

Springtime

A healthy condition of the kidneys is the best safe-guard against all the ills incidental to the season. Tone the system by using

DODD'S Kidney Pills

The best blood purifier on earth, and the only Absolute Cure for all diseases of the kidneys we can sell you Dodd's Kidney Pills at the following prices, viz.—50c. per box six boxes for $2.50. To the trade—$4.00 per dozen, or three dozen at $8.75 per dozen. Sent by mail to any address post paid.

GEORGE E. HUGHES, Charlottetown

Valuable Property For Sale.

The subscriber offers for sale the real estate residence, "Edenholm," on West Street, between B. Hearty, Esq., and Hon. L. H. Davies. The property has 84 feet fronting on West Street and 200 feet to the water.

Apply on the premises to Simon Davies or Davies & Hazard, Solicitors.

Consumption

There is cause for those far gone in consumption—not recovery—ease. There is cure for those not far gone. There is prevention for those who are threatened.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil is for you, even if you are only a little thin.

SCOTT'S EMULSION has been endorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. (See our circular.) This is because it is always available—always pure—always reliable. It is the only Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

MAKE UP YOUR MIND

Be Up-To-Date

In Soap as well as in everything else.

Sunlight Soap

and are keeping their homes clean, bright and cheerful with very little labor. To all who use this world-famous Soap it means

LESS LABOR GREATER COMFORT

For every 12 Sunlight wrappers sent to the Editor, we will send, or a cloth-bound for 50 wrappers.

BLANC-MANGE

MADE WITH BENSON'S CANADA PREPARED CORN

Is an exquisite dish for the table and invaluable for invalids.

RECIPES

BLANC-MANGE

Four or five tablespoonfuls of Prepared Corn in one quart of milk. Dissolve the Prepared Corn in some of the milk, heat the remainder of the milk, and when boiling add the dissolved Prepared Corn. Boil for five minutes, then add salt, sugar, and a little of the milk and sugar.

THE SHINING COMET!

It is Expected to Strike and Smash the Earth.

That is if its fall doesn't swing it around in its direction—Not due for some time yet.

There is, according to the authorities, a comet coming straight for the earth. It is coming at the rate of several miles an hour, and when it reaches here there will be more or less trouble, and something will have to break. The astronomers in question think the earth will get a terrific blow, and that it will be accordingly feeling anxious. It is due here unless something turns a switch, and sidetracks it, in less than nine hundred years, so wonder the discoverers of that comet are anxious. But more things than a comet are due to arrive here before long. The hot weather will cause sickness and death. Spring, deadly spring, will reap its fearful harvest. There will come

THE EDWARDS STARCH CO., LTD.

WORKS, CARDINAL, ONT. OFFICES, MONTREAL, P.Q.

WENAS A. MACDONALD

Barrister-at-Law OFFICE, GREAT GEORGE STREET CHARLOTTETOWN.

Money to Loan, Fire and Life Insurance taken. Agent for Credit Foncier Franco-Canada, Lancashire Fire Insurance Co., Great Eastern Life Assurance Co.

WATER-PROOFING

EPSS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST—SUPPER.

By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. EPSS has provided for our breakfast and supper a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles, that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle poisons are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood, and a properly nourished frame.

JAMES EPSS & CO., LTD. Homoeopathic Chemists, London, England.

COUNTING THE COST.

By Margaret Deland.

(Continued.)

"Miss Graham is devoted to mathematics," Dick murmured, miserably, "and that sort of thing."

"He stopped so abruptly that Mrs. Pugsley had time to whisper to Dave Duggan was audible to all."

"Say, is he Annie's feller?"

"Hush!" said Dave Duggan.

"Dick drank his tea with a leaden face and violent haste, and even Johnny looked disconcerted. Annie said something about the roses."

"The thing is this: most in South Bend are the gardeners," she said. "You know we are all working people on all this side of the river, and there are no old houses, so there are no beautiful gardens. We had to walk far out to the country for those."

