

Podres Hurls Brooklyn To First World Series Win

By JACK HAND

BROOKLYN (AP) — Sturdy Johnny Podres celebrated his 23rd birthday Friday by mixing his left-handed fast ball with a teasing change of pace to give Brooklyn Dodgers their first victory over New York Yankees 8-3 in the third game of the world series at Ebbets Field.

Roy Campanella, after going hitless in two losing games at Yankee Stadium, awoke from his slump with a two-run homer, double and single to drive in three runs. This devastating show made the 34,209 fans almost forget his costly error that let the Yanks tie the score in the second inning.

The Brooklyn chased fire-balling Bob Turley when he turned wild in the second and continued to bump Tom Morgan, Johnny Kucks and Tom Sturdivant for a total of 11 hits.

Manager Walter Alston, criticized for going too far with Billy Rice in Thursday's game, stuck Podres through thick and thin. Three times he strode to the mound to talk things over with Podres and Campy only to let the pitcher continue. Each time his faith was justified.

GOT OUT OF TROUBLE

In the sixth it appeared that Podres, trying to go the route for the first time since June 14, was on the ropes. Gil McDougald and Yogi Berra had lined singles to center with nobody out, the first New York hits since they scored their two runs in the second inning.

The batter was Mickey Mantle, playing despite a torn leg muscle that forced him to hobble around center field and shift to right in the second. Trust Podres to keep the ball low to Mantle. Alston let Podres face the Yankee hitter. Mantle lashed a rally-killing double-play ball to shortstop Pete Wee Reese. Unable to run with his usual speed, Mickey was easily doubled at first. Reese to Junior Gilliam to Gil Hodges.

Although Podres teetered a bit in the seventh when a walk to Phil Rizzuto and Andy Carey's pinch-hit to the left field corner produced a third Yank run, he steadied to strike out Bob Cerv for the third straight time. For Saturday's fourth game at Ebbets Field, Alston has named Carl Erskine, who managed an 11-8 record during the regular season despite arm trouble. The crafty righthander set a series record by striking out 14 Yanks in the third game back in 1953.

Casey Stengel will send Don Larsen (9-2) after the fourth game.

JACKIE ROBINSON STARS

This was a different team from the bedraggled Dodgers who lost the first two games. They fought back smartly after the Yanks tied the score 2-2 in the second.

Jackie Robinson played magnificent ball at third base for the Dodgers, contributing seven assists, only two short of the record for third basemen. Jackie drew a gasp from the fans when he doubled to the left field corner in the seventh and sailed on to third when Elston Howard threw to second base, trying to nip him of the bag.

Stengel surprised the customers—and the Dodgers—by starting Mantle in center field. With Hank Bauer reduced to pinch-hitting duties because of leg injury, Stengel was desperate for more right-handed power in the lineup against a southpaw pitcher.

It looked like a typical "tremendous" move by old Case when Mickey hit a home run over the 333-foot mark into the centerfield bleachers on his first time up in the second inning. But it was obvious he was having trouble in the field when he had to make a one-handed catch of Gilliam's easy fly ball to right center in the first.

Mantle switched to right in the second and had no more defensive luck. But his inability to run hurt the Yanks dearly in the sixth.

300-FOOT HOMER

The Brooks who are supposed to eat lefthanders for breakfast but lost to a pair of them at Yankee Stadium, lost little time ripping into the wild Turley, a righthander.

Peeewe Reese walked with one out in the first. After Duke Snider struck out, Campanella hit Snider from home run into the left field seats, a 300-foot smash.

The Dodger catcher wore the dunce cap for a spell in the second

when the Yanks tied it up. Mantle's homer got one run back and Skowron followed with a double to left center. Podres made Howard ground to Robinson and wiffed Billy Martin on a beautiful change-up pitch.

Rizzuto singled to left and Skowron streaked toward home. Sandy Amoros' peg to the plate had Skowron out by at least three feet but Campy lost the ball when Skowron lunged past.

Morgan threw four straight balls to Reese, forcing Snider and Campanella avoided further damage.

Brooklyn unloaded on Morgan for two more runs in the fourth. Gilliam's single, a walk to Snider and Campanella's single to left produced one. When Howard caught Carl Furillo's long foul down the left field line, Snider leaped up and scored easily ahead of the outfielder's wide throw to the plate.

