SALLY DOWS,

An After War Romance of the South.

A fear of this kind had crossed Courtland's mind before, but he made no present comment. "I found two of the armory rifles in the men's cabins yesterday;" he resumed quietly. "See that it does not occur again! They must not be taken from the armory except to defend it."

"Yes, sah."

There was a moment of silence. Then it was broken by a sudden gust that swept through the columns of the portico stirring the vines. The broad leaves of the allantus began to rustle; an ominous pattering followed; the rain had recommenced. And, as Courtland rose and walked towards the open window, its blank panes and the interior of the office was illuminated by a gleam of returning lightning.

He entered the office, bidding Cato follow, and lit the lamp above his desk. The negro remained standing gloomily, but respectfully, by the window.

"DID IT STRIKE ANYTHING, SAH?"

"Cato, do you know anything of Mr. Dumont—Miss Dows' cousin?"

The negro's white teeth suddenly flashed in the lamp light. "Ya! ha! I reckon, sah."

"Then he's a great friend of your people?"

"I don't know about dat, sah! But he's a pow'ful enemy of de Reeds and de Higbees!"

"On account of his views, of course."

"Deed no!" said Cato with an astounded air. "Jess on account of de vendetta!"

"The vendetta?"

"Yes, sah. De old blood que'll of de families. It's been goin' on over fifty years, sah. De grandfader, fader, and brudder of de Higbees was killed by be grandfader, fader and brudder of de Doomonts. De Reeds clipped in when all de Higbees was played out, fo' dey was relations, but dey was chewed up by some of de Dowses, first cousins to de Doomonts."

"What? Are the Dows in this vendetta?"

"No, sah. No mo'. Dey's bin no man in de family since Miss Sally's fader died—dat's let de Dows out fo'ever. De las' shootin' was done by Marse George Doomont, who crippled Marse Tom Higbee's brudder Jo, and den skipped to Europe. Dey say he's come back, and is lying low over at Atalanty. Dey'll be lively times ef he comes here to see Miss Sally."

"But he may have changed his ideas while living abroad, where this sort of thing is simple murder."

The negro shook his head grimly. "Den he wouldn't come, sah. No, sah. He knows dat Tom Higbee's bound to go for him or leave de place, and Marse George wouldn't mind settlin' him, too, as well as his brudder, for de scores is agin' de Doomonts yet. And Marse George ain't no slouch wid a scatter gun."

At any other time the imminence of a survival of the lawless barbarism, of which he had heard so much, would have impressed Courtland; now he was only interested in it on account of the inconceivable position in which it left Miss Sally. Had she anything to do with this baleful cousin's return—or was she only to be a helpless victim of it?

A white, dazzling and bewildering flash of lightning suddenly lit up the room, the porch, the dripping ailantus and the flooded street beyond. It was followed presently by a crash of thunder, with what seemed to be a second fainter flash of lightning, or rather as if the first flash had suddenly ignited some inflammable substance. With the long reverberation of the thunder still shaking the house, Courtland slipped quickly out of the window and passed down to the gate.

"Did it strike anything, sah?" said the startled negro, as Courtland returned.

"Not that I can see," said his employer shortly. "Go inside and call Zoe and her daughter from the cabin and bring them in the hall. Stay till I come. Go! —I'll shut the windows myself!"

"It must have struck somewhere, sah, shuah! Deh's a pow'ful smell of sulphur right here," said the negro as he left the room.

Courtland thought so too, but it was a kind of sulphur that he had smelt before—on the battle field! For, when the door was closed behind his overseer, he took the lamp to the opposite wall and examined it carefully. There was the distinct hole made by a bullet which had missed Cato's head at the open window by an inch.

HE TOOK THE LAMP TO THE OPPOSITE WALL.

She Was a Normal School Graduate.

"'Tis hard to tell," said I to Annette,
"What some people do with their money;
There's my brother Ned, he is always in debt,"
And she answered, "Ain't it funny?"

I took the maid to Niagara Falls,
Where we watched the rapids shoot
In grandeur over the granite walls,
And she murmured, "Ain't it cute!"

The baby was yelling with all its might
And tears down his cheeks were running,
And she said as we gazed on the sorrowful sight
For a moment, "Ain't he cunning?"

I gave to Annette a damask rose,
For with love I was almost crazy;
She held it under her shapely nose
And gurgled, "Ain't it a daisy?"

The only time that she spoke aright
Was when I went down the street
And bought her some caramels one night,
And she said to me "Ain't they sweet?"

