A MONCTON merchant, opening a tea chest, the other day, found it filled with a white substance, in pieces about the size of tea, but otherwise totally unlike it. In the bottom of the chest was a sandal made of grass, woven together and tied with grass thongs; also several small pieces of red clay, such as is used in making statues. The material has been sent to St. John for analysis.

Rev. Mr. Reid preached his farewell sermon Sunday night to a crowded house. He reviewed his three years of pastorate and commended the people to God. He also referred to the departure in a few days of Mr. Heartz, the organist. At the close of the service the choir arose and sang God be with you till we meet again. Mr. Reid and family will remove to Moncton about Thursday.

WE were shown a few days ago some handsome silver trinklets which were made in Persia, and were brought home by Miss Hunter, of Alberton, who returned from that distant country a short time ago. These trinkets consist of three pretty silver bracelets, which were presented by Miss Hunter to Miss Gertie Arbuckle, and a half dozen silver teaspoons, a present to Mrs. Dr. Johnson, of Charlottetown, They were all hand made and the handles of the spoons were ornamented by filigree work of a beautiful design. As it is not good form according to the Persian code of etiquette, to sip tea with a spoon, the bowl of these Miss Hunter brought home are mortised and filled with similar filigree work.—Pio.

J. E. BIGELOW & Co., of Truro, whose advertisement appears in another column were successful in carrying off the highest award granted for Aerated Waters at the Jamaica Exhibition, a Silver Medal. Since the Exhibition closed this firm has also received large and valuable orders from Jamaica. This speaks volumes for the high character of their goods as this market is hourly sought for by English manufacturers. This firm manufacture all their Aerated Waters, including their well known Ginger Ale, from the Victoria Spa Water, giving them the advantage over their English competitors. All who use their manufacturers pronounce them superior to any in the market. Lewis P. Tanton is sole agent for this firm in this city, to whom all orders should be forwarded—j22 1oe1 i spe 2i

THE steamer St. Olaf Captain Lemaistre arrived here Friday evening from Port Hood, C. B., with a party of excursionists on board, among whom were Messrs McNeil and McDonald and other prominent citizens of Port Hood. Calls were made at Arichat and Pictou. The party which numbered about one hundred report having spent a very pleasant time on the trip, the cost of which was only one dollar. They left for home on Saturday at 2 p. m. Something of this kind might be organized for the benefit of such of the people of Ch'Town as are fond of a few days outing at small cost. The Princess of Wales might suit the purpose and if the price of the round trip could be brought to close upon the above figure, there would no doubt be a liberal patronage.

They both looked very pretty, each being dressed in cream, and carried baskets of flowers. The best man was Mr. Gardiner, of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Halifax. The presents were handsome and numerous, more particularly a handsome silver water set, consisting of ice pitcher on a stand, with silver tray and gold lined water cups and drip basin,—the gift of the groom to the bride. Twelfth of July Celebration.

At 10.45 a. m., on Sunday the members of Boyne and St. George's Lodges, the Royal Arch and Scarlet Lodges, and the Grand Lodge, L. O. A., started from their Lodge Room under command of Bro Capt. Daniel Stewart, the Artillery Band leading, for St. James Church where the Rev. David Sutherland delivered an eloquent sermon from the Fourth chapter of the Acts of the Apostles, 19th verse. The sermon was eloquent, forcible and practical, and contained none of the bigotry and prejudice that is sometimes heard on such occasions.

After the service the breathren quietly marched back to their rooms. The meeting was then called to order by Bro. J. H. Bell, G. M., and the following resolution carried unanimously. Moved by Bro W. N. Riggs, W. M., of Boyne Lodge, and seconded by Bro. H. Craswell, W. M. of St. George's Lodge, and

Resolved, That the sincere thanks of the members of Boyne and St. George's Lodges be tendered through the public press to the Rev. David Sutherland for his able, instructive and practical sermon delivered at our request on this our day of celebration.

On motion of Bro. James Vatcher, seconded by Bro. R. Waye, it was then

Resolved, That the thanks of the members of the order here assembled be also through the press, tendered to the Trustees of St. James' Church for the privilege of using their beautiful Church on this Lord's Day and also to the Choir for their valuable assistance at the service.

This was carried enthusiastically, after which the National Anthem was sung and the members quietly wended their way home. The procession was highly respectable, the best we have seen for a good while, and a credit to the order.
