DREDGE "WALKS" TO WORK
Giant dredge towering more than 220 feet high this 6000 ton dredging machine took two and a half years to build at Duwits, Germany. It is being moved to a coal-mine site a mile and a half away travelling on its own multi-track crawler creepers. The digger boom measures more than 500 feet and has the control mounted on the side of the revolving bucket head. The buckets dump their loads on a conveyor belt where it is carried to offshoot belts which load it into trucks.

Suggests National Co-Op Meeting Be Here In '60

One of several resolutions passed at yesterday 14th annual meeting of the Co-Operative Union of Prince Edward Island was that a proposal be made at the next Congress meeting that the 1960 national meeting be held in Charlottetown.

The proposal met with full approval of the delegates that attended the morning session.

Several other resolutions were also brought up, three of which were passed including the move to bring the 1960 Congress to the Island.

It was moved and forwarded that a letter of thanks be extended to the Extension Departments of both St. Francis Xavier and St. Dunstan's universities for their kind cooperation in arranging that Reid Sangster work as a field man in promoting the Island Co-Op movement.

The third was to remit a letter of appreciation to R. C. Parent, Superintendent of the Experimental Farm for allowing the Union to make use of the facilities at Birch Court.

Kenneth MacLean of Summerside became the newly elected president of the P. E. I. Co-Op Union and will serve on the board of directors with Bernard Shea of O'Leary and Ray Handrahan of Tignish.

PRESIDENT REPORTS

In his report to the Union, retiring president Louis O'Connor told the delegates that "...for the first time in many years, the Union is on a sound financial basis."

He added that much of the credit for the sound pioneer work belongs to the Co-Operative Union of Canada.

Mr. O'Connor said that a brief, presented to the Royal Commission in April, supported views expressed by the Federation of Agriculture and Maritime Co-Operative Service. It dealt in detail with speculation factors which seem to plague the potato and turnip growers in the area and met with favorable comment.

"It is worthy of note," he said, "that we were the only people in this province, or in fact the whole Atlantic region, to place those pertinent factors, on behalf of our potato and turnip growers, before the Commission."

MAJOR FACTOR

The securing of Reid Sangster as a field man for promotional work was considered to be a major factor in the development of the Union during the past year. This was done through the combined co-operation of the Extension departments of both St. Francis Xavier and St. Dunstan's universities.

The directors of the union felt confident that the organization had made rapid strides during the past year but warned that major setbacks and disappointments are always bound to occur.

AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE RECEPTION
Attending a reception in honor of a group of French Canadians from Quebec City, Montreal and Ottawa, who are touring the Maritimes, given at Government House yesterday afternoon, was Justice A. E. Arsenault, (left) retired Justice of the Supreme Court and former Premier of this Province. With him is Msgr. P. E. Gosselin, Director of L'Action Catholique, a Quebec City French-language newspaper, who is heading the tour.

The visitors, the first "La Liaison Francaise" group to tour the Maritimes, visited Mont Carmel Wednesday to attend the special ceremonies marking the 200th anniversary of the expulsion of the Acadians. They will leave today for Souris en route to the Magdalen Islands.

Remanded In Forgery Case

An 18-year-old resident of Sydney Mines pleaded guilty to five charges of uttering forged documents in City Police Court yesterday. The accused was remanded to Thursday, August 14 by Magistrate K.M. Martin.

Remanded from August 2 on one charge of uttering a forged document, a resident of Augustine Cove appeared yesterday on four new charges of the same nature. He was remanded to August 14.

Also remanded for one week on a charge of uttering a forged document was another Sydney youth. A fine of $150 and costs or 30 days was meted out to a 31-year-old resident of Your Lane who appeared on a drunken driving charge. The accused pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of driving while impaired.

Appearing on charges of being drunk and incapable were a resident of Dorchester Street who was sentenced to 15 days; a resident of Richmond Street who was fined $20 and costs or 10 days; a resident of Eldon who was given a suspended sentence; and a City man who was remanded to August 8.

Also charged with being drunk and incapable, two first offenders were fined $10 and costs or five days.

A resident of Fort Augustus charged with driving with defective brakes was fined $10 and costs or five days.

Professor Disagrees With Bard Of Clan MacMillan

Editor's note: Scots-born Major Calum MacLeod was named Gaelic advisor to the Nova Scotia education department in 1950. This year he will become Nova Scotia's first professor of Celtic. Recognized as the leading Gaelic authority in Nova Scotia, Major MacLeod disagreed with the bard-historian of the Clan MacMillan who Wednesday criticized the lack of Gaelic culture in Cape Breton.

Written for The Canadian Press by MAJOR CALUM MACLEOD - HALIFAX (CP) - I cannot agree with the Rev. Somerled MacMillan, of Paisley, Scotland, bard-historian of the Clan MacMillan, who implied recently that Cape Breton was not the North American stronghold of Gaelic culture he understood it to be.

