Wes Covington reaches home plate to score the fourth run in Braves' first inning scoring splurge which ended with Milwaukee scoring seven men and routing Yankee pitchers Turlay and Maas. Yogi Berra, Yankee catcher, waits for the ball, thrown in by Elston Howard. Not since the New York Giants scored eight times in one inning of a 1921 Series game had the once unbeatable Yankees been so humiliated. Braves added six more runs in the seventh and eighth innings to swamp their rivals 13-5, and took a 2-0 lead in games in the best-of-seven series. The Yanks made a great comeback and the series now stand at 3-all with the deciding game to be played this afternoon at Milwaukee.

Hawk's And Rangers Fight To A Tie In Serson's Opener

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago Black Hawks and New York Rangers opened the National Hockey League season by battling to a 1-1 tie at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

Tight checking and fine goal-tending marked the contest throughout. Lorne Worsley in the New York nets came up with a total of 33 saves to 29 for the Black Hawks' all-star netminder Glenn Hall.

Ferguson was in the penalty box in the second period when the Rangers tied the score. Tiny Camille Henry netted the puck after taking a rebound off the boards behind the Chicago cage. Andy Bathgate and Bill Gadsby were given assists on the play.

SPORT OF KINGS'

Artificial Ice Plant Advocated For King's

Local sport, what there is at the present time, is currently taking a back seat to the World Series. At time of writing, the Braves are leading the series three games to two. Before the series started the Yankees were established as favourites, but since the first two games the Braves have taken the role as favourites.

All writers, at one time or another make predictions. Many times these very same writers end up by wishing they had not made the aforementioned predictions. But, all things considered it's fun living dangerously. So we're going to go out on a limb and say that the Yankees will win the full seven games. Of course, if the Yankees were to win, it would take them the full number of games. By the time this column comes out in print we may be regretting our prediction.

This is the in-between time as regards sports in Kings. By sports, we mean the so-called major sports of baseball and hockey. Baseball is over for another season and it's much too soon for hockey. On the other hand, if our winters are going to be a repeat of last winter, then hockey may go out of style. Last winter was very mild and the hockey season lasted for about a month. Most teams were just beginning to get into shape when the season ended.

There is, of course, a solution. One community in Eastern Kings could add artificial ice plant number five on the Island. We believe that after last year's dismal season, that most people realize that artificial ice is the only salvation for hockey in this section of the Island. Last spring, a prominent Morell sports follower, believing that Seaults should be the site of such a plant, spent an entire day in the town trying to drum up interest in such an undertaking. He left the town much more discouraged than when he entered.

If our children are going to indulge in Canada's national pastime, then they must be provided with ice. And if the scientists are correct, our winters are going to keep getting milder each year. So, parents and sport lovers in Eastern Kings, we have one word for you. "Awaken."

The Men's and Women's Bowling Leagues in Souris started the 58-59 season on Monday night with two games being played. This year there are eight entries in the Men's League and six in the Women's. Both leagues have one less entry than last year. There is a possibility that at least one more entry will be made in each league.

Argos President Is Fined $50

WINNIPEG (CP)—President Bill Ross of Toronto Argonauts Wednesday was fined $50 by Canadian football commissioner G. Sydney Halter for publicly criticizing officials who handled the Argos' game against Montreal Alouettes at Hamilton Oct. 4.

Halter also announced a $25 fine against Hamilton Tiger-Cats centre Bob Kelly "for conduct resulting in a match penalty" in a Big Four game between Alouettes and Ticats at Hamilton Sept. 27.

Ross complained after the Toronto game Saturday, which Montreal won 14-10, that the officiating was "the worst I ever saw" and that officials misled in fractions "that every fan in the stadium could see."

His complaints stemmed from a series of alleged pass interference incidents that they had not called.

Gale Turns World Tourney Into A Fiasco And Freak

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) An autumn gale from off the roaring North Sea turned the world's first amateur golf tournament Wednesday into a fiasco and a freak.

Britain took the lead for the official team championship with 227 strokes. The United States was second with 233. Canada was fifth with 240.

Reid Jack of Scotland, more accustomed to playing in violent air movements than anyone else here, took the lead for the unofficial world individual championship with a 36-36-72—almost a par match all the way.

Jack was one of the early starters, playing before the wind reached full fury. So were Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City, the U.S. national champion, and left-handed Bob Charles of New Zealand, who shared the next best individual score, 74.

The team championship is determined on an aggregate of the three best scores daily by players from each country. It is a four-day, 72-hole medal play competition.

BAJUS, CASTATOR LEAD
Of the four-man Canadian team, Douglas Bajus, Vancouver, and Bruce Castator, Toronto, had the best scores—79s. Both went out in 38 and back in 41. Eric Hanson, Toronto, had 40-42-32, and Robert Kidd of Vancouver, 45-38-83.

The accomplishments of the players were secondary to those of the wind.

One thin Filipino, Francisco Reyes, was bodily blown off the 17th tee of St. Andrews' Old Course.

A ball was wafted out of the 11th cup and deposited a foot away.

The winds raging between 30 and 60 m.p.h. sent scores on some holes to double figures. There was one 12, several 11s, a few 10s and clusters of nines and eights.

Joao Barbosa of Brazil sent an approach two inches from the cup on one hole. As he rushed up to sink the putt, a 40 m.p.h. gust caught the ball and blew it off the green, 30 feet away.
