Junior League Formed

CHARLOTTETOWN is to have a junior hockey league commencing early in January.

This decision was arrived at Wednesday when the league was born at The Charlottetown Forum. Representatives of Charlottetown, North River, St. Dunstan's and Prince of Wales all signified their intention of entering teams in the loop.

City recreation director, James Fox, will head the new group, and it is planned to play two games a week in regular schedule competition. All four teams will register with the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association. This will not be an 'outlaw' league. There'll be no picking an all-star team, to represent this area in junior playdowns. The team which finishes at top will advance in playoffs against other junior teams registered under the MAHA banner.

All teams felt it was the proper thing to do. They wanted protection for their players and they felt they surely couldn't ask people to officiate at their games if these officials didn't have the backing of some authorized hockey body.

NOBODY at Tuesday's meeting was thinking about winning Maritime crowns. All they wanted was to get a junior league going, something that has been sadly lacking here for many years. It's a very doubtful if either collegetown can win the league crown if they'd go farther along the Maritime trail. If this should happen, then the Charlottetown or North River team could carry the ball.

But all this is unimportant to this energetic group that has finally decided that Charlottetown needs junior hockey. They are confident that they'll have no trouble whatever selling it to the public. They are already planning strategy to make the league most attractive and we have the idea that this group of gentlemen really mean business.

In Early January

OF course, everybody concerned would like to get things moving early in December but that isn't possible with the Welshmen and Saints forming half the membership. Examinations will be starting very shortly at each institution and to students that's all that matters this time of year. Once examinations come to an end, students, living outside Charlottetown, are off home for the Christmas holidays.

And so it isn't feasible to get moving until early January. However, we think there's plenty of time then to get folks really keyed up on this junior business. We have the idea that they'll like what these youngsters have to offer and that each game will see the attendance increase. It is intended for all teams to use The Forum as their home rink.

AT least a start has been made and that in itself is something. We were drifting along without any organized hockey (except minor) until these four junior clubs chanced the picture. We think this league is being founded on firm ground and we'll be very surprised if it doesn't meet with a large share of success.

We particularly like this disregard for winning at any cost. Listening to the team representatives the other night, we were delighted to find this line of thought among the missin. The main thought was to get junior players in competition in an organized league and that's what they came up with Wednesday night.

All hockey fans will be wishing the junior league every success and before we leave the subject, congratulations to those energetic folks who made this loop a reality.

Saints Go Travelling

JACK Kane's takes his Varsity Saints to New Brunswick today where they play two Maritime intercollegiate hockey games over the weekend.

Saturday they are guests of Pete Kelly's University of New Brunswick Red Devils and Sunday afternoon Varsity meets St. Thomas Tommies out the welcome mat. Both will be hard games for the Red and Whitters but the locals feel they can give a good account of themselves.

All Island hockey fans will be pulling for Saints to grab a pair of wins on this first road trip.

Fighting Comeback Earns Tie For Visiting Eagles

RCAF Eagles, trailing by two goals entering the third period, fired four big tallies in the final twenty minutes to earn a 5-5 tie with Sandy's Parkdale Royals in an exhibition game last night at Charlottetown Forum.

Royals were leading 3-1 as the teams took the ice for the final frame and appeared to have the situation well in hand. But a fighting band of Eagles just refused to concede defeat. They had things knotted at 3-3 by the 3:06 mark and after that they were able to match the Frizzelmen goal for goal.

Eustace Reeves, hard hitting Royals' rearguard, put the Royals into a 2-0 lead with the only markers of the first period. Ellis got one back for the Airmen in the first minute of the sandwich session but Alan Andrews nullified that one at 18:48 of the same stanza.

That's the way things were when the teams came out for the third. Goals by Loignon and Hutchings squared matters early in the period but Royals soared into a 4-3 lead when Angie Carroll took Jim MacLeod's pass to beat Campbell at 11:02.

But these Eagles were still flying. Realton tied matters once again less than two minutes later and Hutchings beat Donnie Frizzell at 15:35 to give the Eagles the lead for the only time in the contest. A great save effort by Angie Carroll with Airmen a man short earned the defending Maritime intermediate 'A' champions the tie.

Referees Brian Lewis and Joe Coyle had a comparatively easy time of it as the boys stuck pretty well to hockey throughout the encounter.

HUNTER'S CORNER

Columnist Gets Backing That Rabbits Are Scarce

We got our first taste of winter Monday afternoon and it came almost without warning. This columnist was parked on the high ground opposite the old Lewis Dam site about a mile north of the village of St. Peter's. I was chatting with Ches MacSwain, the D-7 operator, when the blinding sheet of snow hit without warning. It had the full length of the Bay to gain momentum and the car fairly shuddered. It didn't last long, otherwise the drive back to the city would have been pretty grim. We have nothing to complain about as northern New Brunswick has been practically snowbound for weeks. If it had have held off until after Christmas it would still come as a shock, so it's just as well we have the suspense over and done with.

