A Word or Two with the Legisla- tive Council Electors of the First District of King's.

GENTLEMEN,—The Legislative Council election, as you are aware, takes place on the 11th day of November. On that day it is your privilege, as well as your duty, to vote for a fit and proper person to serve you in the Legislative Council. Be sure and make no mistake in the vote which you are called upon to give on that occasion. If you vote for Thomas Kiekham, you are voting for a political dodger who is destitute of every principle that governs honorable, straightforward men. If you vote for Thomas Kiekham, you are voting for a man, who for selfish ends, attended a Conservative caucus, held shortly after his late brother's death, and when questioned by those present as to his pliances—for they had very good reason to suspect him—declared himself to be a most unflinching supporter of the Sullivan Government. When questioned further as to whether he had any intention of offering himself in the Conservative interest for his late brother's place in the Council, he answered by saying that he would take time to consider, after which, like his prototype—Benedict Arnold, he set out to betray his friends. He started for Charlottetown, and on his arrival at the Station there, was met by a Grit friend and conveyed in hot haste to the Grit caucus room in the Colonial Building, where he was, no doubt, warmly welcomed. What occurred there may be easily imagined, for the next place we find him is on his way home, whistling, with a bundle of Bowers requisitions under his arm. Once home, the signing of these requisitions in his shop engaged his special attention. He is Bowers' uncle you know, and was doubtless anxious then as now, to keep the seat in the family. But he counted without his host; for, notwithstanding his treachery and double dealing, his ambitious nephew was badly beaten at the polls. The election over, he devoted himself for a time to other pursuits. He turned up again in political circles on the eve of the local election. He wanted to run in conjunction with John McLean, but the Conservatives of your District were determined not to be deceived a second time by him. He still persisted, however, in saying he was a Conservative. Seeing that if McLean and McEachen secured their election there might be a chance for him for the vacant seat in the Legislative Council, he continued to attend the Liberal-Conservative caucuses, and was always ready to denounce, in his own verdant way, the hated "Davies Government." He went still further than this, for on election day he voted the Liberal-Conservative ticket, one of the candidates being the very man whom he is now opposing.

Again he puts in an appearance. There was a day when Conservative delegates of your district came together, and Thomas Kiekham came also among them. Their meeting was at South East, and their business was to select a candidate to represent the district in the Legislative Council. At that meeting, Mr. Charles McEachen was unanimously chosen. Ample time was given by the Chairman, John McLean, M. P., for others to be put in nomination, but none others were nominated. Thomas Kiekham himself voting "yea" for Charles McEachen. Two days after, Thomas Kiekham attended another convention, called this time by the Grits, and was proposed by Fred Morrow and J. R. McLean, as their candidate for the contest. He accepted, of course, and now seeks to be elected. He has been on the rounds for the last few weeks, and has, no doubt, already had his arm around some of your necks in canvassing you. Need we tell you to beware of him? He canvasses, when it suits, as a Conservative. He is not a Conservative. If he is anything, he is a Grit. Teach him a lesson that he will not soon forget. Vote for honest Charles McEachen, a man who never deceived you; and who, if elected, will go into Parliament upright, like a man. Vote for Charles McEachen, gentlemen, and you'll never regret it.

Political Meeting at Sturgeon.
The meeting at Sturgeon schoolhouse on Friday evening, the 29th ult., was attended by quite a number of the electors of that vicinity, as well as prominent politicians—both Conservatives and Liberals from other sections of the Second Legislative Council District. The meeting was organized by appointing Mr. French, Chairman, and Mr. Lavers Secretary.
Geo. F. Owen, Esq., the Liberal Conservative candidate, first addressed the electors, intimating that he had been chosen by a convention of delegates held at Georgetown on the 24th of August last, to contest the District in the interest of the Liberal-Conservative party, and explained that one of the reasons why he was chosen, was, owing to the fact that Mr. Clow, the representative for this District, whose term has not expired, resided in Murray Harbor District, and it was considered that his colleague should be a resident of the Cardigan District. He was of opinion that the expense of legislation might be profitably reduced by the abolition of the Legislative Council, and is going to contest the election on that platform, requesting the support of the electors to that end. He said that about $5,000 might be saved yearly by the abolition of said Council. In conclusion he said, if elected, he would vote for all measures introduced by the Government that would tend to lessen the expenditure in general.
John G. Scrimgeour, Esq., next addressed the electors, stating, as Mr. Owen, being chosen by a convention of delegates held at Montague in September last. He said that the question of abolition was not a party one, that property-holders should have a guard over Franchise Legislation, and believed that a good many Conservatives as well as Liberals are in favor of upholding the Council. He could not agree with Mr. Owen in his policy to support every measure that would tend to lessen the expenditure in general. He said he would support any measure that would tend to economical and honest Government. He showed how, in many instances, the expense of legislation and expenditure in general, might be reduced without abolishing the Council, such as by reducing the number of officers and assistants. He referred to the pier question and contended that the Local Government should have kept the piers, until they would succeed in getting the said Government to take charge of them. In conclusion he said that if elected he would support every measure that would be beneficial to the Island in general and the District in particular.