"Won't you have anything more?" Johnny inquired, hospitably. "Take another slice of something?"

"No, no, no, take a taste of this if you'll. Well, let's go into the parlor, Annie."

"Annie held back, no one saw it. They went into the best room, where Johnny set all the gas burners flaring, that the full glories of the decorations might strike the visitor, who, indeed, saw nothing but Annie's stern, set face."

"Miss Graham," he said, "you are coming east again in September, aren't you?"

"I think not. I think I must never leave father again. He is with me very strong, and I want to be with him." Dick answered, "but—"

"But what, Mr. Temple?"

"Oh, nothing. I only thought—I thought you were to teach in the college, and—"

"He did not know how to end his sentence; he caught Dave Duggan's eyes glowing at him, and Johnny's rather obsequious smile. Johnny had the true American veneration for wealth, and he felt that this gentleman, who kept a hawk waiting for an hour, was a rich man."

"I shall never leave my father," Annie said, in a low voice.

"Now Richard Temple was not a mean or unworthy man; he was a well-born, well-educated young American gentleman; but he had been placed suddenly at a cruel disadvantage. His one source of income deserted him—he was widowed and confounded. His plans and hopes were all a wreck. He could not meet the needs of his family; he had to go to night, at first laughingly and then offensively, and sneaked out to his carriage, anxious only to escape from an intolerable situation."

"But what, Mr. Temple?"

"Oh, nothing. I only thought—I thought you were to teach in the college, and—"

"He did not know how to end his sentence; he caught Dave Duggan's eyes glowing at him, and Johnny's rather obsequious smile. Johnny had the true American veneration for wealth, and he felt that this gentleman, who kept a hawk waiting for an hour, was a rich man."

"I shall never leave my father," Annie said, in a low voice.

"Now Richard Temple was not a mean or unworthy man; he was a well-born, well-educated young American gentleman; but he had been placed suddenly at a cruel disadvantage. His one source of income deserted him—he was widowed and confounded. His plans and hopes were all a wreck. He could not meet the needs of his family; he had to go to night, at first laughingly and then offensively, and sneaked out to his carriage, anxious only to escape from an intolerable situation."

"But what, Mr. Temple?"

"Oh, nothing. I only thought—I thought you were to teach in the college, and—"

"He did not know how to end his sentence; he caught Dave Duggan's eyes glowing at him, and Johnny's rather obsequious smile. Johnny had the true American veneration for wealth, and he felt that this gentleman, who kept a hawk waiting for an hour, was a rich man."

"I shall never leave my father," Annie said, in a low voice.

"Now Richard Temple was not a mean or unworthy man; he was a well-born, well-educated young American gentleman; but he had been placed suddenly at a cruel disadvantage. His one source of income deserted him—he was widowed and confounded. His plans and hopes were all a wreck. He could not meet the needs of his family; he had to go to night, at first laughingly and then offensively, and sneaked out to his carriage, anxious only to escape from an intolerable situation."

"But what, Mr. Temple?"

"Oh, nothing. I only thought—I thought you were to teach in the college, and—"

"He did not know how to end his sentence; he caught Dave Duggan's eyes glowing at him, and Johnny's rather obsequious smile. Johnny had the true American veneration for wealth, and he felt that this gentleman, who kept a hawk waiting for an hour, was a rich man."

"I shall never leave my father," Annie said, in a low voice.

"Now Richard Temple was not a mean or unworthy man; he was a well-born, well-educated young American gentleman; but he had been placed suddenly at a cruel disadvantage. His one source of income deserted him—he was widowed and confounded. His plans and hopes were all a wreck. He could not meet the needs of his family; he had to go to night, at first laughingly and then offensively, and sneaked out to his carriage, anxious only to escape from an intolerable situation."

"But what, Mr. Temple?"

"Oh, nothing. I only thought—I thought you were to teach in the college, and—"

"He did not know how to end his sentence; he caught Dave Duggan's eyes glowing at him, and Johnny's rather obsequious smile. Johnny had the true American veneration for wealth, and he felt that this gentleman, who kept a hawk waiting for an hour, was a rich man."

