

Buyer meets seller with Guardian Want Ads. Dial 8506 ask for classified ad taker, for quick results.

The Guardian

WEATHER

Showers occasionally heavy. Little change in temperature. Southwesterly winds 20. Low-high at Charlottetown 65 and 75.

"Covers Prince Edward Island Like The Dew"

CHARLOTTETOWN, CANADA TUESDAY, AUGUST 26, 1958

NOT MORE THAN FIVE CENTS

12 PAGES Authorized as Second Class Mail by the Post Office Department, Ottawa

FIRST TIME OUTSIDE U.S.

TORONTO. — A United States Air Force intermediate range Thor missile is raised into launching position at the Canadian National Exhibition. This display

Liberal's Object, But New Broadcasting Bill Passes

OTTAWA (CP) — New broadcasting legislation Monday night received approval in principle as the huge Progressive Conservative majority stamped out bitter Liberal opposition by a vote of 109 to 30.

It was the second vote of the day on the government bill establishing a new separate regulatory board over broadcasting. Earlier, the CCF-supposed Conservatives defeated 122 to 25 a Liberal attempt to kill the bill this session.

The CCF also supported the government in the vote on second reading.

The Liberals, led by Opposition Leader Pearson, opposed the bill on the ground that it leaves the publicly-owned CBC open to political interference.

The first vote came after Guy Rouleau (L. — Montreal Dollard) proposed to defer for six months approval in principle — second reading of the bill which, Mr. Pearson said, weakens the CBC's dominant influence over a national broadcasting system.

The Liberal leader said the CBC will be exposed "more than it has been to the possibility of political interference."

Revenue Minister Nowlan, sponsor of the bill, said it sets up the "framework" on which the new regulatory body—called the board of broadcast governors—will work. On the whole, he said, the bill follows the recommendations of the Fowler royal commission on broadcasting and does nothing to interfere with the CBC as an operating unit.

"Let's not have any further nonsense in that respect," he said. The CBC's powers, except as a regulator of broadcasting, remained substantially unchanged.

Mr. Nowlan said the government has not yet considered who will be appointed to the new board.

The debate followed two announcements of government policy on other matters:

1. External Affairs Minister Smith made clear Canada will not become involved in any armed attempt by the Chinese Communists to occupy the Nationalist-held islands of Quemoy and Matsu, off the Chinese mainland.

2. Defence Minister Peakes announced unification of the medical services of the three armed forces, effective Jan. 1, 1959.

Mr. Nowlan indicated early in the broadcasting debate that the government was rejecting any attempt to delay passage of the bill this session. The postponement sought by the Liberals would only extend until next year the present uncertainty surrounding the bill.

He added the government does not intend to send the bill to a committee for detailed study, unless the Commons holds it to the commitment to do so, given in the throne speech at the start of

Gov't Hold The Line Policy Blasted By Head Of CS Group

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The government's "hold the line" policy was bitterly attacked Monday by the president of the civil servants' national organization.

Fred Whitehouse of Ottawa, president of the Civil Service Federation told 200 delegates to the National Defence Employees Association convention here "the civil servant is lagging behind all other employees in the country" salary-wise.

"It is well for the government to say 'hold the line'," Mr. Whitehouse said. "We are prepared to hold the line if they will bring us up to it."

"Civil servants are 10 to 12 per cent behind that line. Don't let the government sell us a bill of goods. Don't let them tell us to hold the line, as they won't bring us to the level of people who are producing Canadian goods."

ON "GODLY LEVEL"

The president said the Canadian Labor Congress could be adopted as a guide and the accomplishments of the congress for its membership could also be accomplished by civil servants.

The question of whether the NDEA should affiliate with the CLC to press for better working conditions will be discussed Wednesday when the report of a committee on affiliation will be tabled.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon from Union Corner United Church with service conducted by Rev. W.B. MacPhail, and burial in the church cemetery. Pallbearers were Ernest Allen, Lem Tremblay, Charles Allen, Roy Grenville, Arthur Allen and Sterling Ryder.

One Killed In Head-On Crash

SAINT JOHN, N. B. — (CP) — Two cars crashed head-on about 13 miles from here today killing one man and severely injuring another.

Eric Allain, 33, of Cocagne, N. B., died. James Dunn, 60, of Jersey City, N.J., was taken to Saint John General Hospital.

