SPORT ECHOES

Cool Mr. Tucker

Doug Tucker, charter member of the "no-sweat" fraternity, turned back MacKenzies last week to draw first blood in the finals for the Summerside soft ball championship. Tucker went about his work as if he were having a catch in his own back-yard.

There were moments of tension when the ever-dangerous Greenshirts threatened to bomb their way to victory, but Tucker continued to throw them in there as if he were piching in his sleep. It is only fair to say that George Kinch, though losing the battle, also pitched a fine game.

A young fellow was toeing the slab a few days ago, a good pitcher too, but he was having trouble locating the plate, and his exasperation was showing so plainly on his face that it must have been interfering with his co-ordination. The coach finally took him out. This fellow should sit at the feet of Tucker and learn about the rewards of relaxation.

Jack Out -- Grant In

The jack that held the MacKenzie team up through three years of successful softball is no longer functioning. Coach Fox has gone to the halls of learning in Montreal, and if Toe Blake hears about his genius as a pepper-upper, he'll probably have him talking to those slightly pooped Candiens. Grant Grady is taking Jack's place as coach of MacKenzies, and it must seem a little like stepping into seven league boots, but Grant has a tremendous competitive spirit, and may do all right with his new charges. The best place-hitter in Summerside baseball history, and bad news on the blueline for many opposing forwards, Grant knows his way around in sports.

Congratulations to Bert Brophy for winning the batting championship of the Summerside Baseball League. Bert is a much improved player this year, and is following in the footsteps of his brother Dave who was one of the best when he played baseball here.

A Surprise Hurler

We wouldn't be surprised if Gerry Smith had a future on the baseball mound. For seven and a fraction innings he pitched good ball for the Legion Juniors last Thursday evening, and got credit for the win. Gerry, a strapping fellow, is still juvenile age, we believe, and if someone like Joe Bernard took him in hand, and showed him a few of the tricks in tossing them in there, he might blossom into a pitcher of note.

Of course, there are other promising pitching material among the young fellows, such as Don Schurman, Paul MacWilliams, and Jackie Pate, anyone of whom might give us another Bernard, but Smith's performance was a surprise to us, and besides we like to see a big fellow out there on the mound. Everything else being equal, beef, well distributed, of course, is a pretty important commodity for a baseball player.

Senior Golfers of Summerside, you who have been around anywhere from a half century to a century, sharpen up your golf for the Senior Golf Tournament to be held at the Summerside Golf and Country Club, September 28. More about this later.

CAPTURES ISLAND GOLF TOURNEY

Jim Walker, from Moncton is the new Prince Edward Island Open Golf Champion. He captured the title yesterday at the Belvedere Golf and Country Club when he finished the 27-hole tournament with a total of 110. John Monroe of Amherst was the runner-up with a total III. The golfing meet had 235 entries to make it the largest Island Open ever.

Jim Walker Wins Island Open Golf Championship

Jim Walker, a professional golfer from Moncton yesterday won the Prince Edward Island Open Golf Championship at the Belvedere Golf and Winter Club.

Walker finished the 27 hole tournament with a one stroke lead over runner-up John Monroe of Amherst to collect the top prize money of $500.

He gained the edge in the first 18 holes of the match when he fired a 75 as compared to Monroe's 76. Both golfers finished the final nine holes with identical 36's.

The amateur title provided the most excitement of the day as three players finished the tourney tied. Art MacKenzie the defending champion, M.J. Dowling from Moncton and Joe Mahar, a former Charlottetown native now playing out of Montreal all had scores of 114. Mahar and Dowling each had rounds of 76-38 while MacKenzie came on strong in the final nine holes to score a 34 to go with his first 18 hole score of 80.

They had to have a playoff before a champion could be declared and Mahar came out on top. All three players picked up fours on the first hole but Mahar came out victorious on the second hole as he fired a three. MacKenzie and Dowling both had fours on this hole to remain tied but Dowling picked up second place with a three on the third hole while MacKenzie again had to settle for a four.

The tournament which was scheduled to be a 36 hole affair had to be cancelled on Saturday due to heavy rains. It was then decided to have the professionals and the top amateurs play 27 holes with the remaining entries only playing 18 holes.

Top Racing Card Going Tonight

Rain washed out Saturday's scheduled harness racing at the Charlottetown Driving Park, but, weather permitting, the great program goes on tonight.

Classifier Frank Acorn has managed to come up with a stellar program that certainly should attract a bumper crowd to the popular raceway.

