NEW YORK (AP) — Several thousand persons filed past the body of former welterweight champion Benny (Kid) Parot, 25-year-old Cuban who died after a savage ring beating, at a Bronx funeral parlor Wednesday.

At the same time, seven New York state legislators, one a former fighter, were appointed to a special committee that will investigate boxing to decide if it should be banned in the state. Hearings will open in New York Friday.

There were new moves to end the sport in the Ontario legislature and Sweden, and Rep. Abraham J. Miller (D-N.Y.), called for Congress to ban radio and television broadcasting of fights. Miller said this would make them unprofitable. He called the sport "public slaughter."

Parot died early Tuesday. He never regained consciousness after he was carried from the Madison Square Garden ring March 24, after he collapsed in a seventh round from a beating at the hands of Emilie Griffith.

Pender Ends Sparring Week

BOSTON (AP) — Former middleweight champion Paul Pender wound up his sparring sessions Wednesday for Saturday.

"I can't see how Pender can lose," he said. "He hits a little harder than Downes and he's a better all-around boxer. I just can't see Downes beating him."

day night's one hour with Downes, and nobody's happier about it than Indiana Willie Greene.

Greene, once a promising middleweight himself, has sparred 110 rounds with Pender over the past month. As of Wednesday he is an ex-fighter.

Greene, 24, will go to work for his father, who owns a construction firm in Providence, R.I.

Since he once fought Downes before the tough, little Britisher won the disputed title from Pender in London last July, Greene was asked to compare the two.

The magazine also withdrew recognition of Archie Moore as 117 lb. heavyweight champion, and moved him into sixth place among the heavyweights, where Sony Liston is ranked No. 1.

The second big event will be the annual provincial badminton championships, which will take place at the Charlottetown YMCA on May 4 and 5.

The St. John's peewee are reported to be a strong unit, as they defeated Fredericton and then Chatham in the finals for the N.B. crown, but local opinion seems to favor a clean cut win by the national amateur team.

The Summerside team, paced by smooth playing captain, Blaine Muttart.

The Summerside boys will leave Friday evening by car, under the direction of Gordon Kelly.

South African Boxing Teams To Fight In U.S.

JOHANNESBURG (Reuters) — Two South African teams — white and non-white — will be sent to the United States to compete in the national amateur boxing championships next year.

This was decided Wednesday at a council meeting of the South African Amateur Boxing Association here.

The teams will have different officials, nominated by the controlling bodies of white and non-white associations and will travel separately.

Different bouts will also be arranged for the teams before the championships, which are scheduled for March 28-30.

LATIN FISHING

Some 10,000 fishermen working off the coast of Ecuador account for 2.5 per cent of the country's export trade.

Two Badminton Tournaments Slated

ROY M. VESSEY, organizer of badminton in Charlottetown, yesterday announced that two big tournaments are scheduled to be run off between now and the early part of May.

The first is an inter-city tournament between two teams representing Charlottetown and Summerside, with the winners getting the Lew Trosby, donated during the early '30's by the late Judge L.G. Lewis. For the past two years the trophy has been won by the Charlottetown team.

The first series of matches, which are run on a home and home basis, will be played at Charlottetown YMCA Saturday, with play starting at 8 p.m. The second set will be run off at Summerside, on the evening of April 14.

The second big event will be the annual provincial badminton championships, which will take place at the Charlottetown YMCA on May 4 and 5.

SUMMERSIDE — For the first time in memory, Island Rangers, a band of opportunists who have taken liberties with a shaky Toronto Maple Leaf defence in their Stanley Cup semifinal series, may find that the honeymoon is over. The World's final series, may find that the honeymoon is over. The World's final series, may find that the honeymoon is over.

"He looks good; he'll dress," Leaf coach Punch Imlach announced Wednesday after his defence star went through a tough, solitary one-hour workout at Maple Leaf Gardens.

The news isn't likely to scare off Rangers who bounced back with two victories in New York after dropping a pair on Toronto in their best-of-seven cup semi-final. But a healthy Brewer