On Tuesday the fox hunters were out in force as tracking and running conditions were excellent. I have talked to a number of them who were out and questioned them about our current rabbit crop. They stated in the areas they hunted foxes, rabbits were practically non-existent, just the odd single track observed. The section under observation was formerly top rabbit terrain. The three fox hunters to whom I talked stated emphatically that rabbits were down about 50 percent below the record low last year.

When I read the announcement in The Guardian recently concerning the agenda for the next Fish and Game meeting that a daily bag limit on rabbits would be recommended. I, quite naturally, awaited the report of this meeting. I got a first hand account from members who were present. I was told that a former president walked out of the meeting. Another member, who is embued with a true conservation spirit told me he thought at one stage of the discussion he was going to receive a punch in the face. Quite naturally the 'strong arm' squad of the rabbit hunting clan were there in force... page Hal C. Banks. The rabbit hunters claimed we have lots of rabbits. In the far distant swamps, maybe yes, but not within 30 miles of Charlottetown.

PLENTY SCARCE

The president, Earl 'Diver' Riggs, claimed that there were not enough rabbits to keep the foxes in food and consequently they were eating our valuable Hungarian partridge in lieu of rabbit meat. True, Brer Fox will not turn down a Hun or pheasant, if the opportunity comes his way, which is not too often, but its the lowly field mouse that is his 'ace in the hole meal ticket'. Our meadows and swales are simply alive with mice this fall. Trappers of muskrats, who bait their traps with apples, claim that mice steal the bait and sometimes spring their traps in the process.

This week, a chap who has quite a Christmas tree trade worked up, commented in a few well chosen words on our rabbit situation. Quote: "I am in the Christmas tree business and spend every day that it is fit roaming the woods and swamps. A few years ago I'd sight as many as a dozen rabbits on every trip out. This fall I haven't seen one or a sign of any." He ended the conversation with a very pointed question: "Just what do the rabbit hunters have in mind?"

The recent snowfall has made farmers back lanes and fields impassable to car traffic or bordering on this stage. I am offering a word of advice to goose-hunters. "Don't antagonize a farmer by getting bogged down in his meadows. Leave your car on the highway. Now on some firm ground, and give your legs some exercise... If you expect to return next year I it." Once a car breaks through the top crust there is nothing underneath but infinity. Spinning the wheels will beat a badger when it comes to digging a hole.

Complaints are coming in regarding the use of rifles on wildgeese. If you want to drive them south into the arms of waiting American hunters you couldn't think of a better method. Speed boats are also reported in operation in the Pownal Bay... St. Peter's Island area and it's a toss up which method will drive geese off our shores the quickest. I was informed that some speed boat operators in the Waterside area left a car parked near where the old Waterside formerly was located and made the trip back to the City by boat. I wonder what made them do hat?

Sunday shooting is quite prevalent in some districts. Late in October a party of four hunters, one Sunday morning, drove to a field in a remote, thinly settled area, and had a flock of about 60 wildgeese under observation. The field in which they were feeding is bordered by a wooded, swampy area of mixed spruce and alders. It was the intention of the watchers to keep the geese under observation until they filled up with grain and had winged their way to Keefe's Lake to take their ease until the following morning They wanted to make certain they were not disturbed and make their chances of a shot on Monday morning more promising It was well that they kept the flock under observation for suddenly the flock took to the air and seconds later six gunshots rang out. No geese dropped but three hunters, all carrying guns, rushed out of the bushes.

OUT THEY CAME

The four observers immediately jumped into their car, a Volkswagen, and gave chase. The Sunday shooters ran into a woodland road The driver promptly followed with the throttle wide open. One of the occupants told me he never got such a thrill in his life. The Sunday shooters could be heard crashing through the bushes like a trio of bull moose with the Volks right behind them riding over short spruce bushes, alders and tall weeds as if they were grass. The chase ended with the Volks bogged down in the middle of a creek. The trio could still be heard mowing a trail through the swamp but the chase was over. No the durable Volks didn't remain in the creek. Three of the occupants got out and gave her a lift while the driver gave her the gun. She came out of the creek as slick as if she were greased with her motor still humming without a miss. The return journey was made without incident but at a slower rate of speed. It was a good try at any rate.

Black Hawks Top Toronto; Forbie Scores For Bruins

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago Black Hawks outhustled Toronto Maple Leafs and downed them 2-0 in a U.S. Thanksgiving Day National Hockey League game Thursday night.

The victory widened Chicago's grip on first place in the standings to 10 points.

It was the fourth triumph of the year for the Hawks over the defending champion Leafs, and Chicago goalie Glenn Hall's second shutout over them.

By winning their sixth in a row and 11th straight on Chicago ice, the Hawks ran up 32 points, 10 ahead of Montreal. The Canadiens moved into second, one point up on Toronto, by defeating Detroit 7-3 Thursday night.