The free-for-all features four great pacers and one outstanding trotter, Ralph MacFadyen has drawn the rail with his Elmer C and this spot will make Ralph's pacer a tough one to beat in that fourth dash. The other pacers doing battle in these dashes are Santiago, Armond's Buddy and Hi Jay. The lone trotter Poplar Flash, has a 2.07-1 mile to his credit at the local track this season. At that time it equalled the track record set by Fedoran last August.

Bettors should have their hands full deciding on winners in those dashes and it will be no easier when they start making their choices in dashes two and six. Here five more get the word and each one has every license to head the summary. Going in this class are Avalon Worthy, Jolly Abb, Mary Leah, Sunny King and Real Gold.

Races one and five find a half dozen fighting it out. Anthony L has the rail the first trip. His competition will come from Primo, Cyclone Kelly, The Sheik, Ray Grattan Up and Chief's Gal.

Dashes three and seven round out the program. Here there are eight pacers to do battle. Clark Smith has My Haven on the rail in the first outing. Other starters are Ellen Joyce, Garth's Best, True Long, Dot's Chief, Boomtown, Norine Clegg, and Mighty Warrior.

A great program — one you can't afford to miss.

Action begins at 8 o'clock sharp.

Marlene Emerges As Easy Winner

CP from AP-Reuters

SYDNEY Australia — The new darling of "down-under," Mrs. Marlene Stewart Streit of Toronto, added the Australian women's golf championship to her already bulky collection Saturday by beating Britain's Ruth Porter 8 and 7.

Marlene, called by some Aussie professionals the greatest woman golfer to play here since American Babe Didrikson in 1932, becomes the first woman to win the amateur crowns of Canada, the United States, Britain and Australia.

Though she shot her worst golf of title play in the first nine holes, the tiny, 27-year-old mother of two daughters was never behind in the 36-hole final at the 5,900 - yard Royal Sydney course.

A gallery of 2,000 stood in the rain and watched her consistently outdrive Miss Porter, to make a fight of it over the first 18.

Marlene had some difficulty on the saturated greens of the women's par - 74 course and several times three - putted.

The crowds cheered when she produced a tremendous shot at the 164-yard 14th hole to notch a birdie two — a magnificent three wood which landed the ball six feet from the pin.

Marlene's score for the first 18 holes was 42-38—80 against Miss Porter's 44-40—84.

HAD 30-FOOT PUTT

In the afternoon Marlene sank a 30-foot putt for a birdie two at the 154-yard 21st hole, lost the 23rd hole but rattled off par after par to be seven up with nine to play.

On the next hole she sank a 20-foot putt for a birdie three to be eight up.

The match ended at the 29th hole. Here Miss Porter, through the green in two, putted back two feet beyond the hole.

Marlene, who was on the green for two, putted up six inches past the hole. The English girl picked up her opponent's ball giving the Canadian the short putt which clinched the match.

Mrs. Streit also conceded Miss Porter's putt.

As she received the championship cup from Sir Eric Woodward, the governor of New South Wales, Marlene smiled and said, "I'm thrilled to bits."

She told reporters she plans to forget for the next six months. "I'm going back to the life of a housewife."

Veteran Balding Captures Canadian Pro Ch'ships

By WALTER KREVENCHUK

EDMONTON (CP)—Veteran Al Balding of Toronto ripped off a five-under par 65 on the last round Saturday to overtake Stan Leonard of Vancouver and win the Canadian Professional Golfers Association championship with a record score of 202.

The 39 - year - old played a sparkling iron game to notch his five-under par to go with opening rounds of 69-68 to win the $2,000 first money and the Seagram Shield.

Balding's final score in the 54-hole tournament was one better than the previous record of 203 established by Leonard in winning his eighth CPGA title in 1961 in Quebec City.

Leonard missed a ninth championship by three strokes. He carded a 69 Saturday but it wasn't enough to retain a two-stroke cushion he held entering the final 18 after opening rounds of 68-67. The 48-year-old touring professional earned $1,350.

Third was Billy Wright Jr. of St. Albert, Ala., who put all of his 22 years and 120 pounds into his game for a 68-69-70—207. He won $950.

JOHNSTON FOURTH

Al Johnston of Montreal won $750 with a fourth place finish on a 72-72-66—210.

Balding, who 24 hours earlier had set a 66 as the score he would need on the closing round to win, hit all but one green Saturday as he went one under par on six greens.

