

Canadian Unitarian Council

"The journey of the human spirit is one that each person must make for him or herself..."

-David Parke

IF YOU

- seek religious ideas which stimulate your thinking rather than telling you what to believe
- wish to reserve and extend the tradition of personal freedom and dignity
- would enjoy the fellowship of others for open discussion, friendship, and mutual support

WE ARE

- a gathering point for those who respect individual integrity and human dignity
- respectful of both the differences and the common aspirations of all religions
- an organization whose binding covenant is to support each individual in his or her search for meaning and truth

Bio Rhythms

The UPEI Biology Club has now surpassed the 80 member mark making us by far the largest science organization on campus. Only a month and a half into the school year and already we have more members than we had for all of last year. Still, we encourage new members to join soon so as not to miss out on anything. We'll be accepting memberships from now to April...but why wait? Meetings are every Wednesday at 12:30 in the amphitheater (our lounge overflowth).

Have a cigar!

We would like to inform the University community of the possibility (almost certainty) of our newest member to the BioClub: North River. During the recent Brudenell Biology conference we learned of the "Adopt-a-Stream" program whereby an organization or community group can commit to a long term agreement to manage and improve a chosen stream in immediate need of help. All work is done on a voluntary basis. North River is our first choice because it has the potential to be a very productive river in terms of fish, waterfowl and scenery. Any community group or organization interested can get in contact with the BioClub for further information.

OTHER NEWS:

We are still in the process of sponsoring a foster child through Foster Parents Plan; we should hear something in a couple of weeks...we now have our own AM/FM cassette player to listen to whilst we study for mid-terms and such... have you given your name for a BioClub rugby shirt? If not, you can still get a BioClub T-shirt sometime in the future... we'll be painting the big wall in the lounge sometime soon as well; all Bio's should pitch in and help...good luck to everyone in the upcoming mid-terms; how about we all go out for a beer when they're all over?...there's something living in the microwave—it ate half of Trevor's muffin yesterday. We're warning you microwave monster, leave our food alone or we'll send Booby n after you! (He's better than Easy-Off!)