Hon. Samuel Prowse, being called on, said, in the first instance, he would take the opportunity of thanking the electors for their support in the recent contest by electing him at the head of the polls. He remarked that eight years ago, a majority was elected in favor of abolition, but that some had since changed their minds. He said that he did not blame anyone for so doing, but that he thought Mr. Annear should have returned to the people, when he changed his views. He was glad to hear Mr. Scrimgeour stating candidly his platform for the campaign. He described the course a bill had to undergo before becoming law. He referred to the Pier question and said that the Government did not give a receipt in full when they received the $77,000 compensation. He said that it is the intention of the Government to press their claim for full compensation. He also referred to the Subway Scheme, saying that he heard on pretty good authority that Sir John said he would not bestow $8,000,000 for the construction of the Subway, if it be shown to be feasible, but said he could not vouch for the truth of the statement.
Dr. Robertson was next called on and said that as he was nominated as a candidate for the approaching Dominion Election, he would refrain from making any remarks, further than as an elector. He believed that the Government were not sincere on the question of Abolition. He referred to a statement made by Mr. Annear, at a meeting at Montague the evening before, regarding a report that he held his seat for the sake of the money. But he (Sir A.) told them that he could have received on three different occasions, emoluments worth twice as much as his councillor's pay.
Mr. W. C. White being called on, expressed his thanks to the electors for their support in the recent contests, though defeated. He referred to the policy of the government of Messrs. Coles and Whelan. He was not in favor of abolition, and said that if the expense of legislation is too great, he would approve of cutting down the members pay. He referred to the infamous circulars circulated during the recent campaign, which elicited quite a lively discussion during which it was stated and acknowledged that John Jamieson, Esq., distributed three circulars the day before the election, and claimed the right to do so; Mr. Clow said that he gave one to Mr. French about 4 o'clock the evening of the election, but said he did not circulate any before. It was also stated that Mr. Augustine Melnis distributed a bundle at the Chapel the day before election. During the discussion Dr. Robertson asked Messrs. Clow and Owen to name any Liberals who distributed any of these circulars. Both of these gentlemen said they did not know of any who did, but did not think they did any harm.
Hon. James Clow, M. L. C., being called on, remarked that, four years ago, a majority was returned to uphold the Council, and it was useless to bring in any measure for abolition under such circumstances. He said he believed that the measure introduced last session was a very fair one regarding the electors' qualification for the election of members to serve in the proposed Legislative Assembly. He did not consider Mr. Annear pursued a proper course by retaining his seat when he changed his platform. He referred to the question of Mr. Annear being offered emoluments to vote for abolition, and said, whether he was or was not, that he (Mr. A.) would have a claim on his party for any office of emolument becoming vacant during their regime had he so voted.
After some interesting remarks by Messrs. Geo. B. Aitkin, J. G. Graham, Colin Steele and the chairman, it was moved by Hon. Jas. Clow and seconded by John Jamieson, Esq., that Geo. F. Owen, Esq., be nominated at this meeting as a candidate in the forthcoming Legislative Council Election in favor of abolishing the said Council. It was also moved by Dr. Robertson and seconded by Geo. B. Aitkin, Esq., that John G. Scrimgeour, Esq., be also nominated as a candidate to uphold the Legislative Council.
A vote of thanks was tendered to the chairman and the meeting dispersed sine die.

A BARGAIN in coffin lots is what most men desire, but to keep from filling a grave in a cemetery lot one half your days are numbered. Always keep a supply of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery by you. When the first symptoms of consumption appear lose no time in putting yourself under the treatment of this invaluable medicine. It cures when nothing else will. Possessing as it does, ten times the virtue of the best cod liver oil, it is not only the cheapest, but far the pleasantest to take. It purifies and enriches the blood, strengthens the system, cures a bloated, pimpled, eruptions and other humors. Druggist.