He got a three on the par-four 375-yard fourth hole by sinking a 15-foot putt. He made another 15-footer on the par-four 375-yard sixth for a three and rolled in a 12-footer on the 565-yard par-five 12th for a four.

He was one under on the 475-yard par-four 14th when he sank a 22-foot putt and matched the feat on the 420-yard par-four 16th by dropping a four-foot putt.

"I felt I had it on the 14th," Balding said.

He said his long putt, which put him seven under par, meant Leonard and Wright would have to do well on their last six holes.

"They had to play real good to catch me after that," he said.

Balding needed only 31 putts on the last 18 holes.

WAS PHILOSOPHICAL

Leonard was philosophical about his second consecutive near miss for a ninth CPGA crown—he lost to Alvie Thompson of Toronto in a playoff last year.

"It's an if game," he said. "If I'd made the putts on the 12th, 13th and 14th it would have been a different story."

Wright, who turned professional at the age of 15 in his native England, played a steady 18 under the pressure of being in the same threesome with Leonard.

He matched the Vancouver competitor stroke for stroke until the 18th, when Leonard whacked a five iron shot two feet from the hole to go one under.

A hot 66, second-best round of the competition, boosted Johnston into fourth place after an opening 72-72. One stroke back was the trio of Jack Bissegger of Van Morin, Que., Ron MacLeod of Jasper, Alta., and Bud Loftus of Calgary. Bissegger had rounds of 69-72-70, MacLeod 68-71-72 and Loftus 70-71-70.

Thompson, the defending champion, finished at 212 with Bill Thompson of Vancouver and Lyle Crawford, also of Vancouver.

Dodgers Finish With Same Lead

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Undeterred by the thunder of hickory against horsehide from the north of California, Los Angeles Dodgers squeaked through with a 2-1 victory over Milwaukee Braves Sunday and finished the weekend exactly where they started it — 6½ games ahead of the National League.

The most authoritative of a number of mighty blows struck in San Francisco was Frank Robinson's grand-slam homer in the eighth inning. It just barely stood up to give Cincinnati Reds an 8-7 victory over the Giants.

The Houston, Jim Umbricht pitched 4 1-3 innings of masterful relief for young Chris Zachary, throttling St. Louis Cardinals to give the Colts a 3-1 decision, their second straight over the deflated contenders from Missouri.

It all added up to a second-place tie between St. Louis and San Francisco and extra daylight for the Dodgers, who had lost their previous two starts.

CALLISON CONNECTS

At Philadelphia, Johnny Callison's two-run homer in the 11th inning gave the Phillies a 4-2 victory over Pittsburgh Pirates, their 11th in 13 starts, and Dick Ellsworth picked up his 18th victory as Chicago Cubs whipped New York Mets 3-1.

Doug Camilli's bases-loaded single in the ninth broke up the game at Los Angeles after successive doubles by Frank Howard and Willie Davis put the Dodgers on the score sheet two innings earlier. The victory went to relief pitcher Bob Miller, who retired only one batter.

Johnny Edwards of Cincinnati and Willie Mays and Ed Bailey of the Giants hit earlier homers at San Francisco, where Mays almost tied it up with a two-run double in the bottom of the ninth after Robinson's climactic blow. Joey Jay picked up his sixth victory in 22 decisions, pitching two perfect innings of relief.

Errors by Lou Burdette and Carl Sawatski presented the Colts with three unearned runs in the third inning. Zachary was routed by Dal Maxvill's single, a walk to Stan Musial and Curt Flood's double in the fifth before Umbricht came on to hold the Cardinals to one harmless single the rest of the way.

PIRATES LED EARLY

The Pirates took an early 2-0 lead but lost it as the Phillies picked up a run in the eighth and drew level in the ninth on Tony Taylor's homer. Taylor was the man on base when Callison produced his game-winning blow in the 11th. The victory was Jack Baldschun's 10th against five losses.

New York starter Jay Hook literally threw his game away at Chicago. In the first inning Lou Brock singled off the pitcher's glove and got all the way to third when the throw went into the outfield as he stole second. He scored on a wild pitch.

In the second inning Ken Hubbs and Ernie Banks singled and Hubbs got to third as Hook mishandled a tap to the mound. A squeeze bunt by Ellsworth brought him home.

Mt. Stewart Cops Opener

Mount Stewart won the first game of the King's County Baseball League semi-finals when they blanked Cardigan 6-0 on Sunday afternoon.

Art Coffin scattered four hits and struck out 14 to grab the win. Lawrence McIntyre pitched for Cardigan and gave up 11 hits while fanning eight.

