THE SPY SYSTEM—AGAIN.

The Colonial Secretary makes a doleful attempt in the last Islander to exonerate the Government from complicity in Mr. Whitman's spying mission. He says the Spy was employed by the Commissioners and not by the Government, and that we should not censure the latter for the employment of such a person. This is just such a cry as the friends and supporters of the Government always set up. The discredit or disgrace attending any improper proceedings must be always thrown on any other shoulders than their own. It is not denied that Mr. Whitman acted in the capacity of a Spy—that he obtained his information, such as it is, by making false representations of his business and character—that at least one member of the Government, besides His Excellency, knew that Mr. Whitman was so laudably employed, and gave him access to the public records and documents,—and the Islander stated, a short time ago, that it was very necessary to have a man like Mr. Whitman to correct the false statements made to the Land Commissioners last summer by a great many of the most intelligent and respectable people in the Colony. Now, it is no defence to this disreputable proceeding to say that the Spy was not employed by the Government. He pursued his vocation with the knowledge and assistance of the heads of the Government—indeed, he could not have done without them,—and the whole Executive Council are responsible for his conduct as well as for the employment of his services.

Mr. W. H. Pope says: "Poor Whelan, he affects to be sadly annoyed that Mr. Whitman should have spent the winter in the Island, going from place to place, seeing and judging for himself." Mr. Whelan feels no annoyance in reference to this matter. If he has any feeling at all about it, it is that of gratification at seeing the mess of difficulties in which the Government have involved themselves about the Land Commission; and he knows very well that he will be able to exclaim, after the next election: "Poor Pope, your Government friends made a sad blunder when they connived at the Spy system in this Island."

THE ORANGE DISPLAY.

When the Volunteer Bill was under the consideration of the House of Assembly last Session, it was stated by several members that the Orange Society was, in some measure, connected with the Volunteer movement. The Hons. Messrs. Gray and Haviland pretended to be greatly shocked at the imputation, and said they did not know and did not believe there was such a thing as an Orange Lodge in the Island. These innocent gentlemen can no longer plead blissful ignorance on this subject. The Monitor of Wednesday last, and the Protestant of Saturday assure us that no less than five Orange Lodges met to celebrate the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne, at their late Tea shine on the Princetown road, "besides several members of other Lodges from the more western parts of the Island;" and that at Lot 49, on the same day, other Orange Lodges were seen doing their best to make themselves ridiculous.

The argument used in defence of Orangeism, last winter, was, that if there were Orange Lodges there were also Ribbon Societies in this Island. When the parties who made this assertion were asked to prove it, they could not do it. A Ribbon Society was never known to exist in this Island,—there has been no Ribbon "demonstration" like that of Orangeism; but even if there had been, that would not justify the silly display made on the 12th July. The Protestant says that the Orange Lodges were a "peaceable body of men" on the 12th July. They may have been peaceable on that day, for aught we know or care, but we are confident their organization has no tendency to promote peace. The fruits which Orangeism has borne in every other part of the world, are,—strife, hatred, and uncharitableness. The Protestant, and other "evangelical witnesses," such as the Reverends Messrs. Fitzgerald, Roach and Sutherland, will, no doubt, do their best to encourage the formation of such secret Societies, as aids to the present very unpopular Government; but it appears to us that in doing so they sink their high and holy mission in that of the political schemer.