The final pair came off Sturdivant in the seventh on Robinson's alert base running after his double, a scoring single by Amoros, a walk to Gilliam and a hit-and-run single by Reese.

WALK IN 2 RUNS

With the score tied 2-2 in the last of the second, Robinson singled after one man was out. Turley hit Amoros on the right thigh with a pitch and Podres' bunt down

The morning of morning's is just a half asleep away. I don't know how many of the duck hunters will catch so many winks tonight. About 3:00 a.m. tomorrow morning Piquid Pond rice beds will be lit up like a Christmas tree. The pin point of flashlights, the hollow creak of oar locks and the excited chat of hunters is sufficient to drive out every duck possessed with a half ounce of brains but when the string of cars and trucks weave their way down Grant's field, their headlights sweeping the pond until every nook and cranny is exposed even the brainless ones take off then.

The duck hunters native to Piquid Pond have been agitating for years to have boats barred from the rice beds until at least 9:00 a.m. on the opening morning. It could be that hunting from boats on the Pond will be barred-period. The stand of rice may look dense from the shore but its beaten down to a pretty scraggly condition by weather and feeding ducks. A couple of hunters in boat with a couple of winks tonight. Its nearly all long range shooting but no shotgun was ever built that will kill ducks at 150 and 200 yards.

They'll blaze away regardless all day long. Many of the ducks brought down are crippled and it is the consensus of opinion 9 ducks out of every 10 brought down on the pond are lost. A hunter takes when the Yanks tied it up. Mantle's homer got one run back and Skowron followed with a double to left center. Podres made Howard ground to Robinson and wiffed Billy Martin on a beautiful change-up pitch.

Continued on page 9

Rizzuto singled to left and Skowron streaked toward home. Sandy Amoros' peg to the plate had Skowron out by at least three feet but Campy lost the ball when Skowron lunged past.

Morgan threw four straight balls to Reese, forcing Snider and Campanella avoided further damage.

Brooklyn unloaded on Morgan for two more runs in the fourth. Gilliam's single, a walk to Snider and Campanella's single to left produced one. When Howard caught Carl Furillo's long foul down the left field line, Snider leaped up and scored easily ahead of the outfielder's wide throw to the plate.

The final pair came off Sturdivant in the seventh on Robinson's alert base running after his double, a scoring single by Amoros, a walk to Gilliam and a hit-and-run single by Reese.

when the Yanks tied it up. Mantle's homer got one run back and Skowron followed with a double to left center. Podres made Howard ground to Robinson and wiffed Billy Martin on a beautiful change-up pitch.

Rizzuto singled to left and Skowron streaked toward home. Sandy Amoros' peg to the plate had Skowron out by at least three feet but Campy lost the ball when Skowron lunged past.

Morgan threw four straight balls to Reese, forcing Snider and Campanella avoided further damage.

Brooklyn unloaded on Morgan for two more runs in the fourth. Gilliam's single, a walk to Snider and Campanella's single to left produced one. When Howard caught Carl Furillo's long foul down the left field line, Snider leaped up and scored easily ahead of the outfielder's wide throw to the plate.

The final pair came off Sturdivant in the seventh on Robinson's alert base running after his double, a scoring single by Amoros, a walk to Gilliam and a hit-and-run single by Reese.

when the Yanks tied it up. Mantle's homer got one run back and Skowron followed with a double to left center. Podres made Howard ground to Robinson and wiffed Billy Martin on a beautiful change-up pitch.

Rizzuto singled to left and Skowron streaked toward home. Sandy Amoros' peg to the plate had Skowron out by at least three feet but Campy lost the ball when Skowron lunged past.

Morgan threw four straight balls to Reese, forcing Snider and Campanella avoided further damage.

Brooklyn unloaded on Morgan for two more runs in the fourth. Gilliam's single, a walk to Snider and Campanella's single to left produced one. When Howard caught Carl Furillo's long foul down the left field line, Snider leaped up and scored easily ahead of the outfielder's wide throw to the plate.

The final pair came off Sturdivant in the seventh on Robinson's alert base running after his double, a scoring single by Amoros, a walk to Gilliam and a hit-and-run single by Reese.

when the Yanks tied it up. Mantle's homer got one run back and Skowron followed with a double to left center. Podres made Howard ground to Robinson and wiffed Billy Martin on a beautiful change-up pitch.

