THE DAILY EXAMINER.

OCTOBER 20, 1892.

Plums.

THE most notable feature of each of the fall exhibitions in this Province was the fruit. It was made evident that our people are rapidly prospering in fruit culture, and that our soil and climate are eminently suitable for those varieties of fruit which are common to the Temperate Zone. Particularly noticeable was the perfection of the plums. Travelled gentlemen were heard remarking that they had never seen better plums anywhere. In view of the undoubted excellence attainable in this direction, many of our farmers will, we have no doubt, be thankful for information concerning the best varieties of plums to cultivate in this Province. This information has been kindly supplied THE EXAMINER by Dr. Brown, of this city—a worthy son and successor of his father the late William Brown, Esquire. We furnish his remarks, as follow:—

PLUMS TESTED AND FOUND MOST SUITABLE AND PROFITABLE FOR ISLAND GROWTH.

MOORE'S ARTIC—Medium size or below, purplish, black, thin, blue bloom, flavor sweet and pleasant, one of the hardiest plums grown, tree healthy and vigorous, an early and very abundant bearer, and that nearly every year. Not first class, not free from black knot as represented, like many other things in print must be taken "cum grano salis."

BRADSHAW—A splendid plum, tender while young, but when older hardy and productive. Fruit large, dark, violet, red, flesh, yellowish, green, juicy, rich and pleasant, holding longer on tree than former and of higher quality; ripens early; first class.

LOMBARD—Beckers scarlet, comes next to Bradshaw and one of the best, if not the best, grown for a paying plum; always gives good crops and standing market handling about the best of all; also very hardy. Tree vigorous and productive. Color, violet red; juicy, pleasant, good.

PRINCE ENGLEBERT—A fine plum, good bearer, valuable for dessert and cooking; somewhat tender while young, becoming vigorous later on. Fruit large, skin of deep purple sprinkled with brown dots, deep blue bloom; very good.

MITCHELSON—Tree hardy in England where originated, here rather delicate; said to be free from black knot; not so, as it is frequently attacked by it. Fruit above medium size, skin black, dotted with few dots, thin, blue bloom, flesh, yellow, tender, juicy, sweet, good, separating from stone.

MAGNUM BONUM, YELLOW AND RED—Hardy, vigorous and excellent bearers. Fruit very large, bearing well, of large and splendid appearance; shipping and keeping well, flesh firm; good for culinary purposes; not first-class for eating, on some light, sandy soils apt to drop before mature.

WASHINGTON — Large, green plum of great size and beauty, vigorous and hardy in some sections, in others not so much so; rather shy bearer, on this account not so profitable; flesh yellow; firm, very sweet and good when well ripened, when ripe separates from stone. Good.

JEFFERSON—Very large, yellow plum, prettily streaked with red in the sun, with white bloom; one of the most beautiful of all the desert plums; when fully ripe it is nearly equal to the green gage, which is the standard of flavor, unsurpassable; it ripens later than the Washington; a very moderate grower; fruit, flesh, deep orange parts freely from stone; flavor of the best; although such a fine plum, it pays least of all, as it proves not to be hardy and is a shy bearer. Very good.

VICTORIA, OR SHARP'S EMPEROR.—A beautiful plum of fine appearance; tree vigorous in some sections and productive too much so, as some seasons the fruit is fine, then again when bearing heartily the fruit is small, fails to ripen well, and flavor is vinous. Fruit, large, bright, red spotted, with lilac, with thin bloom—it is yellowish in England in color I am told—flesh, golden yellow; rather coarse, and not very juicy or sugary unless well grown, but good if it is. Willard, the great plum grower of New York, once told me these three Varieties last mentioned, Washington, Jefferson and Victoria, had been thrown off the markets of New York as the plums most unprofitable; although the finest in size and appearance, they paid least of all, as the trees proved tender, borers, troubled them most, and they winter killed, and two former such shy bearers. This has been my experience with them here exactly.

THE GUEII, although sold here as a new plum, is quite an old plum in New York state; said to be very good, better than Quackenboss in every respect, is quite hardy, but has not borne sufficiently with me to tell whether it really is profitable; in New York it proves hardy and vigorous, and an abundant bearer. It is a dark purple plum, covered with thick blue bloom; flesh pale yellow; a little coarse, firm, juicy, sweet, not a rich dessert plum, but reliable for culinary and market purposes. With some of Ontario fruit growers it rots badly.

POND'S SEEDLING—A fine looking plum, but rather coarse. Best for culinary purposes.

BOTAN seems too tender and a very shy bearer.

THE RED GAGE AND SWEET WATER PLUMS are of the best flavor and bear abundantly, although small.

For hardy plums, though small, which will thrive most anywhere and bear abundantly when established, Moore's Arctic, Wild Goose, Michesau, Marianna and Hawkeye are the ones and sure to succeed.

