

Selected Poetry.

SOLOMON RAY.

hard, close man was Solomon Ray,
othing of value he gave away:
He hoarded and saved,
And pinched and shaved,
And the more he had the more he craved.

The hard-earned dollars he toiled to gain
Brought him little but care and pain;
For little he spent,
And all he lent
He made it bring him twenty per cent.

Such was the life of Solomon Ray:
The years went by, and his hair grew gray,
His cheeks grew thin,
And his soul within
Grew hard as the dollars he worked to win.

But he died one day, as all men must;
For life his fleeting, and man but dust.
The heirs were gay
That laid him away,
And that was the end of Solomon Ray.

They quarrelled now, who had little cared
For Solomon Ray while his life was spared:
His lands were sold,
And his hard-earned gold
All went to his lawyers, I am told.

Yet men will cheat and pinch and save,
Nor carry their treasures beyond the grave.
All their gold some day
Will melt away
Like the selfish savings of Solomon Ray.

Household Hints.

Rich Coffee Cake.—Two cupfuls of butter, three of sugar, one of molasses, one of very strong coffee, one of cream or rich milk, the yolks of eight eggs, one pound each of raisins and currants, one-half pound of citron, the same of figs, and five cupfuls of browned flour after it is sifted. Put the flour in the oven, and watch it well to keep from burning until it is a nice brown. When cold, sift with it three teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a little salt; cut the figs in as long strips as you can; dredge all the fruit with flour; beat the cake up well, and bake in a moderate oven from four to five hours.

Peach Cobbler.—Make a rich biscuit crust; put it, rolled thick, around the dish; put in a layer of peaches, then butter and sugar, and a very little flour, then peaches, and so on, till the dish is full; cover with a thick crust, cut a slit in the centre, and pour in boiling water till full; bake in a moderate oven.

Apple Eggs.—Pare and core a convenient number of apples, leaving them whole; fill with sugar, and pour over water; then place in oven; when nicely baked, take eggs, prepared as for an omelet, pour in and over the apples, and return to oven for about ten minutes; grate over them nutmeg, and serve hot.

Italian Cream.—Set a quart of milk, sweetened with white sugar, on the fire to boil; break the whites of six eggs into one bowl and the yolks into another; beat up the whites to a high froth, and as soon as the milk boils, take with a fish-knife large flakes, and lay them lightly on the boiling milk. After letting them boil a few minutes, repeat the operation with the remainder of the whites, and pile it high in the centre of a glass dish. Make a custard of the yolks and milk, and pour around the whites. Touch the top flakes with cochineal essence.

Facts and Seraps.

The French navy is only in its infancy. Many of the vessels are still at Brest.

—France is henceforth to be an unlimited Arch-Republic, governed by McMahon and a bishop. The office will be called the Marshall See.

—Bismarck has written to Moltke to say that the French are too lazy now to care much about politics. The little excitement at present is only a Parisian war.

—How much will your new schoolbooks cost, Johnny?" says father. Johnny calculates to himself, solo voce. "Lemme see; 62 cents for the singing-book, 75 cents for a new arithmetic, $1.25 for a new geography, 25 cents for a hockey, half a dollar for a new hat, and a quarter for candy." Then out loud says: "Bout $4, pa!"

—Thomas Hook once dined with Hatchett, at his delightful villa of Belle Vue, famous for its culinary completeness. "Ah, my dear fellow," said his host, deprecatingly, "I am sorry to say that you'll not get to day such a dinner as our friend Tom Moor gave us." "Certainly not," replied Hook; "from a Hatchett one can expect nothing but a chop."

A school girl of one of the rural districts of Ohio was overheard trying to convince a school fellow that she liked him better than she did some other urchin of whom he seemed jealous. "Of course I like you better than I do Bill," said she "for don't I miss words in my spelling lesson on purpose, so as to be down to the foot of the class where you are!"

—There is a woman in Hartford who claims to have in her possession the identical torch that General Israel Putnam used when he went into the wolf's den. In commenting upon the fact, the Post says: "There remains to the archaeologists of America only one great thing to be exhumed—the discovery of the lie which George Washington could not tell."

—A hater of tobacco asked an old negro woman, the fumes of whose pipe were annoying to him, if she thought she was a Christian. "Yes, brudder, I 'spects I is." "Do you believe in the Bible?" "Yes, brudder." "Do you know that there is a passage in the Scriptures which says that nothing unclean shall enter the kingdom of heaven?" "Yes, I've heard of it." "Well Chole, you smoke, and you cannot enter the kingdom of heaven, because there is nothing so unclean as the breath of a smoker. What do you say to that?" "Why, I 'spects to 've my brelf behind when I go dar."