Rizzuto singled to left and Skowron streaked toward home. Sandy Amoros' peg to the plate had Skowron out by at least three feet but Campy lost the ball when Skowron lunged past.

Morgan threw four straight balls to Reese, forcing Snider and Campanella avoided further damage.

Brooklyn unloaded on Morgan for two more runs in the fourth. Gilliam's single, a walk to Snider and Campanella's single to left produced one. When Howard caught Carl Furillo's long foul down the left field line, Snider leaped up and scored easily ahead of the outfielder's wide throw to the plate.

The final pair came off Sturdivant in the seventh on Robinson's alert base running after his double, a scoring single by Amoros, a walk to Gilliam and a hit-and-run single by Reese.

when the Yanks tied it up. Mantle's homer got one run back and Skowron followed with a double to left center. Podres made Howard ground to Robinson and wiffed Billy Martin on a beautiful change-up pitch.

Rizzuto singled to left and Skowron streaked toward home. Sandy Amoros' peg to the plate had Skowron out by at least three feet but Campy lost the ball when Skowron lunged past.

Morgan threw four straight balls to Reese, forcing Snider and Campanella avoided further damage.

Brooklyn unloaded on Morgan for two more runs in the fourth. Gilliam's single, a walk to Snider and Campanella's single to left produced one. When Howard caught Carl Furillo's long foul down the left field line, Snider leaped up and scored easily ahead of the outfielder's wide throw to the plate.

The final pair came off Sturdivant in the seventh on Robinson's alert base running after his double, a scoring single by Amoros, a walk to Gilliam and a hit-and-run single by Reese.

when the Yanks tied it up. Mantle's homer got one run back and Skowron followed with a double to left center. Podres made Howard ground to Robinson and wiffed Billy Martin on a beautiful change-up pitch.

Rizzuto singled to left and Skowron streaked toward home. Sandy Amoros' peg to the plate had Skowron out by at least three feet but Campy lost the ball when Skowron lunged past.

Morgan threw four straight balls to Reese, forcing Snider and Campanella avoided further damage.

Brooklyn unloaded on Morgan for two more runs in the fourth. Gilliam's single, a walk to Snider and Campanella's single to left produced one. When Howard caught Carl Furillo's long foul down the left field line, Snider leaped up and scored easily ahead of the outfielder's wide throw to the plate.

The final pair came off Sturdivant in the seventh on Robinson's alert base running after his double, a scoring single by Amoros, a walk to Gilliam and a hit-and-run single by Reese.

Page 6 The Guardian Saturday, Oct. 1, 1955

Large Entry List For Interscholastic Meet

One of the largest entry lists ever will be putting in appearance at Memorial Field this afternoon for the annual Interscholastic Track and Field Meet.

Comprising the big list of entries are Glenfanning, Southport, Prince St., West Kent, Queen Charlotte High, Rochford Square, Queen Square, Model, Georgetown, Montague, Brooklyn, East Royalty, Parkdale, Winslow, Morell and area, Summerside and P. W. C.

Starter Earl Nicholson will get the first race underway at 2:30 and with fine weather in the offing this should be one of the most successful interscholastic meets ever held here.

Nomad's Travel To New Glasgow To Begin Season

The rugby football season opens today with the first game in the newly formed N. S. P. E. League being played in New Glasgow between the New Glasgow and Charlottetown teams.

The Charlottetown Nomads have had four strenuous training sessions since the scrimmage with S. D. U. last Saturday. The players are all well experienced and after one or two games should develop into a very powerful squad.

Players travelling to New Glasgow are J. Ready, D. MacLeod, C. DeLory, G. Burge, C. Gillis, F. Driscoll, D. Nicholson, A. Ryan, C. Fields, N. Hansen, J. Coyle, R. Carroll, C. Heustis, and C. Reedy.

Cavendish Club Ch'ships Scheduled For Tomorrow

The Green Gables Club golf championships will be held on Sunday at Cavendish for both men and ladies. The tournament is open to all golfers who are residents of Prince Edward Island and who wish to play may do so by paying the green fee at the pro shop.