Mr. Dunn was bound for Antigonish, N.S., to meet his wife. Mr. Allain was driving to Saint John.

The Dunn car plunged over a 10-foot embankment after leaving the shoulder of the road.

The cars met near a sharp curve on the MacKay Highway at Hammond River, about 325 yards from the junction with the Stock Farm Road. A heavy rain had made the highway slippery.

The accident occurred about 6.30 a.m. and a passerby gave RCMP the first word of it nearly an hour later.

Mr. Allain is survived by his wife, the former Agnes Brine, and three sons and four daughters.

UNIQUE ZOO BABY

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters) — The fourth rhinoceros in the world to be born in captivity was reported doing well at Sydney's Taronga Park Zoo. The two-day-old baby rhino weighs about 100 pounds.

A U.S. Weather Bureau advisory said hurricane Daisy would move northwest or north-northwest Monday night and should gradually take a more northerly course today.

QUEMOY THREAT

TAIPEI, Formosa (Tuesday) (AP) — Communist artillery roared with a new attack on Quemoy, 32 minutes after midnight today, the defence ministry reported. The barrage followed a slackening in the bombardment of the Nationalist offshore islands Monday.

Defence spokesmen said the new shelling ceased after the Reds fired 68 rounds in 18 minutes.

This was the fourth straight day of heavy artillery bombardment of the Quemoy's. The Reds turned their artillery on the little island of Tungting for the first time Monday.

Tungting, 17 miles southeast of Nationalist-held Quemoy, was the target Sunday night of what the Nationalists called an attempted Communist invasion. The island is used by the Nationalists as an observation post against red shipping in and out of the offshore island of Amoy.

ORDER OUT 7TH FLEET

Eight ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet received orders in Singapore to sail as the result of developments in the Formosa Strait. Shore parties of seamen and Marines were ordered back to their ships.

The U.S. defence department has alerted the 7th Fleet and other American units in this area to take precautionary measures because of the military flareup.

The fleet, slated for joint U.S.-Nationalist manoeuvres next month, has been in the Formosa area guarding the island against Communist invasion. The United States is committed by treaty to defend Formosa and the neighboring Pescadores. It could intervene in any Red attack on the Quemoy or the Matus if President Eisenhower deemed such an assault a danger to the security of Formosa.

WIN AIR BATTLE

In Monday's action, Red MIG-17s clashed with outnumbered Nationalist jet fighters over the Formosa Strait. The defence ministry said eight Nationalist planes—presumably F-86 Sabre jets—were outnumbered six to one but knocked down two MIGs out of the flight of 48. It said all Nationalist planes returned to their base.

FIVE KILLED IN R.C.A.F. CRASH

METZ, France (CP) — Two Canadian jet fighters collided in flight 1,500 feet over an RCAF station hospital at nearby Gros Tenquin Monday and the blazing wreckage of one of the craft plunged into the building. Five persons died.

The air force withheld names of the victims pending notification of their families. Dead were three of four airmen in the CF-100 interceptors, a woman believed to be the wife of a patient, and a pharmacist in the hospital.

The navigator of one of the planes successfully ejected himself from the plunging craft and was only slightly injured as he parachuted to the ground. Wreckage of one plane fell in a nearby field.

ANGLICAN BISHOPS PRESENT REPORT ON BIRTH CONTROL

LONDON (Tuesday) (CP) — Bishops of the worldwide Anglican communion went on record today approving birth control as a "right and important factor in Christian life" providing the practice is not motivated by "selfishness and covetousness."

Their approval came in the official report of the Lambeth Conference of Anglican churches that was held here July 7 to Aug. 10.

Besides birth control, subjects covered in the report included church unity, race problems, nuclear war and gambling.

More than 300 bishops representing 40,000,000 Anglicans attended the Lambeth Conference which is held once every 10 years. There were 32 Canadian bishops present, led by the Primate of All Canada, Most Rev. Walter F. Barfoot.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, who presided at the conference, said it was the first time the Anglican communion had considered "family planning by scientific means."

"We took what has been a battlefield and we put it on a sensible and Godly level on which it can be reasonably discussed," he told a press conference Monday in releasing the report of the private sessions.

The report issued by the committee on family problems approved birth control subject to certain conditions.

The most important of these conditions, resting on a religious

WAS JUST MARSH, ARCHITECT SAYS

Reports Gov't Printing Bureau Built In Swamp

OTTAWA (CP) — The government's $16,200,000 printing bureau was built on a swamp, Montreal architect Ernest Cormier testified Monday.

