

MARK IT WELL.
A Development Peculiar to the Present Generation Dangerous and Often Fatal. As each generation comes and goes it is marked by changes, and developments, and discoveries, and new to its predecessors. From a physical standpoint one of the most to be dreaded conditions and peculiar to its rapid increase during the present generation, is when the mind labors under the delusion of persecution, continual restlessness, pain in the back and head, twitching of the muscles of the face and hands, furred tongue, breath foul and heavy, nausea and further indications of stomach trouble. There may be delirium, convulsions or sinking spells. Medical authorities apply different names to the conditions that are unrecognizable to the average reader. The actual fact is the demoralized and dangerous state of the system is due to the accumulation of "Body Poisons" in the blood that should and would be thrown off by the kidneys if in a healthy condition. In order to restore health, strike at the root of the disease with Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the only medicine which will control the changes going on in the kidneys, enabling them to furnish for the whole system blood free from disease-breeding poisons, and relieving mental depression. Price 25c, sold by all dealers. Edman Son, Bates & Co., Toronto.

A Wide Range.
A preparation which enriches and purifies the blood and assists nature in repairing wasted tissue must have a wide range of usefulness. Such a preparation is Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. The uses of Scott's Emulsion are not confined to wasting diseases, like consumption, scrofula or anæmia. They embrace nearly all those minor ailments associated with loss of flesh.

WEATHER SIGNS.
Here is an Extended List of Signs That Surely Foretell the Weather.
From house-tops, steps, back yards and a multitude of other places clamor and tar-scented garments flap from clotheslines in the first chilly blasts of autumn. The young man who played the races last summer with disastrous results, the foolish blade who took his girl too often to pleasure resorts when the balmy zephyrs of summer swept across the emerald landscape and kissed the bosoms of the waters into multitudinous wrinkles, now mourn the overcoats they "stored with their uncle" early in the season when the jocular spring-time days were having their innings.
Buy your coat, put up your stoves, stop your windows and doors, for an old-fashioned winter is coming. All of nature's signs point that way. Our readers will do well to study the weather auguries that follow. They are all reliable, and are based on what has gone before and upon the shrewd observations of a wise weather-watcher:
Hear frost is a sign of rain.
Cold autumn a short winter.
If rats and mice be restless, storm.
Tree's grow dark before a rain.
After a warm autumn a long winter.
It will surely rain if moles cast up hills.
The more snow the healthier the season.
Bearded frost is a forerunner of snow.
A clear autumn brings a windy winter.
If it rains before 7 it will cease before 11.
Expect fair weather from one night's ice.
A green Christmas makes a white Easter.
A fog in February indicates a frost in May.
Rain is frequently augured by bearded frost.
Thistles and dandelions close up before a rain.
The note of a sand mole is a sure sign of frost.
If it rains after 12 at noon it will rain next day.
If it rains before sunrise expect a fair afternoon.
A green Christmas will make a full churchyard.
Three white frosts will bring a storm every time.
Rain long foretold, long last; short notice, soon past.
If gnats are plentiful in spring, expect a fine autumn.
A rainbow in the morning is the shepherd's warning.
When vultures are seen in winter expect plenty of snow.
If October is warm the following February will be cold.
Doors and windows are hard to shut in damp weather.
Much rain in October indicates much wind in December.
If a cock crows more than usual and earlier expect rain.
If it rains when the sun shines it will rain the next day.
Nests of hornets hung near the ground mean cold weather.
When rain comes from the west it will not continue long.
If nests back their bodies and wash their faces, expect rain.
Early frosts are usually followed by a long hard winter.
Fluttering bats and flying beetles forecast fine weather.
The early arrival of katydid means severe winter weather.
Heavy white frost is a sign that warmer weather is coming.
Black frost is a forerunner of a spell of dry, cold weather.
Thunder is indicated by many falling stars on a fine night.
Look out for cold weather if the woodpecker disappears in the fall.
If birds in autumn grow tame the winter will be too cold for game.
Expect cold and hard times if squirrels lay in great supplies of nuts.
When wild ducks fly to the south it is a sign that winter is coming.
Scarcity of squirrels in autumn indicates the approach of cold winter.
Aching corns, raging toothaches and distressing neuralgia presage rain.
The first three days in January indicate that of the coming three months.
No falling stars on a bright evening mean a continuation of bright weather.
If ice will bear a man before Christmas it will not bear a mouse afterwards.
September 20, 21 and 22 rule the weather for October, November and December.
Look out for rain if sea birds fly towards land and land birds fly towards sea.
Partridges drum only in the fall when a mild and open winter follows.
Rain from the south prevents the drought, but rain from the west is always best.
Chipmunks that disappear early are sure signs of cold and extremely ugly weather.
Blackbirds flocking together in the fall indicate a cold spell of weather.
When the leaves of the trees curl, with the wind from the south, it indicates rain.
When the birds and badgers are fat in October a very cold winter may be looked for.
An unusually clear atmosphere when distant objects may be easily seen means rain.
If the snow flies south cold weather will follow; if north, a warm spell may be expected.
Turkeys perching on trees and refusing to descend indicate that snow will shortly fall.
If October brings heavy frosts and winds the following January and February will be mild.
When rheumatic people complain of pains and aches then look out for rains and storms.
If cattle leave off feeding and chase each other around the field you may safely expect rain.
If All Saints' Day will bring out the