J. J. Beer of Charlottetown is the defending club champion while Mrs. Don Campbell is the current ladies title holder.

A large entry list is expected to compete for a fine array of prizes.

Lawrence Wins Middle Title On Split-Decision

FREDERICTON, (CP) — Lou Lawrence of Fredericton won the Canadian middleweight boxing title here Friday night with a split decision over Coby McCluskey of Dartmouth, N. S. The title had been vacant.

Lawrence weighed 157 and McCluskey 155.

The bout was judged on the points system rather than by rounds. Both judge Fred Thompson of Fredericton and referee Hollis Hill of Saint John gave the Fredericton boxer a small margin. Judge Paul Bowlin of Fredericton decided in favor of McCluskey, also by a small margin.

There was little to choose between the two in the early rounds. Then Lawrence began to press and took the advantage. Both began to tire but in the final 12th frame tried for a knockout to decide the issue. They were slugging toe to toe, neither giving ground, at the bell.

The other three bouts on the card ended in knockouts.

Earl MacDonald of Sydney and Vancouver stopped Joe Tynes, Truro, N. S., in the fourth round of a semi-final scheduled for eight rounds.

Jimmy Mooney, Minto, N. B., put away Bud Ramsey, Halifax, in the second frame of what was to have been a six-rounder. Milo Blizard, Tracy, N.B., knocked out George Burns, Sydney, in the second round of the preliminary.

Final Golf Meet At Belvedere

Entries will be accepted at the pro shop of the Belvedere Golf Course today for the final golf tournament of the season — the fall tournament, which will be played today or if the weather is unfavorable, tomorrow.

Golfers will meet in medal play for 18 holes and to the holder of the low net score goes the Seagram Trophy.

Entries will be divided into 4 divisions and a big sweepstake will be held for the final match of the year.

Doubles Play At Brighton Club

The club doubles championship play will be held at the Brighton Horseshoe Club tomorrow afternoon. The draw will be at 1:45 and play will commence at 2:00.

WALLY IS FIT RARING TO GO
High-scoring Wally Hergesheim, camp at Saskatoon. A consistent, a leg in each season, Rangers is back and fit as a fiddle at 20-goal scorer, he lost most of the finished fifth in the National Hockey League last season because he broke his leg last season.

Casey Stengel Says Noren Will Replace Mantle Today

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel said he made a last-minute switch to crippled Mickey Mantle in his Yankee lineup today at Mantle's request, but added that Mickey may be back on the bench in the fourth world series game today.

"With the Dodgers pitching a righthander (Carl Erskine), I may go back to Irv Noren," the caddy New York manager said. "Mickey would have to bat lefthanded and he tells me his leg bothers him more from that side."

Mantle, a switch-hitter who has been on the sidelines with an injured right leg, was a surprise starter of the third game today at

PITCHING DID IT

Stengel, however, was disinclined to blame the Yankees' defeat on any such development at this time. "They got better pitching, that's all," Casey said. "That Podres was plenty sharp out there. It was the pitch that made Mickey hit into a double play, not his leg."

Hank Bauer, the other ailing Yankee outfielder who pulled a thigh muscle Thursday, said he didn't think he's ready to play, Casey said.

Elston Howard, Yankee outfielder, was chagrined that he was fooled by Jackie Robinson in the seventh when Robinson doubled and raced to third on Howard's throw to second.

Box Score

BROOKLYN (AP) — The official box score of the third game of the 1955 world series:

NEW YORK	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Cerv If c	4	0	0	3	0	0
McDougald 3b	4	0	1	0	3	0
Berra c	4	0	1	4	0	0
Mantle cf rf	4	1	2	0	0	0
Skowron lb	4	1	2	5	2	0
Howard rf lf	4	0	0	5	0	0
Mantle 2b	4	0	0	3	0	0
Rizzuto ss	2	1	1	2	1	0
Turley p	2	1	0	0	0	0
Morgan p	0	0	0	0	0	0
a-Bauer	1	0	0	0	0	0
Kucks p	0	0	0	0	0	0
b-Carey	1	0	0	0	0	0
Sturdivant p	0	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	33	3	24	7	0	0
BROOKLYN	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Gilliam 2b	3	1	1	2	3	0
Reese ss	3	1	1	2	0	0
Snider cf	4	1	1	1	2	0
Campanella c	5	1	3	6	1	0
Furillo rf	5	0	1	1	0	0
Hodges lb	5	0	0	14	0	0
Robinson 3b	5	2	2	0	7	0
Amoros lf	3	1	1	2	1	0
Podres p	3	1	0	1	0	0
Totals	34	8	11	27	14	1

a-Filed out for Morgan in 5th
b-Tripled for Kucks in 7th
New York 200 202-8 11 0
Brooklyn 220 202-8 11 0

