

Dominion Junior Finalists Await Monday Night Tilt

By BOB TRIMBEE
EDMONTON (CP) — It's a lost weekend so far as Niagara Falls Flyers are concerned. But Edmonton Oil Kings will find there is no rest for a loser as both clubs sit on the sidelines until Monday waiting for the third game in the best-of-seven Memorial Cup junior hockey final.

Flyers displayed plenty of hitting and skating in taking the first two games 3-2 and 5-1 and are strong favorites to gain the cup and avenge a loss two years ago to Oil Kings.
Manager Hap Emms is unhappy with the three-day layoff forced by an evangelical meeting in the Edmonton Gardens.

He also was critical of referee Jim McAuley of Montreal.
"That guy is worse than the one we had two years ago. We play just as hard in the OHA, but the penalty box isn't always full."
The 1963 series, won by Oil Kings in six games, was marred by an unusual number of fights and mixups, which at times threatened to reduce the series to little more than a gang war.

FRET OVER ATTACK
While Emms worried about the layoff and the officiating, the Oil Kings' brain trust fretted about their club's inability to mount a sustained and cohesive attack and defence.
Injuries have hampered two regulars—centre Greg Tomally and winger Ron Anderson—and several other players have had flu.
Manager Leo Leclerc said: "However, this cannot be considered a reason why we have looked so bad on the ice. We're planning to throw the boys into two-hour practices each day until the next game and two sets of meetings in an attempt to get rid of their fuzziness."
"After all, we may be inexperienced but we are the western champions and we have to go out there and play like champions."
Tomally, who suffered a slight shoulder separation in the opener, will be ready for the third game Monday, he said. The young centre might wear a brace.
A leg injury suffered by Anderson curtailed his play in the second game, but Leclerc said the rugged winger should be sound by Monday.
MAY START
Another possible starter is regular netminder Gary Simmons, who sat out the first two games with a cut on his right knee.
He was replaced by Wayne Stephenson of Winnipeg, one of three recruits allowed Oil Kings for the final under Canadian Amateur Hockey Association rules. Stephenson played well in both games.
Fran Huck, a high-scoring centre from Regina Pats, and defenceman Jim Cardiff of Weyburn Red Wings, the other recruits, saw their first action Thursday night.
They played well but showed the effects of a week off skates and lack of activity which followed Regina's elimination in the western semi-final series.
Fourth game of the series is scheduled for Wednesday. If additional games are required they will be played Friday, Saturday and Monday, May 17.

Lawn care is a two-step job: cutting and raking. A Lawn-Boy Grasscatcher does it in one step; you cut and rake at the same time. Your lawn ends up looking as neat as a new haircut. The Grasscatcher will also collect leaves in the fall and tidy up the lawn each spring.
The Grasscatcher clips on and off the mower in seconds without tools and is zippered to empty in two shakes. And even wet grass and leaves can't clog it.

National League Boss Man Praises Central Pro Loop

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Sports Editor
Clarence Campbell says that probably the most progressive step taken by professional hockey in years has been development of the six-team Central Pro League in the United States.
"We've laid the groundwork for development of major league players right there," the NHL president said in an interview in Toronto recently. "At least 10 players on each club must be 23 years of age or younger and this alone must be considered a major progressive step."
"Previously there was a sort of vacuum. Graduating juniors either went with senior or intermediate clubs or other minor pro leagues or dropped out of hockey. Now, with all six NHL clubs participating in the Central Pro League setup—each CPHL team is a farm club of an NHL team—we are providing a good development ground for the young players."

The first to agree is 69-year-old Jack Adams, former general manager and coach of Detroit Red Wings and president of the CPHL since it was organized two years ago.
"Our gate receipts for 1964-65 season reached $1,046,383, an encouraging figure for any pro sport," Adams said this week. Over the 70-game schedule, the circuit attracted 598,103 fans.
"There are a great number of players with NHL potential in our league judging by their play this season," Adams added. CPHL players are subject to the NHL draft, which will be held in Montreal next month, with a price of $30,000 a player.
"A few of our boys certainly should be protected by their respective NHL clubs," Adams said. "There is room at the top for new faces in the National League and we're ready, willing and able to develop them with the emphasis on youth."