"I shall never leave my father," Annie said, in a low voice.

"Now Richard Temple was not a mean or unworthy man; he was a well-born, well-educated young American gentleman; but he had been placed suddenly at a cruel disadvantage. His one source of income deserted him—he was widowed and confounded. His plans and hopes were all a wreck. He could not meet the needs of his family; he had to go to night, at first laughingly and then offensively, and sneaked out to his carriage, anxious only to escape from an intolerable situation."

"But what, Mr. Temple?"

"Oh, nothing. I only thought—I thought you were to teach in the college, and—"

"He did not know how to end his sentence; he caught Dave Duggan's eyes glowing at him, and Johnny's rather obsequious smile. Johnny had the true American veneration for wealth, and he felt that this gentleman, who kept a hawk waiting for an hour, was a rich man."

"I shall never leave my father," Annie said, in a low voice.

"Now Richard Temple was not a mean or unworthy man; he was a well-born, well-educated young American gentleman; but he had been placed suddenly at a cruel disadvantage. His one source of income deserted him—he was widowed and confounded. His plans and hopes were all a wreck. He could not meet the needs of his family; he had to go to night, at first laughingly and then offensively, and sneaked out to his carriage, anxious only to escape from an intolerable situation."

"But what, Mr. Temple?"

"Oh, nothing. I only thought—I thought you were to teach in the college, and—"

"He did not know how to end his sentence; he caught Dave Duggan's eyes glowing at him, and Johnny's rather obsequious smile. Johnny had the true American veneration for wealth, and he felt that this gentleman, who kept a hawk waiting for an hour, was a rich man."

"I shall never leave my father," Annie said, in a low voice.

"Now Richard Temple was not a mean or unworthy man; he was a well-born, well-educated young American gentleman; but he had been placed suddenly at a cruel disadvantage. His one source of income deserted him—he was widowed and confounded. His plans and hopes were all a wreck. He could not meet the needs of his family; he had to go to night, at first laughingly and then offensively, and sneaked out to his carriage, anxious only to escape from an intolerable situation."

"But what, Mr. Temple?"

"Oh, nothing. I only thought—I thought you were to teach in the college, and—"

"He did not know how to end his sentence; he caught Dave Duggan's eyes glowing at him, and Johnny's rather obsequious smile. Johnny had the true American veneration for wealth, and he felt that this gentleman, who kept a hawk waiting for an hour, was a rich man."

"I shall never leave my father," Annie said, in a low voice.

"Now Richard Temple was not a mean or unworthy man; he was a well-born, well-educated young American gentleman; but he had been placed suddenly at a cruel disadvantage. His one source of income deserted him—he was widowed and confounded. His plans and hopes were all a wreck. He could not meet the needs of his family; he had to go to night, at first laughingly and then offensively, and sneaked out to his carriage, anxious only to escape from an intolerable situation."

"But what, Mr. Temple?"

"Oh, nothing. I only thought—I thought you were to teach in the college, and—"

"He did not know how to end his sentence; he caught Dave Duggan's eyes glowing at him, and Johnny's rather obsequious smile. Johnny had the true American veneration for wealth, and he felt that this gentleman, who kept a hawk waiting for an hour, was a rich man."

"I shall never leave my father," Annie said, in a low voice.

"Now Richard Temple was not a mean or unworthy man; he was a well-born, well-educated young American gentleman; but he had been placed suddenly at a cruel disadvantage. His one source of income deserted him—he was widowed and confounded. His plans and hopes were all a wreck. He could not meet the needs of his family; he had to go to night, at first laughingly and then offensively, and sneaked out to his carriage, anxious only to escape from an intolerable situation."

"But what, Mr. Temple?"

"Oh, nothing. I only thought—I thought you were to teach in the college, and—"

"He did not know how to end his sentence; he caught Dave Duggan's eyes glowing at him, and Johnny's rather obsequious smile. Johnny had the true American veneration for wealth, and he felt that this gentleman, who kept a hawk waiting for an hour, was a rich man."