E-Campanella, RBI-Campanella, Mantle, Gilliam, Reese, 2, Furillo, Carey, Amoros, 2b-Skowron, Furillo, Robinson, Campanella, 3b-Carey, HR-Campanella, Mantle, S-Podres, DP-Reese, Gilliam and Hodges, Left-New York 5, Brooklyn 11, BB-Podres 2 (Rizzuto 2), Turley 2 (Reese, Gilliam), Morgan 3 (Reese, Amoros, Snider), Kucks 1 (Amoros), Sturdivant 1 (Gilliam), SO-Podres 1 (Martin), C 3, Skowron, Howard, Turley 1 (Snider), Morgan 1 (Podres), HO-Turley 3 in 1-3, Morgan 3 in 2-2-3, Kucks 1 in 2, Sturdivant 4 in 2, R-ER-Turley 4-4, Morgan 2-2, Kucks 0-0, Sturdivant 2-2, Podres 3-2, HBP-Turley (Amoros), W-Podres, L-Turley, U-Trombick (A) plate; D-Scott (N) first base, Summers (A) second base, Ballanfant (N) third base, Donatelli (N) left field, Flaherty (A) right field. T:2:20. A:34,209.

Dodgers Jubilant; Carl Erskine To Start Today

BROOKLYN (AP)—Johnny Podres, sweat dripping from his face, said today after his sparkling world series victory on his 23rd birthday that his change-up pitch was the best it had been all year.

"My best pitches were my fast ball and the change-up—and the change-up was exceptional. I mixed 'em up quite a bit," he said in the jubilant Dodger dressing room after the Yankees had been put down 8-3.

"I was a bit tired at the end, but I had enough left," Manager Walter Alston, not smiling much more than he did after losing two games in Yankee Stadium, admitted that "we looked like we are supposed to look."

Tomorrow he will send Carl Erskine against the New York team. He declined to speculate on how he might pitch Sunday, although the obvious choice would seem to be his big right-hander, Don Newcombe.

NOT AT PEAK

Alston confessed that Erskine, who holds the world series record for strikeouts with 14 made two years ago against the Yankees, is not at the top of his game.

"Erskine is pretty good, but he may not be 100 per cent."

Any talk of friction between Alston and Don Zimmer, the peppy second baseman who was benched today, was dismissed by both sides.

"I didn't blast anybody," said Zimmer. "I just wish he had told me I wasn't playing before every one else told me."

"There's no friction. I haven't talked to Zimmer, that's the least of my worries," said Alston.

Aiston said he would keep the same lineup, heavy with left-handed hitters, if the Yankees pitch a right-hander as they are supposed to do tomorrow in the person of Don Larsen. This means Zimmer, a right-handed hitter, stays on the bench.

PODRES WAS TOPS

"I thought Podres had real good stuff and held it real good," said Alston. "He was a little tired in the eighth and ninth. When he warmed up he seemed to be the best he has been all year."

Roy Campanella, happy again now he is hitting a homer, double, and a single today—explained the collision at the home plate in the second when Moose Skowron scored and an error was charged to Campanella.

"He hit my right arm and loosened my grip," said Campanella.

"He's a tough football player, someone observed.

"This ain't football," said-Camp. panella.

Someone asked Jackie Robinson, who had a great day at bat and in the field, what was his biggest kick of the game—his double or some of his sparkling stops of hard grounders?

"It was that last pop fly of Rizzuto in the ninth, the one that ended the game," he said.

All-Stars Clash With Red Wings At Olympia Sunday

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP) — The "new look" Detroit Red Wings, with only nine players left from last season's championship team, meet the National Hockey League All-Stars in Olympia Stadium Sunday night in the ninth annual pre-season classic.

Actually, there will be 10 former Red Wings on the ice—but the 10th will be a member of the All-Stars, goalie Terry Sawchuk.