THE REIN CLAUDE DE BAVAY is a fine green gage plum, hardy and abundant bearer, but rather late to ripen well here, especially cool seasons. It is not tender, though, like the Imperial gage, which will not stand this climate

THE SHIPPERS PRIDE—Although we have not grown the shippers pride, we have seen many samples. It is not what it is represented to be, though said to be such a fine plum.

The plum is a capricious fruit It may do well here and not so in parts not far removed.

To succeed well with the plum, it requires more attention than the apple, in which the permanent value depends on the large size, great longevity and continued productiveness of the trees.

Hungar Threatens London.

SIGNS OF VERY HARD TIMES FOR THE UNEMPLOYED.

England must prepare for the coming of a terrible spectre—a great hunger will soon invade Britain. The signs of his coming are everywhere. Those whose business it is to aid others in fighting him, say that he has already gained a foothold in London. They explain that not for many years until now, has there been genuine distress in the metropolis, due to great commercial and economic causes. Poor and destitute there always are in large numbers, but their sufferings for a long time have been due to individual and special causes.

Thousands of skilled workmen in almost all trades are now idle through no fault of their own. The evil has grown gradually. Attention has not been called to it by the sudden discharge of great bodies of men. Working forces have been cut down gradually, and the process is still going on The docks are half deserted The textile, cloth and printing trades are dull almost beyond precedent. A large portion of men are idle in the ship building, engineering and related trades than for many years.

The situation has been growing worse for fifteen months, but in September things took a much sharper downward turn. The labor bureau of the board of trade makes a gloomy report of the situation.

It is apparent already that existing relief machinery will not be adequate for the emergency of the coming winter. The coroners have investigated several cases of actual death by starvation in the last month. The distress is sure to be acute and widespread, and there will be many pitiful tales to make Christmas a holiday more of sorrow than of gladness.

The cause of all is commercial rather than financial depression. There is considerable improvement visible in financial affairs; capital is becoming more confident and venturesome, and the strictly financial market is in in a distinctly better condition than a few months ago, but the commercial outlook is not encouraging. There is reason to fear that things will continue to go from bad to worse. Furthermore, the crop now being harvested is, on the whole, the poorest for half a century.

What to Do.

IMPORTANT DETAILS IN THE FINE ART OF GOOD MANNERS.

Cultivate dress as a fine art, for minute attention to personal adornment and elegance of toilet is the duty of every man or woman in civilized society. It is the outward show that enables the world to judge of us personally, our character, refinement and condition, of the station in life in which we are thrown. It is the passport to good breeding and the support of fine manners.

After visiting an out-of-town house, a letter sent within a week is equivalent to a call.

Never interrupt conversation at any time or in any place. A good listener is a great boon to mankind. There is a code of rules which is the result of all these social observations A sentence, an incident, an opinion expressed should be given without interruption.

It is not necessary at all times to offer your seat to a lady in a car or omnibus, but there are two cases when it should be the inevitable rule—an elderly person or a woman with a child in her arms. To either this courtesy should be extended. Consideration for age and helplessness is always appreciated.

NO MAN ever smoked "Myrtle Navy" tobacco for a fortnight and then took to any brand in preference to it. It bears its own testimony of its qualities, and it is testimony which is always convincing. The smoker who uses it is never annoyed by getting it sometimes of good quality and sometimes of bad. The arrangements of the manufacturers for keeping its quality equal are very elaborate and complete, and are the results of many years of experience and close observation.

—The United States Fishery fleet has been greatly hampered by rough weather The vessels have been compelled to seek a harbor every night. Consequently their takes of mackerel have been small.

PALPITATION OF THE HEART
CURED!
STEPHEN H. WARREN OF ISLESBORO, ME., IS WELL KNOWN IN HIS NATIVE TOWN, AND THE GREATEST CREDENCE CAN BE GIVEN TO HIS STATEMENT. TO A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE SKODA DISCOVERY CO., HE RECENTLY SAID:
"For more than two years I have suffered great misery from what Physicians called Liver and Kidney Troubles. Nearly all the time I would have severe pains in my back and side, with a constant dull pain in the region of my liver. My bowels were constipated. Food distressed me badly, and my Heart would palpitate greatly at times, in fact I was well broken up.
For two months I have been taking SKODA'S DISCOVERY and SKODA'S LITTLE TABLETS, and I AM A NEW MAN. Appetite good. Bowels in good condition. Heart palpitation all gone. No trouble with Liver or Kidneys now. I AM WELL. You certainly have a wonderful remedy in SKODA'S DISCOVERY as I have taken many of the Sarsaparillas, and have been treated by different Physicians without getting permanent benefit."
