

Message from the Editor

Welcome back UPEI students to another semester of The Gem! Hope you all had a great holiday.

I would like to thank those of you who contributed to The Gem last semester by submitting something, helping at layout night, or doing the many other little jobs there are to do. I would especially like to thank our regular staff and volunteers, those of you who help in some way every week. We couldn't do it without your help! I am hoping that all of you will join us again this semester, along with a few new people we know you're out there!

For those of you who have not submitted anything to The Gem, why not take a half hour or so a week and drop something into the ole submissions slot or mail it to vax account GEM? Write about something which is going on at UPEI (or any other university), write a poem, submit something to our letters column, sketch a cartoon, or design a front cover. These are just a few ideas to get you started.

Layout night is every Tuesday at around 7:00pm. For those of you who haven't dropped in yet our office is in the basement of Main building (near the pop machine). As an added bonus for helping at layout, we'll provide you with delicious food from Father's absolutely free. See the editor for more details.

I'd just like to remind all you submitters that the deadline is Monday at 3:00. Any submissions which come in after this time can, and probably will be rejected for that issue. Our typesetter and productions staff are full time students too!

The editor's office hours will appear somewhere in this issue, as well as being posted on the office door. If I can not be reached at the office please feel free to contact me at home, if necessary.

There are still several positions to be filled at the Gem, such as sports editors and writers, contest committee, graphics editor, and many more. If you have any ideas or suggestions feel free to let us know. We may not be able to try all of them but we'll give it a good effort.

I would also like to point out that we reserve the right to limit submissions. In other words, not every submission will get in a particular issue because of space limitations. If you submit something which does not get in the paper, we will do our best to get it in the next issue, providing that it complies with Gem policy. Please remember to put your name and phone number on your submissions or it will not be printed, and all submissions are the property of the Gem, they will not be returned under most circumstances. The staff of the Gem hope you like the aesthetic changes we have made this semester your comments or suggestions are invited and appreciated.

Best of luck in your studies this semester.

Sincerely,
Terri Lyn Hall
Gem Editor

Submission Policy

We reserve the right to edit submissions due to taste and/or space limitations and not to print submissions that are submitted after the deadline of Monday at 3:00pm. Submissions to the GEM become the property of the GEM unless other arrangements have been made. All submissions can be submitted to the GEM through the GemSlot on the office door in Main Building Room B06 or through the VAX to account GEM. (We cherish typed submissions.) Those which are libelous, racist, homophobic, or attempt to incite violence or hatred toward a particular person or group will not be printed.

Any member of the university community can make a contribution to The GEM, but the editor also reserves the right to print submissions from outside the university community.

The staff of the GEM can be seen in their natural habitat in their basement office in Main Building, room B06. We can also be contacted by voice by calling 566-0629, or leaving a message with our secretary at 566-0530. We also have an ambitious News Editor that loves to get mail, our address is:

UPEI Engineering Week

January 22 to 26

The UPEI Engineering Society would like you to be a part of Engineering Week. The society has planned a number of interesting events including a food drive for the Upper Room, snow sculptures, snow golf, and much more.

Last year's food drive was able to provide more than a ton of non-perishable goods for the Upper Room and with your help they plan to exceed that figure. Your support would make a great difference to those people who depend on the Upper Room, so be prepared to give what you can.

National Engineering Week is annually celebrated at all universities in Canada which provide programs in engineering. Each university celebrates the week in it's own way, by arranging trips to other Engineering departments at other universities, by providing public exhibits of projects, as well as many other activities.