The Red Wings traded Sawchuk to Boston Bruins in one of two big off-season deals.

Detroit general manager Jack Adams, a believer in the "shake-well" system, traded away seven of the players who figured in the Red Wings' championship last season. Significantly, Adams retained the hard-core of his team: Forwards Gordie Howe, Ted Lindsay, Dutch Reibel and Alex Delvecchio and defencemen Bob Goldham, Red Kelly and Marcel Pronovost.

SPEED FOR SALE

BILLY BUDLONG, (2:13 3/8), 9-year old.
PENNY ROYAL, (2:17), 8-year old.
Sound and ready to go.
No reasonable offer refused.
Telephone 44 — Montagu

ATTENTION RCN(R) PERSONNEL

Commencing Monday, 3rd October 1955, Officers and Chief P.O.'s will be required for Drill Monday and Wednesday evening.
Dress for men commencing 1st October, 1955:—Black Cap - Blue Jersey.
Recruiting now in progress for Men & Wrens.

HIGHLAND DANCING CLASS

COMMENCES SATURDAY OCT. 1st, 2:00 P.M.
At "THE CLOVER CLUB"
Mrs. Evelyn MacKinnon, Teacher.

ROLL-AWAY ALLEYS

Charlottetown Y. M. C. A. announces the opening of classes in Ballet and Highland Dancing.
Instructors: Sharon Bugden, Margaret Rhynes.
Call 3425 for full information.

DOWN THE BACK STRETCH

Well the expected has happened. For the past week horsemen throughout the Maritimes have been debating whether or not Andrew Perry of Summerside would accept one of the numerous offers for his outstanding pacer, Bay State Pat. And now the news has reached us that Jean-Jacques Beaudoin of Montreal has handed over enough coin of the realm to satisfy our friend Andrew. A week ago he turned down an offer of $22,000 so we may safely assume that he received considerably more than that whether it was $25,000, less or more only Andrew and Mr. Beaudoin know.

In the long history of racing in this Province, in fact in the Maritimes and gone are sales have been made frequently that ran as high as $5,000, but the only one that we can recall in excess of that was in the spring of 1921 when Thomas W. Murphy, leading trainer and driver of the world, bought the Maritime-bred Bill Sharen, 2:11.4 for $25,000 in American money, which equalled $27,500 in Canadian coin.

Bill Sharen was bred by Thomas Boyle of Moncton, N.B. His sire was Captain Aubrey, 2:07.14, purchased at the Old Glory sale in 1913 by the Hon. John Richards of Bideford, P. E. I., and brought to the Maritimes and placed in the stud at Charlottetown and afterwards at Truro, N. A. At that sale the statement was made by Henry Thomas, famous sagecoach driver, that if he had access to mares by Constantine and other similar sires he would produce the very best trotters in the United States.

As far as we know he was only bred to one mare by Constantine and she produced such outstanding trotters as Peter Pokey, 2:06.1-2. Bill Sharen's dam was a mare called Narrowsay U. and she was imported from the U. S. A. As a four-year-old he won all his races and as a five-year-old he hung up $20,000 that stood in many a lot of town that decided Murphy to buy him.

Bay State Pat was not Maritime-bred, both his sire and dam are United States trotting bred and he was foaled there. As a three-year-old he was acquired by parties in New Brunswick and made his first start at St. Stephen, N. B., July 1, 1952. He was 3-3 in 2:32.24. He did not start in 1953.

Early in 1954 he was bought by Andrew Perry from a party in Woodstock, N. B. and we understand that his first lessons were given to him by Mr. Perry's trainer, and taking a chance on getting the batter.

World Series Notes

BROOKLYN (AP) — It was a dreary day in Flatbush Friday, but the sun shone for Johnny Podres. The Brooklyn lefthander received the nicest birthday present imaginable, beating New York Yankees 8-3 to get his team back in the world series.

"The Yanks could lose the series," said Ty Cobb, a clubhouse visitor. "But they'll never beat themselves. It's always been the same from the days of Miller Huggins."

Yank manager Casey Stengel must figure half a Mickey Mantle is better than none. Mickey could hardly walk because of his bad leg, but he homered on his first time at bat. He limped after Carl Furillo's drive in the first and barely made the catch.

