Medical aid was summoned and all that could be done for the unfortunate fellow was done. He still lies in an unconscious state.

PRESENTATION.—Miss Carrie P. Dingwell, organist in the Presbyterian Church, Souris, was lately waited on by Mrs. John McLean and Mrs. Charles Sterns, who in the name of the congregation presented her with well-filled purses as a token of their appreciation of her services. And on the following Sunday, Mr. A. Currie, superintendent of the Sunday school, presented her, in the name of the Sunday school, with a beautiful pocket Bible.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.—The Guardian reports that a very sad accident occurred at Murray Harbor South a short time ago. Francis Baker and several others were coasting down a hill in front of the Post Office, when three sleds reached the foot of the hill. Two of the boys on the foremost sleds were following each other very rapidly, and each tried to steer clear of the approaching team. Frank Roberts' team was ahead. One of the boys seeing he could not clear the team, jumped from his sled, and it went directly under the horses' feet. This so frightened the horse that it sprang forward just as Baker came down the hill, ran over the sled and inflicted such a wound on his scalp that it rendered him unconscious. He died the afternoon of the following day at six o'clock.

GOLD CURE.—Mr. W. S. McDonald, of Halifax, who is here in the interests of the celebrated gold cure for drunkenness, was present at Charlottetown Lodge, No. 63, I. O. G. T., last night. Mr. McDonald is a member of the Order, and gave an interesting and instructive address descriptive of the workings of the gold cure. There was a large number of members of the Order present, as well as the members of Excelsior Juvenile Temple, and all listened with rapt attention to the speaker. At the close of the address he was tendered a unanimous vote of thanks on behalf of Charlottetown Lodge and Excelsior Temple, which was responded to by Mr. McDonald, after which a short programme of speeches, readings, &c., was carried out and a pleasant evening was brought to a close about 10 o'clock by the usual ceremony. One new member was added by initiation.

PERISHED IN THE STORM.

Mrs. Robertson loses Her Way and Five Days Later Her Dead Body is Found. A sad death from exposure to the snow and cold is reported from North Carleton, in this province. Mrs. Sarah Robertson, a widow of 74 years, left the home of her brother, John McDonald, where she had been living for the past ten years, on an errand to the house of a neighbor, Major Hooper, a relative of the deceased. Though not returning, her brother had no reason to become alarmed, as he thought she had reached Mr. Hooper's and remained, owing to the storm and condition of the roads. On Thursday morning, 14th inst., the dead body of Mrs. Robertson was found in the snow, only a short distance from her brother's house, where she had laid for nearly five days. Dr. Doherty, coroner, of Cape Traverse, was summoned and held an inquest in view of the body. After hearing the evidence of several witnesses the jury returned the following verdict: "That the deceased came to her death from exposure to cold from having lost her way on a snow-covered road from McDonald's to her own home."

KING'S COUNTY TEMPERANCE ALLIANCE.

Considering the condition of the roads there was good attendance at the annual meeting of the King's County Temperance Alliance at Lower Montague on Tuesday, Rev. W. Phelan, First Vice-President, presided.

After the approval of the minutes of last meeting, the reports of the officers were read and adopted. The election of officers resulted as follows:— President.—Rev. W. A. Mason, Georgetown. Secretary.—W. Lawson, Montague, (re-elected).

First Vice-President, Rev. W. Phelan; Second " " John Weatherbie; Third " " Wm. McLeod; Treasurer, Rev. W. H. Spencer.

The chairman, Rev. W. Lawson, Rev. W. A. Mason and Mr. John Weatherbie, then spoke regarding the condition of affairs in certain sections of the County in respect to the liquor traffic. The action of the Stipendiary Magistrate for the County in respect to the enforcement of the law was freely discussed, and the correspondence with him on the subject was read to the meeting. Rev. W. Lawson related details of the ravages of intemperance in Montague. He said some scenes, worse than could be seen on the streets of our great cities, had been witnessed in Montague by the inhabitants during the last six months. There was more daring defiance of law than would be allowed almost anywhere in P. E. Island. This fact had at last been recognized by the citizens, on whom he had called personally, and a citizens' league had been formed.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:— Whereas, This Alliance having heard the statements of its members in regard to the rum traffic in the country, especially at Montague and Georgetown;

Whereas, Having heard the explanations of Stipendiary Magistrate and his reasons for not coming to Montague to act on the abundant evidence furnished him, therefore resolved that we hereby express our conviction of the insufficiency of both explanation and reason, and our disapproval of his delay. Also resolved that we urge immediate action by the Stipendiary in the enforcement of the C. T. A. in Montague and Georgetown.

The finding of Stipendiary Magistrate Hazard in the case of the Charlottetown Club was freely discussed and followed by this resolution which was unanimously carried:— Resolved, That this alliance co-operate with all other temperance organizations in testing the legality of the Stipendiary's finding in the case of said club recently tried.

It was also unanimously resolved:— "That we, as a body of temperance workers now in session, hereby ask the Government of this Province to supplement in some tangible way, the salary of the prosecutor, Wm. H. Bears. We would earnestly recommend in connection with other temperance bodies, that ten per cent. on all convictions obtained by him be allowed as remuneration and that said amount be given as supplement to his salary, and that committee be appointed to report the said resolution to your Government."