We observe that a Mr. J. M. Cameron, said to be Grand Master of the Orange Lodges in British America, came in for some share of the praise that was lavished on the leaders of Orangeism at the celebration of the 12th. This is the individual, we remember, who went to England last fall or autumn as a delegate from the Order, to pull the Duke of Newcastle over the coals for having prevented the Prince of Wales from countenancing the silly demonstration of the Orangemen in Canada, on the occasion of the visit of his Royal Highness. All Orangedom was in great excitement about Mr. Cameron's mission. Of course, the Duke was to be reprimanded by the Queen, and censured by his peers in the House of Lords,—the House of Commons would take up the subject, we were told, and the Orangemen of Canada would receive the highest honour which the British nation can bestow—the thanks of Parliament. In fact, the Duke was to be annihilated for his opposition to Orangeism, and Orangeism was to be taken into the especial favor of the Crown. But somehow or other, these results have not been witnessed—the Duke still stands very high in the favour of his Sovereign, and has been lately offered the Government of India—one of the most important trusts that can be conferred on a British subject—as a further proof of the confidence of his Royal Mistress. Parliament has been silent on the subject of Cameron's mission, and the Times and other influential journals laughed at the thing as the "last exhibition of the folly of the dirty Orangemen." The Grand Master returned to the place from whence he came a wiser if not a better man, and Orangedom has ever since observed a discreet silence in regard to his fool's errand.

MR. SECRETARY POPE vs. THE CATHOLICS.

That a Colonial Secretary should forget his position as a Government officer, and offer insult to nearly half the population, by writing against their religion, is an episode in colonial Government that does not often occur, and this instance of malfeasance must be noted accordingly. Had the letter in question been written by the Conservative author as editor of the paper which grannied the production into the reading world, it would have been but evidence of an imperfect judgment, and passed at best as an ill-natured leader, or had the writer been remarkable for holding highly evangelical views on the subject of Creed, there might have been a moderate degree of reason in framing such a contribution to some such evangelical and charitable organ as the Protestant journal; but neither as Editor nor Reformer can an excuse be framed. The letter is over the signature of the Government Colonial Secretary, and being so will be considered by the country as a Government document, in the publication of which the Queen's Printer felt bound to co-operate. This is a strange world; thirty-five thousand people are held up to ridicule by the Colonial Secretary, whose salary they help to pay, for working together under the direction of a number of Priests—and forty-five thousand exhorted to work together at the bidding of one official layman. "Self Government," says the letter, "has been granted to the people of the Island"—and the thirty-five thousand Catholics are part of the people! Surely self-government was not given to the whole to be exercised only by a part,—and Roman Catholics are entitled to as large an interest in the Government as they can secure by right of numbers, whether they are considered formidable by the Protestants or no. The injustice done to the common sense of the whole people in this letter is, that one-half is condemned for unitedness, while the other half is exhorted to it. It is not the system of religion that makes the Roman Catholics of Prince Edward Island so politically important—it is the union among themselves that is the secret—a union, it may be, that is in harmony with their religion, but not taught them by the Priests half so much as by such diatribes as "Pope's last" to the Protestants of Prince Edward Island.

We learn by the last English Mail that an Extra Blood Horse, recently purchased in England for the Royal Agricultural Society of this Island, was shipped on board the Gazelle, for this Port, on the 22nd ultimo, and may be expected here in a few days.

ARRIVAL OF THE PRINCE.

His Royal Highness Prince Alfred arrived here on Saturday evening last, in the Steamer Lady Head, from Canada. The Prince was received on landing by His Excellency George Dundas, Esquire, Lieut. Governor, and a large crowd of persons who had assembled on Pownal Street Wharf to welcome him. Having walked to the head of the wharf, he stepped into the carriage of His Excellency, and immediately drove to Government House.

The Prince was accompanied by Major Cowell, Royal Engineers, his Governor, Captain the Hon. F. Egerton, H. M. Ship St. George, and Mr. Whaston.

On Sunday morning His Royal Highness attended Divine Worship in St. Paul's Church, in this City.

On Monday His Royal Highness visited the Provincial Building, and drove out into the Country.

On Tuesday morning His Royal Highness embarked on board the Steamer Westmorland, at 9 o'clock, which vessel conveyed him to H. M. Ship St. George, 100 guns, lying in the Bay since Saturday last. The Prince was accompanied to the St. George by His Excellency George Dundas, Esquire, Mrs. Dundas, the Countess Mulgrave, Lady Laura Phipps, and Mr. Atkinson, Private Secretary.

