

Nats Clobber Yanks 4-0; Cards Edge Cubs Twice

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Two of the American League's best performers — Bill Skowron and Roy Sievers — were injured in the night game of a Sunday double-header between second-place Washington Senators, and the first-place New York Yankees.

Camilo Pasquel shut the Yankees out for the first time this season as the Senators took the nightcap 4-0 after losing the first game 4-5.

Yankee first-baseman Skowron pulled a muscle in his back while fielding a grounder and was taken off on a stretcher. A few moments later, Washington outfielder Sievers pulled a muscle in his left leg while scoring from second and had to leave the game.

Skowron was taken to hospital. He is expected to be out of action for at least two weeks while Sievers will probably be sidelined for from three to six days.

SHAW WINS IT
In a single game at Detroit, rookie Bob Shaw gained his first major league triumph and Charlie Maxwell and Billy Martin cracked home runs in the Tigers' 10-3 victory over Kansas City Athletics.

Last-place Chicago White Sox defeated Cleveland 5-2 after the Indians had taken the first game of a doubleheader 4-2, and Baltimore Orioles swept a doubleheader against Boston Red Sox 3-2 and 4-0.

The San Francisco Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers were rained out.

In the National League, Del

Crandall's three-run double in the eighth gave the league-leading Milwaukee Braves a 7-6 victory over Cincinnati Redlegs in a single game at Milwaukee.

The triumph, coupled with the rainout at Los Angeles, increased the world-champion Braves' lead to a full game.

Third-place Pittsburgh Pirates clobbered Philadelphia Phillies 10-1 in the first game of a doubleheader at Pittsburgh.

PORTERFIELD SHUTOUT
Then Bob Porterfield, an American League castoff making his debut with the Pirates, pitched a brilliant 11-inning 1-0 shutout in the second game.

St. Louis Cardinals swept a doubleheader against Chicago Cubs 8-7 and 6-5.

Bobby Shantz won his third straight game for the Yankees in the opener at New York, but he needed help from Ryne Durin in the ninth. Washington scored one in the ninth on a walk to Bob Lemon and singles by Ed Fitzgerald and Ricky Bridges.

Yankees had 10 hits in the first game, two each by Norm Siebern, Hank Bauer and Skowron. Eddie Yost ignited the Senators' big inning in the second game with a single. After Albie Pearson walked, Yost scored on Sievers' single. Courtney's grounder brought in Pearson and Sievers tallied on Lemon's hit.

At Detroit, 10 Tigers batted one intentional — and a leadoff single by Harvey Kuenn loaded the bases. Reno Bertola of Windsor, Ont., got the tie-breaking run home with a fly.

CERV HOMERS
Athletics scored single runs in the second, fourth and eighth. Vic Power, who had three hits, scored two of them, and Bob Cerv hit his 10th home run with the bases empty in the eighth.

At Chicago, Carroll Hardy's two-run single in a three-run seventh-inning rally gave Cleveland the first game. Jim Rivera's second-inning homer started the Sox on their way in the second game.

At Baltimore, Arnold Portocarrero and George Zverink pitched the 4-0 shutout in a rain-interrupted second game.

Bob Nieman homered for Baltimore in the first game, while Billy Gardner and Jim Marshall hit round-trippers in the second.

At Milwaukee, the Braves took an early 4-0 lead against Johnny Klippstein, but the Redlegs tied the score in the fifth and knocked out Lew Burdette in the process. A run in the top of the eighth gave the Redlegs a 5-4 lead that lasted until Crandall got his hit.

Jerry Lynch hit a pinch home run off winning pitcher Ernie Johnson in the ninth but that was the end of the rally.

KLU HOMERS
At Pittsburgh R. C. Stevens in-gled off loser Curt Simmons, scoring Dick Groat from second with the winning run of the nightcap. In the first game Ted Kluszewski drove in three runs with his fourth homer of the year in the first inning. Frank Thomas hit a two-run bases-loaded single in the second and Bob Skinner and Roberto Clemente each got two runs.