"I shall never leave my father," Annie said, in a low voice.

"Now Richard Temple was not a mean or unworthy man; he was a well-born, well-educated young American gentleman; but he had been placed suddenly at a cruel disadvantage. His one source of income deserted him—he was widowed and confounded. His plans and hopes were all a wreck. He could not meet the needs of his family; he had to go to night, at first laughingly and then offensively, and sneaked out to his carriage, anxious only to escape from an intolerable situation."

"But what, Mr. Temple?"

"Oh, nothing. I only thought—I thought you were to teach in the college, and—"

"He did not know how to end his sentence; he caught Dave Duggan's eyes glowing at him, and Johnny's rather obsequious smile. Johnny had the true American veneration for wealth, and he felt that this gentleman, who kept a hawk waiting for an hour, was a rich man."

"I shall never leave my father," Annie said, in a low voice.

"Now Richard Temple was not a mean or unworthy man; he was a well-born, well-educated young American gentleman; but he had been placed suddenly at a cruel disadvantage. His one source of income deserted him—he was widowed and confounded. His plans and hopes were all a wreck. He could not meet the needs of his family; he had to go to night, at first laughingly and then offensively, and sneaked out to his carriage, anxious only to escape from an intolerable situation."

"But what, Mr. Temple?"

"Oh, nothing. I only thought—I thought you were to teach in the college, and—"

"He did not know how to end his sentence; he caught Dave Duggan's eyes glowing at him, and Johnny's rather obsequious smile. Johnny had the true American veneration for wealth, and he felt that this gentleman, who kept a hawk waiting for an hour, was a rich man."

"I shall never leave my father," Annie said, in a low voice.

"Now Richard Temple was not a mean or unworthy man; he was a well-born, well-educated young American gentleman; but he had been placed suddenly at a cruel disadvantage. His one source of income deserted him—he was widowed and confounded. His plans and hopes were all a wreck. He could not meet the needs of his family; he had to go to night, at first laughingly and then offensively, and sneaked out to his carriage, anxious only to escape from an intolerable situation."

"But what, Mr. Temple?"

"Oh, nothing. I only thought—I thought you were to teach in the college, and—"

"He did not know how to end his sentence; he caught Dave Duggan's eyes glowing at him, and Johnny's rather obsequious smile. Johnny had the true American veneration for wealth, and he felt that this gentleman, who kept a hawk waiting for an hour, was a rich man."

"I shall never leave my father," Annie said, in a low voice.

"Now Richard Temple was not a mean or unworthy man; he was a well-born, well-educated young American gentleman; but he had been placed suddenly at a cruel disadvantage. His one source of income deserted him—he was widowed and confounded. His plans and hopes were all a wreck. He could not meet the needs of his family; he had to go to night, at first laughingly and then offensively, and sneaked out to his carriage, anxious only to escape from an intolerable situation."

"But what, Mr. Temple?"

"Oh, nothing. I only thought—I thought you were to teach in the college, and—"

"He did not know how to end his sentence; he caught Dave Duggan's eyes glowing at him, and Johnny's rather obsequious smile. Johnny had the true American veneration for wealth, and he felt that this gentleman, who kept a hawk waiting for an hour, was a rich man."

"I shall never leave my father," Annie said, in a low voice.

"Now Richard Temple was not a mean or unworthy man; he was a well-born, well-educated young American gentleman; but he had been placed suddenly at a cruel disadvantage. His one source of income deserted him—he was widowed and confounded. His plans and hopes were all a wreck. He could not meet the needs of his family; he had to go to night, at first laughingly and then offensively, and sneaked out to his carriage, anxious only to escape from an intolerable situation."

"But what, Mr. Temple?"

"Oh, nothing. I only thought—I thought you were to teach in the college, and—"

"He did not know how to end his sentence; he caught Dave Duggan's eyes glowing at him, and Johnny's rather obsequious smile. Johnny had the true American veneration for wealth, and he felt that this gentleman, who kept a hawk waiting for an hour, was a rich man."