Rev. W. Mason moved and Rev. W. Lawson seconded the following motion, which was unanimously adopted:— That this alliance do hereby recognize and express its appreciation of the energetic and faithful services of Rev. W. Phelan, P. P., during the past and previous years as first vice-president of the Alliance.

A similar resolution was passed concerning the Secretary. The next meeting of the Alliance will be held in Georgetown on the last Wednesday in March next, at 2 p. m., sharp.

A local paper at Quebec says a strange character named Giroux died suddenly at Beaufort from disease of the heart at the age of sixty years. A number of years ago deceased retired from business as a contractor, since when it appears, he has been living the life of an anchorite, wearing hair cloth next his skin, scouring himself, keeping Lent all the year round, and isolating himself from his family in a small room in his house, where he slept on three planks, without pillows or coverings of any kind. He was also a miracle worker.

Y. M. C. A. ENTERTAINMENT.

The orchestral club, headed by Mr. Vinicombe, filled much the larger space in the entertainment last evening at the Masonic Temple. A very critical ear might have detected some slight discrepancies in their playing, but the audience at large evidently considered it excellent. Indeed, the fact that such a large high-class musical organization can be maintained in Charlottetown is highly creditable to the city, to the musicians comprising it, and in an especial manner to Mr. Vinicombe, whose violin solo was one of the gems of the entertainment. A concert duet was very well given by Messrs. Stewart and Worth, whose improvement in playing the instruments of their choice many have been very gratifying to their many friends. Vocal solos were sung by Mrs. J. M. McLeod, Miss Annie Sinclair, Miss Barrett, Miss Annie Hudman, Miss Minnie Moore and Mr. B. Bremner. All were well rendered and several were enthusiastically cheered. In response to an encore, that talented pupil of Mr. Earle—Miss Sinclair—sang the popular song of the evening, a patriotic ballad which touched the hearts of all. The accompaniment by Miss Palmer, Miss Hill and Mr. Earle were admirable. As for the readings, we mean no disparagement to Messrs. Warren and Weeks, who especially commended that of Miss Flora McKenzie. Indeed the latter was judging by the rapt attention of the audience and the enthusiastic applause at the close, the greatest success of the entire entertainment. We heartily congratulate the talented young lady, and trust that she will go on to improve the talent of which she is possessed. There are faults to be corrected and faults to be avoided, as well as a power to be developed. It is pleasing to note that Miss McKenzie has not yet acquired that stiffness of manner on the stage which seems to say to the audience, "I think myself somewhat better than you," and which is death to the popularity of even the most talented.

In the early part of the entertainment the Opera House was uncomfortably cool and damp; but upon the whole the Y. M. C. A. entertainment by Miss Palmer, Mr. Hill and Mr. Earle will be pronounced enjoyable and successful.

OBITUARY.

The death of Henrietta Jane Norton, widow of the late George Moore, Esq., of Brudenell River, in King's County, removes one of the most respected and intelligent of the early pioneers of Three Rivers. Mrs. Moore was born at Carnarvon, in Wales, in the year 1806, and emigrated to this Island in the year 1819 with her father, the late John Norton, Esq. The eldest of a large family, she was the last of them to close her eyes in this world; and during her long useful life was ever found a wise counsellor and faithful friend, a comforter to those in trouble and a good neighbor to all who were in her vicinity. A taste for literature, rarely found in former days among those who live outside of the immediate influences of city life, she steadily improved her mind with the writings of the best authors; and was well informed on current topics, even up to her last days.

The mother of a large family, her industry and carefulness still found time for many kindly deeds; and all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance could not but admire her wealth of her information and the beauty of her character.

Married at an early age, for nearly seventy years she lived at her pleasant home, beside the Brudenell River, which, from being a small clearing in the wilderness, became a large and well-tilled homestead. Shortly after entering her 90th year a sharp attack of inflammation of the lungs carried her off on the 28th inst. January, and the funeral, which was followed by nearly one hundred sleighs, took place on the 31st ultimo. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Emery, of Charlottetown, who in his address spoke highly of the Christian virtues of the deceased, with whom he was intimately acquainted during his pastorate of the Baptist Church at Montague.

Among the surviving members of Mrs. Moore's family may be mentioned, John H. Moore, of Boone Bay, Newfoundland; Wm. H. Fredk. G., and Herbert S. Moore of Brudenell; Thomas Moore of California; Mrs. James H. Fletcher, (wife of ex-Governor Fletcher of Dakota) and Miss Emma Moore who resided with her mother.

The sorrow that is felt by the friends of the departed is, in this case, tempered by the assurance that a good and faithful servant of the Lord has gone to her reward; and in extending the sympathy of The Examiner to those bereft, we do so on account of the grievous loss they have sustained in the death of a most faithful adviser.

A number of Yale medical students will visit Europe next summer.

There is a movement afoot in the United States to make military drill a part of the established training in the public schools. There are seven millions school boys in the States, and these, it is thought by the Grand Army organization, should be taught the use of arms.

MAKE

is one of the great differences in FURNITURE. Some concerns make up their goods so poorly that the lumber was really worth more before it was cut than after the Furniture was made.

EVERY DOLLAR

Our finer grades are made up better than the cheaper ones, in some respects, but the cheaper grades are made up with but one end in view—SERVICE.