He said he sensed trouble as he saw reports of 13 ground borings made in April 1949. Later in September of that year he visited the Hull, Que., area and found the entire site covered with water.

"Everything was in a very muddy condition," he told the Commons public accounts committee. "It was just a marsh. The rain couldn't get out."

The 52-year-old architect gave evidence as the committee continued its investigation as to why the printing bureau, originally estimated to cost $6,000,000, was finally constructed at a price of $16,200,000.

Meanwhile, in the Commons the Progressive Conservative majority blocked an attempt by the opposition to get documents submitted by Deputy Works Minister H. A. Young and his officials to Works Minister Green on the bureau issue. The move was rejected on a vote of 105 to 27.

Mr. Cormier told the committee he realized costs would mount when he saw the muddy site.

Miron et Freres Limited, Montreal, got the original excavation contract on what Mr. Cormier described as a "surprisingly low" bid of $55,000. The final cost, including extra digging, came to $238,695.

They were so complete in detail that nine contractors were able to make bids on the excavation. Mr. Cormier said. None of the bidders asked for any further information.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — There was still no definite word Monday on when a shipping boycott called last Thursday by the Newfoundland Employers' Association would become 100 per cent effective.

The German freighter Geheirat Sartori will be the last ship to call until an eight-month dispute with the Longshoremen's Protective Union (Ind) is settled. She is due here Tuesday.

The shipping tieup will put 900 stevedores out of work. Twenty-five vessels represented by the association are taking part in the boycott.

Meanwhile two independent unions at alternative Newfoundland ports have taken a stand against the LSPU.

President Harry Thompson of the 650-man LSPU (Ind) at Boldwood said Monday "we have no interest whatever in the troubles of the St. John's Longshoremen's Union and we are certainly not in sympathy with them."

CORNER BROOK OPEN

Secretary James Lynch of the Newfoundland Laborer's Union which represents the majority of stevedores at Corner Brook said there will be no tie-up at that port. The men work for Western Terminals Limited.

Support for the St. John's union came from longshoremen at Port aux Basques, western terminal for CNR ships and trains. It was not known which stand Argentinian longshoremen would take.

HUGE LOSS IN FIRE IN TURKEY

BURSA, Turkey (AP) — Loss from fire which ravaged this resort city Sunday is estimated unofficially at nearly 1,000,000,000 lira—more than $100,000,000. Two persons were killed and 80 injured.

The burned area covers the commercial area in the heart of the city.

PARIS POLICE SHOT

Four Paris policemen were shot dead in two incidents.

PARIS POLICE KILLED 80 ALGERIANS

Paris police killed 80 Algerians and rounded up 80 for questioning.

Ntar the port of Le Havre, a saboteur was expelled by premature firing of an explosive charge with which he was trying to set a Standard Oil refinery on fire.

Paris authorities blamed the coordinated attacks on the Algerian National Liberation Front, the most powerful of two groups seeking independence for the North African territory.

They said the nationalists were sent into action to drive home demands for freedom from France and to counter Premier de Gaulle's pleas for integration of the French and North African peoples of Algeria. About 400,000 Algerians live in France.

THEM WITH TRIP

The action obviously was timed to coincide with de Gaulle's trip to Africa where he is explaining his new constitution and also to take advantage of a summer vacation period when police forces are depleted.

Maurice Papon, Paris police chief, said the Algerians failed in their main objectives in the capitals—assaults on armories.

ALGERIAN REBELS BRING FIRE, DEATH TO FRANCE

PARIS POLICE SHOT

Four Paris policemen were shot dead in two incidents.

PARIS POLICE KILLED 80 ALGERIANS

Paris police killed 80 Algerians and rounded up 80 for questioning.

Ntar the port of Le Havre, a saboteur was expelled by premature firing of an explosive charge with which he was trying to set a Standard Oil refinery on fire.

Paris authorities blamed the coordinated attacks on the Algerian National Liberation Front, the most powerful of two groups seeking independence for the North African territory.

They said the nationalists were sent into action to drive home demands for freedom from France and to counter Premier de Gaulle's pleas for integration of the French and North African peoples of Algeria. About 400,000 Algerians live in France.