It is matter of regret to our Citizens that the St. George, a magnificent line-of-battle Ship, superior in size the Hero, remained outside the Harbour, some eight or ten miles from the Block-house, particularly as there is good reason to believe she could have come into this Port in perfect safety, there being sufficient water to float any Ship in Her Majesty's service.—Isl.

EXAMINATION AT ST. DUNSTAN'S SCHOOL.

The pupils attending the above school were examined on Monday, the 15th instant. The number of visitors present on the ocasion was very small, which shows that the interest taken by parents in the education of their children is not increasing. The School-room, which is certainly the largest and best ventilated school-room in the city, presented a very neat and respectable appearance. There were over one hundred children present on the occasion, and we must say that we felt much pleased with the orderly manner in which they conducted themselves during the proceedings. It was also highly gratifying to observe the clean and healthy appearance of the children. A large majority of them being of a tender age, the examination was not as interesting as on former occasions; but as far as it extended, it was highly satisfactory. The classes of English Grammar, Geography, Algebra, and General Information acquitted themselves admirably; reflected much credit on themselves, and fully sustained the high reputation which the Messrs. Roche have attained as instructors of youth.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—I observe that in the last Islander, W. H. Pope, Colonial Secretary and Editor of that paper, has, over his own signature, thought proper to allude to a paragraph in my letter to you last week, in which I contradicted and refuted his charge against my colleague and myself as to an unfair division of the Road moneys in our district—Mr. Pope having accused us of showing favour to the Catholic portions of the district to the prejudice of the Protestants. Mr. Pope does not notice my refutation, and therefore tacitly admits that he slandered my colleague and myself. It is not necessary for me to notice the other portions of his letter, in which he attempts to create religious strife between Protestants and Catholics; but I may just remark that since he has proved himself to be a false witness and calumniator in one case, his testimony on other matters must be regarded as utterly worthless; and his assumption as an advocate of the Protestant people of this Island is extremely impudent and presumptuous, and should be repudiated by every Protestant, as well as it is by

Yours, &c.

July 20, 1851. GEORGE COLES.

THE LAND COMMISSION.

The following paragraph appears in the St. John New Brunswicker of a late date, announcing the startling fact that the Land Commissioners have concluded their labors. It says "the award may soon be expected," but we have heard that story so often, within the last twelve months, that no person in this Island now gives any attention to it.

"Prince Edward Island.—We understand that the Commissioners appointed to arrange the difficulties which exist between the land proprietors of Prince Edward Island and the tenants, and other matters of importance connected therewith and who for some time past have been deliberating in the immediate vicinity of the city, have recently brought their labors to a close, and an award may be soon expected. The Hon. Joseph Howe, one of the Commissioners, has expressed his determination to agitate for a union of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and P. E. Island, leaving Canada to take what course she may deem expedient after their consummation has been realized."

The Will of Lady De Lacy Evans.—The Will of Lady De Lacy Evans has been admistered to in the London Court by Lieut.-Gen. Sir De Lacy Evans, M. P., her husband. There was no executor nominated in the will, only by inference. The personal property was sworn under £6000. Her ladyship's maiden name was Josette Arbuthnot, daughter of Colonel Arbuthnot, and married, first, P. Hughes, Esq., and in 1834 married, secondly, Colonel Evans, now Lieut.-Gen. Sir De Lacy Evans. Lady Evans, possessing property in her own right, has by her will bequeathed the whole thereof to Sir De Lacy for his life, and upon his decease it will devolve upon her ladyship's son, Philip Alexander Hughes, Esq., who has been in the receipt of an annuity, which, however, ceased on her demise, he being amply provided for, added to which he is ultimately to receive the reversionary interest above mentioned.