The scoring was confined to the first period. Ken Wharram gave Hall all the margin he was to need midway in the frame when he took a puck which had rebounded off the boards on a shot by Hall and drilled it behind Toronto goalie John Bower from five feet out.

GETS A FREAK

Pierre Pilote scored a freak goal at a split second before the period ended. The Chicago defenceman's shot from the blue line bounced five feet in front of Bower and shot off at an angle and into the cage.

Half spent a busy evening although the game was marked by close checking. The Chicago goalie was credited with 30 saves to 33 for Bower.

The Leafs put on their best effort of the three games here but had no luck at the Chicago net. Hall was particularly tough stopping Frank Mahovlich on a power play attempt late in the game.

Referee Art Skov called only 10 penalties but three of them came in a tangle between Stan Mikita of the Hawks and Mahovlich.

After their short tussle, Mahovlich was given minors for highsticking and roughing, while Mikita was given a minor for highsticking.

Chicago lost right winger Johnny McKenzie in the opening minute of action. The little forward went down in a tangle of players near the board and barely made it off the ice. He complained of a pain in the ribs and was sent to hospital for examination.

First period — 1. Chicago, Wharram 13 (Hull, Pilote) 9:14; 2 Chicago, Pilote 3 (Hall) 19:59. Penalties—Shack 7:32, MacMillan 17:35.

Canadiens Win On Detroit Ice

DETROIT (CP) — Montreal Canadiens took a 2-1 first-period lead and never looked back as they trounced Detroit Red Wings 7-3 Thursday night in National Hockey League action.

The Canadiens spread out the U.S. Thanksgiving holiday cheer with seven players scoring before 13,449 fans.

The Canadiens went ahead 2-1 on defenceman Jean-Guy Talbot's first goal of the season at 16:57 of the first period while killing a penalty.

Talbot's long shot hit the post and goalie Terry Sawchuk flopping over backwards trying to grab it, nudged it over the line with his shoulder.

Sawchuk wrenched his shoulder on the play and was replaced by 22-year-old Harrison Gray at the start of the second period. It was Gray's first NHL game and he yielded five goals but had little chance on most of them.

First period — 1. Montreal, Provost 2 5:11. 2. Detroit, Barkley 4 (Gadsby) 10:42; 3. Montreal, Talbot 1 (Balon) 16:57. Penalties—La Rose (major and misconduct), Delvecchio (major), Harper (minor) and A. Pronovost (minor) 8:39; Balon and Ingram 11:33, Geoffrion 15:21, Laforge, 17:33.

Packers, Lions Play Draw Battle

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's Nick Pietrosante scored from inside the one-yard line with 16 seconds remaining to give the Lions a 13-13 tie with Green Bay Packers in a National Football League game Thursday.

The touchdown capped a 78-yard drive started right after the Packers had gone ahead 13-6 on a seven-yard pass from Bart Starr to Ron Kramer with nine minutes remaining.

The deadlock gave the Packers a 9-2-1 record and kept them alive in the Western Division race. They are one game behind Chicago Bears, who play Minnesota at Chicago Sunday.

A blocked extra point by Detroit's John Gordy after the Packers' first touchdown proved to be the big play as the Lions snapped a three-game losing streak.

An interference penalty against Green Bay's Jesse Whittenton put the ball on the Packer two and helped set up the tying touchdown.

The Packers marched 68 yards late in the second quarter and went ahead when Elijah Pitts went up the middle from three yards out. Gordy then blocked Jerry Kramer's extra point attempt.

Danny Lewis rolled around left end into the end zone on the first play, but a penalty against Detroit put the ball back on the seven. Pietrosante finally went in after rushes by Lewis and quarterback Earl Morrall.

The game had been tied at 6-6 since late in the second quarter when Detroit's Wayne Walker booted a 37-yard field goal. Walker's 27-yard boot earlier in the quarter had opened the scoring.

Dean Prentice of Boston and Harry Howell of the Rangers matched goals in the opening period.

Tartan Club Is Through

HALIFAX (CP) Halifax Tartans quit the Nova Scotia Senior Hockey League Thursday night because of financial difficulties.

Team owner Bill Hartlen said shortly after Halifax lost 4-3 to Windsor Maple Leafs here that the club was folding. The decision could mean the end of the four-team league. Both Moncton Hawks and New Glasgow Rangers have suffered because of poor gates.

Only league-leading Windsor Maple Leafs, from the smallest centre in the league, are drawing good crowds.

Squadron Leader A.R. Logan Chairman of the Intersection Hockey League, representing the Commanding Officer, made a short speech before dropping the puck.

Although the score was lopsided play was close through out, with 415 having a little more polish inside the Repair blue line. Officials Flight Sergeant Glen Matthews and Corporal "Red" Gravelle gave out 15 penalties.

A second game, between Supply and Telecom, completed the evening's play. Supply outclassed their opponents by a score of 5-1. A few errors deep in the Telecom end proved costly, and three of the five Supply goals were obtained by this method.