Bob Friend the first Pirate hurler to win five games, yielded three homers — a back-to-back pair by Rip Repulski and Grammy Hammer in the first and a solo blast by Stan Lopata in the fourth.

At St. Louis, Hobbie Landrith's ninth-inning, bases-loaded single that Bobby Thomson fumbled in centre gave the Cards the nightcap win.

Stan Musial made a valiant but unsuccessful bid for the 3,000-hit milestone with five hits. He needed seven.

In the first game, Thomson slammed a two-run single in the sixth to give Chicago a 6-4 lead. In the last half of the same inning he dropped Wally Moon's long drive which led to two unearned Cardinal runs. Then he singled home a run that gave the Cubs an 8-7 lead they took into the ninth.

SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

Nearly every other day we read of some boxer who is attempting a comeback in fistic circles. The most recent one we know of is Ezzard Charles.

But there's another comeback on the agenda and the date is fixed for Baltimore this coming Saturday. Trying the comeback will be Silky Sullivan, the late-closing colt from California, who failed so miserably in the recent Kentucky Derby.

The event at Baltimore is the Preakness which is a mile and three-sixteenths. It's the second part of horse racing's triple crown. The Belmont stakes form the third part of that crown.

The events that occurred in the first part of that crown are now known to every race fan. Tim Tam, the royal blooded one was the winner and Silky was supposed to come with terrific speed in the stretch forgot all about the role he was scheduled to play and was a little late in arriving home. Only two other colts needed more time than Silky to reach the wire. There were 14 in the Run for the Roses.

But nobody is convinced that the California colt is that much out of his class. They still insist he belong in a race with horses like Tim Tam and they're positive he'll prove just that this coming Saturday at Baltimore.

Even his crushing defeat at Louisville hasn't convinced race experts that Silky hasn't got what it takes. They still can't believe that the colt is as bad as he looked in the Derby and they are more than curious to see what he can do in the Preakness.

No doubt about it, Silky was sure the sentimental favourite in the first part of the triple crown. Arthur Daley of the New York Times put it this way: "He was the people's choice beyond question, a horse so beloved that folks couldn't have felt worse if the stewards had gone on the track and shot Black Beauty."

Silky's plain ordinary breeding was one of the main causes for the sentiment. Tim Tam was a real aristocrat and the latter's win made the breeders breathe a sigh of relief. This talk of Silky Sullivan winning the Kentucky Derby had this group really worried. One of the top breeders put it this way: "If Silky wins the Derby, I'll hold a dispersal sale."

Well the sale didn't come off — yet.

Baseball postponements are always a headache to clubs because of the fact that those horrible doubleheaders keep on creeping up on you. There were plenty of such headaches last week as game after game went down the drain.

Greatest losers were the Yankees who had a long enough layoff to allow Bob Turley to pitch successive games. Bob pitched the Bombers to a win over Kansas City on Friday May 9 and exactly one week later Bob bested Washington Senators 9-5 to rack up win number four. Turley has yet to be beaten.

Between Turley's third and fourth victories Yankees couldn't get a single game played as rain flooded the New York area for the entire week.

The Yankee front office took a beating on the rains. Washed out was a scheduled doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox, who despite their lowly standing in the American League race, are still considered by the Stengel men to be the greatest threat to Yanks repeating as league champions. The expected attendance was about 35,000 so you can readily see a nice little sum of money was washed away by the floods.

Chicago manager Al Lopez claims he was mighty disappointed as well. He felt that his Sox had a chance to do an about-face at the expense of the Yankees. Lopez claims those two 'wins' would have been just what the doctor ordered to put new life into the Pale Hose.

But at that perhaps he was lucky. What if they had played and lost both ends of that twin bill? That could very easily have happened.

