THE FAILURES OF THE GIFTED.

A poor, ragged drunkard at the bar of a police court, and right that it is, needs no explanation; every spectator perceives that he is a man in ruins. He was born; he was an innocent child, the pride and darling of his parents; he became a man, with the hopes and the ambitions of a man.

We love to decorate our vice with fine names. When a great genius deteriorates in its prime, and falls just when it naturally would shine its brightest and do its best, we do not like to attribute to it a mere obscuration to a cause so commonplace as the indulgence of a man's appetite for a strong drink.

A scene in London was described to me a while ago by a late valued friend. It occurred about three o'clock in the morning at a dinner party of some of the brightest spirits of the time. The king of the feast was the first of living writers in his kind of literature, and his name is known now where the English language is read, and far beyond its realm.

He sat upright at the table at three o'clock in the morning, for he had a peculiarly of constitution which, as he said, made his legs drunk long before his head was touched. He was still talking gaily, if not brilliantly, though he could not move from his chair.

THE CAPTAIN'S REMARKABLE STATEMENT.

He Says: Paine's Celery Compound Knocks Out the Medical Practitioner.

Encouraging Testimony from a Popular Winnipeg Resident.

CAPTAIN DOUGLAS.

It would be a difficult matter to find one hundred people in the progressive city of Winnipeg, who do not know popular Captain Douglas.

The genial and whole-souled Captain is the proprietor of the famous Leland House, amongst the best appointed of Canada's modern hotels.

He daily recommends it to his fellow citizens, when they complain of trouble such as rheumatism, weakness, nervousness, sleeplessness, dyspepsia, liver and kidney troubles and impure blood.

He says without hesitation that the great medicine "knocks out" the medical practitioner.

It is through the Captain's influence and strong recommendation that Mr. G. Swain, the well-known C. P. R. station-master, of Winnipeg, used Paine's Celery Compound, and found a cure, when the doctors and other medicines had failed to banish his rheumatism.

Captain Douglas, in order to encourage and benefit Canadians, writes as follows:—

"It gives me very great pleasure to say a word in favor of your excellent preparation known as Paine's Celery Compound. I was troubled for some time with indigestion, sleeplessness, and a general feeling of lassitude, all of which have been banished after using your Compound. I can recommend it with confidence to all who need such a valuable tonic."

In a later letter regarding his success with nature's health-restorer, the Captain says:—

"You know well what I think of Paine's Celery Compound. It is a most valuable medicine, and I can truly bear testimony to its excellent restorative and invigorating qualities; in fact, it knocks out the medical practitioner. A person has only to use it to know its worth to the human family.

Through its use I now feel like a boy, and may Paine's Celery Compound long live to go on with its good work. I am pleased to lend my name to the grand work of extending a knowledge of this valuable Compound, and can never say too much in its favor, and you may be sure I shall never cease to sing its praises."

Beware of Frauds. The unflinching success of Dodd's Kidney Pills induces fraudulent imitators to attempt to pass worthless Remedies on the Public.

Toronto, May 7.—This appears to be an age of fakes and frauds. It seems impossible for any new idea or valuable invention to be made known without a host of imitators trying to foist their goods on an unsuspecting public in the hope of making an unmerited profit of their worthless ideas.

The unequalled success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in curing all forms of kidney disease, has led to the introduction of many cheap and base imitations that are worse than valueless. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy ever offered in pill form.

More than forty per cent of the English people could not write the name when Victoria ascended the throne. The proportion in that condition has now been reduced to seven per cent.

A Prominent Lawyer Says, "I have eight children, every one in good health, not one of whom but has taken Dodd's Emulsion, in which my wife has boundless confidence."

Canada has one million miles of unexplored territory. Pond's Extract, Large sums of money are spent by the afflicted to find relief from Piles. Pond's Extract cures piles.

A lady will sometimes spend hours selecting dress goods. She is not desirous of giving trouble at all. But there are conflicting claims. There are considerations of durability, of texture, of draping, Priestley's dress fabrics have reached a niche in the popular esteem when conflict ceases to vex.

It is enough to get Priestley's black dress goods to feel confident that you have the best. They wear better than any other make.
