Sharam - Griffen Wedding

Garden flowers banked the altar of Scarborough United Church recently for the candlelight wedding of Agnes Elizabeth (Elsie), eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Giffen of Okotoks, Alberta, and Mr. Frederick Sharam of Calgary, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Sharam of Murray Harbour, Prince Edward Island.
Rev. Dr. S. J. Parsons performed the ceremony in which the bride was given in marriage by her father.
While chastily lace fashioned the bride's floor length gown; featuring a snugly fitted bodice, long sleeves and Peter Pan collar. Her chapel veil misted from a headpiece of pearls, and she carried a colonial bouquet of dark red roses.
Her only ornament was a necklace and earrings of pearls, a gift of the groom.
Mrs. Gordon MacAulay of Edmonton was her sister's only attendant. As matron of honour she wore a pale blue net strapless floor length gown modified with a short sleeveless jacket. She carried a colonial bouquet of orphelia roses and wore similar flowers in her hair.
Mr. Gunnar Hasselbohm acted as groomsman, and the ushers were Mr. Gordon MacAulay of Edmonton and Mr. Nick Chalus of Calgary.
Traditional music by the choir of which the bride is a member was rendered during the ceremony in the singing of "O Perfect Love," "The Lord's Prayer" and the Hebrew Benediction, concluding with "On Father All Creating."

That Body Of Yours

In a booklet written by Kathryn Close, entitled "Getting Ready to Retire," and published by the Public Affairs Committee, Inc., a non-profit educational organization, some valuable advice is given. The booklet points out that physical decline does not begin with everybody at exactly the same time of life nor take its toll of vigor at the same rate of speed.
It points out further that the happiest and most contented elderly men and women are the ones who are doing some useful work whether or not they need the money and who take an active interest in the affairs about them and in the world in general.
"Activity, usefulness, the ability to make friends and to have fun and, above all, a sense of purpose in life, form a bulwark against the hopelessness that can make retirement a time of tragedy." Getting ready for the retirement period before retirement age is reached is the big secret of living a happy useful life in the days to come.
How reaching retirement age should be met is the final advice of the booklet:
1. A regular income or other financial resources sufficient to provide independence and a sense of security.
2. An occupation, avocation, or absorbing hobby that agrees with the likes and ability, physical and mental.
3. A pleasant place to live which will not put a strain on health, pocket book or emotions.
4. A feeling of being useful through personal or community service.
5. The conservation of health.
6. A positive attitude toward self, others and the world.
This booklet, "Getting Ready to Retire" may be obtained by sending 25 cents to the Public Affairs Committee, Inc., 22 East 38th St., New York 16, N. Y.