[The P. Hughes, Esq, referred to in the foregoing paragraph was brother of the late George A. Hughes, Esq., formerly of the Commissariat Department of Halifax, and latterly a resident of Charlottetown, where nearly all the family of the latter now reside.]

We are compelled, from want of space, to postpone for the present our intended review of the acts and policy of the Government since they came into office.

Gold in Nova Scotia.—The Pictou Standard says:—

We were favored yesterday by James D. B. Fraser, Esqr., with the sight of a specimen of gold which was found the other day in the vicinity of Mount Thom. The specimen is rich, the gold being well distributed on the quartz, and it affords abundant proof that gold is to be found in larger or smaller quantities in that district. There appears to be no geological reason why gold should not be found in Pictou County in as large quantities as in Tangier; in fact, Dawson years ago gave it as his opinion that gold was much more likely to be found in these metamorphic districts than on the coast line, as they bear a much closer resemblance to the other auriferous portions of America."

The same paper, speaking of the gold discoveries in Nova Scotia, says:—

"It is impossible to estimate the social changes our country may have to undergo if these fields turn out to be even moderately productive. Emigration will be directed to our shores from all parts of the world, and indeed already we hear of parties of diggers coming from England, Canada, P. E Island, and various other localities. It would appear that the indifference displayed by Government to facilitate emigration, is about to be remedied by nature herself, and that in a most effectual manner."

The Will of Lady De Lacy Evans.—The Will of Lady De Lacy Evans has been administered to in the London Court by Lieut.-Gen. Sir De Lacy Evans, M. P., her husband. There was no executor nominated in the will, only by inference. The personal property was sworn under £6000. Her ladyship's maiden name was Josette Arbuthnot, daughter of Colonel Arbuthnot, and married, first, P. Hughes, Esq., and in 1834 married, secondly, Colonel Evans, now Lieut.-Gen. Sir De Lacy Evans. Lady Evans, possessing property in her own right, has by her will bequeathed the whole thereof to Sir De Lacy for his life, and upon his decease it will devolve upon her ladyship's son, Philip Alexander Hughes, Esq., who has been in the receipt of an annuity, which, however, ceased on her demise, he being amply provided for, added to which he is ultimately to receive the reversionary interest above mentioned.

[The P. Hughes, Esq, referred to in the foregoing paragraph was brother of the late George A. Hughes, Esq., formerly of the Commissariat Department of Halifax, and latterly a resident of Charlottetown, where nearly all the family of the latter now reside.]

General Havelock.—The Halifax Reporter of the 16th July says:—

"We have received the following letter from Major General Havelock, which will be read with interest by many of our readers. The General is a native of Halifax, and was born in the house now occupied by Mr. Bell, Barrister, on the Grand Parade. He is the eldest son of the late Colonel Havelock, who was for many years Deputy Adjutant General of the Forces in this Province, and who died in Halifax in 1837. The General is the brother of Mrs. Bell, and of Mrs. Sir Fenwick Williams, of Kars."

Violent Storm in Montreal.—A Despatch from Montreal, July 10th, says:—A violent storm of wind and rain occurred here yesterday. It lasted only a short time, but did considerable damage. One of the Grand Trunk Railroad sheds at Point Saint Charles was blown down, and others were considerably injured. In this city trees and fences were levelled, sheds unroofed, chimneys and gables blown down. The contents of lumber yards were scattered about the streets, and several persons seriously injured.

Merchandise Lost by the Fire in London.—18,000 bales East India cotton; 15,000 barrels flour; 5,000 bales hops; 500 tons salpetre; 300 tons sambar; 800 tons pearl sago; 90 tons sago flour; 500 bags cochineal; 25,000 bags sugar; 85 tons cutch; 8 800 casks of tallow; 4,500 tons rice; 185 tons black pepper; 50 tons white pepper; 700 bags cloves; 800 cases ginger; 700 tons manila hemp; 600 tons Russia and East India hemp, and 1100 tons jute. Value about £2,000,000 sterling.

