

JACOB'S CAPE—NOT COAT!

Mrs. Clive Cudmore wears a multi-colored Jacob's cape in homespun wool. The colors are Royal blue, Alice blue, rose, beige, black, yellow and green. All this is worn over a two piece suit in French blue. But the culminating effect is — chic Parisienne.

ELEANOR ROSS Helpful Cleaning Tips For Spring Cleaning

By ELEANOR ROSS With the first sign of tulips and fair skies comes the realization that there's plenty of work to be done to make the house look bright and new for Spring. Curtains and bedspreads, mattress covers and pads, slip covers, blankets and quilts deserve a good cleaning after a long season of service. Accumulated dust and grime make them dull, limp and lusterless and work havoc with fabrics if they are allowed to remain. TYPE AND FINISH Before washing these items, however, be sure you know the fabric type and finish. Is it pre-shrunk, washable, color-fast? Following through on these questions is of primary importance and may save you expense and disappointment. Keep all such information in a convenient place for handy reference. If you haven't done this, and are in doubt as to washing methods, here are some suggestions for you to clip and save. HELPFUL TRICKS There are several helpful tricks to follow for easier, speedier and safer washing. Don't soak wool, silk, satin or colored fabrics. Wash and dry these as quickly as possible and in lukewarm water. Practically all spreads, blankets, draperies and the like may be machine washed and dried in a gas or electric dryer, but do not let them dry completely. Articles which don't require ironing should be gently pulled at all seams, bindings and other lines of stitching while still damp. Those to be ironed had best be tackled while they are still damp. WATER MARKS Never sprinkle rayon, satin or velveteen or you may create water marks. Iron these fabrics with a cool iron, preferably a steam iron or use pressing cloth. If you prefer outdoor drying, hang blanket, draperies, bedspreads and all heavy fabrics over two parallel lines, placed two or three feet apart. This eliminates a center crease and speeds drying. Hang white fabrics in the sun, colors in a shady place.
