The unpatriotic Patriot very eagerly propagated a report that Mr. Tilley had not succeeded in floating his loan. It is needless to say that the report is without the shadow of foundation in fact.

"An old member of the Methodist Church" complains that one of the men of the choir disturbs his devotions and prevents him from listening to the sermon by a too noticeable use of his music book. An old member etc. should state his grievance to the pastor of the Methodist Church, and not to the EXAMINER.

A Batch of Charges.

WORK FOR JURIES.

HIS HONOR THE STIPENDIARY MAGISTRATE, this forenoon, delivered judgment in this important case. He commenced with Abraham Rapsom, who stood charged with arson. In this case, he said Rapsom makes a confession of the crime to two credible witnesses. He tells them of incidents that occurred about the time he committed the crime—horses' tails being shaved, dogs shot, etc. etc. When he is called to give evidence before the Court he says he was telling lies and making fun. But, whether he was funning or in earnest, his statements are mostly corroborated by facts; and, in the face of this, it is impossible to do otherwise than send him before the Grand Jury on the serious charge which he is at present accused of. He said he would remand George Dockendorff on the charge of being an accomplice in the forgery case. Although the evidence at present against him is very slight, there is enough, he thought, to detain him on that charge. The evidence, so far, is his confession of selling the checks—which represented over two hundred dollars—bought by Horriel for twenty dollars. He denies that he had any interest in the transaction, but then the evidence of George Carter shows that he expected Horriel to get money on the checks while he was in town. He would also send him up for trial for receiving stolen goods—the beehive—and for shaving the horses' tails. The evidence was sufficient to send Charles Horriel before the Grand Jury for forgery; also, for stealing Mr. McKinley's hay. He would also send Donald McKinnon up on a similar charge, as he confessed assisting Horriel on the theft of the hay. Benjamin Dockendorff will also go before the Jury on four separate charges of larceny, viz: Stealing Mr. Stockman's harness; goods from the "Seven Mile House"; participating in the stolen property—dealing out the honey from the beehive—and also stealing the bucket from John Malt's. James Crosby will go up for the forgery, the larceny of harness from Mr. Stockman, and also for the larceny of groceries from the "Seven Mile House." Charles Dockendorff will be remanded on his own confession of shaving the horses' tails and for stealing the beehive. George White will be held for the last named offence. As yet there is no evidence against William Dockendorff, although it seems strange that he was at the North River on the night of the second fire. He would not detain him.
 The Magistrate then said that the charge of arson the evidence pointed to several parties, but it was not real nor tangible. The charge was a very serious one, and as there was no direct evidence it would be useless to detain the parties charged. However, if anything further bearing on the matter comes to light the Grand Jury can take action as they please. The shooting and burning of the dogs were brutal and barbarous acts, and when committed at a church where divine service was held—as the latter was—it reflected little credit on the community who let the perpetrators of the deed go unpunished. It is not at all creditable to the people of North River that twelve previous offences should be committed within three or four years in that locality without the inhabitants making the slightest effort to have the offenders brought to justice. On the contrary some of them appear to aid the culprits in their doing, as their conduct on the witness stand plainly shows. They see dogs burned in their midst, forged cheques passing from one hand to the other; horses' tails shaved; and they look on quietly without making the slightest effort to have the criminals brought to the bar of justice. Facts like these are by no means creditable to the people who live in that vicinity.
 We learn that the prisoners, with the exception of George Dockendorff, have been admitted to bail.

The Disturbance at Rustico.

AN APOLOGY.

ON Christmas Eve a number of disorderly fellows from the districts surrounding Rustico banded together and visited St. Augustine Catholic Chapel, during the midnight mass. They took prominent seats, and, in the midst of the divine ceremony, laughed and talked in audible voices. Shortly they quit the chapel, using indecent and profane language as they went. When outside they diverted themselves by striking the church with sticks and stones, and endeavored to force open the doors, in order to return and again carry on their riotous conduct inside. Warrants were issued for their arrest, and to day thirteen of the party appeared before the Stipendiary Magistrate for trial. The prosecutors withdrew the matter, on being presented with the following apology from the offenders:—
 We, the undersigned, charged before Rowan Robert Fitzgerald, Esq., a Justice of the Peace for Prince Edward Island, for disturbing public worship in St. Augustine's Church, Rustico, on Christmas Eve, do hereby express our great regret that we should have been concerned in any such proceeding. What we did was done thoughtlessly and not from any deliberate intention to wound the feelings or disturb the devotions of the worshippers in that church on the evening in question. We sincerely hope that the parish priest and the church wardens will accept the expression of sincere regret for what has occurred, and convey the same to the congregation. We also think it right that we should pay the costs incurred by these proceedings.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

OTTAWA, Jan. 1.
 The Levee of the Governor-General to day was attended by more than a thousand persons—most of whom wore overcoats. His Excellency shook hands and conversed with each, delighting every one with the cordiality of his manners.
 The Premier and Dr. Tupper stood near His Excellency.
 It is now reported that Parliament may meet on the 8th of February.

TORONTO, Dec. 31.
 Rev. Dr. Green, one of the oldest Methodist ministers in the Dominion, is seriously ill and not expected to recover.
 A Torontonian named Hugh Dixon was frozen to death in the township of Albion, twenty miles northwest of Toronto, yesterday. He had been on a spree, and reaching the house where he lived in a drunken condition, he went to sleep on the door step and was found dead this morning.

MONTREAL, Dec. 31.
 It is expected that Mr. Bergeron a young Conservative lawyer, will be elected in Beauharnois. His opponent is also conservative.
 A team, with two men and a woman, broke through the ice near Richmond, and all were lost.
 Louck's, Postmaster at Hull, has been dismissed for interference in the late elections.

A conference of the Dominion Temperance Society, held last evening in Montreal, was largely attended, and resolutions looking to the suppression of the liquor traffic adopted.
 Twenty-five thousand dollars have been appropriated by the City Council, to be used in giving work to the unemployed.
 A former Montreal policeman, named James Keough, who left the force some 15 years ago, is now worth $200,000 in Chicago. He attended to business steadily; purchased some land on Blue Island Avenue; sold at large profit to a Street Car Company, and is now extensively interested in the Company, and is now worth the fortune stated.

LONDON, Dec. 31.
 The Viceroy of India reports that Major Cavignai received a friendly letter from Syad Mahomad, Chief of Kainar Valley, announcing his intention of coming on. The Times, in its article on the military situation, says, this may be the forerunner of the intelligence already hinted at, that the districts of Chitnal Swat and Kunar will be incorporated into the Indian Empire. By the occupation of this tract of country, an easy and direct road will be opened up from Punjab to Zarkand and Kashgar, presenting far fewer difficulties than that now followed by the Central Asian trading association, which traverses the high mountain ranges of Cashmere and Ladak.

GLASGOW, Dec. 31.
 The City of Glasgow Bank liquidators have only realized £80,000 as a first instalment call upon the shareholders due on 30th inst., of £2,000,000 nominally due.
 MANCHESTER, Dec. 31.
 The Mayor of Manchester states that £11,500 has been received for the relief fund. About 6500 persons are receiving aid. Two thousand nailmakers in South Staffordshire have been discharged from the workshops, and great destitution has resulted.

LONDON, Dec. 31.
 It is understood that a general organization of traders, to resist the extension of working hours is intended, and there is said to be a large amount of funds available, in addition to a quarter of million of dollars which the engineers have in hand.