An Inquest was held on Tuesday, the 9th inst., at the house of Lorang Gallant, near Cape Egmont, Lot 15, before Thomas Hunt, one of the Coroners for Prince County, on view of the body of a person, unknown, found dead on the beach at Fishing Cove. Verdict of the Jury, "Found drowned."

On the evening of Friday, the 12th inst, the house of Mr. Morris, South Wiltshire, Lot 31, was destroyed by fire. Mrs. Morris was absent for a short time, and first observed the flames in the adjoining field; and before she or any of the neighbors could get to the house, it was so completely enveloped in flames that they found it impossible to enter, and everything—including their summer's provisions, &c.—was consumed.—Mon.

Died,

On the 26th ult., at Dundas Castle, N. B., Mary, daughter of James Dundas, Esquire, and the Lady Mary Dundas.

[The deceased Lady was a sister to His Excellency George Dundas, Esquire, the Lieutenant Governor of this Island.]

GEORGETOWN PUBLIC TEA.

ON WEDNESDAY, the 7th AUGUST, the Ladies of Trinity Church Congregation intend (D. V.) giving a Public TEA PARTY at the attractive grounds of WOODSIDE, the residence of Dr. Kaye, the proceeds to form a fund towards the renovation of their Parish Church.

This laudable undertaking should not fail in commending itself to all who would further a good object; and as the spot kindly granted for the occasion is one of the most highly cultivated and delightful in King's County and the arrangements for the entertainment and gratification of visitors certain, it is therefore to be hoped that the tables will be abundantly furnished with guests from far and near.

The Georgetown Company of Rifle Volunteers are expected to give additional interest to the event by a Full Dress Military Drill and Parade.

Tickets 1s 6d, children half price, to be had at the Drug Stores of Messrs. Knight, LeBrocq, and Aitken, and at the entrance to the Grounds.

PINE ARTS.

"A thing of Beauty is a joy forever."

R. R. MACLELLAN returns his sincere thanks to the inhabitants of Charlottetown and the Island generally, particularly to the Ladies, for the very liberal patronage he has received since his arrival in the Colony; and would respectfully inform the public at large that he has removed his Picture Gallery to the Building immediately opposite the Catholic Cathedral, where he is prepared to take Photographic Portraits in every branch and style of Photography, with all the late improvements. Having had 15 years experience in the practice of the Fine Arts, viz: Painting and Sculpture in concert in their various departments, and 5 years in the magic field of Science, in which he is now operating, the subscriber is confident that he can impart to his Pictures an amount of grace, truth and beauty unobtained by any person who has not had the same opportunity.

N.B. Having built a Saloon with a powerful sky-light, and having every facility for taking Likenesses, satisfaction will be given in all cases. We particularly request all Pictures henceforth sent from this Gallery to be compared with those taken by other parties: see the delicacy and pearl-like softness of the flesh colours; look at the manner in which the drapery is rendered, and behold the artistic arrangements of light and shade, and you will exclaim it is an inimitable gem of art. Pictures taken on enamelled Cloth may be sent in letters, without any additional postage. This process is exceedingly beautiful, and in point of purity and richness of tone resembling gems of the first water. Is the day too dark? this is a question often put—to which we answer, there is no day too dark whilst the sun is up.

All persons wanting Pictures should attend immediately. Parties wanting a number of Pictures should make a morning's call, as the subscriber has always a full house during operative hours.

Our prices in each department are as follows: Photographic Pictures, or the so called Ambrotype on glass 1s 6d and upwards, according to the richness of case or frame in which they are inserted; Photographs taken on paper for 5s and upwards, and painted in oil and water colors to the life; Portraits painted in oil life size for £5 and upwards. In our Sculpturing department, we model from the life in which we produce Portraits life size in Plaster of Paris, Sulphur, and Wax.

N. B. we direct particular attention to our cheap ambrotype and Photographic Pictures.
