Hart, electrician, of St. John. This aged lady celebrated her 90th birthday recently. She is in good health and in possession of all her faculties to a most remarkable degree.

CHURCH TROUBLE AT TRYON.—A difference of opinion among the congregations of the Tryon and Hampton Presbyterian churches has been causing a good deal of trouble of late. It seems that some time ago the Rev. Mr. McLean tendered his resignation. Some of the congregation, headed by the sessions, were willing to accept it, while others under the leadership of the trustees, did not wish to do so. The regular course, under the circumstances, was for a minister to announce from the pulpit the retirement of the former incumbent. In this case the trustees locked the doors of the churches and refused to admit the minister. This state of things had continued until Dominion Day, when a number of members of the session forced open the doors, and putting in a new lock took possession of the churches. The trustees at once summoned these men before a magistrate, who finally placed it in the hands of John T. Mellish, Esq., before whom it was tried yesterday. After hearing the evidence the case was adjourned until Monday, the 17th inst. The trial is creating considerable interest in the vicinity.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORT.

A bicycle track similar to the world-famous Herby Hill track in England will shortly be commenced by the enthusiastic bicyclists of Toronto. It will be the fastest and finest on the American continent when completed.

Many St. John flyers were out for a spin on Moosepath Park on Saturday afternoon. Speculation was driven a furlong by McCarroll in 18 seconds—a 2.24 clip.

Five thousand spectators saw the Montreals defeated by the famous Shamrocks at lacrosse at Montreal on Saturday, four games to one. The Shamrocks defeated the Toronto on the same day to the tune of five games to two.

In the National League Philadelphia has shaken Boston off, and leads with 64; Boston is a good second with 62, and the poor, disgruntled Giants are seventh with only 48 to their credit.

The stailion Nelson has been going some fast miles lately at Old Orchard, Me. At the finish of a mile a few days ago he was getting along at a 2-minute clip.

A new idea has struck the wheelmen of Fort Lee, N. Y., in the way of an ingenious duplicate sprocket or hitch-climbing. It may be attached or detached by simply pressing a lever. It will cause a mild revolution in hill ascension, and the attachment weighs but two pounds.

In a lacrosse scratch match at Halifax on Saturday, the Wanderers beat the Crescents.

At cricket at Halifax on Saturday, the Wanderers defeated the Nor-west Arm men 130 to 84.

In the late yacht race for a cup, at Halifax, the Valkyrie won on time allowance.

Fred Appleby, of Parturket, R. I., has arrived at Toledo, O. He is rowing to the World's Fair in a 28-lb. aluminum shell, has been about five weeks, and has 1,200 miles to his credit.

In the Henley regatta final Guy Nickalls captured the diamond skulls, the big senior event. He must be tired of winning this event so often.

The Working Boys of Boston will hold their gala day this year on August 5th. The Boston South End grounds have been grand, and the sports and amusements for the boys will be of the finest quality. The programme includes a procession, a big concert and a grand theatrical show.

A feature of the day will be a baseball match between the State Legislature and the Boston City Council. Senator John T. Fitzgerald will captain the former, and is getting his "boys" together for practice. The State Speaker and Sergeant-at-Arms will umpire the match.

Pittsburg won three games from Boston ending on Friday last, and Boston was whitewashed in two of the games. It must be something to win the Beaneaters, but it is decidedly refreshing to beat the champions three straight, and shut them out twice in succession. As usual, Seale's men blame it on the umpire.

Yale and Harvard split even this summer on rowing and baseball. Already the rowing starts are turned to football. Harvard will start early and has taken her spin into Maine. There they will study the theory of college football, as Mr. DeLand and Dr. Conant will endeavor to formulate new plans for the attention of the crimson boys. DeLand is the inventor of the celebrated "Bying wedge" which netted Harvard so many yards last fall. Lake, the great half-back, will not play this fall. Yale will not be so hard on her team, and the blues may enjoy their vacation until the middle of August.

The Crosby Hose Co. lowered the world's 220 yard record lately to 22 1/2 seconds, at Bradford, Pa. A Boulder, Col., team held the old record at 23 1/5 seconds.

Cricket is rapidly taking its place among our outdoor sports, and the memories of former hard-fought contests are revived. There are any number of enthusiasts and the interest is increasing. The visit of the St. John Club will stimulate matters and give the game quite an impetus. The St. John papers give their team much praise, and in view of some of their late victories our "boys" will find them fustian quite worthy.

McPherson, the world's champion professional shot, who hails from P. E. Island, was set upon by a tough gang near Detroit some days ago, and badly beaten. He is training for Caledonian games.

Jack McAuliffe called at a London newspaper office on Friday, and wanted to make a match with Jim Carney.

It is reported that La Blanche and some other ring notables intend touring the Province shortly, and will visit this city.

At Kirkwood, Del., lately Saladin paced a mile in a race in 2:04, making a new record for a race. The trotter Ayres P was also sent a mile in 2:05 1/2. The pacer Macool was driven a half-mile in 59 seconds.

The Louisvilles, the tail-enders in the League, who washed the New Yorks on Friday, and made thirteen runs. The Giants don't know how it happened at all!

A very hot ebb at present. What's the matter? With such a fine sheet of water as we possess, there should certainly be a healthier interest in aquatic sport. And in watching the latest news, an exciting character to speak of. The boys seem to sit back and take it easy. No money is in sight, honor and its accompaniments are never considered.

