

Outsiders assault Marian Hall resident

By Carolyn Ryan

It's Wednesday, twelve midnight.

Two Marian Hall residents leave the Blanchard Hall house party and walk back to residence.

Stopping to talk to three girls from Bernardine, they notice three youths loitering in the area, but think nothing of it.

The youths try unsuccessfully to enter the girls' residence, but are asked to leave.

The resident students are still in front of Marian Hall. One of the guys feels "a tap on the shoulder", and starts to turn around.

"The next thing I knew, I was on the ground," says Rick Tarkka, a third year Engineering student.

The victim of an uncalled for sucker punch, Tarkka's eye required stitches at a city hospital.

Such attacks are not known at UPEI, according to Director of Security A.J. MacLeod, although "it's not something that's a regular thing."

He tentatively connects the violence with situations where younger people from other areas come here to events, but are barred from entering.

Whatever the cause, Marian Hall went up in arms.

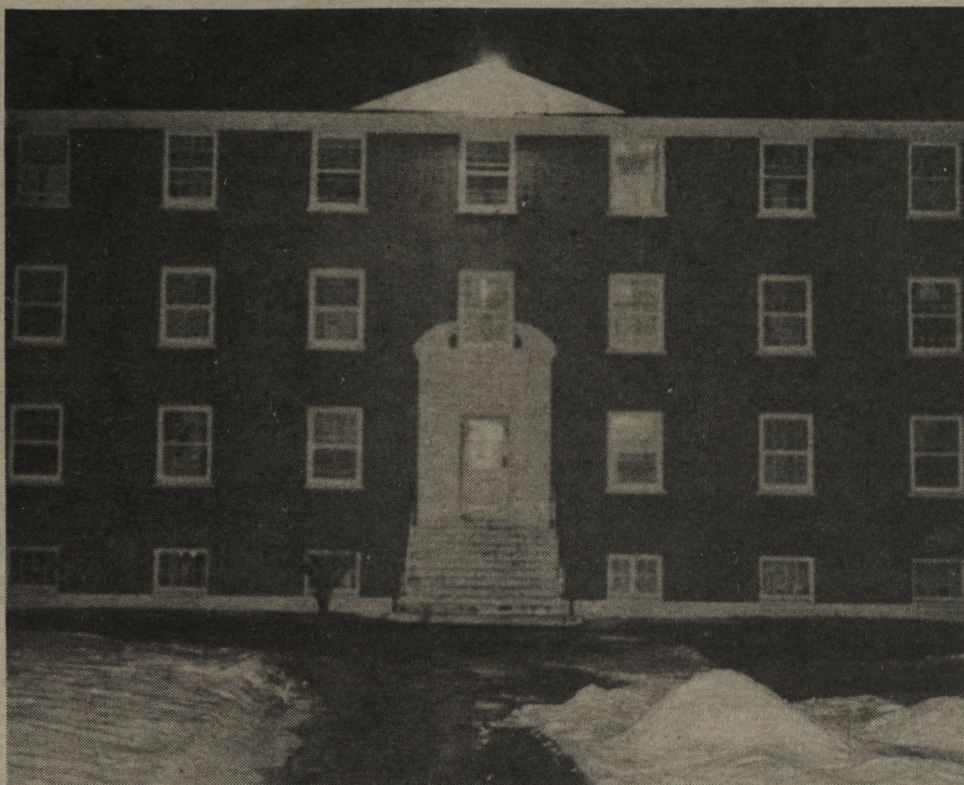

After Tarkka was attacked, the other resident struggled with the intruders, with the help of a couple of well-placed kicks from one of the Bernardine girls.

And, according to one witness, "(Marian Hall) emptied in two minutes." About twenty residents gathered at the home of the one assailant they knew, and waited.

Fortunately for him, their wait was in vain. The suspect arrived home in an RCMP car. He will be charged, according to MacLeod, under Section 244-1-A of the Criminal Code of Canada. (Security, under the charge of Officer John McEntee, conducted the investigation.)

Food service to be picked

This week is an important one for everyone who eats in the UPEI cafeteria or buys from the lunch cart in the library. You didn't know that?

This week the Food Service selection committee decides what food company services UPEI for the next five years.

Three companies, Saga (the present service), Versa, and Beaver, have made detailed proposals to the committee.

The two students and three administrators were to meet on Tuesday to make the decision, which will be withheld until at least the middle of April.

The team garnered the prestigious Vince "you don't get any beer this year" Trophy.

Dorsey vacates Senate seat

Student Union president-elect Michelle Dorsey has resigned from her seat on the UPEI Senate, effective May 1, 1984.

Dorsey made the announcement early so that a by-election can be held for her position before the semester ends, a move that will keep student representation on Senate constant.

As SU president, Dorsey will automatically be a Senator.

Nominations are now open for the vacated seat, and will close Thursday April 5. The by-election will be held April 10, 1984.

This is the fourth week in a row that the SU Council has lost a member. The others consisted of three impeachments for attendance and two resignations.

Council also agreed that the SU should absorb half the $495 cost of having all bartenders and Campus Police take a Red Cross first-aid course.

The remainder of the $15 per person fee will be paid by the employees.
