

Regional Employment Office To Be Operated

In the last week of November and the first week of December, the National Employment Office in Charlottetown, will operate temporary offices in Souris, Montague, Murray River and Rustico.

Their principal job will be to take unemployment insurance claims from all people who live within a reasonable distance of these centres. Elsewhere in this paper, the location of the temporary offices together with the date each of them will be open for business, appears in an advertisement.

Each office of course will serve a wide area. Souris for instance, will take in such places as Elmira, East Point, and all the areas east of Souris. Souris will also serve Annandale, Fortune and the communities west of Souris. Murray River likewise, will take claims from people in Murray Harbour and anyone within travelling distance. The same can be said of Rustico and Montague.

As pointed out in the advertisement, it is most important to each claimant that he or she produce an insurance book when filling a claim, otherwise delays in the payment of a claim cannot be avoided.

By taking many of these claims which otherwise would be forwarded by mail, the National Employment Service believes that it can head off causes of delay which arise in other years because claims were filed incorrectly.

Four teams have been trained to staff the temporary offices, some of whom are casual workers employed to cope with the seasonal "blitz" of claims which occurs annually in the late fall and after Christmas. With each team, however, will be regular members of the Employment Office staff who have had long experience in unemployment insurance procedure.

Staff training in all unemployment insurance offices is customary throughout the year, and at the present time, it is being carried out in the local office by various supervisors. Much of the training material is prepared at the commission's head office in Ottawa; some originates in the regional office at Moncton, and other studies are drawn up by local office officials.

The temporary offices which are to be set up, will not only take claims but will be prepared to give information to employers on any other matters related to the Unemployment Insurance Act.

In all the areas affected, clerical men of various denominations have been asked to make announcements as to the location of each temporary office and the dates each will be in operation.

Last year more than 4000 claims were taken during the fall and winter months by the Charlottetown office, 3100 of which were from rural points. It is believed that perhaps 1500 claims will be taken in the temporary offices, and this to some extent should relieve the pressure at the main office in Charlottetown.

On occasions last winter, 150 people were waiting to file claims. For days at a time, it was not uncommon to have a continual parade of claimants from quite early in the morning till late in the evening.

The temporary offices should relieve the claimants of the necessity of being obliged to wait several hours to file a claim.

were broken and a wooden door was damaged.

Four of the accused, three boys and a girl, pleaded guilty to both charges while another boy pleaded guilty to the damage at Dunstaffnage but entered a not guilty plea to the 10-Mile House school incident.

The four were adjourned for sentence to Friday, November 21st.

The cases against the remaining five were adjourned for hearing until November 21st.

Four North Rustico boys, appeared on charges arising out of a dance hall incident at New Glasgow on October 21st. Three of the four were charged with using obscene language.

CASE ADJOURNED

A charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated against a Souris resident was adjourned Monday, November 17th. The crown completed its case against the accused when three witnesses appeared including a Lakefield man who phoned the R.C.M.P. in Charlottetown after the accused's car allegedly had come dangerously close to causing an accident involving his car.

The arresting officer who picked the accused up at Marshfield near the York Road and another R.C.M.P. officer who was present at the Barracks when the arrest was made.

Two crewmen of the S.S. Miquelon and a city man appeared on charges arising out of violations of the Customs Act.

The city resident pleaded guilty to a charge of having possession of goods unlawfully imported into Canada. The goods in question were 36 bottles of undeclared spirits which were found in a warehouse near where the ship is docked. He was fined $50 and costs or 30 days.

It was further noted that the accused would be forced to pay an appraised custom's value of the goods which was $2 per bottle.

Where There's A Will . . .
An Old Proverb says, "Where there's a will there's a way." Speaking of a Will in a legal sense—many thoughtful Christian persons when making their Will, remember the Bible Society with a best interest in so doing, help spread the Gospel long after they have passed on.
What finer thing could we do with our money than leave a legacy that "moth and dust will not corrupt . . ." It means actually following Christ's injunction to "lay up treasure for yourselves in Heaven."
When making or revising your Will—why not carefully and thoughtfully consider this great investment?
Money is particularly needed at this time to meet the unprecedented demand for the Scriptures—a demand that will continue to grow-along with rising costs.
We on The Island also help when we make a purchase at the Bible House, the profits of which are used to further the work. At this time is featured appropriate gift items: Bibles, books, plaques, notices, program material and greeting cards. You are invited to visit—

Mrs. John A. MacDonald presided at the regular monthly meeting of the Holy Redeemer sub-division of the C.W.L. held last week at the Community Centre.

The business of the meeting centered for the most part on the regular program of the group. Bills for extensive repairs to the church furnace were approved for payment, and a donation of $15 was approved for the Birchwood Library fund.

A discussion was held on catering services, and it was decided to buy additional equipment for this work prior to the garrison mess dinner that was held on the eve of Armistice Day.

Membership in the sub-division continues to grow from 261 in June to the present high of 323 members. Mrs. Arthur Lawlor reported a growing interest in the C.W.L. national publication, with 37 additional subscriptions being taken out in the past month.
