MR. AND MRS. DAVID LEITH TOWNSEND

Tulips, White Narciss, Mums, Decorate Church At Wedding

The marriage of Miss Pauline Ann MacLean, R.N., only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. McLean, Souris to David Leith Townsend, also of Souris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leith Townsend, took place at 3 p.m., Saturday, June 15th, in St. James United Church, Souris. Rev. D. Elton Adams officiated. Mr. Wendell Stevenson, organist of the church, played the wedding music, and during the signing of the register, the ladies' choir sang The Twenty-third Psalm, set to Cromwell. Baskets of white mums and bouquets of tulips and white narciss decorated the church, the guest pews being marked with roses of white and dusty rose blue, each holding a sprig of white and blue flowers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of heavy satin brocade, simply embellished with fitted corsage and bell-shaped skirt which ended in a slight train. The dress featured a dusty rose and white buttons from neck to hipline. Her shoulder-length veil was held by a dusty crown and she carried a bouquet of roses, st. charnis and lily.

Mrs. John McMillan, R.N., was matron of honor, and the attendants were Mrs. Errol Wood, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Beverly Morrow, R.N. They wore street-length sheer dresses of dusty rose, pease the sole with matching ring hats, and shoes of the same shade. They carried bouquets of white carnations.

ELLEN'S DIARY
Fallen Rose Petals Make Potpourri Of Fragrance

"I never saw the grass, or the leaves so bright as they are this summer," a visitor to Alderlea this morning offered, looking out along the driveway. I imagine they are the green of Ireland's sod, which they say has a golden cast to it, she smiled. The wash was sunning them in the light warm wind. And before this, at we spread it, we sat at the very door of the gardener's nest, a small all blown rose of the year. "It's come," we said, "the rose-time is here!"

"And a sweet time it is," Papa Starling, on his terrace commended happily. "A pretty time," he nodded. "Makes one quite forget the chill of the early spring winds. And I heard, looking off to the southern horizon, 'the fall's frosts and the partings.'"