THEM WITH TRIP

The action obviously was timed to coincide with de Gaulle's trip to Africa where he is explaining his new constitution and also to take advantage of a summer vacation period when police forces are depleted.

Maurice Papon, Paris police chief, said the Algerians failed in their main objectives in the capitals—assaults on armories.

ALGERIAN REBELS BRING FIRE, DEATH TO FRANCE

PARIS POLICE SHOT

Four Paris policemen were shot dead in two incidents.

PARIS POLICE KILLED 80 ALGERIANS

Paris police killed 80 Algerians and rounded up 80 for questioning.

Ntar the port of Le Havre, a saboteur was expelled by premature firing of an explosive charge with which he was trying to set a Standard Oil refinery on fire.

Paris authorities blamed the coordinated attacks on the Algerian National Liberation Front, the most powerful of two groups seeking independence for the North African territory.

They said the nationalists were sent into action to drive home demands for freedom from France and to counter Premier de Gaulle's pleas for integration of the French and North African peoples of Algeria. About 400,000 Algerians live in France.

THEM WITH TRIP

The action obviously was timed to coincide with de Gaulle's trip to Africa where he is explaining his new constitution and also to take advantage of a summer vacation period when police forces are depleted.

Maurice Papon, Paris police chief, said the Algerians failed in their main objectives in the capitals—assaults on armories.

ALGERIAN REBELS BRING FIRE, DEATH TO FRANCE

PARIS POLICE SHOT

Four Paris policemen were shot dead in two incidents.

PARIS POLICE KILLED 80 ALGERIANS

Paris police killed 80 Algerians and rounded up 80 for questioning.

Ntar the port of Le Havre, a saboteur was expelled by premature firing of an explosive charge with which he was trying to set a Standard Oil refinery on fire.

Paris authorities blamed the coordinated attacks on the Algerian National Liberation Front, the most powerful of two groups seeking independence for the North African territory.

They said the nationalists were sent into action to drive home demands for freedom from France and to counter Premier de Gaulle's pleas for integration of the French and North African peoples of Algeria. About 400,000 Algerians live in France.

THEM WITH TRIP

The action obviously was timed to coincide with de Gaulle's trip to Africa where he is explaining his new constitution and also to take advantage of a summer vacation period when police forces are depleted.

Maurice Papon, Paris police chief, said the Algerians failed in their main objectives in the capitals—assaults on armories.

ALGERIAN REBELS BRING FIRE, DEATH TO FRANCE

PARIS POLICE SHOT

Four Paris policemen were shot dead in two incidents.

PARIS POLICE KILLED 80 ALGERIANS

Paris police killed 80 Algerians and rounded up 80 for questioning.

Ntar the port of Le Havre, a saboteur was expelled by premature firing of an explosive charge with which he was trying to set a Standard Oil refinery on fire.

Paris authorities blamed the coordinated attacks on the Algerian National Liberation Front, the most powerful of two groups seeking independence for the North African territory.

They said the nationalists were sent into action to drive home demands for freedom from France and to counter Premier de Gaulle's pleas for integration of the French and North African peoples of Algeria. About 400,000 Algerians live in France.

THEM WITH TRIP

The action obviously was timed to coincide with de Gaulle's trip to Africa where he is explaining his new constitution and also to take advantage of a summer vacation period when police forces are depleted.

Maurice Papon, Paris police chief, said the Algerians failed in their main objectives in the capitals—assaults on armories.

ALGERIAN REBELS BRING FIRE, DEATH TO FRANCE

PARIS POLICE SHOT

Four Paris policemen were shot dead in two incidents.

PARIS POLICE KILLED 80 ALGERIANS

Paris police killed 80 Algerians and rounded up 80 for questioning.

Ntar the port of Le Havre, a saboteur was expelled by premature firing of an explosive charge with which he was trying to set a Standard Oil refinery on fire.

Paris authorities blamed the coordinated attacks on the Algerian National Liberation Front, the most powerful of two groups seeking independence for the North African territory.

They said the nationalists were sent into action to drive home demands for freedom from France and to counter Premier de Gaulle's pleas for integration of the French and North African peoples of Algeria. About 400,000 Algerians live in France.

THEM WITH TRIP

The action obviously was timed to coincide with de Gaulle's trip to Africa where he is explaining his new constitution and also to take advantage of a summer vacation period when police forces are depleted.

Maurice Papon, Paris police chief, said the Algerians failed in their main objectives in the capitals—assaults on armories.