Former Mayor William O'Dwyer is back in town with the news that if the Brooks consider moving, Mexico City would like to have them.

"We blow this series," said Brook president Walter O'Malley. "Mexico City won't be far enough."

The Ebbets Field faithful seldom give the enemy a break. You could hear a pin drop when Mantle came up after hitting his home run. The batter usually gets a cheer at that point in other parks.

Yank left fielder Elston Howard must be wondering what a rookie has to do to make an honest living. First, he let in a run when he grabbed Furillo's foul in the second but instead of letting it fall

Money Royal Is Double Winner

HALIFAX (CP)—Money Royal, owned by Dr. Preston MacIntyre of Montague, P.E.I., was a double winner on Thursday's harness racing card at nearby Sackville Downs, taking both events of the second division "A" and "B" heats. Heine Strong, owned by Douglas Rogers, Kentville, N.S., capped the "B" pace and combined with April Bud, owned by Mrs. E. Mustacalis, Halifax, for a daily double of $148.10.

Haley's Alpha, from Fred Haley's Antigonish, N.S., stables, edged Freddy Scott in the "B" pace; Zookie Volo, a Boston entry owned by Elliott Saunders, won the "B" trot and other single winners were Joyce Maid, owned by Dr. George Bishop, Lexington, Ky.; Joandale, owned by Louis McPhee, Charlottetown, and Royal Scott, owned by G. Gregory, Charlottetown.

Sport Echoes From Prince County

Our World Series slogan "The Dodgers in seven" took a severe beating at the start of the fall classic when the Yankees took the two first games, and a resulting stranglehold on the world title. But the booming bats of the Bums woke up on Friday and there is still a possibility that we will go down in 1955 history as a people with honor in his own country. Apparently the Dodgers didn't take the nose-dive that the Cleveland Indians did last year, and there is still hope, which "springs eternal" in the breasts of loyal Dodger fans, that Walter Alston's boys will fulfill for Brooklyn a long cherished dream, the defeat of that hated Yankees.

One of the things that struck us as we looked at the pictures of the first game was that the first baseman did not take that long stretch in catching the ball which our local boys seem always to do. Even when Jackie Robinson was hurried and let go a blistering throw in a hurry in one of the early innings, Gil Hodges took the throw without any stretch and nipped the runner at first. Why this is we do not know. But the big boys in the majors never make any movements for mere show. Every motion they make is for a purpose. A local fan with whom we were discussing this today said that if a first baseman goes into his stretch too soon, a high throw will go over his head before he can recover himself, as he lowers his height in the stretch. Could be something in that.

Campanella's first error in World Series play was certainly a costly one. It allowed the Yanks to tie the score at 2-2. Didn't matter, as it turned out, but wouldn't Roy have been sore at himself if the Stengelites had won by one run today. The dope handed out before the series started said that Jackie Robinson was "no longer a threat on the base paths." Looks as if some writer will have to start taking dope and eat those words after the series. Robinson has been sensational on the bases in this series so far.

Bob Turley was shelled out pretty fast, Ned, let's see what Larsen will do. When the two came to New York in a trade, Larsen was just the sure throw in on top of the sirlion steak. But Larsen since his return to the Yankees has been doing a better job than Turley, and it is possible, (though heaven forbid it) that he will also do better in the fall classic.

Dodger fans, don't give up the ship. This may be our year after all. Now that the Bums have tasted blood, it could well be that they'll gobble up the second Yankee in three more wins.

the stud at Charlottetown and afterwards at Truro, N. A. At that sale the statement was made by Henry Thomas, famous sagecoach driver, that if he had access to mares by Constantine and other similar sires he would produce the very best trotters in the United States.

As far as we know he was only bred to one mare by Constantine and she produced such outstanding trotters as Peter Pokey, 2:06.1-2. Bill Sharen's dam was a mare called Narrowsay U. and she was imported from the U. S. A. As a four-year-old he won all his races and as a five-year-old he hung up $20,000 that stood in many a lot of town that decided Murphy to buy him.

Bay State Pat was not Maritime-bred, both his sire and dam are United States trotting bred and he was foaled there. As a three-year-old he was acquired by parties in New Brunswick and made his first start at St. Stephen, N. B., July 1, 1952. He was 3