The Gaelic seed was sown by the first Highland Scotch settlers and, although in certain areas it may have fallen upon stony ground, the promotion of Gaelic continues favorably.

It can be seen in the day-school curriculum in Cape Breton, at two Gaelic summer schools, in adult classes assisted by government grants, in the weekly Antigonish newspaper (The Casket), in Gaelic street signs, in religious services and sometimes in election campaigns when used by politicians.

In the world of Gaelic long playing records we, in Nova Scotia, can claim a definite first.

Montague Legion Home Is Considered At Meeting

The proposed erection of a Legion Home, 40 x 90 ft., housing bowling alleys and a possible hall with stage, was the topic of a very lively discussion last night at the regular monthly meeting of the Montague Branch, Canadian Legion.

A finance committee consisting of Milton Fitzpatrick (chairman), George Ferguson, Athol Robertson and Hurmon Martin, was appointed to look further into the matter, with the final decision to be made at a special meeting at which building plans will be presented.

The regular business meeting, with president comrade George Clary presiding, was carried out and the financial report was presented by the secretary treasurer, comrade Roddy Martin, which showed the branch to be in a sound financial position.

Comrade George McCannell was appointed chairman of the Red Cross blood donor's bank which is to be held in Montague later this month.

Steel Workers Vote To Strike To Back Demands

HALIFAX (CP) - Employees of the Steel Company of Canada voted Wednesday to strike if necessary to support demands recently refused by a conciliation board.

An official of the United Steelworkers of America (U.S.A.) said 5,493 of 6,255 workers who voted favored strike action. Workers eligible to vote numbered 7,465. Seven hundred and forty-two opposed a strike and 30 ballots were invalidated.

The union's policy committee met immediately to discuss further moves.

Earlier Wednesday the company's industrial relations manager, Harold T. Clawson, offered to meet union officials to discuss improvements in the plant's insurance program.

Negotiations were to be resumed Aug. 18 when they were broken off last Friday with the release of a conciliation board report recommending against wage increases.

The union demands had added up to a package increase of 33 cents an hour. Under a two-year contract that expired March 31 average wages were $2.56 an hour and the basic rate $1.73 1/2.

Was Formerly Of North River

The death occurred after a lingering illness at Podville Hospital, Massachusetts, on July 23rd, of Eva G. Moreside, youngest member of the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Moreside of North River, P.E.I. and beloved wife of Herman E. Boynton, Canton, Mass.

Besides a sorrowing husband three sisters survive her, Mrs. P. J. Berrigan, Clyde River, the Misses May and Adele Moreside of Waban and Brookline, Mass. respectively, also four nieces and several nephews.

Three brothers and one sister predeceased her.

Says Discrimination Against Negroes In Newfoundland

CORNER BROOK (CP) - Managing editor Ed Finn of The Western Star said Thursday some Stephenville, Nfld., businessmen are selling out their principles because white servicemen at the Ernest Harmon Air Base have threatened to boycott them if they deal with Negroes.

In this daily column, Mr. Finn said some of Stephenville's club-wielding businessmen "have knuckled down to this not-too-400-gold persuasion." The column followed complaints of discrimination from unidentified Negro airmen at the big USAF base about 50 miles southeast of here.

The Negro airmen said white girls employed on the base were fired for associating with Negroes, courteous and prompt service was denied them in some base recreational and dining facilities and civilian tavern and night club owners have been threatened with boycotts by white airmen if Negroes are admitted.

SEVERE ACTION

Col. Leon E. Bell of the USAF said last week in a memorandum to all military personnel that "swift and severe" action would be taken against anyone practicing discrimination at Harmon.

Mr. Finn said "the Stephenville businessmen ... are practicing discrimination, not because they believe it is the proper thing to do, but because they fear they will lose money if they don't. They are selling out their principles for monetary gain."

He said business operators "are therefore more to be condemned than the misguided white airmen who have pressured them into becoming segregationists."

The number of airmen stationed at the base has not been disclosed.

British P.M. Going To Athens Today For Talks On Cyprus

LONDON (CP) - Prime Minister Macmillan will fly to Athens today for talks with Greek government officials in a personal attempt to bring peace to Cyprus.

He has offered to go to Ankara also for talks with the Turkish government on the Cyprus issue, the foreign office announced.

"It is hoped a favorable reply will be received from the Turkish prime minister (Adnan Menderes) so that Mr. Macmillan can also go to Ankara," a foreign office spokesman said.

The Macmillan offer to confer followed calls by Turkish and Greek underground organizations for a cease-fire in the renewed communal feuding that has brought a month of bloodshed to the British Mediterranean island, Greek Cypriots, forming the majority of the island's inhabitants, want union with Greece, Turkish Cypriots seek partition of Cyprus.

SHOW WILLINGNESS

On several occasions Macmillan has expressed the wish for Cyprus meetings - either separately or together - with the Greek and Turkish prime ministers. Both premiers have shown willingness to attend any such talks.