What a great pity there is nothing going on to stir our many runners, (of all nationalities) up to practice. Last year we had the Tournament, and it showed what a healthy interest was taken in track matters. It certainly is a great pity that a city like Charlottetown, with champion running teams, fine runners at any distance, jumpers and athletes galore, cannot have some kind of an annual athletic meeting, either in spring or fall, which would stimulate our athletes and produce healthy competition. Some of the boys are getting in form for the Caledonian games in August.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATIONAL MEETINGS.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

The Report on Education was the first business of the afternoon session. It was read by Bro. Gordon, and showed that the institutions at Wolfville were doing a good work but were somewhat hampered for want of funds. He appealed to the Baptist body to come to the help of our educational institutions. The report was spoken by Bro. Blaise, Prof. Tufts, J. A. Gordon, N. McNeill, Robt. Jenkins, N. A. McDonald and others.

In the evening an Educational Meeting was held, and addressed by Prof. Tufts, Rev. N. A. McNeill and Prof. Chipman.

SABBATH SERVICES.

Rev. N. A. McNeill preached in the Baptist Church in the morning. Rev. Mr. Freeman preached the Association service in the afternoon, and Rev. McCully Black preached in the evening. Most of the city churches were supplied by Baptist preachers during the day.

MONDAY MORNING.

At 8 o'clock the Young People's Meeting began in the basement of the church. Bro. J. K. Ross, President of the Young People's Union, occupied the chair. After singing "I am coming, Lord," and prayer by Bro. McNeill, a short time was spent in devotional exercises. Then the regular business of the Society began. Bro. Ross was the first to address the meeting. He said that in order to hold our own as a denomination we must keep our young people engaged in work, and we could not do this in any better way than by organizing young people's societies throughout the Province.

Deacon Scott, a man full of years and faith, was the next speaker. He told of his great love for His Master when a boy, but felt the need of co-operation from older members of the church. He spoke of the danger there was of young people left to themselves going back to the world and "thus losing their first love."

Bro. Chipman spoke from a teacher's standpoint. He said our great teacher was Christ. His students—those whose hearts the Lord has touched.

Bro. Spurr spoke of the Society as a means of extending church work; not a hindrance, as some supposed.

Rev. J. A. Gordon had for his theme "The Forces." Bro. Gordon said that forces not used become dangerous. When the members of the church of Jesus Christ fail to use their forces, or transmit light, they are lost to the church and to the world. Ninety-nine per cent. of true church members are lost for the want of activity. The aim of the young people's societies is to generate the church forces.

Bro. R. Jenkins said: Now let us gather up the forces of the church so that we have nothing and let us, stimulated by what we have heard, go out to our several churches and organize for aggressive work.

Bro. McDonald also gave a pointed address.

Rev. Mr. Freeman said he felt as young in spirit and life as he ever did. He wished to see this movement prosper.

Rev. Mr. McNeill said the time to set young people to work was when they were first converted. We want to harness our united forces.

The editor of the Messenger and Visitor was at the disposal of the young people's society, and he would be glad to help them in their work.

Bro. McLeod said he considered the church the proper place to work, but if the society did not divide the finances or cause schisms in the church he would not oppose it.

The regular associational meeting began at 10 o'clock, with prayer by Bro. Black.

The first business being report on systematic beneficence by Bro. Spurr.

Bro. Gordon said it is not enough to feel benevolent; we must be benignant. It's not enough to feel like giving; we must give. Bro. Gordon said love is life and life is active, and Christian activity is benevolent and benevolence is beneficence. We cannot evangelize the world without money.

Bro. Spurr said the stream of beneficence will rise no higher than our spiritual life. It is useless to plan unless there is spiritual life behind it.

Bro. Miles said if the churches gave one-fourth of their income there would be no lack of money.

Bro. Masse, from Grand Ligne, was present, and spoke very encouragingly of the good work going on in Quebec.

Bro. Scott, from St. John's, spoke of the work of the stationer and the printer, which was unanimously adopted.

The report on "Denominational Literature," prepared by Bro. Bishop was then read by Rev. J. Miles, and on motion reserved for discussion.

To the Farmers of P. E. Island!

We are abused by some of our competitors because we dared to break a combine and pay the farmers three or four cents a pound more for their Wool than they have been getting. It was a naughty thing for us to do. Why could we not leave the wool business alone and let our competitors make big profit out of the farmers; they would not know it. And it hurts our competitors for Prowse Bros. to ask how the Summerside merchants pay 5 cents a pound more for wool, and Prowse Bros. are mean men because they are spoiling our fun. We have placed a higher grade of Clothing on the market—higher in price, we mean, but don't like to tell the people that—but Prowse Bros. customers often tell them about the high prices that is asked for Clothing outside of the Wonderful Cheap Store.

Then we are Manufacturers of Clothing! Yes we are. We send our Cloth away to Halifax and Montreal and get it made there, and see the number of people we give employment to there, and we should be patronized on that account.

OH, THIS IS A QUEER WORLD--AIN'T IT?

Then Prowse Bros. are mad and jealous because some of their competitors went into the Clothing business long before they got to the farm.

No, no. Mr. Competitor, we are not jealous but we are workers. We work hard for trade and get it. We don't care who goes into the Clothing business, for it will take them many years to learn how we sell Clothing so cheap, but the public know we do the largest retail business on P. E. Island. They know it is almost impossible to get into our Store on market days for the crowds, but the whole trouble with some of our competitors is that Prowse Bros. sell better Clothing, sell Clothing cheaper, and pay more for Wool than they do, and they feel hurt. But it is the farmers' interests as well as our own that we are looking after, and not our competitors.

Now we would ask the general public to rally around the Farmer's Boys in the future as they have in the past, and not allow the men who who have said they would put us to the wall inside of twelve months pull the wool over your eyes. We could show up their private character if we wished, but we would be acting as low as our competitors, and that we won't do, and it won't affect the price of wool.
