Panther Post Recommends...

We've watched new students stumble around UPEI, unsure of how to look cool, unsure of how to make friends. The Panther Post employs a wealth of fourth year or otherwise cool people, so we are giving you a hand fitting in via recommendations. Thank us later.

Said The Gramophone:

Best music blog around, hands down. Hell, I write for one and I'd pick STG over mine any day. Elevator anthems for the traditionally downtrodden written beautifully. It's rare that they write about a band that I don't like immediately.

The Vending Machine in Steele Building

Put in a quarter. Shake the machine. Get as much free pop as you want. They might fix it, but it's been like that for awhile. On the subject of vending machines, the ones in the bottom of Main are significantly cheaper than the ones in the science buildings. Maybe that's the university's form of feeding poor Arts students on the sly - a social security of sorts - but we encourage you to exploit it.

Rules for my Unborn Son

An outstanding website. Got your lady friend knocked up? Interested in becoming a better man, or a more traditionally masculine female? This website has plenty of advice for you. Started as a tumblr for a guy to collect his thoughts for his unborn, morphed into an internet behemoth, we promise it will be next month's Texts From Last Night

Trueblood

We don't love the vampire thing, nor do we love the gap between Anna Paquin's teeth, but we sure dig this season of Trueblood. Is it the raunchy soft core? Is it that every character is extremely attractive? Probably. It's like Bleu Nuit for the Twilight generation. But the ass-kicking scenes add another element of awesome. Anyhow, even though the season recently ended, it is one of the best shows on HBO.

America's Next Top Model (short girls edition)

Is it that they're dumber? Are taller girls just genetically programmed to be brighter? We're only two episodes in and this batch of pretty ladies seem to be particularly rowdy. Remember that bitch last season that tried to start a bar fight? Imagine 20 of them. Living in the same house. All under 5'7". Tyra brings the best TV.

Baby Corn

Because you feel like a giant when you eat it

The New Dave Eggers Book, Zeitoun.

The man can do no wrong. He is writing the film adaption to Where the Wild Things Are that every hipster or pseudo hipster is masturbating to. He co-wrote hilarious and brilliant coming of age film, Away We Go. Zeitoun follows a family in New Orleans during and after Hurricane Katrina. It is poignant, witty, and heartwarming. While you're at it, check out his editorial baby, McSweeney's Quarterly Concern.
