Jury Urges Licensing, Strict Control Of .22s

A coroner's jury last week found that Stanley William Woodcock, son of Sergeant and Mrs. Woodcock, RCAF Station Summerside, came to his death, Sept. 12 from a hunting accident on the evening of Sept. 8 when he was struck by a .22 calibre bullet fired from a rifle which was in the possession of John Ilett at the time.

The jury recommended that the use of .22 calibre rifles by teenagers be permitted only in the presence of competent adults and that all such rifles be licensed.

The decision was reached following the testimony of six crown witnesses who included: Dr. A. A. Phillips, senior medical officer at RCAF Summerside; Dr. J.K. Beer; LAC Donald Magee; Cst. Fred Connolly of the Summerside RCMP detachment; Malcolm Keith Mattenson and Kent Job Ilett. Witness Ilett, 16, said the accident had occurred while he and Mattenson and Magee were hunting foxes near Ilett's RCAF station. The accident occurred on RCAF property.

The three youths had been stalking foxes which were to be culled. Ilett said, and Woodcock had gone to the rifle of the other two youths to circle around.

Ilett stated that as he approached an area where fox den was located, he had looked around but had not seen the deer, which appeared to be a fox straddled at him.

He decided to move a little closer for a better shot and when the object had not moved he proceeded nearer before firing toward it. He said when he shot he saw a drop of what he thought was the fox. When he approached however, he found that it had been Woodcock.

The area where the accident occurred had contained wheat, high weeds and bushes.

On the night in question it was raining. Ilett stated, but quite clear. Mattenson, the third member of the fox hunting party added that it was a bit hazy at the time of the accident, somewhere between 8:30 and 7 p.m.

In his testimony Dr. J. K. Beer stated that when the injured youth had been admitted to hospital he had been unconscious and he had immediately been given respiration treatment. He added that the youth's legs and arms were completely paralyzed and he was unable to breathe due to the severed spinal cord. He was kept alive for four days by the respiration, he said.

Following the youth's death Dr. Beer continued, a limited post mortem had shown that the spinal cord had been completely shattered and that pieces of the cord had been found in the muscle in the back of the neck. The bullet had entered the mouth and struck the spinal cord, he learned.

Dr. Phillips testified that he had treated the injured youth in the municipal infirmary where he had been taken following the accident. Due to difficulty in breathing, he said, a tube had been inserted in his

'Loan Gunboard' Aided Through UF Support

Sickroom supplies from thermometers to hospital beds are available from the P.E.I. Red Cross through financial support of the P.E.I. United Fund. Mrs. F.L. MacMillan, Charlottetown, who is in charge of the Red Cross "loan cupboard", said loans of supplies needed in emergencies are made to private homes anywhere in the province free of charge.

Some 1,800 Islanders received 2,300 loans through this voluntary service last year.

Larger items such as wheel chairs, walkers, crutches and beds are given out only with direct orders from doctors. Mrs. MacMillan said. Loans run for a period of three months.

Some of the attack on the home boy could have been delayed rather than hastened his departure.

Most bitter of all in the quarrel with China, the Communist parties Khrushchev had considered most loyal to him the Italian and French—showed no inclination to follow him straight down the road. Both insisted on their right to make up their own minds.

Khrushchev had also failed in his avowed aim of driving the Western powers from Berlin and had also been forced by the late president John F. Kennedy to back down in the Caribbean and remove his missiles from Cuba.

To top off that last jolt to his prestige, Prime Minister Fidel Castro refused to permit a Khrushchev visit to the international verification of the removal and then went on to refuse to sign Khrushchev's cherished partial nuclear test ban.

Baptist Minister Is Club Speaker

SUMMERSIDE - The Summerside Y's Men Club, at its regular weekly meeting last night, had as guest speaker, Rev. Keith Robson of the Summerside Baptist Church.

Mr. Robson, whose chosen field will shortly be taking him to Saint John, N.B. reminisced briefly on the memories that he will be taking with him.

He also spoke on the origin and the ideals of the YMCA stressing chiefly the "Christian" part of the association and explained its meaning to club members.

Announced at last night's meeting was a combined business meeting of all Summerside service clubs which would be held at the Canadian Legion Tuesday, Oct. 27. The regular weekly meeting of the Y's Men's Club would be cancelled for that week and the combined club meeting would count toward attendance, it was learned.

Guests at the meeting were: Randy Bourgeois from Furs and Charles Rorie from the staff of Summerside High School.

INTEREST ON SAVINGS INCREASED TO 4%

Some of the money received by the Red Cross from its share in the United Fund is used to replace books and over-see articles that make up the cupboards.

Mrs. MacMillan said this illustrated the fact that contributions to the Fund are not only split up among 27 member agencies, but also subsequently divided to serve many different sections of a particular organization.

PEKING

But Khrushchev, suffering from high blood pressure and a recurrent heart condition, appeared to have kept his own mind in power.

Both Brezhnev, 57, and Kossygin, 60, owe their jobs to him. Khrushchev himself said last year: "I am already 60 and I have the right to say so. Everyone understands I cannot hold for all time the position I now have in the party and the state."

MOVED FROM JOB

This year, presumably with Khrushchev's approval, Brezhnev was moved from the largely ceremonial job of president to a position of more power in the Communist party.

The changeover, no matter who initiated it, began casting shadows a year ago.

On the personal side, Khrushchev spent so much time outside Moscow it was obvious he could not be in active control of the highly centralized Soviet government. If he wasn't lurking abroad, he was making speeches in the bookends.

Gold in hand, the Soviet Union had to go to Canada and the United States for what to feed its people. This was despite Khrushchev's boasts that Communist agriculture was rapidly overtaking the capitalist kind.

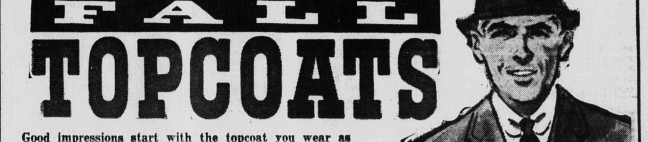

The once - month control of the Kremlin over the world Communist movement was crumbling. This was especially evident in its dealings with Communist China.

DENONCEMENT BY PEKING

Peking leaders denounced Khrushchev's lack of capitalism and a traitor to communism.

This doubtless had its effect, but it was not enough to save Khrushchev's position.
