

Ask Student-Face

In order to meet its funding commitment to the new UPEI student centre, UPEI administration is allowing anyone who donates one million dollars to the project the opportunity to name the building. If you had a million dollars, what would you name the new student centre?

Tim. Definitely Tim.

Rick Avery
2nd Year Political Studies Major

In honour of the September 11th attack on America, I would name it the World Trade Center.

Barry
5th Year Undeclared Major

Man, why do we have to put a label on everything? Why can't the new student centre just "be"? Are you gonna eat that sandwich?

Tammy Acorn
4th Year Music Major

Seeing as the Barn was fittingly named for UPEI's redneck population, I think we should continue the tradition and name it the Mobile Home.

Clarence MacPhee
1st Year Business

I find it rather ironic that the students paid half the costs of the building up front, and some Donald Trump or Scrooge McDuck can swoop in and slap his name on it. But what do I care? I'm going to Dal next year!

Pat Killorn
2nd Year English Major

If I had a million dollars, I wouldn't have to eat Kraft dinner. But I would eat Kraft dinner.