Three years ago plans were put in motion for a league that would place emphasis on developing major-league talent. Locations were set at Minneapolis, St. Paul, Indianapolis, St. Louis and Omaha. An explosion at Indianapolis set the Detroit farm club to Cincinnati.
In its 1963-64 maiden season, the league drew 433,384 fans who paid $644,253 at the box-office. Each NHL club pays up to $150,000 a year for operation of its CPHL affiliate.
Toronto Maple Leafs pay the shot for Tulsa, Detroit for Memphis, New York Rangers for St. Paul, Chicago Black Hawks for St. Louis and Montreal Canadiens for Omaha. The Boston farm club was located at Minneapolis but the franchise has been shifted to Oklahoma City for the 1965-66 season.

Ch'ship Fight Is Switched

BOSTON (AP)—The Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston heavyweight title fight was transferred Friday from Boston to Lewiston, Me., and scheduled for the same date, May 25.
The shift was announced after two days of litigation in Suffolk Superior Court where District Attorney Garrett H. Byrne sought an injunction to block the fight without a Massachusetts licence. Inter-Continental said the bout was being promoted by Sam Silverman, a licensed promoter.
Gov. John H. Reed of Maine said Attorney-General Richard F. Dubord has "assured me" he anticipates no legal problems in the Lewiston.
The shift to a site in Maine was announced by Paul T. Smith, a lawyer representing Inter-Continental in the injunction suit before Judge Felix Forte. An inter-continental spokesman later announced the site would be Lewiston.

Lewiston is a manufacturing city 140 miles north of Boston and 30 miles from Portland, Me. It has a population of 41,000. The adjoining sister city of Auburn has 28,000.
The fight will be staged in Lewiston's Youth Centre, which can seat 5,500. The promoters had not counted on a large ringside gate because the fight had been planned for the Boston Garden, which seats 13,909.
The biggest portion of the $4,000,000 gate will come from closed-circuit television showings in theatres.
TORONTO (CP)—Merv McKenzie, president of the World Boxing Association, said Friday decision to move the heavy-weight championship fight between Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston from Boston to Lewiston Me. "completely sustains the position of the WBA that a rematch was making a mockery of all law and order in the boxing world."
McKenzie said "the Massachusetts Boxing Commission participated in our own WBA discussions last year and were the most vigorous in urging the WBA resolution to reject a return match" between Clay and Liston.
"Their own state authorities now emphatically uphold our views," McKenzie added.
"Knowing the bout had not become world endorsement, it became evident their own authorities would seek a legal loophole to prevent this bout."
"At the present time the best thing for Clay to do is to box the WBA world champion Ernie Terrell of Chicago. Liston would then find his proper place among the world contenders."

SPORTS FRONT

Marcellus Clay Starts The War

By JIM CULLEN

Cassius Clay and Charles "Sonny Boy" Liston are scheduled to climb into the ring for their long-awaited battle in Lewiston, Maine on May 25. Clay has already begun what is sure to become a three week war of nerves as he brands Sonny Liston "a dirty fighter."
The flannel-mouthed heavyweight champion insists he knows what kind of a fight it will be and his certain Liston is planning several foul punches. Hernia punches he calls them.
Clay has let the general public in on the fact that he is divinely guided and is in contact with a superior being which enables him to know things that nobody else knows.
The valuable champion, that commences bragging and boasting whenever he feels he has a worthwhile audience, is a much different man when it comes to the matter of preparation for his title defence against the "Big Ugly Bear."
He gets up at 5:00 o'clock each morning to start his day off with a couple of miles of roadwork before breakfast. Cassius seldom speaks to any of his sparring partners or even his trainer while performing his exercises and during the trip to the field where he holds his daily workouts.
When he does his roadwork his sparmates run with him but he doesn't like them running beside him. He feels if someone runs alongside him, the boy may try to beat him and he doesn't want to race anyone. First because he doesn't want to lose and second he doesn't want to tire himself trying to beat anyone.
When Clay has completed his training and returns to his lodge to enjoy a leisurely breakfast it is then that he commences to change into the loudmouth braggart that the public is accustomed to. By the time he reaches his first press-conference of the day he is in full swing and gives the writers plenty of material to build their stories around.
Cassius is reportedly in superb condition, vocally and physically, for his bout with Liston. This observer feels if anyone saw Clay in the early morning hours, when he is hard at work, they would get a better picture of the true man than after he has got into high gear in front of a gathering of newsmen.
CFCY radio station will be carrying the championship fight Tuesday, May 25 starting at 11:05 p.m. Don Dunphy will describe the bout direct from ringside as Liston attempts to regain the heavyweight crown he lost to Cassius Marcellus Clay at Miami on February 25, 1964. Ward Cornell and Bob McDevitt will interview boxing notables at the match and will provide color commentary for the CBC radio production.