What a relief the rain yesterday must have been for those hopeless Los Angeles Dodgers. If any team should appreciate anything that could stop San Francisco Giants from mauling them, it must be the same Dodgers. The two clubs have met each other eight times this season and Bill Rigney's hopefuls have downed Walter Alston's hopeless ones on six occasions.

It was always a real humiliation for the Dodgers to fall victims to the Giants but this season it is even worse. Right now the old Brooks are endeavouring to win friends and influence people on the west coast. Giants are really doing a first class job of spoiling the Dodgers' first year in their new surroundings.

So Sunday's rain was much better for the darlings from L.A. than another walling at the hands of the ambitious Giants. Friday and Saturday they continued their winning ways against the Alston men and there was not the slightest indication that Sunday's result would have been any different.

Up in Yankee Stadium the charges of Stengel were behaving in a most inhospitable manner to the visiting Washington Senators.

The Senators had rolled into town just one-half game behind the Bombers and had big notions in their heads. However they were only notions and nothing ever came of them. After three games the Yankees were behind the Senators by three and a half games, meaning of course that the New Yorkers had won the first three games of the series.

But this is an old story. Many times in the past teams have met up with the American League champions at a time when they were flying high. Practically every time the Yankees have managed to do an excellent job of clipping their wings and restoring them to positions more familiar to them in the standings. And so it was with Washington.

The same thing could have happened to Al Lopez and his Chicago White Sox last Sunday but the rain intervened.

May be Lopez is thankful now that the rains did descend.

Alec Connell Died Saturday

OTTAWA (CP) — Alec Connell, 58, goaltender member of hockey's hall of fame, died in hospital here Saturday after a long illness.

The small man who used to wear a black cap when he minded the nets for Ottawa Senators, Montreal Maroons and Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League died only two weeks after being elected to the hall of fame.

Connell, known as the "Ottawa fireman" because of his long association with the capital's fire department, established in the 1927-28 season with Ottawa a goalkeeping record which still stands — six consecutive shutouts. He was not scored on for 446 minutes and nine seconds of play.

The funeral will be held today at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church.

Connell turned professional in 1924 with the old Ottawa Senators and played on two Stanley Cup teams, Ottawa in 1926-27 and Montreal Maroons in 1934-35.

TRIBUTES PAID
T. P. (Tommy) Gorman, manager of both these teams, said: "I remember Connell as putting on the greatest goalkeeping performance in the history of hockey in Toronto in 1935."

"It was in the Stanley Cup playoffs when the Maroons were two men short. For three minutes Connell put on an astounding effort against the Leafs and the Maroons went on to win the cup."

Connell joined the Ottawa fire department in 1921 and served for 29 years.

He was coaching Ottawa Senators of the Quebec League in 1949 when he was forced to give up mid-way through the season because of ill health.

He is survived by his wife and a daughter.

Urge Private Stations To Pool Efforts

MONTREAL (CP) — Private radio and television stations were called upon Sunday to pool their efforts to provide "a broadcasting service that will be an asset to all of Canada."

President Vernon Dallin of the Canadian Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters said private stations ran national networks in the 1920s and '30s, and "it shouldn't be impossible to do so again."

Mr. Dallin, manager of CFQC Radio and assistant manager of CFQC-TV, Saskatoon, was addressing the business session opening the four-day CARTB annual meeting here. The meeting has drawn more than 250 members and associates from coast to coast.

Kenneth D. Soble, general manager of CHCH-TV, Hamilton, Ont. said it is possible for television stations in major markets to produce live programs of sufficiently high quality to be used on a na-

Dr. I. C. Middleman said the young outfielder had completely recovered from the concussion.

Alouettes Sign Redmen

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Alouettes Friday night announced the signing of two members of McGill Redmen and another player who was with Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen last season.

Signed from McGill for tryouts with the Big Four football club are John Cronin, backfielder, and Ron Murphy, centre and tackle.

The recruit from the Dutchmen of the Ontario Rugby Football Union is Allan Finch, defensive middle guard.