A Kingston Orangeman.

KINGSTON, April 17.—Mr. James Blair, of Napanee, whose case has been creating so much interest in that locality, is well known in the Limestone city. He was a resident of Kingston for fourteen years, and it was while he was engaged as cutter for Mr. Livingstone, of this place, that he contracted Bright's disease of the kidneys. His Orange friends in Kingston are delighted to know that he is cured of this terrible disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills. Many of them who have been similarly troubled with backache, rheumatism and kindred complaints have started using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and several marvellous cures are already reported. Mr. Blair joined the Orange order in 1854, and is the oldest orangeman in Napanee. He has been a delegate to the Orange Grand Lodge, and has held several important offices in the order. His friends considered his case as incurable, and are of course amazed at his wonderful recovery.

The poor are dying by hundreds in the European part of the government of Perm Russia, owing to the famine.

Commendable.

All claims not consistent with the high character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the Cal. Fig Syrup Company. It acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleaning the system effectually, but it is not a cure-all and makes no pretension that every bottle will not substantiate.

Mr. J. C. Forbes, who painted the portrait of Mr. Gladstone for the Canadian Liberals, has been commissioned to paint a number of portraits in connection with the approaching quarter centery celebration of Cornwal university. As a consequence he will shortly take up his residence in Ithaca.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ar

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

HEART FAILURE, FAINTNESS, ACUTE DYSPEPSIA, with Complete Nervous Prostration,

Cured by Using HAWKER'S NERVE & STOMACH TONIC.

A LADY'S EXPERIENCE.

Mr. Wm. Thompson of Musquash, N. B., says: "For 2 years past my wife has suffered with Acute Dyspepsia accompanied with complete nervous prostration and a smothering sensation about the heart which frequently produced an attack of faintness. She became weak and nervous, lost all energy, and had a constant feeling of dread. She suffered with intense pain in the stomach after eating, which was usually followed by the smothering sensation about the heart and fainting spells. She tried a great many remedies and was treated by the doctors for some time, but obtained no relief. She became so discouraged that she gave up all hope of ever getting better, when our pastor suggested that she try HAWKER'S NERVE AND STOMACH TONIC and LIVER PILLS, which had produced remarkable cures in several cases he knew of. We did so and she obtained immediate relief from the distress after taking the second dose, and has continued to improve ever since until today she is as well as ever, and can enjoy her food without fear of suffering. I cannot speak too highly of these valuable medicines which have restored my wife to health and strength and saved much suffering and expense."

Rev. Henry M. Spike, Rector of Musquash, N. B., says: "I am personally acquainted with Mrs. Tompson's case, and am greatly pleased that the medicine which I recommended to her produced such remarkable results."

The Telephone Company —OF— P. E. ISLAND.

PARTIES using the Telephones would find talking much more satisfactory if they would observe the following rules:—

1st. Speak with the mouth about four inches from the transmitter.

2nd. Speak in a moderate tone of voice, not too loud, and distinctly.

3rd. Place the telephone so as to cover the ear, just as if you wished to shut out all other sounds. Do not press too hard on the ear.

It is possible to talk and be heard when standing back two or three feet from the transmitter, if you shout loud enough, but it is not a pleasant mode of conversation, is entirely unnecessary, and is a useless waste of wind and lungs, besides being very annoying to all within range of your voice.

MRS. LIZZIE A. KNOWLTON, LIBERTY, ME.

Cured of a Severe Case of Dyspepsia by using Groder's Botanic Dyspepsia Syrup.

She is the wife of a well-known Spring Bed manufacturer, W. J. Knowlton, and by him induced to try "Groders," the remedy that cured him of a bad attack of dyspepsia.

She says: GENTLEMEN:—For several years I have been afflicted with dyspepsia and a complicated stomach and liver trouble. The least food I ate would distress me terribly and fill my stomach with gas. I was greatly troubled with dizziness, my appetite was poor, and I had a very bad cough, was very nervous, could not sleep, and in fact my whole system seemed to be affected; was unable to attend to my household duties. Physicians and medicines gave me no relief or benefit, and I had lost all faith in them, but to gratify the request of my husband I decided to try GRODER'S BOTANIC DYSPEPSIA SYRUP. Before I had taken one bottle I was greatly improved. I followed its directions and continued its use, and to-day I am in my usual good health, can sleep, eat, and enjoy life, thanks wholly to Groder's Syrup.

Respectfully,
MRS. LIZZIE A. KNOWLTON, Liberty, Me.