ALGERIAN REBELS BRING FIRE, DEATH TO FRANCE

PARIS POLICE SHOT

Four Paris policemen were shot dead in two incidents.

PARIS POLICE KILLED 80 ALGERIANS

Paris police killed 80 Algerians and rounded up 80 for questioning.

Ntar the port of Le Havre, a saboteur was expelled by premature firing of an explosive charge with which he was trying to set a Standard Oil refinery on fire.

Paris authorities blamed the coordinated attacks on the Algerian National Liberation Front, the most powerful of two groups seeking independence for the North African territory.

They said the nationalists were sent into action to drive home demands for freedom from France and to counter Premier de Gaulle's pleas for integration of the French and North African peoples of Algeria. About 400,000 Algerians live in France.

THEM WITH TRIP

The action obviously was timed to coincide with de Gaulle's trip to Africa where he is explaining his new constitution and also to take advantage of a summer vacation period when police forces are depleted.

Maurice Papon, Paris police chief, said the Algerians failed in their main objectives in the capitals—assaults on armories.

ALGERIAN REBELS BRING FIRE, DEATH TO FRANCE

PARIS POLICE SHOT

Four Paris policemen were shot dead in two incidents.

PARIS POLICE KILLED 80 ALGERIANS

Paris police killed 80 Algerians and rounded up 80 for questioning.

Ntar the port of Le Havre, a saboteur was expelled by premature firing of an explosive charge with which he was trying to set a Standard Oil refinery on fire.

Paris authorities blamed the coordinated attacks on the Algerian National Liberation Front, the most powerful of two groups seeking independence for the North African territory.

They said the nationalists were sent into action to drive home demands for freedom from France and to counter Premier de Gaulle's pleas for integration of the French and North African peoples of Algeria. About 400,000 Algerians live in France.

THEM WITH TRIP

The action obviously was timed to coincide with de Gaulle's trip to Africa where he is explaining his new constitution and also to take advantage of a summer vacation period when police forces are depleted.

Maurice Papon, Paris police chief, said the Algerians failed in their main objectives in the capitals—assaults on armories.

ALGERIAN REBELS BRING FIRE, DEATH TO FRANCE

PARIS POLICE SHOT

Four Paris policemen were shot dead in two incidents.

PARIS POLICE KILLED 80 ALGERIANS

Paris police killed 80 Algerians and rounded up 80 for questioning.

Ntar the port of Le Havre, a saboteur was expelled by premature firing of an explosive charge with which he was trying to set a Standard Oil refinery on fire.

Paris authorities blamed the coordinated attacks on the Algerian National Liberation Front, the most powerful of two groups seeking independence for the North African territory.

They said the nationalists were sent into action to drive home demands for freedom from France and to counter Premier de Gaulle's pleas for integration of the French and North African peoples of Algeria. About 400,000 Algerians live in France.

THEM WITH TRIP

The action obviously was timed to coincide with de Gaulle's trip to Africa where he is explaining his new constitution and also to take advantage of a summer vacation period when police forces are depleted.

Maurice Papon, Paris police chief, said the Algerians failed in their main objectives in the capitals—assaults on armories.

ALGERIAN REBELS BRING FIRE, DEATH TO FRANCE

PARIS POLICE SHOT

Four Paris policemen were shot dead in two incidents.

PARIS POLICE KILLED 80 ALGERIANS

Paris police killed 80 Algerians and rounded up 80 for questioning.

Ntar the port of Le Havre, a saboteur was expelled by premature firing of an explosive charge with which he was trying to set a Standard Oil refinery on fire.

Paris authorities blamed the coordinated attacks on the Algerian National Liberation Front, the most powerful of two groups seeking independence for the North African territory.

They said the nationalists were sent into action to drive home demands for freedom from France and to counter Premier de Gaulle's pleas for integration of the French and North African peoples of Algeria. About 400,000 Algerians live in France.

THEM WITH TRIP

The action obviously was timed to coincide with de Gaulle's trip to Africa where he is explaining his new constitution and also to take advantage of a summer vacation period when police forces are depleted.

Maurice Papon, Paris police chief, said the Algerians failed in their main objectives in the capitals—assaults on armories.

ALGERIAN REBELS BRING FIRE, DEATH TO FRANCE

PARIS POLICE SHOT

Four Paris policemen were shot dead in two incidents.