Cronin, key player with Redmen for the last few seasons, will be 24 next month. He is six feet, one inch, and weighs 200. He graduates this year from McGill with a bachelor of commerce degree.

Murphy, prior to coming to McGill, played one season with Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Big Four. He is six feet two and weighs 210. He has been a track man and also won four Canadian championships while paddling for the Leander Boat Club.

Finch has had five years' experience with ORFU clubs.

Mr. Soble, reporting to the CARTB general business meeting as chairman of the program source committee, said the committee had been studying the possibilities of member stations originating syndicated TV programs for use across Canada on either a network or kinescope basis.

Mr. Soble said he discovered his own station could develop its own live programs "which would make a profit or at least break even."

The city of Brandon, Man., was named from a Hudson's Bay Company post founded in that district in 1794.

ANOTHER BIG ONE

This seems to be the year for trout fishermen to catch big ones. Brian McCabe above of 18 Kirkwood Drive, City, on a fishing trip Saturday caught this salt-water beauty, weighing 3 pounds 5 ounces, at Morell. Last week he caught two nice ones at Midgell, weighing 1½ and 2½ pounds respectively. Although just in his early teens he is getting his share of the big fellows in Island waters.

President Of Boy Scouts Raps Brutality In Sports

TORONTO (CP)—Is sport too rough? The recurring controversy over this issue was sparked anew when Rhys M. Sale, president of the Canadian General Council of the Boy Scouts Association, rapped unsportsmanlike conduct in many boys' sports activities.

Mr. Sale, addressing the council's annual meeting Friday night, said: "We can do without the unnecessary brutality, blood-letting and poor sportsmanship that characterize even some of the junior, juvenile and midget games these days."

Mr. Sale, president of the Ford Motor Company of Canada Limited, criticized the adult coach "who goads the boys with a win-at-any-cost psychology, even to the point of teaching tactics that turn decent games into nothing short of vicious brawl."

His criticism recalled remarks last November by John Farina, professor of social work at the University of Toronto. Professor Farina, himself a former college football quarterback, said "All sports breed larceny, fighting and downright sadism" and termed hockey "the most degenerate sport in the world."

The reaction to Mr. Sale's comments was as prompt and barbed as that which the remarks of Professor Farina evoked last fall.

Stafford Smythe of Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League retorted: "Spectator sports and sports in general have never enjoyed greater popularity than they do today. The car business has never been worse. I would say that Mr. Sale had better look to his home grounds first before telling us what to do."

Mr. Sale, managing director of Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four Football Union, said he saw numerous junior football games last year and was greatly impressed with the play.

The lead seemed secure as other competitors finished poorly on the front nine but Middlecoff, who turned in a par 36, was five strokes under regulation figures coming home to make a fight of it right down to the wire.

REMEMBER WHEN . . . Carl Hubbell pitched his first complete game for Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League 32 years ago today, shutting out Jersey City on two hits. Hubbell went up to the New York Giants in 1928 and with his famous "screwball" became the mainstay of their pitching staff until in 1943 he became head of the Giants' farm system.

Hot Springs, Ark. (AP)—Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N. C., ramed down a 10-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole Sunday to win the $20,000 Hot Springs Open golf tournament with a 72-hole total of 273.

The birdie gave Boros a one-under-par 71 for the final round. He started the last 18 holes four strokes in front of Bob Rosburg and five in front of Cary Middlecoff and Tommy Bolt.

covered the rugged, bodily contact of football, then he was correct.

"But if he meant there was fighting, deliberate disregard of the rules and so on, then he is not too conversant with football as a competitive contest," Mr. Hayman added.

Professor Farina elaborated on his view thus when the controversy over his criticisms blew up: "Sports do not have inherent values in themselves to develop courage, leadership, fair play, good citizenship and honesty . . ."

"They equally give opportunity to learn the practice of foul play, cheating, lying and downright sadism."

"The difference is the leadership in the sport."
