great advantages are to be desired from a foreign corporation establishing a business here, under the protection of the Government of the country.

If it is true that the Government have guaranteed their bonds; why did they refuse to do so when approached on the subject of a good hotel, and the establishment of a beet sugar factory, both of which objects are to be much more desired than a foreign company in possession of the pork packing industry. Messrs. Rattenbury have already so successfully established among us. It is passing strange that a foreign corporation can procure from our provincial government what our own residents petition for in vain.

From the shelter of the supposed immense benefit such an arrangement will be to the Island, arises the shadow of a big combine; and surely what combines have done for our neighbors in the United States should teach us to think well before we take chances on the same thing happening here. The Government represents the people and is supposed to do things for their interests how can they show that their latest deal is of the benefit to the Island? The farmers are told what splendid prices they will be paid for their pork, poultry, etc. For how long might I ask? Just so long as it will take this company to shut all other dealers out—the other dealers being men who have lived their lives among us, and worked their business up from its foundation. For it is patent to any one that in order to procure the requisite material for carrying on business, the company will for a while give higher prices than local firms simply to draw the trade from them and so by degrees shut them out. Then the combine will get it all into their own hands—with what results?

The consumers will have to pay the highest price for what they require, while the farmer gets just what ever the combine chooses to pay and we have yet to see an instance of a combine paying proportionally to their selling prices.

In a very short time there will be no one in that line of business to sell to, or purchase from, except the Dominion Pork Packing Co.

It is no reflection on our own business men to say that such will be the case. These people must have great wealth behind them—we can scarcely think the Government would guarantee them otherwise and can easily compete against local dealers, who have amassed we will say, what might be considered a good deal of money. And any corporation laying plans to do the business they expect to do here, include in those plans the underselling of local people until such times as they get the business for themselves, and that object accomplished, they can charge what they please, and if our own people can not pay, they will export out thus leaving Island people without the farmer's produce, and the farmers themselves paid the smallest price for what they have to sell.

If this company materializes on P. E. Island let it do so on its own responsibility, not on that of the Government which should protect its own people.

By the way, had Messrs. Rattenbury asked the Government to guarantee their bonds when they established their present flourishing industry would they have done so? I think not, and it is a poor rule that will not work both ways.

If the Government wants to take risks guaranteeing bonds, why not do so for a company of our own business men?

There is nothing to prevent the Dominion Pork Packing Co., (save the mark, whom we have good reason to know are almost all Americans) coming here on their own responsibility, and by honest business like methods, with open and fair dealing, work their own business up to a good standing.

Have the people no will in a matter which so closely concerns them?

It is possible that the members of the Government have so little regard for the people who made them such, that they ignore their interests so far as to bring a company of foreign speculators into our midst, protect their speculations, and force us to submit to all the tyranny of a monopoly?
