DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

campaign if Russia resumes testing. It is believed that he came close to such an announcement last fall when Russia broke the moratorium on testing and exploded nuclear devices as big as 50 megatons—equivalent to 50,000,000 tons of TNT.

In recent weeks, External Affairs Minister Green has been stressing the importance of the 17-nation disarmament conference at Geneva in which Canada is participating. Most Progressive Conservative candidates are anxious to have Mr. Green speak in their ridings and he has more requests than he can fill.

He and Mr. Harkness will interrupt their campaigning this week, however, to attend a NATO council meeting in Athens. And Mr. Diefenbaker will be having a long talk with Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain on the world situation.

Mr. Pearson has said his party will outline a specific defence policy during the campaign. It is believed that he may eliminate many of the qualifications which have surrounded Liberal policy in this regard up to now.

Mr. Douglas, leader of the New Democratic Party, criticized the stands of the Conservative government and the Liberal party on nuclear arms. He reiterated his own party's contention that Canada should not allow nuclear arms on Canadian soil or allow them to be given to Canadian forces.

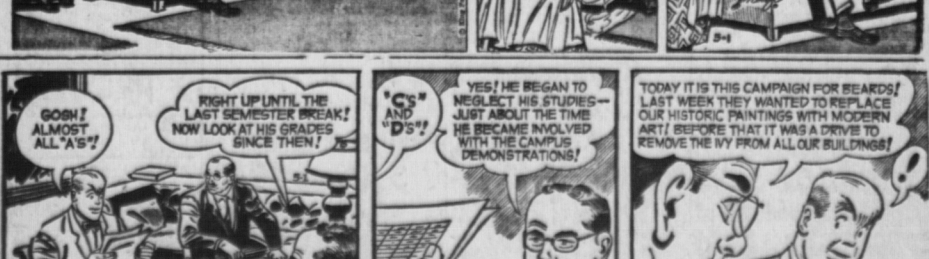

He suggested in a speech at Wakaw, Sask., that the Conservatives are committed to accepting nuclear arms but are waiting until after the election before announcing it. Mr. Douglas said a Liberal Leader Pearson at first said he was against nuclear arms but, under pressure, later amended this to say he was not against nuclear arms in Canada if they were controlled by the United States.

"This is the most atrocious suggestion I've ever heard," the NDP leader said. It would mean the U.S. president and American generals would decide when Canadians would go to war. DEFENDS STAND

Meanwhile, in a Calgary speech, Defence Minister Harkness said Canada has no intention of obtaining strategic nuclear weapons. But it was felt it would be prudent and wise to obtain tactical weapons capable of firing nuclear warheads. The tactical weapons could be armed with nuclear warheads if the world situation warranted such a move. Mr. Harkness said this would put the Canadian serviceman on an equal footing with his Communist opposition in a hot war.

Observers here consider it doubtful — but still possible — that Mr. Diefenbaker would announce nuclear defensive arms for Canada in the middle of the