Britain's latest plan for Cyprus, announced last June, obviously will be high on the agenda at Macmillan's talks in Athens.

The plan, which has been criticized by Greek Archbishop Makarios, the exiled Greek Cypriot leader, provides for separate Greek and Turkish political organizations on the island for seven years.

During that time a system of representative government and autonomy for both Greek and Turkish communities could be worked out under British sovereignty.

Producers

field work men for the Co-Operative Union, said that at an April 9th meeting of a committee to study the producers setup, it was noted that the relationship between the central and the local showed considerable misunderstanding. It is this misunderstanding, he said, that must be cleared up in order that the Association might truly be called co-operative.

He added that the farmers should have a little more faith in the locals. He said that the only answer to a true co-operative movement "can be found in pooling one's products."

Mr. Sangster said that he felt Mr. MacDonald was shouldering too much responsibility in the Association and suggested that an assistant be found to handle part of the load.

"In all due respect to Mr. MacDonald," he said, "a man, no matter how healthy, can take just so much."

Mr. O'Connor, though stepping down from his presidential post, agreed to stand on the board of directors. Other directors include Kenneth MacDonald and Frank Deagle.

Mrs. Peterson of the Credentials Committee, reported that there were 12 voting delegates attending the meeting along with 30 local representatives and 13 guests.

Accuse Hoffa Of Going Back On Promise Re Racketeers

WASHINGTON (AP) - Senate investigators accused James R. Hoffa Thursday of going back on his promise to drive racketeers and hoodlums out of the Teamsters Union.

Reasonable men, Senator John L. McClellan told the union boss, can only conclude that "you surround yourself with criminals, and that you keep them there and intend to keep them there if you can have your way."

"There will be action taken in due time," Hoffa replied.

He spent a rough day before a special senate racketeers committee headed by McClellan, a day in which:

1. A transcript of some Hoffa testimony before the committee last year was sent to the justice department for a decision on whether he or another witness who appeared Thursday has perjured himself.

2. Hoffa was asked whether he ever gave any arson assignments to Frank Kierdorf, a Teamsters' business agent in Flint, Mich., who died Thursday of mysterious inflamed burns. Hoffa replied with an indignant denial.

DIRECT CONFLICT

McClellan said there was a direct conflict between Hoffa's testimony last year and that given Thursday by Embrel Davidson, a heavy-weight boxer now living in Youngstown, Ohio.

Justice department lawyers will try to decide whether Hoffa or Davidson lied under oath and whether a prosecution is justified. The maximum penalty upon conviction is five years and a fine of $10,000.

Hoffa swore last Aug. 20 that no Teamsters funds ever were paid to Davidson.

The big Negro fighter testified Thursday he had drawn $75 a week for nearly two years from the Michigan Teamsters health and welfare fund. His job, Davidson said, was to cut the grass at the home of Owen J. (Bert) Brennan and help out around a racetrack owned by Brennan.

Brennan is a Teamsters vice-president and a business partner of Hoffa's in some lucrative outside enterprises. For a time he

Cape Breton Scouts Rally Around Their Gaelic Mod

STE. ANNS, N. S. (CP) - Cape Breton Scouts rallied around their Gaelic Mod Thursday, swinging verbal claymores at the bard-historian of Clan MacMillan who said the mod was a phoney.

"Arrogance, ignorance and egotism lend themselves in a manner unbecoming to a true Scotman," said Rev. Gordon MacLellan of Pittsburgh, Pa., a native Cape Bretoner.

Soviet Union Propaganda In Mid-East Crisis Is Switched

By VINCENT BUIST

MOSCOW (Reuters) - The Soviet Union has dropped efforts to persuade the world that the West threatens war in the Middle East and switched instead Thursday to hoisting a propaganda backdrop for a United Nations clash on issues in the Arab world.

An official announcement said Red army manoeuvres near the Turkish and Iranian frontier have ended. Accusations that the West planned new aggression in the Middle East ceased abruptly this week.

Comment in the official newspapers now is devoted to preparing Russia's case for the forthcoming United Nations General Assembly debate in the Middle East. The West is charged both with intervention and "indirect aggression."

The manoeuvres started July 18 as American troops were landing in Lebanon and British forces arrived in Jordan. The next day Premier Khrushchev launched his proposal for an East-West summit conference, saying that the presence of Anglo-American troops in the Middle East could provoke war.

Justice department lawyers will try to decide whether Hoffa or Davidson lied under oath and whether a prosecution is justified. The maximum penalty upon conviction is five years and a fine of $10,000.

Hoffa swore last Aug. 20 that no Teamsters funds ever were paid to Davidson.

The big Negro fighter testified Thursday he had drawn $75 a week for nearly two years from the Michigan Teamsters health and welfare fund. His job, Davidson said, was to cut the grass at the home of Owen J. (Bert) Brennan and help out around a racetrack owned by Brennan.

Brennan is a Teamsters vice-president and a business partner of Hoffa's in some lucrative outside enterprises. For a time he