Tid Bits From Here And There

Rochester Americans, winner of the American Hockey League's Calder Cup, will share $34,000 of a record 144,000 playoff pool, it was announced Friday. Hershey Bears received $28,000 for finishing second to Rochester in the playoffs. Quebec Aces, Eastern Division and losers in playoff semi-finals, also were awarded $18,000. Baltimore Clippers and Pittsburgh Hornets received $8,000 each. Both teams were third in their divisions and first-round playoff losers.
Sherbrooke Beavers are leading their best-of-seven Allan Cup final with Nelson, B.C. by a commanding 3-0 count, but coach Bob Kroam insists his team is not finished in this battle for the Allan Cup.
We dropped out of the Charlottetown Driving Park yesterday and the track at the local oval is in extremely good condition. Opening night is set for June 5th and the drivers are busy exercising their respective horses for the coming season. The opening night's card will feature the $700.00 added winners of $1201 to $1600. This event has ten horse eligible. Seven other dashes will complete the card and with the added money to the purses this year it should prove to be a most successful season.
Paul Giusi won his fifth straight game for Houston with relief from Jim Owens in beating Chicago 5-4 Friday on a three run homer by Bob Aspromonte. Giusi, lifted in the seventh after he allowed a single to Dick Bertell and walked pinch-hitter Doug Clemens, helped his own cause with a two-run double off loser Lou Burdette in the second inning.

SPORT IN KING'S

Western Team Takes Ch'ship

By ED CLINTON
Souris Bureau of The Guardian
Summerside High School has come up with its second Island championship in a week. A week ago Saturday in Souris, the senior boys annexed the Volleyball title, and this past Saturday, in Morell, the Junior boys won their volleyball title. Only three schools were entered, Morell, Souris and the champs, Queen Charlotte were entered, but, failed to put in an appearance.
Summerside beat Morell in the first match 15-9, and 15-3. They then whipped Souris with no trouble 15-1, 15-5. Souris and Morell then met in the semi-finals, with Souris coming out on top 15-10, 15-13. In the latter set, Morell's lead held a 13-8 lead. In the finals, Summerside beat Souris 15-8, and 15-10. To the new champions, congratulations.
Well, I guess we avoided the issue long enough. Okay, okay, so Montreal won the Stanley Cup. If I could find the tears, I'd cry. It's not that I'm such a Chicago fan, (I'm still 100 per cent for Toronto), it's just that I'm so opposed to Montreal. I hate to see a team of belly-achers and cry-babies get anywhere. Those poor little fellows put up such a protest when they get tagged with a penalty. They're the only team in the league that makes such a fuss.
There's no denying that THEY were the better team. Especially in the skating and goal-tending department. The latter when the Gumper was in nets. And we did agree with the selection of "Big John" as winner of the Smythe Trophy. And, Mr. Ledwell, as soon as the ice clears away, and the boats can come and go, and we get some fish, you'll get your seven pound limit.
We haven't had the deciding game, or games, for the Johnny Young Trophy as yet. This is, in case you've forgotten, a best of nine series between East Point BCYF and the Souris Teachers, to decide the Eastern King's Men's Basketball championship. However, we expect this series to be concluded in the very near future.
There's a lot of talk floating around about getting a floating league organized. Baseball, except on a minor level, is fading out of the picture in this area, while interest is growing in the game of softball. It is expected that a meeting will be called in the near future to see if a league can be formed.
Two bowling championships were decided in Souris last week. In the Women's League, the perennial champs, the Prides did it again, eliminating the Top Notchers in straight games to win the title. Members of the champs are: Bernadette Mahar, Adeline Gallant, Margaret Hebert, Isabel Power, Frances Lavie and Emma MacDonald. The Men's League championship was won again by the Night Hawks. Members of this team are: Bernard MacAuley, Wilfred Bernard, Clifford Ford, Daniel Johnson, George Walsh, and Kenneth O'Hanley. In the Women's League Anne MacDonald of the LR Crushers picked up high average and high single, while Dorothy Young of the Top Notchers got high three. Kenneth O'Hanley of the Night Hawks picked up all the marbles for the Men's League. To all the winners, congratulations.
They, fellows, its getting near time to get ready for the baseball season. The diamonds are about ready to have some work done, and its also time to have league meetings to get things organized. Let's get with it, huh? The start is always draggy, so let's get it over with.