Richard Mitchell had a 3 for 4 day. M. Crane, R. Piggott, E. Handrahan and Art Coffin each had two for four. Lawrence McIntyre picked up three hits for Cardigan in four appearances.

One of the game's highlights was the base stealing of John MacEachern who scored the winners' first three runs.

Next Sunday the series ends in Cardigan with a double bill if necessary.

Stars Take On Dodgers

City Baseball League playoffs resume this evening at Memorial Field.

Providing the action in this first best-of-three semi-final encounter will be Dodgers and Stars.

Rovers and Flyers have played their first semi-final clash and Rovers went home with the decision. Both Dodgers and Stars will be trying to do exactly the same this evening.

Game time is called for 6 o'clock.

PROTEST FEE INCREASE

SHERBROOKE, Que. (CP)—The students association at the University of Sherbrooke has written Youth Minister Paul Gerin-Lajoie of Quebec to protest an increase in tuition fees announced here and at a number of other universities in the province. The letter said the students consider the increases inconsistent with the Quebec government's long-range policy of making education accessible to all. The increases are as much as $100.

American Players GrabCleanSweep

By PETE McNAUGHTON

OTTAWA (CP) — American players won five open titles Saturday to complete a clean sweep of all 12 events at the annual Canadian junior tennis championships.

Led by a contingent of net stars from the famed Hoxie Tennis School, Hamtramck, Mich., who won seven titles and shared in two others, United States players dominated the open half of the 10-day tournament at the Rideau Lawn Tennis Club.

Slender Peaches Bartowicz, 14, the pride of Hamtramck, won the girls' 18-and-under singles Saturday and teamed up with another Hamtramck girl to take the doubles event.

Faye Urban, 17, who lives across the river from Peaches in Windsor, was on the losing end both times. The blonde swinger, who has won the Canadian closed 18-and-under title the last two years, was outclassed by her younger opponent for the second year in a row.

Last year the two girls were finalists in the singles and Peaches, United States 14-and-under and 16-and-under champion, defeated the Canaian 6-2, 6-1. It wasn't much different Saturday as Peaches, her shots hugging the lines, cleaned up 61, 6-2.

Later in the day, Peaches and Betty Beidler took advantage of numerous mistakes by Faye and Brenda Nunns, 17, of Toronto to win the 18-and-under doubles crown 6-2, 5-7, 6-2.

BEATS HALIFAX YOUTH

Chuck Brainard, 15, took only five minutes to bring Hamtramck another title with a victory over 16-year-old Barry Shakespeare of Halifax in the 16 and under singles.

Brainard had taken the first set 6-2 and was leading 5-2 in the second set Friday when rain halted play.

Irish Seek Big Victory

If BIS Shamrocks can conquer Main Brace Mariners tonight, the City Softball League finals will be deadlocked at two games each.

The Irish lost the first two in this best - of- seven series but bounced back to nab the third game. Their backers are figuring on another triumph this evening.

The Mariners would like to put the Irish really on the spot. If Danny MacCormack's boys beat the Irish this evening, the odds would be heavy in the Mariner's favor to emerge as champs.

Tonight's encounter should be hotly contested. Game time is 6.15.

Faloney Is Hero In Ticats Victory

HAMILTON (CP) — Halfback Tommy Grant, an eight-year veteran with Hamilton Tiger-Cats, pulled in two touchdown passes Saturday night to spark the Ticats to a 20-16 victory over Ottawa Rough Riders, lifting Hamilton into first place in the Eastern Football Conference.

The 28 - year - old Canadian from Windsor, Ont., clicked on a 55-yard pass play from quarterback Bernie Faloney and a 24-yard pass from rookie halfback Willie Bethea.

The win, rolled up in ideal weather before 24,271 fans, was Hamilton's second—both scored here — as against two losses, both in interlocking games with Western Conference teams.

It put Ticats two points ahead of Ottawa, Toronto and Montreal. The Riders and Montreal have 1-2 records while Toronto Argonauts have a single win in four games.

Grant scored the Ticats' first and third touchdowns as they moved into an 8-7 halftime lead and a 20-10 margin after three quarters.

Bethea got the other on a spectacular 52-yard burst over centre on the second play of the third quarter. Faloney collected a single on a second-down quick kick in the last second of the first half and Don Sutherin booted one convert.

Fleet Ron Stewart scored two touchdowns for Ottawa. Moe Racine converted one and added a 26-yard field goal.
