UNFORTUNATELY, CHRISTMAS IS OVER AND we all have to start going back to class, and some have to move back into their apartments and rooms. So, to help you people choose your roommates, we thought that we would provide you with this list.

Reasons Why Not To Room With A Bio (a.k.a. Smellius brainless)

1. They smell of formaldehyde.
2. You always find half-dissected specimens in the fridge.
3. You always find a dirty scalpel in the knife drawer.
4. They are constantly testing their urine for monococyl bacteria.
5. They use toilet water for samples.
6. They can't go to the bathroom without describing the process.
7. You can't keep pets, because the pet will become severely traumatized.
8. Their teddy bear is a skeleton since they can't find anyone else and they always seem to wake up with a smile on their face.
9. Never leave BEvERages in the fridge, it might become the new home of a fruit fly culture.
10. Bios travel in herds. Let one in, you let them all in.
11. They always resort to highly sophisticated modern engineering devices (microwave) to defrost specimens, such as cormorants.

As a final note, the X-Press appears to have been omitting our heading. We've been told it is because of lack of space. They apparently don't know how to use a photocopier. If you feel that we should have our heading back again, feel free to contact the X-Press and maybe we'll see about sending over a technical advisor on how to shrink things with the photocopier.

Quote of the Week: Any action for which there is no logical explanation will be deemed a "biological process".

"The Blue Castle" A Revival of the 1993 hit musical

THEATRE PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND'S REVIVAL of the 1993 hit musical play, The Blue Castle, by Hank Stinson can be seen on the main stage of the Confederation Centre in Charlottetown on March 3rd, 4th and 5th, 1994. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

THE BLUE CASTLE, based on the well-known story by L.M. Montgomery, received its premiere production from Theatre P.E.I. last year to critical acclaim and sold-out houses, clearly demonstrating its wide audience appeal. The play won first prize for author Hank Stinson in Theatre P.E.I.'s New voices Playwriting Competition in 1992.

Canadian director and choreographer Kelly Robinson, recently returned from staging the new Sharon, Lois and Bram show in New York, will lead the production which will feature Kelti MacMillan in the leading role. Ms. MacMillan, a native of P.E.I., will follow THE BLUE CASTLE with an appearance in LES MISERABLES at the Neptune Theatre, Halifax. THE BLUE CASTLE will once again draw on local Island acting talent to provide a strong supporting cast, making this a truly community production.

THE BLUE CASTLE is good old-fashioned entertainment, suitable for all ages of theatre-goers. It is filled with music, romance and adventure- true to the original, but with a life of its own. Tickets are available from Confederation Centre TICKETWORKS at 566-1267. Prices: Adults, 13.50/10.50. Seniors/ students, 10% discount. Children under 12, $6.

For further information, contact Theatre P.E.I. at 566-0321.

What's on at the Panther Lounge

"Wild T would swing from rafters for his audience" - Red Deer Advocate

"Wild T knows no limitations" - Jeff Healy
Wild T is playing the Barn!! Thursday, Jan 20 Wild T will be putting on his electrifying show. Tickets are only $5 and you can bet you'll get your money's worth. Hear his current hits "Midnight Blues", and "Love Crazy". Wild T and the Spirit, fresh from their tour with Bon Jovi, says of his audience, "I try to project out to them and feel them myself. We exchange karma with the audience." Heavy stuff. Need we say more?

Saturday, Jan 22 also promises to be a "large" day. The Barn will be open at four o'clock for the annual NHL all-star game, and following the game it's time to rumble-- the WWF Royal Rumble, that is. The Royal Rumble is probably the most exciting wrestling event to watch, as over twenty wrestlers battle it out to see who will be the last one standing. We had well over four hundred people for our last event, so get here early for a great seat-- but actually, every seat is great as we'll have the giant ten-foot screen set up again on the second floor. This event is also open to those under nineteen years of age. Tickets are six dollars and will be on sale at seven o'clock.

We'll give you a couple of days rest and the fun begins again on Wednesday with Whetherman (yes that's the correct spelling) Groove Tube-- and best of all, it's free. We said "what the ,," let's have a freebie night.

After you've recovered from Wednesday, Thursday is a night of hilarious comedy in the Lounge. The Atomic Improv Company will take their "brave" comedy to the stage. They actually make up a show of comedy by using suggestions from the audience (that should be really interesting around here!).

Oh well, here goes. We've been trying to keep it a secret as long as possible. Blue Rodeo is coming back to the Barn on February 2nd as the kick-off night for Winter Carnival. Tickets are fifteen dollars and will go on sale January 19th, or you can buy a Winter Carnival pass for only twenty-two dollars. This pass is good for Blue Rodeo on the 2nd, The Waltons on