"I shall never leave my father," Annie said, in a low voice.

"Now Richard Temple was not a mean or unworthy man; he was a well-born, well-educated young American gentleman; but he had been placed suddenly at a cruel disadvantage. His one source of income deserted him—he was widowed and confounded. His plans and hopes were all a wreck. He could not meet the needs of his family; he had to go to night, at first laughingly and then offensively, and sneaked out to his carriage, anxious only to escape from an intolerable situation."

"But what, Mr. Temple?"

"Oh, nothing. I only thought—I thought you were to teach in the college, and—"

"He did not know how to end his sentence; he caught Dave Duggan's eyes glowing at him, and Johnny's rather obsequious smile. Johnny had the true American veneration for wealth, and he felt that this gentleman, who kept a hawk waiting for an hour, was a rich man."

ATTRACT ATTENTION

with creaking, clumsy steps, into the kitchen. Annie stood by the sink, with her back to him.

ODDS AND ENDS.

The rumor is gaining ground in Madrid that Captain General Weyler is to be recalled from Cuba, and that Marshal Campos is to be reinstated.

DELA IS DANGEROUS.

Do not delay a single moment, but send for a bottle of Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil if you are threatened with consumption or lung trouble. The sooner you begin to create new blood the sooner you will gain a victory over death's emissaries. Miller's Emulsion is the most remarkable nutritive cure in the world. It creates new blood immediately. No other preparation of Cod Liver Oil can compare with Miller's Emulsion. There is no excuse for persons dying from consumption when this perfect remedy is at hand. Miller's Emulsion is the greatest strengthener and blood maker, and cures Coughs, Colic, Bronchitis, Scrofula, and all lung affections. In big bottles, 50c and $1, at all drug stores.

FURNESS LINE.

Regular Fortnightly Sailings between LONDON and HALIFAX. Under special contract with the Dominion Government.

S. S. HALIFAX CITY, 3,000 Tons. S. S. JOHN CITY, 3,000 Tons. S. S. DAMARA, 2,500 Tons.

The Furness Steamships are the finest on this route. All boats are Clyde built, with steam and sailing rigs amply fitted for the most severe weather.

Superior accommodation for all kinds of Freight, Dairy Produce, etc.

For information regarding sailing dates, etc., apply to

FURNESS, WITBY & CO., LTD., People's Bank Building, Halifax.

Or W. W. Clarke, Passenger Agent, Charlottetown P. E. I. dec 2

Beaver Line Steamers.

Winter Service.

DIRECT SAILINGS BETWEEN ST. JOHN, N. B., AND LIVERPOOL.

From Liverpool to St. John, N. B. Sat., Dec 7. Lake Ontario, Wed., Dec 21. Jan 4. Lake Superior, " 22. Feb 11. Lake Winnipeg, " 18. Mar 1. Lake Ontario, " 15. Mar 15. Lake Winnipeg, " 12. Apr 1. Lake Ontario, " 9. Apr 15. Lake Winnipeg, " 6.

FIRST CABIN—$40 and $45. Round Trip. SECOND CABIN—To Liverpool, London, etc. Third Cabin—To Liverpool, London, etc. Round Trip, $80. To London, Bristol or Cardiff, $90. To Liverpool, London, etc. Round Trip, $100. To Liverpool, London, etc. Round Trip, $110. To Bristol and Cardiff $120.

NOTE—Steerage passengers by the Beaver Line are provided with the use of bedding, and eating and drinking from silver. Insurance policies issued at lowest rates. Particulars as to rates and conditions and all important points both in Canada and Great Britain on through bills of lading. Special rates for school children, and for the aged, infirm and invalids. Freight and perishable freight. Particulars as to rates and conditions of freight and perishable freight apply to

D. & C. MACIVER, D. W. CAMPBELL, 207 Building, Manager, Montreal, Liverpool.

TROOP & SON, Agents, St. John, N. B.

