Rejected by Straight Line and Mutual Companies.

But now Insured in both.

"Should I die while I am in a position to pay my insurance premiums, my family will owe their support to Scott's Sarsaparilla. Two years ago I applied to two companies for insurance, $1000 in each. My face was a mass of pimply blotches and my urine did not stand the test. One doctor in examining me said I could not pass, but that my trouble was curable. He advised an alterative medicine, and I commenced taking Scott's Sarsaparilla. Both companies rejected me, but four months later, after I had taken five bottles of your remedy I am thankful to say both accepted me as a risk—one being a stock company, the other a mutual. The examiner who previously examined me, remarked "I never saw such a change in any man." This is indorsed by Mr. J. Todd, the popular druggist, corner Queen and Crawford Streets, Toronto.

Scott's Sarsaparilla builds up debilitated constitutions, imparts strength, vigor and vitality, clears and purifies the blood. It cures skin diseases, rheumatism, gout, indigestion and all complaints arising from poor or poisoned blood. Of all druggists, $1 per bottle.

Passed at Austin, Pa., on the Death of Daniel F. Nicholson.

CHARITY HOSE COMPANY.

At a special meeting of Charity Hose Co. No. 1, held on Friday, Nov. 1st, 1895, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased the Supreme Architect of the universe to remove from our midst our worthy member and foreman Daniel F. Nicholson; and

Whereas, The intimate relations long held by the deceased with the members of this company render it proper that we should place on record our appreciation of his services as a fireman and his merits as a man;

Therefore be it resolved, By Charity Hose Co. No. 1, that while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High, we do not the less mourn for our worthy member, who has been called from his labor to rest.

Resolved, That in the death of Daniel F. Nicholson this company loses a member who was always active and zealous in his work as a fireman; ever ready to succour the nyedy and distressed; prompt to advance the interests of the company; devoted to its welfare and prosperity, one wise in counsel and fearless in action; an honest and upright man, whose virtues endeared him not only to the members of this company but to all his fellow citizens.

Resolved, That this company tenders its heart-felt sympathy to the parents and relatives of our late member in sheir sad affliction.

Resolved, That the members of this company attend, in a body, the funeral services of our late member, to be held in Olean, Sunday, the 3rd inst., to pay the last honor to his remains.

Resolved, That the rooms of this company be draped in mourning for the deceased for a period of thirty days.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered on the minutes of this company, the same to be published in the Austin Autograph, and that a copy of them be sent to the parents of our late member.

Whereas, It has been the will of the Almighty in His infinite wisdom to take from our midst, while in the prime of life, our late brother and Chancellor Commander, Dan. F. Nicholson, who has proven himself an active and worthy member of this lodge. And

Whereas, By his upright and manly conduct and brotherly love, it is but just and right that we show our appreciation of his services and interest in our behalf, now therefore be it

Resolved, That while we humbly submit to the will of Him who doeth all things well, we nevertheless sincerely regret the loss of our brother Knight; and be it further

Resolved, That by the death of Bro. Dan. F. Nicholson this lodge has lost one of its most active, painstaking and esteemed officers and members, and be it further

Resolved, That as Brother Dan. F. Nicholson's term of office as Chancellor Commander expires January 1st, 1896, that the charter of this lodge be draped in mourning during his unexpired term, and be it further

AUSTIN LODGE, I. O. O. F.

At the regular meeting of Austin Lodge No. 702 I. O. O. F. held in Austin, Pa., the following resolutions of respect and condolence were read and unanimously adopted.

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty God to remove from our midst, while yet in the prime of life, our worthy and beloved brother, Past Grand Daniel F. Nicholson, truly reminding us of the uncertainties of this life,—be it Whereas, God in his infinite wisdom has removed from our midst our worthy brother, Past Grand Daniel F. Nicholson.

Resolved, That while his death was unlooked for, believing in the moving hand of kind providence, our hopes are strong in the faith that the vital and immortal spirit of our brother is this day in the enjoyment of the reward that is in store for the true, tried and trusted.

Resolved, That this lodge has lost a good member and we, his associates for many years, feel that his death has left vacant a place that can hardly be filled by another. Dan's friends will long remember him as the true and upright man he was.

Resolved, That as a just tribute of respect to our deceased brother we drape our charter for thirty days and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his relatives and placed on our minute book and be published in the Austin Autograph, Olean Tramp and Grit.

These expressions of esteem and regret must be consolatory to the bereaved parents and family of the deceased Mr. D. F. Nicholson.

POPULAR SCIENCE.

How Mineral Wood is Made—Some of the Uses to Which It Is Put.

