THE BONAVISTA.—The steamer Bonavista arrived from Montreal en route to St. John's Nfld., after a stormy passage at eight o'clock this morning. She brought the usual miscellaneous cargo and will proceed to St. John's about daylight to-morrow morning with a cargo of hay, meats, etc.

REDUCING THE DEBT.—The National debt of the United States has now been reduced to $1,238,692,701 net. The reduction during the fiscal year ended 30th June last was $109,707,646, and during the past four months $40,736,036. During 16 months over one hundred and fifty millions of the debt have been paid off.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.—A despatch from Hamilton, Ont., reports that a supposed attempt was made to assassinate Geo. A. Cook, ex-M. P., the other night while he was sitting in his house reading a newspaper. Two shots from outside were fired and one bullet came through the window and passed close to Cook's head. No arrests have been made.

I HAD A DREADFUL COUGH, and raised a considerable amount of blood and matter; besides, I was very thin, and so weak I could scarcely go about the house. This was the case of a man with consumption arising from liver complaint. He recovered his health completely by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Thousands of others bear similar testimony.

THE CANADA ATLANTIC LINE.—In an interview yesterday with one of the directors of the Canada Atlantic Steamship Company, he informed a Chronicle reporter, in answer to an inquiry, that the contract for steamers was now closed, and the greater portion of the required capital had been subscribed. He remarked that it was amusing to note the interest now manifested by parties outside of the city, interested in steam communication with Boston, in the shipping requirements of Halifax and Prince Edward Island, which he thought proof conclusive to Halifax citizens of the soundness of the enterprise of the Canada Atlantic Company.—Hx. Chronicle.

THE LYCERUM.—"Kathleen Mavourneen," one of the neatest and prettiest Irish dramas ever written, was the attraction offered last night. The audience was the largest the Company have drawn so far, a gratifying proof to Manager Webber that his efforts are duly appreciated. Of the actors last night all were excellent. Miss Grey's "Kathleen," in both the light and serious phases of the character, left nothing to be desired. Mr. Mills, as "Terrence," put in some vigorous work; Mr. Farrish was excellent as "Bernard Kavanaugh," Messrs. Bedell, Sullivan, Vaughan and Carroll showed up to advantage, while Mr. Webber was very funny as "Billy Buttoncap." The farce "A Silent Woman" gave Blanche Hillman a good chance, and Mr. Farrish and Mrs. Hillman were very entertaining. Mr. Webber as "Smirk" created roars of laughter by his exceedingly quaint and witty sayings and business. To-night "The Little Detective" will be given, and will prove very interesting.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winalow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, soothes the child, softens the gums, allays pain, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winalow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.

The Anarchists Danged.

Graphic Description of the Closing Scene.

A GREAT CRIME AVENGED.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.

At six o'clock this morning three hundred policemen, armed with rifles, bayonets, revolvers and full cartridge boxes, were on duty at the jail in which the Anarchists were confined. A battalion of three companies of police that had been quartered in the jail and criminal court building since the new orders went into force, will do duty inside the building to-day. In addition to the battalion on the inside there will be a force on the outside with rifles, and they will surround the entire block in which the jail is situated.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 11.

At 10.15 a. m., the Governor announced his final and irrevocable decision. He emphatically refused to further interfere in behalf of the condemned Anarchists. They were hanged at Chicago, at 11.50 o'clock, in Cook County jail. It lacked just seven minutes and a half of the hour of high noon, when a single white shrouded figure, above which was a face of yellowish pallor—the face of August Spies, passed the first post of the gallows.

Spies looked calm and glanced at the reporters with a trace of his old time cynical smile. He walked firmly over the drop to the furthest edge of the gallows. Following close came Fischer. Fischer's countenance had a peculiar glister, totally unlike the ashiness of Engell's heavy features, and in strong contrast with the dead lack of color on the pinched linaments of Parsons.

The jaunty, vivacious Texan came last. The four men were placed upon the trap. All were ghastly pale. Spies' hair seemed to literally stand on end. Engell's shoulders seemed nearly to touch the top of his head. Parsons set his teeth firmly together, and looked down calmly upon the crowd beneath. His face was the face of a man of iron. A murmur of admiration for his unflinching nerve ran through the spectators.

The shrouds had already been adjusted before the men left their cells, and nothing remained but to encircle each neck with the noose and to cover each head with the cap. Jailor Fulz approached Spies. A quick movement, so that it can hardly be noticed, and the rope is around his neck and being drawn taut. There was not a movement of a muscle. In a moment the throat of Fischer was encircled by the noose. Engell's did not move as the operation was being performed. Parsons riveted his gaze on the ground, and his features were contracted. All four were evidently determined to die game.

A deputy approached Spies with the cap in his hand. The condemned man said something in an under-tone. He was evidently remonstrating. There was a moment of death-like silence. Then the clear, well modulated voice of Parsons broke the oppressive silence. There was not that enthusiastic ring to it which marked the utterances of the others. "Shall I be allowed to speak? Oh! men and women of dear America," (the Sheriff shifted his position a little.) He was several feet away from the speaker, but the speaker must have seen the motion through the folds of his cap. He said, "Let me speak Sheriff Watson; let the voice of the people be heard." Down went the drop. The last words of Parsons had died upon his lips. The four bodies swung in the air, and the Haymarket massacre was avenged.

Terrible Suffering at Sea.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.

The Barque Union, from Pernambuco, has arrived, bringing six shipwrecked sailors of the barque August, of Stockholm, which foundered in a hurricane Oct 15, and after the captain, mate and one sailor were knocked overboard and lost. The men were picked up from a small boat. Their sufferings were great, and they were about drawing lots to determine which should be killed and eaten when help arrived.

Dynamiters at Work.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 11.

This city is greatly excited. Two dynamite bombs were found last night in the southern part of the city. Fires scattered all over the city called the fire department out twenty-six times during the night. Anarchists are thought to have been the cause of the fires.

Billiards.

THE CHAMPION CANNOT BE BEATEN—SOME EXTRAORDINARY PLAY.

Last evening the champion, Harvey McKenna, gave another of his exhibitions before a large audience at the Old London Billiard Hall. Although Mr. McKenna has not been well for some days past, his play was fully up to the standard. When playing he kept the audience in breathless suspense. At the first of the game the champion was unfortunate. After making 374 points he failed to score on a very difficult shot. He then ran several breaks, failing to bring the balls into position, but at last he succeeded and finished the game by scoring the 500 points required, his opponent having scored 39. The game being over, the champion then gave an exhibition of fancy shots, which took the audience by storm. The applause which greeted him after each shot seemed to inspire him with fresh courage. It is announced that the exhibition to-night will be of an entirely different character, Mr. McKenna playing the balk line game against his opponent's straight play. It was also announced that Mr. McKenna has a number of fancy shots which he has not yet shown. We would advise parties who wish to see a game of skill to attend at the Old London Billiard Hall to-night. Mr. McKenna has certainly not his equal on this side of the Atlantic.

We are given to understand that it is the champion's intention (in company with the celebrated player Jacob Schaffer) to visit the principal cities in Europe soon, where we hope he may meet with as good a reception and be as successful as he has been in Charlottetown.
