

City Council Discusses Housing, Bonds, Rink

At a special meeting of City Council last night two houses were condemned as a result of a report from Health Officer Dr. Wendell MacDonald.

Two resolutions were passed stating that the houses were to be made fit for dwelling or demolished by Nov. 5 and that no persons were to live in them until they are made fit.

One of the residences is a double dwelling house at 22-24 Granville Street and the other is a discarded railroad car, on Jordan Crescent. Both are tenement houses.

On a query as to whether council should accept an offer for the issuing of bonds from an American company using American finances, Mayor Walter Cox suggested that the finance committee study the offer and bring in a recommendation to council at the next regular meeting.

Coun. William R. MacNeill stated that "it would be a 20 year deal and a gamble all the way."

TURNUED DOWN
The tenders that were called in June for bonds were turned down because the price wasn't good enough and it is a bit worse now, it was said.

It was also stated that it is not necessary to call tenders for this issue and if the council should decide not to do so, this time, it would be the first time such action has been taken.

The possibility of building a new rink or making a double-decker out of the old one was discussed as a 1967 Centennial project.

Mayor Cox stated that the present ice surface does not appear adequate accommodating all the youngsters interested in the minor hockey program.

Coun. MacNeill stated that he felt the only way the rink was overcrowded was on a Saturday.

Coun. Louis Johnston stated that he felt the areas around Charlottetown using the rink ought to be approached for a contribution towards the new rink if there is to be one.

Coun. Douglas MacDonald said that he felt the police and firemen were in much more need of larger working areas than the children were in need of new rink facilities and that the police and firemen should be attended to first, even without grants from the government.

The idea of remodeling the present City Hall or building a new one had also been suggested as a project but was ruled out as grants are not available for this type of thing, Mayor Cox informed the council.

By-PASS SUGGESTED
A bypass around the city had also been suggested and vetoed. It was said that the only thing the grants would go along with was something that wouldn't ordinarily be done and not something that was needed that the council would at a later date definitely have to decide about improvements to City Hall.

In regards to low cost housing and senior citizens homes it was decided to turn over to the welfare committee an investigation of the former council and decided to inform the government that the City is not interested in the latter at the moment.

Coun. John Nicholson stated that low cost housing is a primary need and that the senior citizens homes should take a second place abandoning the thought of them until the need in low income housing is met.

He said that he felt senior citizen homes would encourage people from outside the city to move in.

The government had agreed to pay 12 1/2 per cent on the low cost housing units and the council in an agreement that the welfare committee should suggest to the government suitable sites for 50 units.

It was decided to call tenders for a house on the Farquhar farm formerly bought by the city.

Lions Club To Revive Weekly Town Dances?

GEORGETOWN — King Lion Joseph E. Johnson, presided over the semi-monthly meeting of the Georgetown Lions Club held in the Old Council Chambers.

Following the Lions Prayer and the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Eric Wood; the treasurer's report was presented by the treasurer, Guy Coffin. Correspondence included letters from the Town of Georgetown, granting the Rink Dance Hall to the Lions Club on a temporary arrangement as to costs, until Dec. 15, at which time the club will have the option of hiring the Dance Hall.

MAY REVIVE DANCES
The Lions Club are negotiating with a newly formed orchestra in an effort to revive the weekly dances, which were so successful a year ago. It is hoped that an arrangement will be made between the Town Council and the Lions Club whereby the Town will provide material to install a new and permanent ceiling for the hall and the members of the club will do the installation work free of charge.

A letter was read from Zone chairman Stephen MacDonall regarding the October membership drive; and correspondence was also received from Lions International expressing their regret at the death of Lion W.J. Fitzgerald and stating that his passing will be fittingly remembered at the next Lions district convention.

PERMISSION GRANTED
The club was also informed in a letter from the Town of Georgetown that permission

Suspected Glaucoma Found In 36 Persons

Approximately 400 persons were tested by Dr. J.P. Lantz at the Lions Club Glaucoma Clinic at Zion Church yesterday. Out of that number there were 36 suspicious cases. These people will be notified in the immediate future by members of the Lions Club.

Glaucoma is a disease causing high pressure in the eye ball, which slowly destroys the optic nerve resulting in gradual loss of sight. It occurs most frequently in persons over 40 and can cause blindness if it is not discovered and treated.

Two people out of every 100 over 40 years of age have Glaucoma and it is more prevalent in women than men. It can do its damage without warning.

Those working at the clinic yesterday were: afternoon stenographers: Mrs. Kent Irwin, Mrs. Rita MacEachern and Mrs. Eleanor Jay; evening stenographers, Mrs. Kent Irwin, Betty Gallant and Ann Doyle. In the afternoon three public health nurses assisted Dr. Lantz. They were: Mrs. D. Ward, Diane Bupert and Mrs. Noel Palmer. The evening nurses were: Mrs. Lou Bagnall, Mrs. Al Gill, Mrs. Charlie Beasley and Mrs. Florence Hayes. Lions and Lionettes worked at the desks and assisted nurses in caring for the persons being tested.

The clinic will be held again today from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. The Lions plan on continuing with City clinics until every person who wishes to be tested has been done.

Two local residents who had been tested described the clinic as being very satisfying and of great benefit to people of the City.

The "G-Day" clinic is a public service project sponsored by the Lions Club of Prince Edward Island and gives free to all residents.