Of those who know what mineral wool is, or silicate cotton, as it is sometimes called, probably only a small number are familiar with the simple process by which it is made. The wool itself, serving a variety of useful purposes, as a non-conducting covering against heat and cold alike, for steam pipes and cold storage room walls, as a sound "deadener" in floors of buildings, and as a means of fireproofing among many others, is, as its name implies, a soft and woolly substance, consisting of a mass of very fine mineral fibres interlacing one another in every direction, and thus forming an endless number of countless air cells. The wool appears on the market in a variety of colors, principally white, but often yellow or grey, and occasionally quite dark, and is made by converting scorial and certain rocks while in a molten state into a fibrous condition by a steam blast directed against the liquid material. Blast furnace slag forms the raw material for one variety of the wool, and sandstone for another, yielding, respectively, slag wool and rock wool, the latter being preferable for pipe covering because of the absence from it of sulphur, which, with moisture present, becomes an active corroding agent. The furnace slag or the rock, as the case may be, is melted in a large cupola, and as it trickles out at the tap hole in a somewhat sluggish stream, it meets a high-pressure steam jet which atomises the woollen material, if it may be so termed, blowing it in fleecy clouds into the storage room provided for it. Soft and downy, the stuff settles wherever a resting place affords itself, the heavier and easier wool coming down first, while the lighter portions are blown farther along by the force of the steam and settle in the more distant parts of the room, the material thus naturally grading itself into varieties of different quality. A thousand pounds of wool per hour are turned out by one of the cupolas, and after the storage room has been blown full the flocculent mass is pushed into bags, ready for the market. The whole process affords an admirable and interesting illustration of the utilization of an utterly waste product.

A Substitute for Sole Leather.

The idea of substituting for sole leather, for use in manufacuring shoes, anything else, either a composition or some new material, has probably occurred to the minds of but few people. And yet for ten years past a Rochester man has been experimenting with a view to finding such a composition. Heretofore he has devoted only odd moments to this work, but the recent strong advance in the price of sole leather has incited him to hasten the perfection of his composition, the success of which he has good reason to believe is already assured. He has already attained success to such an extent that he can take a light sole made of this composition—light enough for any Goodyear welt—round it, channel it and prepare it for sewing. The composition differs from leather in this respect that it can be worked dry, requiring no moistening process before being worked into shoes. In appearance it resembles oak stock with the grain buffed off. It is elastic and waterproof. A piece of this composition taken from a pail of water while I was present, after having been submerged for several hours, showed not the slightest signs of its long bath and possessed the same consistency that it had before being subjected to the test. The inventor claims for the composition better wearing qualities and greater durability than can be found in any leather manufactured. Until he has thoroughly completed his work and brought it to a degree of perfection satisfactory to himself, he will not give it to the public or place it on the market. It may be said, however, that the ingredients which go to make up this composition are inexpensive.—Boot and Shoe Weekly.

Chemistry and Agriculture.

As the handmaiden of agricuture, chemistry, has achieved a wonderful success. Fertilizing the fields has not only become a well understood business, but is an exact science. There are methods of recovering waste products and utilizing heretofore useless matter. It is known what is required to produce the best potatoes and other crops, each one having supplied to it the chemical necessities of its existence. Land, sea and the elements are taxed to furnish the constituents necessary to the best growth of vegetation. It would have been a surprise to our ancestors had they been told that there are common plants which derive a very small portion of their subsistence from the soil, but are fed from the air and water; therefore, to understand the theories of drainage, rainfall, evaporation and absorption are matters of the utmost moment. To nothing does agriculture owe such a debt as to science, for by its means the waste places of the earth can be made productive and by the introduction of new chemical elements malarial and unwholesome soils are made fertile and transformed into healthy and agreeable dwelling places.

Glass Eyes.

Aitchison, the greatest manufacturer and dealer in glass eyes in Europe, was recently interviewed. He says that England alone consumes some 50,000 glass eyes annually. A good English glass eye will last about a year, and costs $5. Glass eyes of French and German make are cheaper, but will not stand wear as long as the English. The greatest destroyer of the glass eye is the salt contained in the tears; its caustic action upon the glass has up to this time baffled all human invention. He says that there are some people who wear two glass eyes, but not in order to see—as the interviewer inadvertently asked—but to keep the lids better in place and in good condition, and particularly in order to look more attractive.

And as Bridegrooms.

Not satisfied with afternoon parties, to which no men are admitted, the Atchison women are now giving 6 o'clock dinners without men. Later in the winter the women propose to give evening parties without men. Men, however, are still permitted to act as pallbearers.—Atchison Globe.

DANGEROUS CONSOLATION.

All Right in a Day or Two, But the Day Never Came.

"All right in a day or two" is the thought that consoles every one who is suffering from any indisposition that does not prostrate him. In the case of a person bedridden for months with disease of the Kidneys being asked, "Did you not have any warning of this condition you are now in?" "Yes, I was bothered at first with backache, with occasional headaches, but did not consider myself sick or the necessity of medicine further than a plaster on my back or rubbing with my favorite liniment. It was months before I began to realize that it was useless to further force myself to ignore my condition. The backache had become a pain in the back and sides, weak and tired feeling, high-colored urine with obstructions and stoppage, pain in the bladder, palpitation of the heart, poor appetite, indigestion, and a dull, languid feeling, with entire lack of energy." Had the first signal of distress from the Kidneys—Back-ache—received the assistance of Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the after state of misery and suffering would have been avoided. A few doses dispel first symptoms; delay results in liver, heart and stomach becoming affected. It is useless to expect to overcome this complication without a persistent and regular use of Chase's K. and L. Pills. Price 25c., sold by all dealers. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

PYNY-PECTORAL
The Quick Cure for COUGHS, COLDS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, HOARSENESS, etc.

MRS. JOSEPH NORWICK, of 68 Sorauren Ave., Toronto, writes: "Pyny-Pectoral has never failed to cure my children of croup after a few doses. It cured myself of a long-standing cough after several other remedies had failed. It has also proved an excellent cough cure for my family. I prefer it to any other medicine for coughs, croup or hoarseness."
