Herds Of Harp Seals Shrink 50 Per Cent

By ED WALTERS

HALIFAX (CP)—Dr. D. E. Sergeant of the Fisheries Research Board's Arctic Institute in Montreal said here herds of harp seals have shrunk by 50 per cent in the last 10 years.

Dr. Sergeant said in an interview the number of seals, which appear on ice-floes off Canada's east coast every spring, had declined to 1,250,000 from 3,000,000 between 1950 and 1960.

In Halifax to hold informal discussions on the harp seal with delegates from 13 nations attending a week-long 13th annual meeting of the International Commission for the Northwest Atlantic Fisheries, he said the mammals could become extinct within the next 20 years.

The commission later this week is expected to consider adopting conservation measures for seals.

Last spring Canadian Norwegian and Russian sealing vessels took 200,000 young seals and about 50,000 old seals.

Dr. Sergeant said prices paid for seal pelts are increasing yearly with the result that more intensive hunting could be expected.

He said the only way to prevent seals becoming extinct was "obviously to limit the kill."

Dr. Sergeant said imposition of a 12-mile fishing limit next year as announced by Prime Minister Pearson Tuesday would probably prove beneficial to seals.

He said the limit might make it economically difficult for foreign ships to hunt seals. "Sometimes the seals are only six miles offshore," he said.

A statistical report presented earlier in the day showed that Canada caught more groundfish in 1962 than any one of the other 14 nations whose ships fish the northwest Atlantic.

Canadian vessels accounted for 510,000 tons of cod, halibut, haddock and other groundfish. This was almost double the United States catch of 255,000 tons.

Dr. J. J. Hart, director of the Fisheries Research Board's biological station at St. Andrew's, N.B., said in an interview increased fishing in the northwest Atlantic, where rain is badly needed.

In the Maritimes, warm weather the last two to three weeks has allowed farmers to make excellent seeding progress and planting should be nearly completed by the end of the week. Temperatures higher than normal have pushed crop growth.

Prince Edward Island pastures and meadows are satisfactory and conditions are excellent in Nova Scotia, but New Brunswick reports more moisture is needed in some areas to maintain the rapid growth and promising outlook.

Quebec also has benefitted from recent warm rain and seeding is nearly done in the south, and well advanced in the western and central districts, and on the late side in the east.

Grain Crops On Prairies Promising

OTTAWA (CP)—Grain crops on the Prairies are very promising generally, excluding the serious drought in southern Alberta, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics has reported.

Seeding is almost done in Alberta and Saskatchewan but is 25-per-cent incomplete in Manitoba, where heavy rains continue to delay the cleanup. Crop conditions are excellent in most of Saskatchewan — the main grain province—in central and northern Alberta and western and central Manitoba.

But damage to non-irrigated crops continues to increase in Atlantic has had an adverse effect on catches by Canadian inshore fishermen.

Capt. Taveres Almeida of Portugal, a former commission chairman, said in an interview fishing zones eventually may have to be established to conserve fish.

RECRUIT MORE SPACE MEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency announced Tuesday it will recruit 10 to 15 new astronauts this summer. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration tightened its age limit on the new astronauts to rule out any candidates older than 34.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1♠	1♠	2♥
Pass	3♥	3♠	4♥
4♠	Pass	Pass	Dble
Pass	Pass	Dble

Opening lead — two of diamonds.

This deal occurred in a team match. At the first table, East became declarer at four spades doubled on the bidding shown.

South led a diamond, which declarer ruffed. East then cashed the ace of hearts, ruffed a heart, ruffed a diamond, ruffed a heart, and next ruffed another diamond. Eventually he lost a spade, a heart and three clubs to go down two — 300 points.

This appeared to be a good sacrifice against four hearts — where South seemed likely to make either ten or eleven tricks —but at the other table a sensational line of defense defeated four hearts. The bidding there went:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1♦	1♠	2♥
Pass	3♦	3♠	4♥
Pass	Pass	Dble

Apparently West read the double as calling for an unusual lead because he opened a diamond. Without this lead South would have made the contract easily.

East ruffed, of course, and now made the first of two plays necessary to defeat the contract. He returned a low spade which declarer won with the king.

South could do no bettter than lead a trump, which East took with the ace. Pursuing his original plan of defense, East again underled the A-Q of spades. West won with the jack and returned a diamond for East to ruff, and the outcome was that South went down as a result of the brilliant defense. He lost a spade, a heart and two diamond ruffs.

Going back to the bidding at the second table, a word or two about East's double of four hearts seems in order. It was what is called a cooperative double. Having bid up to three spades by himself, East, in effect, was giving his partner an option between passing the double of four hearts or going on to four spades with a suitable hand.

West certainly contributed his share to the outcome, not only by accepting the double, but also by finding the killing diamond lead.

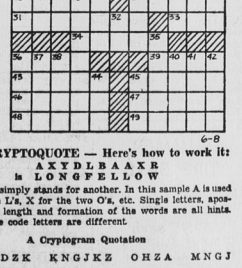
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