PETERS, PETER & ING

Barristers, Attorneys-at-Law, &c., Charlottetown

MONEY TO LOAN.

Frederick Peters, Q. C., Arthur Peters, A. Ernest Ing, 112-114 (136)

MORTGAGE SALE.

To be sold by Public Auction, at the Court House in Summerside, on TUESDAY, the 22nd day of May, A. D. 1896, at the hour of twelve o'clock, noon, under the authority of a certain Indenture of Mortgage dated the 15th day of February, 1895, in possession of Peter Morrison, thence said first charge of the said mortgage, and thence said second charge of the said mortgage, and thence said third charge of the said mortgage, and thence said fourth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said fifth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said sixth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said seventh charge of the said mortgage, and thence said eighth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said ninth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said tenth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said eleventh charge of the said mortgage, and thence said twelfth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said thirteenth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said fourteenth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said fifteenth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said sixteenth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said seventeenth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said eighteenth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said nineteenth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said twentieth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said twenty-first charge of the said mortgage, and thence said twenty-second charge of the said mortgage, and thence said twenty-third charge of the said mortgage, and thence said twenty-fourth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said twenty-fifth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said twenty-sixth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said twenty-seventh charge of the said mortgage, and thence said twenty-eighth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said twenty-ninth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said thirtieth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said thirty-first charge of the said mortgage, and thence said thirty-second charge of the said mortgage, and thence said thirty-third charge of the said mortgage, and thence said thirty-fourth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said thirty-fifth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said thirty-sixth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said thirty-seventh charge of the said mortgage, and thence said thirty-eighth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said thirty-ninth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said fortieth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said forty-first charge of the said mortgage, and thence said forty-second charge of the said mortgage, and thence said forty-third charge of the said mortgage, and thence said forty-fourth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said forty-fifth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said forty-sixth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said forty-seventh charge of the said mortgage, and thence said forty-eighth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said forty-ninth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said fiftieth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said fifty-first charge of the said mortgage, and thence said fifty-second charge of the said mortgage, and thence said fifty-third charge of the said mortgage, and thence said fifty-fourth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said fifty-fifth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said fifty-sixth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said fifty-seventh charge of the said mortgage, and thence said fifty-eighth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said fifty-ninth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said sixtieth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said sixty-first charge of the said mortgage, and thence said sixty-second charge of the said mortgage, and thence said sixty-third charge of the said mortgage, and thence said sixty-fourth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said sixty-fifth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said sixty-sixth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said sixty-seventh charge of the said mortgage, and thence said sixty-eighth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said sixty-ninth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said seventieth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said seventy-first charge of the said mortgage, and thence said seventy-second charge of the said mortgage, and thence said seventy-third charge of the said mortgage, and thence said seventy-fourth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said seventy-fifth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said seventy-sixth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said seventy-seventh charge of the said mortgage, and thence said seventy-eighth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said seventy-ninth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said eightieth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said eighty-first charge of the said mortgage, and thence said eighty-second charge of the said mortgage, and thence said eighty-third charge of the said mortgage, and thence said eighty-fourth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said eighty-fifth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said eighty-sixth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said eighty-seventh charge of the said mortgage, and thence said eighty-eighth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said eighty-ninth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said ninetieth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said ninety-first charge of the said mortgage, and thence said ninety-second charge of the said mortgage, and thence said ninety-third charge of the said mortgage, and thence said ninety-fourth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said ninety-fifth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said ninety-sixth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said ninety-seventh charge of the said mortgage, and thence said ninety-eighth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said ninety-ninth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundredth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and first charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and second charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and third charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and fourth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and fifth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and sixth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and seventh charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and eighth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and ninth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and tenth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and eleventh charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and twelfth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and thirteenth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and fourteenth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and fifteenth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and sixteenth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and seventeenth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and eighteenth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and nineteenth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and twentieth charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and twenty-first charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and twenty-second charge of the said mortgage, and thence said one hundred and twenty-third charge of the said mortgage, and