

Contract Let For Catholic Church At Kelly's Cross

The firm of M.F. Schurman Co. Ltd. has been awarded a contract to erect a new Catholic Church at Kelly's Cross and the work of excavation has already commenced. Rev. James Smith is pastor of this parish.

This new church will replace the former brick church that was demolished two years ago.

The church will be of wood frame construction finished with cedar shingles. The style of Architecture is a variation of the Latin cross plan. It is simple in design and described as relating traditional aspects to a contemporary approach.

There will be a winter chapel connected with the main church by the sacristy which will be common to both sanctuaries.

Entry into the winter chapel will be independent of entry into the main church. The structure was designed by Mr. Alfred Hennessey in conjunction with Mr. G. Keith Pickard.

The target date for completion of the building is Christmas Day and it is hoped that first service to be held in the new church will be Midnight Mass on Christmas eve. S

$10,000 Cash Apparent Motive In Sask. Murder

FENWOOD, Sask. (CP) - The farmhouse massacre of the five Petlocks, apparently motivated by $10,000 kept in cash on the family homestead, was still unsolved Friday.

RCPM began to doubt whether they would ever find missing John Petlock alive. He is wanted for questioning because at the time of the slaying late Monday he was supposed to be stooking grain in a nearby field.

"But he too may have been shot and dumped in a creek or slough somewhere in the area," said a police spokesman. "We don't know for sure."

If the 35-year-old farmer is alive, then he has so far eluded police in one of the biggest manhunts in western Canada's history.

Police Recover Stolen Goods

MONTREAL (CP) - Police Friday reported recovery of $100,000 worth of brass and copper tubing stolen Thursday from the Lafreance Carriage Company.

The loot was found in a boxcar on a Canadian National Railway siding. A railway source said the car was not due to be moved for about a month.

A railway employee noticed the tubing in the boxcar and notified officials who in turn called police.

Earlier police reported they were holding one man for questioning in connection with the hijacking.

Company Makes Apologies For Fatal Neglect

TOKYO (AP) - Morinaga Milk Co., affiliated with one of Japan's largest food combines, has offered its "humblest apologies" for the 30 odd deaths reported caused by arsenic in its dried-milk product last week.

In a black-bordered four-column advertisement carried in all Japanese and English-language papers today the company says:

"We are filled with a sense of black guilt, particularly on learning that the cause of the disaster was neglect on our part to submit the stabilizer arsenic used in the milk to careful chemical analysis... All we can do is to take every possible action by way of indemnification and pray for the souls of the dead."

Britain-U.S. Differ Over East-West Arms Control

LONDON (AP) - Differences have developed between Britain and the United States over the timing and locale of a proposed experiment in East-West arms control in Europe, informed diplomats said Friday.

Prime Minister Eden proposed the plan at the Geneva conference of the Big Four in July. It would provide the limitation of Russian and Western arms and armies in a defined area of Europe and for joint inspection to prevent cheating.

The whole problem likely came up for discussion between Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and Livingston Merchant, U.S. assistant secretary of state in charge of European affairs.

Merchant is on the last lap of a swift swing through the main capitals of West Europe where he has been trying to co-ordinate allied policies in preparation for next month's Big Four foreign ministers' conference at Geneva.

Australia Seeks Large Loan

CANBERRA (Reuters) - Australia is applying for a large loan in a drive to avoid slapping new cuts on imports, government sources here revealed Friday.

The loan, for an estimated $30,000,000, would be asked of the International Monetary Fund in the hope that through it Australia will be able to ride out the coming crucial weeks without making import cuts in anticipation of the stabilization of export prices.

Ministers in the cabinet of Prime Minister Menzies admit the wool market will determine whether imports can be held at the present levels, or whether restrictions will have to be tightened further.

The cabinet is carefully following wool price trends because of the effect lower prices would have on the country's balance of payments. Sources in Canberra are optimistic for a brighter wool outlook, with the likelihood that Russia will resume buying and the possibility that Japan will step up purchases.

Passes Through A Picket Line

TORONTO (CP) - A Toronto labor leader got his wares crossed Thursday night and went through a picket line.

The result: George Meany, president of the American Federation of Labor is not going on the air.

William Jenoves, president of the Toronto district Trades and Labor Council, somewhat red-faced, explained what happened.

He said he made arrangements some time ago with radio station CKYK to broadcast a Labor Day message recorded by Mr. Meany.

He went to the station to record an introduction and as he was leaving he noticed pickets outside.

He learned they were members of the National Association of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians (N.A.B.E.T.) protesting the sending of seven CKYK employees to Ottawa to help operate radio station CKOY, employees of which have been on strike for a week.

Mr. Jenoves, who said it was probably the first time in his 50 years as a labor official that he'd crossed a picket line, phoned CKYK and asked them to cancel the broadcast.

Lei's Talk N Over

Mr. T.R. Hall, representing MacMillan Co. publishers, Toronto, gave, we think, convincing reasons for the change in method of teaching grammar in our modern schools. He said that formal definitions were all right only if they could be tied in with function. "Before you teach your pupils a grammar definition, he said, "Ask yourself 'How is this going to help the pupils in their written or oral composition?' If you can't see how it will help, don't teach it." Mr. Hall went on to explain that formal terms were useful as short cuts in talking about the different phases of English construction. You could use the terms instead of giving the meaning of them every time you referred to them. Only when these terms had a practical application to oral or written speech, however.

We always thought it rather odd that the experts of modern methods of teaching were called "progressives" as if that were a term of reproach. Mr. Hall concurred in this, saying that if there were no progressives on earth we would still be living in caves. Old time critics of modern methods attack only the spheres of activity where it is difficult to make comparisons between now and the past. He said he made arrangements some time ago with radio station CKYK to broadcast a Labor Day message recorded by Mr. Meany.

He went to the station to record an introduction and as he was leaving he noticed pickets outside.
